

French Letter Comes To Huiet From Soldier Boy In Algiers

Evelyn Huiet, a freshman at Madison, recently received the following letter from a Frenchman to whom she wrote two years ago and from whom she had not heard since. She first wrote to him when she got his address in her high school French class. The letter was postmarked, September 25, 1941.

The following is a translation:

Dear Friend,

It is possible that we have already corresponded formerly, for I have just found your address in an old notebook that I have had for two years. At that time I was at the College of St. John d'Augely, in the department of Charente Inferieure, in France, where I was studying. I then went to the School of Pierce-Lobi, at Rochefort, also in Charente Inferieure, and finally, in 1939-1940 I returned to St. John d'Augely. I was preparing the entrance examination at the aviation school and we were to pass the examination in the month of June 1940.

Exams Are Suppressed

But you know at that time France was invaded by the Germans and all of the examinations were suppressed, at least for the time being. I then returned home for I could do nothing better. During the war I had wanted to engage in aviation, but I wasn't able to because I was 20 years old and I had to wait to be called under the flag.

Then the Germans arrived in our country, June 26. We were very unhappy, for we had hoped, up to the last moment that our armies would stop them. Now all of my relatives and many of my friends are in the occupied zone. As for me, I stayed there up until January 1941, and then left to engage in the Army of the Armistice.

Engaged in Aviation

I am engaged in aviation. I am a simple soldier. I am in Algiers at the airbase of Blida. I rarely receive news from home. You know that one can't send letters to the occupied zone. One can only send some sorts of cards called inter-zone cards. Today I received three of them, but there was more than a month when I received nothing and still my parents only tell me on these cards that they are in good health, and that is about all.

But I have enough courage not to be sad because of this and of the other trials we are suffering for I hope that one day the war will stop and that all will return to order. I rarely see the newspapers, but when I see them I am very much interested in what you Americans are doing. Whatever happens, I hope that we will remain friends.

Petaim Thanks Us

In France, where you have sent food, we love you and are much interested in what you are doing. For the rest our great Chief Marshal Petaim had to thank you when the "Cat Harbour" (Catawba) came to Marseille. I also was there at that time. Here in Algiers the food supply is almost normal although we lack a few things, but in France they suffer from all kinds of restrictions. I would like to write more, but you and I know that in these times one can't always say what he thinks.

I hope to receive soon a long letter from you.

A cordial handshake and my friendship.

PIERRE ROUX.

Frederikson Lists Schedule

This week's Breeze carries the schedule for examinations which will begin Monday, December 15, and continuing through Saturday, December 20. Registration for the winter quarter takes place Saturday, December 13, which is the Saturday immediately preceding exams.

All conflicts in the examination schedule must be reported to Dr. Otto F. Frederikson next Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday.

Ruth Lynch, president of YWCA, who announces the madonna, the leading character in the pageant, "The Guiding Star," which will be given by YWCA members next Thursday night.

Registration To Start Dec. 13 In Reed Gym

Registration of all students for the winter quarter will be conducted in Reed gym Saturday, December 13, from eight-thirty a. m. to four-thirty in the afternoon, according to an announcement made by Miss Helen Frank, registrar.

Students will not be permitted to change from one section to another unless such changes are approved by the chairman of the student's curriculum and by the head of the department involved.

After receiving class cards and program cards in Reed gym, students are to consult with their curriculum advisors to make out their schedules for the coming session.

One program card and all class cards must be left with the student's advisor, and one initialed program card is to be taken to the registrar's office in Wilson hall.

Registration, to be arranged alphabetically by students' last names, will be as follows:

A through C, 8:30-10; D through G, 10-11; H through K, 11-12; L through N, 1:30-2:30; O through S, 2:30-3:30; T through Z, 3:30-4:30.

Schoolma'am Wins Medal

The recently published rating of the 1941 Schoolma'am as "first class" came from the National Scholastic Press association, University of Minnesota, early this fall. Now comes the report from the other nation-wide evaluating organization, Columbia university.

This rating assigns the Madison annual to the rank entitled "first place," and also awards to it a medal, with the added comment, "Your yearbook is a splendid example of what American education can accomplish."

All annuals which receive from 850 credit points up to 1,000 are listed in "first place." The Schoolma'am, edited by Martha McGavock, obtained 970 out of a possible 1,000 points. Medalist rank signifies publications from the "first place" group selected for their outstanding qualities, such recognition being accorded to not more than ten per cent of the entries.

