We Give Love And Loyalty

by Betty Lou Walters

O Alma Mater, to thy name we'll ever faithful be.

Lift learning's torch to brighter flame, shed honor's light on thee.

Where mountain blue meets sunset glow our college stands serene.

With passing years it's friendships grow in memory ever green.

O Madison, may wisdom clear, guide us and prosper thee.

We give thee, Alma Mater, dear, Our love and loyalty.

Our love and loyalty.

The last two lines of our Alma Mater include the key words, love and loyalty, which apparently have motivated Madison Alumnae who, through their cooperation and support, have rendered valued assistance to our college.

April 6-7 is annual Homecoming. At this time we are anticipating a large number of Alumnae guests. We shall take pride in showing those who evince such genuine interest in their Alma Mater, the improvements on campus, as well as projects in the construction stage which will be completed in a short time. A tour of the new dormitory will definitely be on the agenda.

An interesting program for Homecoming has been planned by the Alumnae Secretary and the Committee on Alumnae Relations. This program will include, in addition to consideration of the business affairs of the Association, recreational and social activities highlighted by a technicolor movie entitled "This is Madison," scheduled from 4:00-5:00 and the Homecoming Dance to be held in Reed Hall from 9:00-11:55 with the gymnasium orchestra: Ray Frye and "The Virginians."

Mr. Robert Stevens, Art Instructor at George Washington University, and son of Mrs. Mary Stevens, Hostess of Junior Hall, is the artist of the portraits. He also painted the portraits of Dr. Samuel P. Duke, President Emeritus, and James Madison, which hang in the Madison Memorial library.

Mrs. Gladys Diggs, registrar of Smith College, Northampton, Mass., sister of Professor Raymond Dingleline, Sr., has accepted an invitation to be present for the occasion. Other relatives expected are: Mr. and Mrs. Helbert L. Bodman, Mr. and Mrs. William S. Dingleline, Anne Stribling Dingleline, Mrs. Jane Dingleline Hueston, Mrs. Raymond C. Mrs. Conrad Logan, Sr., Mr. Conrad Logan, Jr., Mrs. Jane Logan Long, Dr. and Mrs. William Smither, Judge and Mrs. Hamilton Haas, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kemper, and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Gibbons will also be special guests at the luncheon.

day, there will be an open house in Alumnae Hall for faculty and alumnae. The business meeting at 2:00 p. m., will be followed at 4:00 by the movie "This Is Madison."

At 8:00 p. m., the Madison College Glee Club, under the direction of Miss Edna Shaeffer, will present a concert in Wilson Hall. After this program there will be dancing in Reed Hall to the music of the Virginians until 11:55 p. m.

Under the direction of Mr. Edgar Anderson of the Music Department, a String Ensemble will play at the Alumnae Luncheon. Mildred Gunn, violin; Mary Ellen Hilton, cello; and Elizabeth Woolfolk, piano, will make up the ensemble.

Student organizations assisting Mrs. Garber and the Committee on Alumnae Relations are: Business Club, Social Committee, Art Club, Sororities, and the Granddaughter's Club.

Following the tradition of many years, students living in Alumnae and Senior Halls offer their rooms for visiting alumnae. Town alumnae who have not made reservations are urged to send in their requests to the Alumnae Office at once.

Students Choose B. Spaulding As Apple Blossom Princess

Brown-haired, brown-eyed Barbara Spaulding is Madison's representative to the Apple Blossom Festival at Winchester the second and third of May.

BARBARA SPAULDING

This twenty year old physical education major is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Spaulding of Ivanhoe, Virginia. Barbara will leave the first of May and will get back the fourth in time to take part in the May Day ceremonies in which she is one of the maids.

The Festival is centered around a patriotic theme. There will be many activities to keep her busy during her stay and a few of them are: Wednesday night, an informal dance; Thursday afternoon, a tea dance; Thursday night, the Princess' Ball; and on Friday night, the Queen's Ball. The Princesses will also be entertained with receptions, teas, and parties by some of the leading families of Winchester. Also, they will visit the apple orchards.

Barbara's escort to these various activities will be Karl Alexander, a student at Virginia Polytechnic Institute.

Barbara has been active in a number of activities during her four years at Madison. They are: past president of Sigma Sigma Sigma, a Student Council representative for two years, Standards Committee for two years, Student faculty committee for three years, Y. W. C. A. for four years, secretary of the Athletic Association during her junior year, Mercury Club, Panhellenic Council during her senior year, Angel in the Christmas Pageant, and May Day maid. She is also listed in "Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges."

