GRADUATE WINS CONTEST

Miss Mary Trim Anderson, who graduated from Madison College in 1930 with a B.S. degree, has been included in the list of prize winners in the Instructor Magazine's 1950 Travel Contest.

Miss Anderson's manuscript was entitled "Trek Northward to New York".

German Sponsors Sweetheart Dance

Patricia Mann, president of the German Club, has announced that the German Club Dance will be held on the tenth of February in Reed Gymnasium.

The theme for the dance will be "The Sweetheart Ball" and the "Southernaires" have been scheduled to play. Martha Gray Johnson is in charge of the decorations. The bids will be $3.90, and they will go on sale at a date to be announced later.

Art Club Shows Paintings of Today

The Art Club presented an interesting program in assembly Wednesday. The theme of the program was "Contemporary American Painting" and Martha Gray Johnson presided. The presentation was a welcome diversion from the usual assembly. Beautifully colored slides were used. Examples of beauty and restfulness in line, shape, rhythm, perspective, and color were pointed out to the audience.

Several members of the Art Club helped in the presentation of the program. Wanda Jackson, a senior art major, interpreted the composition, "Tom Kenny Comes Home" by Mechau. It is a scene with horses and desert portrayed with a great deal of rhythm. The next picture was Maynard Dixon's "Desert Southwest," which is done in soft colors with cliffs in the background. "Agathia Peak" by Conrad Buff was the last painting that Wanda explained. The setting for this picture is in Arizona, and it is characterized by jagged peaks, bright colors, thickness and bulk.

Warren Rohrer, a senior art major, commented upon two very contrasting compositions. Hopper's "Lighthouse" is depicted by strong, bold lines and good use of lights and darks. The second composition interpreted by Warren was "Mist in the Mountains" by David Fredenthan. This is a very imaginative work.

A junior art major, Tracy Foss explained Winslow Homer's "Eight Bells". This is a marine scene and typical of the U. S. Navy. "Signal of Distress" also by Homer was interpreted by Tracy, too. Winslow Homer is considered the best American painter of water.

Jane Moulse, a sophomore art major, interpreted "War Bride" by Lewis Bosa. It is a wartime picture showing an American sailor and a foreign girl.

MSGT Tubbs Assists General

MSGT Evelyn J. Tubbs, a Delaware Reservist on active duty with the U. S. Army, left today for Paris, France, to aid General Dwight D. Eisenhower in setting up Supreme Headquarters, Allied Powers in Europe.

Sergeant Tubbs, daughter of Mrs. Mary E. Tubbs of Wyoming, Delaware, was recalled to duty in August 1950, having previously served with the WAAC and WAC from August 1942 until August 1945.

Since her honorable discharge in 1945, the WAC veteran has served as associate editor of The Dover Index, Dover, Del., and returned to college under the GI Bill of Rights to obtain a BA degree in education from Madison College, Harrisonburg, Va., in June 1950.

This top-ranking WAC non-commissioned officer, who served 28 months in the European Theater during World War II with Military Intelligence Service, appears to be retracing her steps. In May 1943, she was one of the first five enlisted WAAC's to reach Europe. Now, in January 1951, she is one of the first two enlisted WAC's to reach Europe to help conduct the North Atlantic Pact program by aiding in setting up SHAPE under the command of General Eisenhower.

A former private secretary, MSGT Tubbs is an honor graduate of Caesar Rodney high school, Wyoming, Del., and of Goldey College, Wilmington, Del. She is a member of Pi Kappa Sigma sorority and of Kappa Delta Pi honor society in education.

"E. J." was editor-in-chief of The Breeze last year. She was also named to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities in 1950. She had joined the faculty of the Georgetown Special School District, Georgetown, Del., to teach Senior English and social studies when recalled to active service. Tubbs has been on duty with the Assistant Chief of Staff, G-2, Intelligence, at the Pentagon in Washington, D. C.

Former Graduate Speaks To Group

Mrs. Mary Mears Barber, a Madison graduate of last year, talked to the members of Pi Omega Pi at the meeting Wednesday night about some of her experiences in the field of business teaching. She told of the impression she had gotten and the comparisons she had made in her work. She discussed some of the problems which the business teacher faces, and stressed things which the beginning teacher should know and do.

Mrs. Barber was the former president of the local Beta Nu Chapter of Pi Omega Pi, which is an honorary fraternity in business education, and she is now teaching at Culpeper High School.

Preceding the talk by Mrs. Barber, the regular business meeting was held. Several matters of business were taken up. Lorene Purcell, delegate, and Dr. S. J. Turille, sponsor, gave brief reports on the national delegate Pi Omega Pi convention, which was held in Cleveland during the Christmas holidays. Mr. Slaughter, formerly a member of the business staff at Madison, was guest speaker there.