Dot Wilkinson, recently elected captain of the varsity hockey squad for the fall hockey season of 1942.

Tonight at the picnic on back campus, captain Wilkinson will be given the traditional rabbit's foot for good luck by former captain Turnes.

Hockey Squad Elects Wilkinson As Captain For '42; Is Member Of Southeast Reserves

Dot Wilkinson, member of the '43 class, was elected captain of the varsity hockey squad of Madison for the next year, announces Jackie Turnes, '41 varsity captain. The newly elected hockey captain was a member of the Petersburg high school hockey team for three years and won her first Madison college emblem here in '39.

This fall at the state tournament in Westhampton, Wilkinson won a place on the All-Virginia second team, and then at Sweet Briar she was selected a member of the Southeast reserve team.

The '42 hockey captain is a member of Pi Kappa Sigma sorority and representative of the junior class Beta Panhellenic council; president of Page literary society, a member of Bluestone Cotillion club, and the Social committee.

The annual hockey tournament will be held in Farmville or at William and Mary next year, while games with Westhampton and William and Mary will be played on Madison's field next year.

Draper Will Portray Madonna In Pageant

Chosen by the student body last Monday, Martha Jane Draper will portray the madonna in The Guiding Star, by Esther Willard Bates, the annual YWCA pageant, next Thursday night at seven o'clock in Wilson auditorium. The part of the Angel of the Star will be taken by Mary Gregory, the runner-up in the voting for the madonna.

The play, in which all ideas are conveyed through action, is composed of five scenes: the prophecy, the enunciation, the procession to Bethlehem, the fulfillment, and the adoration.

Cast Listed

The remainder of the cast is as follows: Joseph, Barbara Tillson and the three prophets: Isaiah, Betty Lou Toone; Micah, Marie Suttle; and Hosea, Emma Joyce Johncox; the shepherds: Lucille Cooke, Judy Johnson, and Anna Brown.

The kings, Margaret Moore, Margaret Schular, and Eleanor Nolte; the guardian angels, Betsy Ross, Inez Walls, Jane Dingedine, Mil Alley, Marion Wilkinson, and Ella Belle Welton; people in the procession, Betty Gravatt, Cary Addison, Margaret Bixler, Louise Vaughn, Betty Brandt, Elizabeth Willis, Margaret Hull and Diana Berkley.

Choral Club to Sing

Daisy May Park is organist for the program. The musical background will be furnished by the choral club under the direction of Miss Gladys Michaels of the music faculty. Margaret Warwick will be accompanist.

Ruth Lynch, president of YWCA, is director of the program.

Committees in Charge

Committees are as follows: Inez Walls, in charge of costumes, assisted by Mildred Gregory, Nan Scott, Peggy Parker, Eleanor Ruddle, Louise Travers; Katherine Stokes, Mary Alice Joyner, Cary Addison, and Betty Gravatt, properties; Jean Furman, lights; Barbara Tillson, chairman of makeup, with Nancy Lee Throgmorton, Jean Jennings, Evelyn Huit, Ann Forehand, Gladys Earman, and Edith Wooding.

Eunice Hobgood will be head usher, assisted by Nancy Peters, Jean Birchall, Mary McKay, Virginia Vaughan, and Pete Wright.

Kid Party Will Be On Dec. 13 Exams Are Upon Us! Are You Ready?

The annual kid party and toy drive, sponsored by the YW, are scheduled to be held in all dining halls on Saturday night, December 13. Everyone is asked to dress like a kid and to bring a toy to be given to some underprivileged child in Harrisonburg or vicinity.

Freshmen are asked to bring toys suitable for children from the ages of 3 to 5; sophomores to give toys for children from 5 to 7; and juniors and seniors may bring toys for children 7 to 10 years of age. Toys such as crayons and blocks, that the child can use for construction and that will help develop his initiative, are preferred.

The toys will be distributed in Harrisonburg at the Children's home, the two day nurseries, in the mission at Elkton, and the rest will be distributed through the Red Cross office in Harrisonburg.

The same old story—as certain as we are about Christmas, Easter, Thanksgiving, and the month of June—we can also be sure of the certainty of exams. Once again they are upon us.

The halls are quiet except for the occasional gnashing of teeth and groans of despair—lights are on till twelve o'clock and many text books are for the first time seeing a ray of light. The sale of cigarettes and cokes is increased while the length of fingernails is decreased.