Last summer she attended the National Convention of Sigma Sigma Sigma at Chicago. After graduation Barbara plans to attend Columbia University in New York State to complete her work in physical therapy.

Headline News . . . U. S. And Abroad

by Mary Hootman

Have you seen someone in horn-rimmed glasses over in the periodical room of the library lately, almost completely hidden by Newsweek and kindred magazines? It was probably yours truly, ferreting out news for this column for those of you who (like me) want to know what is going on, but never have time to do anything about it.

The chief problem still seems to be whether or not to draft eighteen year olds. Yes, say eminent military figures. Eighteen year olds are physically and mentally fitted to fight. They are not likely to have families or be started on a career and can be more easily trained as soldiers. The eighteen year olds themselves are ready to fight if they are needed. Their greatest beef is that most of them will not qualify for officers training because of lack of education.

What about universal military training? Most people have the idea that this would make us a militaristic nation, yet Sweden and Switzerland, the two European countries which have succeeded in remaining out of wars for hundreds of years, have long had this training. Greatest opposition to this measure comes from mothers, yet one mother answered the problem thus: "I would rather my son be well trained in case of war, through universal military training, than to go into combat with a few weeks' hasty preparation."

Combat divisions are pressing forward toward the 38th parallel. Once again the problem is whether to cross into Red territory. Some authorities say no, that it will be a basis for Red accusations of aggression. Others say "Cross the parallel, push on to the Manchurian border, and end this mess for once and all." While the pro's and con's are argued here at home, General MacArthur's United Nations troops wait for their orders. One thing is sure; once the parallel is reached, our forces must either go forward or backward. The terrain is not suited to simply standing still.

American colleges continue to be accused of being a hot bed for Communism, but they are not remaining idle. Students at the University of Colorado recently endorsed the school's loyalty oath after an investigation revealed David Hawkins, professor of philosophy, was engaged in subversive activities.

That's all for this week. Maybe soon we'll know the outcome of the much publicized income tax evasions, featuring such well known names as HISS and O'DWYER; the first actual government investigation to be brought to the American people through the medium of television.

Seniors First, Then Juniors

"Seniors first", is the constant reminder. This seems little enough to ask of the other classes; after all the seniors have worked hard for the privilege.

However, when we who are now juniors, entered Madison it was, "Seniors first, Juniors second". The last part of this reminder seems to have been lost in the rush. Why? Most of us Juniors don't mind waiting until the Seniors have left, but we do hate to wait when it means that by doing so we also wait for the freshmen to leave. (Most of the sophomores are in the balcony so don't directly enter into the exodus problem.)

Haven't we juniors earned the right to leave assemblies before the freshmen? When we were freshmen we abided by such a custom, now that we're Juniors we feel it should still be enforced.

We're not quibbling over the "Seniors first" idea, we're near the threshold of our own senior year for that! But—we feel we're entitled to leave behind the seniors. If more of the freshmen would wait for the Juniors to leave, we Juniors would cooperate more readily. It's not that we're trying to "beat the Seniors" when we dash for the nearest exit, we're merely avoiding being the last to leave.

Spring Springs---

"Spring has sprung,
The grass has ris',

I wonder where
The flower is —"

As this familiar poem runs through the minds of the students at Madison, a question arises—Does it ever stop raining? Everyone says that the campus is beautiful in the spring but we are beginning to wonder, as the rain and fog are always present. But we then remember the little line—"April showers bring May flowers!"

There are other signs of spring around campus. "Spring Fever!" Each weekend you can look everywhere and see couples walking hand and hand down the blossom bordered paths. Of course, there is a bad side to "spring fever"—there are still classes but life can't always be rosy!

The rain, the fog, the classes, the lazy feeling and the wonderful weekends are all part of spring and everyone must put up with it all. Have fun!

J. T.

We Need You!

We, The Breeze staff, would like to give a reminder to some of the officers on campus. We are speaking particularly to the reporters of the various organizations. Will you be responsible for getting all news of your club to The Breeze each week?

Maybe you think that it is the job of The Breeze staff to contact the club reporters, but there are so few of us in comparison to the news to be covered each week, that it is impossible to keep track of all the latest club news.

We are not complaining about the jobs done by the reporters this past year, but let's start a new slate for the coming year. We need your help and cooperation! All news should come in to The Breeze room Tuesday night and we want to ask that all reporters be sure to keep us posted on news their group would like printed. We're counting on you!