Following the meeting and talk, refreshments were served to the members, the speaker, and one guest.

Basketball Team Chosen; Set Duchesses' Schedule

From the intramural program, the extramural team has been selected. This is the team that will represent Madison College in basketball.

The squad consists of 26 members, 9 seniors, 5 juniors, 6 sophomores, and 6 freshmen.

The extramural team will play five games this season, three scheduled at home and two away. The home games are scheduled for February third and ninth.

On February third the squad will meet Roanoke College in a single game to be played in the afternoon in Reed gymnasium. Sweet Briar will be met on the twenty-fourth of February with two games being played in the afternoon. A home game with Bridgewater College has not definitely been scheduled.

Both Westhampton and Longwood Colleges will be met away from Madison, on their respective courts. The game with Longwood is scheduled for February ninth and the game with Westhampton will be played on the seventeenth of February. Two games will be played with Westhampton, while the first squad encounters the Longwood team.

On the present team Catherine Cockrill, Lorraine Woodyard and Mildred Bluett have played all four years on the extramural team. Ruth Sorsen, Grace Matz, Carle Shufflebarger, Betty George-Ramsey, Betty Sorensen, Dot Harris, Mary Lou Riddleberger and Nancy Hardy are underclassmen who have played each year since their freshman year.

Rounding out the senior group will be Colleen Quessenberry, Delores Webb, Marjorie Epperson and Claudia Carmen.

Both Mildred Bluett and Catherine Cockrill have had first team experience for three years and are the only seniors who have played continually.

Making the squad for the first time in their freshman year are Connie Rawls, Shirley Crawford, Johnnie Lou Thompson, Dickie Dickerson, Louise Toms and Jean Umberger.

The team has been practicing for three and a half weeks and will start its schedule beginning the second semester. Under the capable coaching of Miss Celeste Ulrich, the team looks forward to a successful year.

Students And Faculty, It Is Your Job Too

We want to know what you're doing! Yes, The Breeze wants full news coverage of all campus happenings.

We feel that it is the responsibility of students and faculty to furnish The Breeze with information concerning parties, campaigns, club activities, faculty recitals and the like, if it is desired that the information be published in the campus newspaper. It is our desire to include in the "Calendar" all future campus events, even though some of the items will not necessitate an article.

In naming this as your responsibility we are not shirking our own. Each week a member of our staff checks the college calendar and assigns coverage of events on record there. This, in addition to campus "scuttlebutt" which the staff hears, is our only means of finding out what's going on. As a result, we sometimes fail to cover important events.

Hours of our time are spent in writing copy and headlines, proofing galleys, and preparing, in other ways, the news for publication. We do not give our time grudgingly to serve you; we only ask that in return for our efforts you furnish us with facts about which to write. Our staff will do the writing of the article if we are given the information, the what, when, where, who and why.

Deadline for each issue of The Breeze is Tuesday night at seven o'clock. News may be brought to The Breeze room or put into P. O. box 9. May we stress to students and to faculty members that our limited time does not permit us to contact each of you every week. We want to serve you but we hold you responsible for letting us know what you are doing. Only if you cooperate with us can we promise to give you a college newspaper that covers all news of student interest.

Mr. Julian Hickman, an attorney in Harrisonburg, visited Miss Brady's Business Law Class on January 8. He discussed with the class problems involving contracts and negotiable instruments. On January 19, Mr. Hickman will return to conclude a discussion of miscellaneous legal questions which have arisen throughout the course.

All life is an experiment. What if you do fail, and get fairly rolled in the dirt once or twice? Up again, you shall never be so afraid of a tumble.—Emerson.

Five Cents, Please

In Monday assembly, the suggestion was given that arrangements be made to do away with the toll on local phone calls. This would perhaps make life easier for all of us. We could phone across campus more often and there wouldn't be the last minute scramble for a nickel.

Looking into the question, we seem to find more arguments presented against this than for it. The telephone company is certainly not going to give us all this service for nothing! Therefore, the college would have to assume responsibility for paying. If the plan is that all incoming calls should go through the college switchboard, this, too, would cost—plenty! As it is now, the college switchboard is not large enough to accommodate additional calls. Any enlargement of the present facilities would mean more funds, which the college does not have. In the long run, since the only way this money could be raised is by a raise in fees, wouldn't it be easier on us to pay a nickel for each call?

B. H.

Good Manners First

At long last, the students of Madison seem to have gotten together on whether or not we should clap after secular numbers in a Lyceum Program or other entertainment.

All fall this question has been discussed pro and con wherever students gather to talk. Those who favor applause say, quite rightly, that they are applauding the performer. Those opposed say absence of applause characterizes reverent listening. Between these two groups are many of us who do not know exactly what to do.