The day of reckoning is drawing nigh and the few days preceding are literally crammed with excitement. Closed week goes into effect, letters are written home preparing the family for the worst, and new resolutions are made regarding the next quarter. All of these are typical of exam week, at which time the faculty gives the student body the first, second, and third degree.

Untroubled by this ominous preview of coming events, every campus has its nonchalant, optimistic, and carefree group that uses closed week to catch up on all back correspondence and continued stories. They are also the ones that sit around contemplating their chances of getting that cute convertible left in their oldest pair of nylons over Ye Olde Fireplace.

Many are busy planning their exam wardrobes and checking up on (See Exam Worry, Page Four)

Nine Are Awarded Membership Into Scribblers Here

Nine students were awarded membership in Scribblers, honorary society in creative writing composed of both students and faculty. The new members were required to submit tryouts for consideration to the club, and those successfully passing tryouts are Dorothy Blackburn, Evangeline Bollinger, Virginia Culpepper, Alice Griffith, Ann Griffith, Louise Parks, Margaret Schuler, Jane Sites and Elizabeth Wolfe.

The meeting of the club to judge the tryouts was held at the home of Miss Margaret Hoffman last Wednesday night with Miss Marie Louise Boje joint hostess.

Chemistry Faculty Will Attend Richmond Meet

Dr. H. G. Pickett, Dr. George Williams, and Dr. Joseph Schneider are planning to attend a science conference in Richmond next Friday. During the convention Dr. R. W. Bost, head of the chemistry department at the University of North Carolina, will speak on the organic compounds of sulphur.

Duo-Pianists Win Admiration At Lyceum Here With Brilliant Performance

By Margaret Warwick

The five scores played by Bartlett and Robertson last night in Wilson auditorium were sufficient proof that their audience was delighted. They liked their audience, too, according to reports from those who talked to them after the performance. Miss Edna T. Shaeffer agreed, remarking, "The audience was lovely! Its response proves that the students really like good things." The quiet and attention in the auditorium during the recital was noticeable, even in the balcony. Madison's first Lyceum number for the year was indeed a success.

The duo-pianists played Brahms' Waltz in A flat major as an encore after their first group of numbers. The next group brought the encore Valse by Arensky, as a request, and at the end of the advertised program, their hearers were thrilled by the beloved Liebesträume by Liszt, a Brazilian folk dance, and an arrangement of a Bach aria, Sheep May Graze Safely, the last number being

Majority Opposes Even Partial Intervention Into Europe Now; Colleges Vote 4-1 No

American college students are four to one against sending U. S. air force planes and pilots to Europe, a recent student opinion poll shows. Why is it that so large a majority opposes our at least partial intervention in Europe now?

American colleges and universities are the most fertile recruiting field for the Army and Navy Air Corps. Seeking the best educated for its aviation ranks, the government has depended primarily on colleges to supply the pilots for the thousands of aircraft being built. Therefore, it is from those who will later man these planes that the survey is taken.

Do we vote against intervention because our men do not want to go themselves and our women do not want to see them go? Or is our vote cast with the firm belief that what we advocate is best for the nation? For the sake of our national and individual freedom this may be the time to act, as is the opinion of the twenty-five per cent student minority. These are the most repeated comments gathered by staffs of the 165 cooperating newspaper members, including the Breeze: "Send the planes but not the men" (Randolph-Macon), announced by Mr. Robertson as a request.

"Which did you like best?" was heard from students on all sides, but opinions varied, some in favor of the graceful, brightly-gowned Miss Bartlett, some insisting that they "liked him." Few saw any difference in the pianistic ability of the couple.

"They were grand," was the general student opinion. Members of the music faculty were enthusiastic about the performers' complete harmony in timing and expression which has been highly praised in the reviews distributed on campus. "They are real artists," "excellent ensemble," "perfect teamwork," and "their technic is flawless" were comments from various music teachers.

Miss Elizabeth Harris, who has heard the performers several times before with orchestra, says, "They are wonderful with orchestra, but much more delicate in solo work. Each has an identical conception of the whole. They have charm and humor in addition to keen musical insight."

Should U.S. Send Planes And Pilots to Europe?

STUDENTS SAY:

YES 19.8%

NO 80.2%

IS MODESTY LOST VIRTUE?

It seems to us that it might be a good idea to take up a collection to buy lunches for the girls who persist in standing on front of campus along Main Street all day waving to the soldiers passing through. Maybe we should even revise the class cut system to make allowances for such occasions. But we doubt it.