Notice The Changes

With pleasure, we say, Welcome Back Alumnae! It's grand to see so many familiar faces.

One probably notices many changes throughout the campus; the new dormitory, Logan Hall, the new roads now under construction and many, many other unique features, as well as noticing many new faces.

Yes, the faces may be unfamiliar, but all of us have one common denominator; that of being members of the Madison College family. All of us have a part in making Madison what it is today. The changes and improvements over the years are due to you, the older members of our large family. We have seen Madison grow from year to year and we have seen the spirit of our association here follow us into our lives off of the campus.

So to you, Alumnae, we again say, Welcome! Welcome to the school you helped to make!

Greek Gossip

Recently a kitchen shower was given by Charlotte Korn and Marian Marshall at Carter House honoring Elise Bellenoy. The decorations for the occasion were done in green and white. Elise will be married April 7, 4:00 p. m., to Ray Horn at St. Benedict's in Richmond. Both are '50 graduates of Madison.

Carter House was also the scene of a trousseau shower on March 28 at 8:30 p. m. The shower was held in honor of Margaret Elliott who is to be married on June 23 to Andrew McCullough, in Farmville.

Last weekend Miss Shirley Colbert, president of Pi Kappa Sigma, and Anne Davis, corresponding secretary, journeyed to Radford to assist in installing a chapter of Pi Kappa Sigma there. The new chapter is Gamma Theta.

Jo Brown and Kay Valenti, alumnae of Madison College, and members of Tri Sigma visited Sprinkel House this past week. Kay was President of Tri Sigma in 1944.

On March 17, members of Sigma Sigma held an Easter Egg Hunt and a party for the children from the Children's home. Ice cream and cake were served to the children.

Madison Gals Send Bits Of Interesting Alumnae Chatter

by Arlene Mannos

When one of the editors breezed into my little cubicle the other day, she plunked down some very interesting letters from Madison Alumnae.

It was quite exciting to read mail from all over the country and abroad, for each woman had something colorful to discuss in relation to her present life.

Manager of Institute

One of our former students, Mrs. Selma M. Andrews is the Manager of the Hotpoint Institute at Chicago, Illinois. She had a little bit of news in connection with the unusually severe winter the Mid-West underwent this past year. How different from our temperate Virginia climate! Another side-note came from Pearl Harbor, Oahu, where Mrs. Ellanora Baber Kesler, a training officer at the island shipyard, is permanently stationed. It seems that Madison "gals" even manage to traipse to that part of the Pacific, for surprisingly enough, Mrs. Kesler would like to initiate an Alumnae chapter there. Who knows, perhaps, we, too, may have an opportunity to visit the Hawaiian Islands some day.

From Yuma

From Yuma, Arizona comes a note written by Mrs. Merle Senger Bickers. Although she left our college in 1931, she was definitely impressed by the rapid growth of our campus. Wonder how "ye ol' Alma Mater" will look in twenty years? Most of us can barely stand the suspense of our new road construction—just think of the future alterations!

Faithful Virginian

There was actually one letter from a faithful Virginia, Mrs. Betty Thomas Doyle, who displayed a marked appreciation for President Miller. Mrs. Doyle felt quite at home with our new "prexy" at 1950 Homecomings, and wished him many more wonderful years at Madison College. With our Alumnae journey over, we can all settle down to one happy thought—all of those mentioned are married—"boy, ya' mean I still have a chance?"

There are other items of interest, too.

Opens Shop

Anne (Petticrew) Elliott (1946) has opened up a very exclusive ladies dress shop in Charleston, W. Va., and in August, Annie (Coxe) Ward, formerly of the Charleston Chapter moved to Roanoke, Va. Also Dot (Smith) Covington (1945) a former Charleston active from Texas, made us a surprise visit at the September meeting.

Other items of interest are that Alice (Thompson) Smith gave birth to a baby boy in August; Mary Lou (Venable) Beury ('28) won five more blue ribbons on her applique quilts at Fairs this fall; and Iva Lou Hanna ('46) is now Mrs. William Barth.

Mary Lou (Venable) Beury ('28) is Costume Manager for the Nov. 21-22 production of "The Mikado," given by the Charleston Light Opera Guild. Charleva Creighton Clemmer moved to Newport News, Va. February 1st. She was the Charleston, W. Va. Alumnae Chapter President, formerly of Norfolk, Va.