The music department seemed well pleased that the student body was content to listen in silence to the secular numbers in the Robert Shaw Chorale last Monday night. Although there are only two instances when applause is really wrong—in church and during a symphony—it is generally considered better taste to enjoy religious music in quietude. If there is applause, there should be a perceptible pause after the performer has finished; so it will be clear the applause is for the performer only.

Many commercial programs expect applause only at the end of a series of religious numbers. Since we usually have some idea of how the program runs, we can applaud only when it will not interrupt the mood the music is creating.

The rule for applause should be that of any other phase of good manners; do what is most considerate for the other person. If you think more enjoyment may be gotten from the reverence each person feels during a silence after a hymn or prayer; refrain from clapping. We can certainly make up for this silence by our overall enthusiasm of the whole performance.

M. H.

Congratulations!!

As the Christmas season came to a close and the girls returned to their studies, there were many new diamonds and pins flashing!

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Agnor announced the marriage of their daughter, Ruth Anne, to Charles Upshaw of Atlanta, Georgia. The ceremony took place on December 23 in the Trinity Methodist Church in Lexington. Mrs. Richard Traver, the former Dinny Agnor, was matron of honor. Elizabeth Peters was one of the bridesmaids. All are members of Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority.

Also, Shirley Porter and Dick Carden were married during the holidays. Dick is a Pi Kappa Phi at W-L and is studying journalism.

Quite a few girls became engaged during the holidays. Among them were Peggy Elliot, Gilda Grey Johnson, and Joee Bane, all members of Alpha Sigma Alpha. Peggy received a diamond from Andrew McCulloch, a graduate of W-L and member of Delta Upsilon fraternity. Gilda's fiance is Bob Jones of McKenney, Virginia. Joee became engaged to Corporal Bob Windsor of the U. S. Marine Corps. Nancy Blanton of Zeta Tau Alpha and Charlie Goodman of Cumberland became engaged during the holidays. They plan to be married in June. Jean Coverston, also a Zeta, received a ring from William Madrew, graduate of Elon College, and who is now employed as accountant of the Maphis-Chapman Corp. in Harrisonburg.

Jeanne Parker is engaged to Henry Papit, gradu-

Theta Sigma Upsilon held initiation services Wednesday night in the Panhellenic Room. The new members are Emma Lou Clark, Audrey Clements, Barbara Ann Presson, Sue Turner, Betty Viar, Martha Ann Snyder, Margaret Plumb, Mildred Butler and Sue Barger.

Zeta Tau Alpha initiated its new members into the sorority during a formal service held Tuesday evening. The traditional white initiation banquet was held Wednesday evening at 6:00 in Senior Dining Hall. Mrs. Hope Vandaver Miller was speaker for the occasion.

Pi Kappa Sigma pledges gave the old members a Christmas party on December 13 and presented the sorority with a gift of silver candle holders.

Betty Ann Strickland, who has been recovering from an automobile accident since Thanksgiving, has returned to school.

The Alpha Sigma Taus had their traditional Christmas party December 16th at Lincoln House. Gifts were exchanged and entertainment provided, after which all the girls stayed at the house for the night.

SHOWGOER

"Branded", starring Alan Ladd, Mona Freeman and Charles Bickford will be playing at the Virginia Theater Sunday thru Wednesday.

Ladd, a crafty desperado, poses the lost son and heir of a wealthy cattleman. He becomes an admirer of the rancher's daughter, who arouses his conscience to the point of dismissing his partner and riding to Mexico in search of the missing youth.

He locates the son in a bandit stronghold and is shot.

"Branded" is a rousing adventure drama, packed full of excitement and action.

A very promising picture is "The Next Voice You Hear", playing Thursday and Friday at The Virginia.

This is the story of an average American family in an average community. James Whitmore, playing Joe Smith a discontented, grumpy fellow, who is devoted to his family and friends. The community hears a voice over the radio announcing: "This is God. I will be with you for this next few days." This voice and statement has a very great effect on Joe and his family. He is touched by the lessons of peace, freedom and brotherhood invoked by the voice. Nancy Davis plays his wife Mary, a very tender and understanding woman.

The picture is humorous and a human interest story approved by many of the ministers in Harrisonburg. Don't miss it.

Red Skelton takes a triple role in "Watch the Birdie" a coming attraction at the State Theater. Red plays the role of son, father and grandfather and is supported by Ann Miller and Arlene Dahl. The story is of a young cameraman, who gets into all sorts of trouble with a beauty-prize winner.

