The first day of Freshman classes provide a preview of four years of academic struggle and social activity that may conclude in that ultimate goal of graduation. Basic Studies provide a certain amount of frustration as the first two years grind tediously by. Fortunately, after completion of stated requirements, one delves into a chosen field of study that results in excitement and positive reward. Social life at Madison often interferes with academic endeavor. Too often a fraternity or campus programming presents an activity one just cannot skip even though that term paper due date draws nearer. Of course a balance is established and four years of frolic, fun and STUDY fade into the shadows of the past. When it is all over we may or may not see how we have changed our views, our attitudes, perhaps even our personality, but we may catch a glimpse of the people that used to be when we look back and remember all that happened, starting with that first day when . . .

... WE ENTERED THE WORLD OF ...

MADISON

It all starts with a mad rush of . . .

CONFUSION

Orientation helps but leaves one at a loss when scheduling classes, pulling cards or comprehending what is meant by "that class is closed." There is so much to remember — your P.O. number, your D. Hall number, your room number, your course numbers, your classroom numbers, your student number, your phone number and her phone number. You think nothing could be as bad as these first few days.

... "I've registered, bought my books, met some of my professors..."

... "I really don't mind it here but I've got to do something about my roommate..."

... "Yeah, the first night I went out with this guy who wasn't too great but last night..."

"WELL THAT'S NICE DEAR, BUT DON'T FORGET TO STUDY."

There are times when mom's reminder of "why you came to college" fades from mind. Just so much intellectual growth can be tolerated at one time.

Some of that time after class and on weekends must be spent in the pursuit of one's social development.

Then there are times when cramming often finds its way into most student's lives in spite of discouragement by professors, and the dreaded thought of missed meals and staying up all night.

When classes put on pressure and those tests, papers, and reports just get to be a little too much a student thinks of original ways to let off steam. In bygone years one might have swallowed a goldfish but now one enjoys a beer blast, starts a water fight, or just relaxes a while in the Warren Campus Center. Naturally, the scheduled activities of movies, mixers, and concerts alleviate some emotional tension but the spontaneous activities of students are the most enjoyable.

Routine walks to and from classes or to the student union are enhanced by the beauty of natural seasonal changes as the academic year progresses. Whether winter months chill the bones, spring months warm the hearts, summer months warms everything, or fall months bring autumn winds and color; the campus yields visual experience for the aesthetic and mundane alike.

The seasons change, the years pass by, the people leave, but throughout the years the goals and purpose of higher education remain the same.

Interpersonal relations on this college campus are promoted and enlarged through classes, dormitories, campus activities, and other social organizations. Friends are made everyday and always with people interested in the same topics as oneself. Naturally the environment is conducive to friendship, understanding, and brotherhood because one's total associations are with one's peer group. As a year passes bonds of love and friendship strengthen between fellow students, roomates, instructors, and administrators.

Because Madison remains a relatively small institution the various individuals involved in its education program are given personal care in most classes. Even when strolling across campus one sees many friends and familiar faces.

Love relationships develop and flourish as both partners can totally understand and interact with each other. On the sports field, whether intramural or intercollegiate, a competitive spirit increases the awareness of brotherhood and the feeling of belonging that often makes seniors slightly sad upon graduation.

We met on a trail of human life
with paths leading east or west and some that come to the end of a mountain . . .

But . . . we met.

We climbed the uninhibited road of togetherness we salvaged many a boat of pride
-but still we laughed together . . .

Because we all met.

We sailed upon the sea of dreams and lingered in the never-never land of hope . . . but . . .

still we chose one another when we met.

The seas are dried, the mountains have crumbled to dust
the trails no longer point but still we chose,
and laughed . . .
simply because we met.

Some students display special talents in many areas unrelated to studies while other students excel in academic endeavors. Those students who earn an honorary award become the ideal products of higher education and consequently receive the encouragement of both faculty and peers. Honorary students bring pride and prestige to the entire college community. Of course the friends, family, and tutors of exceptionally high achievers also deserve credit for aiding high performance. Those students who receive honorable mention in this section of the BLUESTONE have displayed qualities either approximating the ideal product of higher education or the exacting demands of social acceptance.

Dr. David Watkins: Outstanding Professor of 1972

When Dr. David Watkins was informed that he had been chosen by Madison College students as the most outstanding faculty member for the year 1972, his reaction was one of mild astonishment, to say the least. To his students, Dr. Watkins is "like a best friend," and "a musician everybody envies." The degree of rapport between he and his students is a great one, and he "doesn't stay in an ivory tower but always has an open door."