Receives Degree

Carolyn Reese has taken a six months leave of absence from teaching to attend West Virginia University. She expects to receive her Master's Degree in Education. Jeane Fitch Shelton has gone to Miami, Fla., to stay until May. Genevieve Smith Orr is now President of the Alumnae.

SHOWGOER

by Sue Foster

The beautiful scenes of the Colorado Valley provide an excellent background for the absorbing love story and trigger-fast action of M. G. M.'s technicolor Western, "Vengeance Valley", beginning Sunday at the State and starring Burt Lancaster.

Burt Lancaster and Robert Walker portray two foster-brothers who have grown up together on a prosperous cattle ranch of the early West. Lancaster gives an impressive performance as Owen, a man always ready to back up his sense of justice with his fists. Robert Walker, who usually is seen as the jovial hero of light comedy, plays an irresponsible ne'er do well. Joanne Dru is an excellent disillusioned wife, and Sally Forrest, John Ireland, Ray Collins and Carlton Carpenter also are great in their supporting roles.

"Vengeance Valley" is definitely one of the most realistic pictures of the old West. It is an outdoor action drama at its best.

At The Virginia

Starting Sunday at the Virginia Theater is one of the greatest musicals of the season. M. G. M.'s "Royal Wedding" brings together the musical talents of Fred Astaire and Jane Powell, who are teamed together for the first time.

This is the captivating story of a brother and sister dance team, who, after many years on Broadway, are asked to perform during the celebration of a royal wedding in London. They both become involved in exciting romances and then have great difficulty in deciding whether or not they should resist their romantic inclinations in order to prevent the dancing team from breaking up.

King Of Dance

Fred Astaire has long been known as the "King of Dance" despite the fact that he is now fifty-one years of age. He performs his two specialty numbers, "You're All the World to Me" and "Sunday Jumps", with his usual fastidious dexterity. Jane Powell does an outstanding job to her most ambitious assignment as Astaire's partner.

The supporting cast of M. G. M.'s technicolor musical includes Peter Lawford, Sarah Churchill and Keenan Wynn who, together with the rest of the cast, provide entertainment fit for a king.

"Although election for minor officers was not supported as well as major elections, it was quite successful," stated Gill Temple, outgoing president of the Student Government Association.

Anne Colonna, of Cape Charles, has been elected vice-president of S.G.A. She has served on the Standards Committee and is vice president of the Junior Class. Betty Page Duke, secretary is from Hampton; treasurer, Shirley Porter Carden lives in Sunbeam. Listen, Freshman

by Dottie Hawkins

We have reason to be justly proud of our Madison College Alumnae Association. It does so much to contribute to our life here at Madison.

Members of the association are active in many cities and towns. They keep the name of our institution constantly before the public and in that way interest many perspective students in choosing Madison as their Alma Mater.

Helpful

This year one of the biggest and most helpful tasks that the Alumnae performed was to publish a little booklet entitled, "Listen, Freshman". This was accomplished through Mrs. Dorothy S. Garber, the Secretary of the Alumnae Association, and the Senior Counselors. Without doubt all freshman will agree that this booklet was of untold value to them in this, their first year at college. The contents of this book were of the nature not to be found in the college catalog or handbook. The precious tips found therein were such that could be given only by those who have learned by experience. One freshman dormitory on campus was so thankful for this booklet as to write the Dean of Freshman a note expressing their sincere appreciation for it.

Fun and Fellowship

This weekend we are having many of our alumnae and friends back with us once again to enjoy a few days of reminiscing, fun and fellowship. To all of them we want to say thanks and some day before long we'll be proud to join you . . . the Madison College Alumnae Association.

Assembly Features Edwards And Installation Of Officers

Major and minor officers of the Student Government Association were formally installed Wednesday. Reverend the invocation, Gill Temple, President of S.G.A. for the 1950-'51 session, introduced Reverend Edwards.

In his speech, he emphasized that elected leaders were not the masters but the servants of the student body. Three requirements of a good S.G.A., as named by Rev. Edwards are: Fair and workable policies, competent student leaders, and cooperative student body.

Gill Temple in her farewell address, expressed gratitude for past cooperation of the student body and reminded them that the S.G.A. should not only establish a code of rules but should serve as a mode of student expression. She also expressed her wishes for the success of the new slate of officers and the student body.