The movie will keep the whole audience in an uproar for a gala evening.

ate of U. Va., who is now from Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. Libby Turner and Arthur Hall are engaged, also. Arthur is a graduate of V. P. I. and lives in Huntingdon, Pennsylvania. Both girls are members of Pi Kappa Sigma. Jeanette Cocke, a Tri Sig, has received a diamond from Rutledge Moon, student at Lynchburg College. Jo Anne Witten, member of Tri Sigma, also, is now engaged to Jack Cecil who is an engineering student at U. Va. Clinton Anne Johnson and Bonnie Lou May, both Theta Sigs, re-

Something To Chat About . . .

by Bess Bryant

A belated (by twelve days) but sincere Happy New Year from each member of The Breeze staff to every one of you. May this year be filled with happy days, satisfying activities, and peace for ourselves as well as the nations of the world. In fact, in all ways, for all the days, we hope it's the best ever!

A true-life incident to amuse was told me recently. Here it is, I hope for your enjoyment. Two small boys were talking very seriously as they walked down the street. Let us call them Tom and John.

Tom: Do you believe there's a devil?

John: (unhesitatingly) Naah! It's just like Santa Claus, he's your daddy!

Exams! Exams! Exams! The sins of the semester are upon us, —those of omission. And now the library is filled to capacity, night and day, with repenting students. Let us hope that we didn't realize our sins too late.

Have you seen The Thing? A girl who lives in Carter House brought it back from Christmas and I'm sure she'd be glad to give you a demonstration of all its many talents. Believe it or not, The Thing can even come down the steps, all by itself!

So many girls are sporting diamonds, pins, or wedding bands around here that the less fortunate dames are getting an inferiority complex! Even more discouraging to the free lancers are the statistics showing that a seemingly large percentage of girls who graduate from college with "no strings attached" are among the nation's unmarried. —But there's still a chance girls! 1952 is leap year!

While we're on the subject, if your engagement, pinning, or marriage hasn't been announced in The Breeze please let us know about it.

Mr. McNeil, a guest of the physical education department, was quite amused by a conversation he heard on our campus. It seems that while in Alumnae lobby, he overheard a conversation between a girl and her date. The couple were discussing where they would go on their date. When the decision was reached, the girl commented that if they were going there, she'd have to change her slip. Mr. McNeil understood after someone explained the campus procedure of signing a date slip in the Dean of Women's office stating your plans. But that's how campus talk sounds to an outsider!

What a delightful lyceum number was presented on Monday night! The capacity audience responded magnificently to the highly talented Robert Shaw, his Chorale and Concert Orchestra. A highly paid lyceum number, we should feel fortunate that our college brought the group here.

Due to schedules overcrowded with preparations for exams, The Breeze staff will be unable to publish a paper on January 19. The next issue will be that of February 9.

The Job Ahead

"First, we will continue to uphold, and if necessary to defend with arms, the principles of the United Nations—the principles of freedom and justice.

"Second, we will continue to work with the other free nations to strengthen our combined defenses.

"Third, we will build up our own Army, Navy and Air Force, and make more weapons for ourselves and our allies.

"Fourth, we will expand our economy and keep it on an even keel."

(From the President's Address to the Nation on December 17.)

The Spotlight ..

by Louise Kindig

Coming events to watch for: 1. Telegraphic swimming meet in February; 2. Beginning of extramural basketball season, early in February. Be on the lookout for further notice of dates for these events.

For anyone who is interested, Dr. Sinclair is now teaching a class in officiating for swimming. Anyone may take part in this if they so desire. If you would like further information see either Dr. Sinclair or Connie Graves Sommerville.

In case you haven't been keeping up with the intra-mural basketball program, I think you might be interested to know that, as a whole, the program is running exceptionally well this year. It seems that there is more cooperation and spirit shown by the girls than there has been for quite some time. All of which goes to show that our school spirit must be improving. Let's hope that it will continue to be this way.

Each team even has a "rooting" section for all their games. It is very heartening to see such support. So let's all keep up the enthusiasm and keep backing these gals up, huh?

IRC Presents Movies At Regular Meetings

Two movies pertaining to the world situation were presented before the International Relations Club at their regular meeting last Tuesday night.

The first film, "Does It Matter What You Think?" was an evaluation of the factors which affect thinking in the mind of every person. The part of the newspaper, the radio, movies, books and other means of mass communication in forming opinions was emphasized.

"Peoples of the U. S. S. R." was the title of the second film. Each national group of the vast country was discussed; its racial characteristics, its culture and its locale. Emphasis was placed on the skillful combination of old and new and the firm federation of these groups under a central government.

Programs of this type as well as many other types will be offered throughout the second semester. Everyone is invited to attend. Hereafter programs will be more widely publicized and information may be obtained from any of the club's officers.