Southern hospitality and friendliness to soldiers is one thing but "Southern womanhood" standing on the street making a spectacle of itself is another.

We're all for national defense. Don't get us wrong. We're more than willing to do our duty by the men in the armed forces, but we don't believe it's necessary to stand all day on front campus and shout to them as they pass. There's nothing wrong with doing it really, except it's none too good for the school and it doesn't look so pretty.

What's News Tech Colonels To Furnish Music On Campus For Dance Tomorrow Night

French Circle Has Two New Members
Le Cercle Francals formally initiated two new members, Nancy Smith and Glen Lynn Watton, on Monday night. At the business meeting a letter received from a French soldier in Algiers, giving inside information of French conditions, was read and explained.

Old members presented a short one-act play entitled The French Maid and the Phonograph. Those who took part in the play were: Tillie Horn, Margaret Aitken, Virginia Pedisich, Dorothy Clift, Vivian Snyder, Mary Frances Sours, Rose Marie Engleman, and Dorothy Hollins.

Alpha Holds Picnic

Alpha Literary society gave a picnic for its members at camp last Friday from 4:50 to 7:45 p. m. After supper the club gathered around a campfire by the river telling riddles, jokes, ghost stories and singing Christmas carols.

Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Ruebush and Mr. and Mrs. E. McWhite, sponsors of Alpha, were guests.

Kurka is Guest

Miss Sally Ann Kurka, newly appointed nutrition consultant in the state department of health, was guest of Mrs. Bernice Varner and Miss Clara Turner this week. She will return later in the year to talk to the seniors.

Ward to Talk Here

Miss Helen Ward, who is in charge of school lunch rooms in the state, will talk with the home economics girls on Monday and Tuesday on the various phases of lunch rooms. While in Harrisonburg she will be the guest of Miss Julia Robertson.

With the Southern Colonels of Virginia Tech furnishing the music, the annual Panhellenic dance will be held in Reed gymnasium tomorrow night from 8:30 until midnight.

Organized in the early '20's as a five-piece band, the Colonels have grown steadily in both size and reputation until they are now one of Virginia's most outstanding dance orchestras. The Tech campus by no means limits their activity, their engagements covering Virginia and West Virginia cities and colleges.

Theme is Christmas

Their Christmas vacation will be spent as customarily, in playing for prominent Christmas dances throughout the east.

The decoration theme, in red and green, will follow the spirit of the Christmas season, with a part of the window drops carrying out the idea, the remainder being large scale seals of the three campus sororities.

Alley Leads Figure

On the right at the far end of the gym, will be a Santa Claus with his pack, through which the men will come into the figure. The girls will enter from the left through a house in front of which will be a decorated Christmas tree and a snow man. As the couples meet in the center, snow will fall from the ceiling.

Mil Alley, chairman of the Panhellenic council, will lead the figure with Dr. Kennon Hancock of the University of Virginia hospital. Other members of the council and their dates are: Dot Wilkinson with Joe Mack of University of Richmond; Helen Miller with Bill Muncaster of Wilmington, Delaware; Evelyn Jefferson with Ham Fox of Baltimore; T Albright with Doug McCraig of

the faculty wims and rigors. After getting dressed fit to a professor's taste, enter the classroom and flash him or her your most winsome smile as you collapse in your seat—then and only then are your chances as good as any to flunk in style.

Many of us are convinced that the verse about the happy morons was dedicated to a coed at exam time. The verse is as follows—in case you don't recall it:

Happy little Moron
Just doesn't give a —
I wish I was a moron,
Who knows, perhaps I am.

TBC Control Needs Help Will You Give Yours?

Last year 1,385 Virginians died from the tuberculosis infection, and the greatest number of these deaths were in young women from the ages of twenty to twenty-four years.

By buying the red T. B. seals, which the members of Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority are selling on campus, you can do your part in combatting this dread disease. The health of some boy or girl your age is dependent on your purchasing these seals, the returns of which are used to sponsor X-rays, and to help maintain the upkeep of state sanitariums for this disease.

The thermometer in Harrison lobby with its top temperature $200 is the aim to be reached in this sale, and results will be marked up each day.

Coca-Colas waged an all-out campaign for some of America's collegians the other night. It was in the SAE house at Emory university. A new dispensing machine (an automatic vendor that mixes cokes while you watch) paid off exactly 167 drinks for a mere dime.—ACP.