Immediately following Gill's remarks, Betty Hiner was installed as new S.G.A. president. In the capacity, after making a brief acceptance speech, she administered the oath of office to the new minor officers.

After a few appropriate remarks, Dariel Knaus installed Hiwana Cupp, new chairman of the Honor Council.

The services were terminated by the singing of the Alma Mater.

Tales From Others

The Michigan State News recently conducted a survey in which they attempted to find the effect of the high cost of living on dating. Here are some of their results: A coffee date will cost about fourteen cents, but you can't depend on getting a girl who won't eat. A guy buying a daily cup of coffee for himself and his girl would spend $5.00 a term, and if they each smoke a cigarette, that would be another eighty cents.

The average cost of a date runs about $2.50, but a formal weekend costs about $20 for tickets, a tuxedo and food.

The University of Oklahoma has found a new twist to use in their argument for more money. "We're working to develop a university the football team can be proud of!" stated President George L. Cross.

The Silver and Gold, University of Colorado, reports that president Robert L. Stearns has advised male students to keep their shirts in their pants. It would be neater.

At the University of Buffalo, the price of a cup of coffee is holding its own. Only trouble is that the traditional pickel on top of a hamburger is now considered a separate item—at a penny a pickle.

If you have wondered why the college hangout acquires this honor, you may be interested in a recent survey by the Critograph of Lynchburg College about a typical one. The lounge's main attraction is low-priced food. About 600 cups of coffee, seventy-five hot dogs, and sixty hamburgers are consumed by students per day. About forty gallons of ice cream, with fudge ripple the favorite, are used each week.

Did you hear about the moron who had a knife in one hand and a gun in the other. He didn't know whether to cut across the street or shoot up the alley.

And at the University of Connecticut, the Connecticut Campus offers a carton of cigarettes for the best "Letter to the Editor."

The administration at the University of Tennessee has arched its collective eyebrows and cracked down on the art department. In the future, art classes will not be permitted to use nude models. The campus newspaper is against the ruling on the basis that it violates "Freedom of the Canvass."

At last Hitler went to Hades. Satan answered his knock and asked him to wait a minute. He returned with a box of matches and a bundle of firewood. He gave both to Hitler and said: "Listen, Adolph, there is a limit to what even I can stand. Go start a Hell of your own."

Indian Service Needs Teachers

There is still an urgent need for Elementary Teachers in the Indian Service. The United States Civil Service Commission announced an examination for Elementary Teachers in June 1950, but to date, sufficient qualified candidates have not been recruited.

The jobs being filled from the Commission's examination pay $3,100 a year. Applicants will not be required to take a written examination. To qualify, they must show successful completion of a full 4-year course leading to a degree from an accredited college or university, including or supplemented by 24 semester hours in education of which 12 semester hours must be in elementary education. Applicants whose courses do not include 2 semester hours in methods of teaching elementary grades or 2 semester hours in practice teaching of these grades must have had one year of teaching at the elementary level. Applications will be accepted from students who expect to complete the required courses within 90 days after filing their applications.

More detailed information about requirements and other points of interest are given in the examination announcement. The announcement should also be consulted for instructions on where to file application forms. Information and applications may be obtained from most first and second class post offices, from Civil Service regional offices, or from the U. S. Civil Service Commission, Washington 25, D. C. Applications will be accepted until further notice.

... Why does Pat look so tired today? We only have three test and a bulletin board due by this afternoon and our semester projects don't have to be in until tomorrow. Oh, I'll bet she was up early for "N.B.C." again. You know I have an idea she isn't getting enough exercise this semester by playing just softball and tennis every afternoon. I never could understand her lack of interest in ping pong. She would be a pretty fair player after a few weeks of practice. Oh well, I suppose that apparatus class will help to keep her in shape.

... Jumpin' catfish, I hit a home run off "Her." It really was nothing! "Her" balls come so hard and fast you can't see 'em anyway, so I just closed my eyes and gave it all I had. 'Sides their team isn't so hot, why if it wasn't for their pitcher we could beat 'em using our left handed first basewoman.

The Losing Side?

by Reba Reynolds

We're hearing a lot about the "winning" side of elections these days, but who stops to think about all the good sports on the losing side? There are approximately twice as many losers, you know, since three are usually nominated for each office. Just interview about any Junior you know!

It's a great game—how many offices have you lost—and some people have quite a score.

All joking aside, Madison is a fortunate campus to have so many capable leaders from which to choose. And what is still more important is the enthusiasm these potential leaders are showing in their willingness to follow.

Congratulations to all you good sports who are supporting so well your new leaders!

Rat Caps For Madison?

by Arlene Mannos

Do you think that it would help our school spirit if all first semester freshmen were required to wear Madison caps in purple and gold? This would exclude any form of hazing, however.

Harold Rhodes—Sophomore—Yes, the wearing of purple and gold caps would make the freshmen have a greater school spirit and would also make them more noticeable to the upperclassmen for advice and sight-seeing tours.

Sheila Bell — Freshman — Yes, it would give the freshmen something to talk about and think about.

Mary K. Palsne — Senior — Yes, I think the wearing of caps for freshmen would be a good idea for both the freshmen and the upperclassmen. It would add to the school spirit and the other students would get to know the freshmen better.

Hiwana Cupp — Junior — Yes, I think this idea is a splendid one. It is used very effectively in other schools and usually proves to be loads of fun.

Jill Dodson — Sophomore — Yes, from my experience I realize that it brings the "frosh" closer together and adds more excitement to campus life!

"Eddie" Frady — Freshman — Yes, it would definitely add something to our school spirit. It would also give the freshmen something to remember that "first year".

Ellen Goodman — Sophomore — Yes, I think the freshmen caps would be a grand idea as this is done in many schools without the interference of hazing. We certainly do need that extra lift in our school spirit.

Betty Page Duke — Junior — Yes, I think it would be a nice tradition for us to start. It would give a manner of prestige to the upperclassmen and it would distinguish the freshmen from the older students. This is done in other colleges and seems to be lots of fun—so how about it here at Madison?

Vets Give Minstrel; Highlight Dixie Jazz

by Frances Riley

On March 29, a minstrel show and musical revue was presented in Wilson Auditorium by the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign War.

The show was divided into acts consisting of "The Old Time Camp Meeting," "The Little Red Schoolhouse" in which J. W. Alexander highlighted the program with his portrayal of Ruben, a negro student. Next were Miss Janice Shockey and her Sheiks—a group of seven—who played some of the finest Dixieland jazz this side of the Mason-Dixie Line. This part of the program was thoroughly enjoyed by all and proved to be a highlight of the minstrel.

The audience was entertained by the many jokes that are always so vital a part in such programs.

The next scene in the show took place in the death chamber of Big City Penitentiary. After several numbers by the ushers, the program was brought to a close by a scene called "Lost in the Land of the Zulus." This is laid in a harem with the shiek portrayed by Earl Wood.

The proceeds of the minstrel will be used in the furthering of child welfare work and also in support of the Veterans' Memorial Home of Harrisonburg.

Major McIlwraith Speaks To IRC; Tells Of Tours

Recently Major Clara McIlwraith of the U. S. Women's Army Corps spoke before the International Relations Club concerning her tour of duty in Europe with the American Army of Occupation.

Major McIlwraith was first stationed in Paris for a short while. In that short time she learned to love the beautiful French city. Following Paris, Major McIlwraith spent several months in Germany. Although she made many friends among the Germans never did she feel at ease and at home with them as she did in France.

While stationed in Germany Major McIlwraith, with a WAC friend, decided to see some more of Europe. There followed Switzerland, southern France, Spain, Sweden, Denmark, and England. In all but England and the Scandanavian countries Major McIlwraith was struck by the odd fact that women in Europe are rarely seen on the streets except for shopping early in the morning. In Europe it's still a man's world.

But of all the countries visited, Major McIlwraith said that she preferred Sweden. The Swedes were honest and forthright to a fault. No one locks a car even in the largest Swedish cities, regardless of any valuable purchases the car may contain. Theft is virtually unknown there. In Sweden women hold far more elected Governmental offices than they do in America.

Upon her return to America Major McIlwraith noticed for the first time the air of casualness with which Americans to her, accept everything, even our national responsibilities.

Monday evening, April 2, the International Relations Club presented a Virginia Cushwa summed up the events leading to the question and acted as moderator for the discussion which followed the panel presentation. Lou Jefferson presented the pro side of the question and Sue Turner the negative.

The three IRC members then answered questions from the floor and guided the general discussion. The following decision was reached: "That the U. N. should forget discussion of sanctions for the immediate future and concentrate upon the establishment of a defense line at or, a short way above the 38th parallel and terminate the offensive in favor of a genuine sincere effort to establish some kind of truce and restore peace to Korea."