Dr. Watkins has been teaching at Madison for three years now. He received his BA and MA degrees from Ohio State University. Here at Madison, Dr. Watkins teaches voice, is in charge of the College Chorale, which he has improved greatly since he took it over, is the advisor of Phi Mu Alpha, and the conductor of the Symphonic Choir.

Dr. Watkins received a bonus of $500.00 in appreciation for his concern for students and the teaching ability which, obviously, many students feel is superior. It is a pleasure to honor Dr. Watkins as the fine educator he is.

Loren Gurne: First Madison Student To Run For Harrisonburg City Council

Last year Loren Gurne, a General Social Science major, formerly from Alexandria, Virginia, did something which was a first in the history of the city. He ran for the City Council of Harrisonburg while still a Junior at Madison, which had never been attempted before by any student. Following are Loren's own remarks concerning his candidacy and campaign.

"I decided to declare myself a candidate for City Council after I came to realize that the city wasn't prepared or willing to let young people, especially college students, become involved in city affairs. I saw repeated attempts on the part of city officials, city business leaders, and "concerned" residents to deny students access to the city. This access took the form of disenfranchisement, denial to rent to students, and a general refusal to let young people have a voice in the city government.

"I ran a limited campaign. I spent only 25 dollars, or only .04% the average expenditures of the other candidates. I ran against the incumbent mayor, an incumbent city councilman, two academic doctors, a president of a big local business, and a barber. I received 12% of the votes. I mean I received a numerically smaller amount of votes cast, but 12% of the people who voted did so for me. I ran in order to expose the better qualities, that is, the productive and concerned characteristics, of young people. I wanted to make the community aware that there existed not only the radical and untypical young, but also the more common moderate and intelligent young majority.

"I had a special concern for Madison College. I wanted to show Harrisonburg that we, the students of the college, could help make the city a better place to live for all."

Loren is now a senior at Madison and he and his wife are residents and citizens of Harrisonburg.

Students Recognized For Achievement In Academics

This year it was felt that more students should be recognized in the Bluestone for the contributions and academic excellence they exhibit within their own major fields of study. Students who give a lot of themselves and their time in order to be a credit to their Department are often the "silent minority", of whom no one ever hears much about. It is for this reason that the Bluestone wishes to honor those students whom the faculty of various academic disciplines deem as deserving. Included this year are students in Music, Art, Special Education, Speech Pathology, History, Business Education, Home Economics, Foreign Language, and Speech. It is hoped that in the future, all departments will be represented.

Recreation at Madison involves various clubs and organizations that sponsor activities of interest to their members and the student body in general. The purposes of clubs range from purely social reasons to service and religious reasons. The organizations that deal primarily with service projects benefit both the campus and Rockingham County while social organizations provide relaxation and extracurricular interests for the college community. Faculty members involve themselves in campus organizations in roles such as sponsors, advisors and also as members looking for social interaction in areas of special interest.

SGA

To represent Madison College students as their elected representatives, to encourage growth through self-government, to provide for the college community, to assist in the daily governing of the college, to effect change that will benefit the student body, to distribute the campus fees, to enforce social regulations, and to assume responsibility have proved to be the primary goals for SGA.

This year the SGA has made steadfast goals for itself which they have largely accomplished: providing for the maintenance of student life-styles to promote individual growth and social orientation, review of academic policies and procedures, streamlining judicial procedures with special focus on the rights of an individual, long range financial policies, voter registration, increased communications within the student body and public relations, a very successful fall orientation comprehensive program, rules review, and dorm autonomy.

'Boys In Band' Proves Excellent

By DAVID STUART HUDSON
NRSW

A prominent, nationally-known psychoanalyst asserts that there are more homosexuals in the United States than sufferers of heart disease, arthritis or any form of mental illness.

Statistics vary on its frequency and there is still wide disagreement on its origins, manifestations and treatment, but almost no one denies that it has been wrongly deprived of careful, intelligent consideration that might lead to understanding.

This fact partially explains why Mart Crowley's play, "The Boys In The Band," opened to almost unanimous approval in 1968. Aside from its considerable artistic merits, the play also earned plaudits for its humane and candid stance on homosexuality.

Equally compassionate and lacking in condescension is the treatment it has been given in a superb production that opened Wednesday night at Latimer-Shaeffer Auditorium under the banner of Stratford Players, Madison College's student drama organization.

Scarcely a thing has gone awry in this remarkable presentation which represents the first all-student-produced theatrical in the college's history. If "Boys" is any criteria, one can only wonder why the drama department waited so long to permit such a venture.

To have chosen a play of this non-conventional nature represents a kind of "go for broke" approach which might have been disastrous in less sensitive hands. But Director Michele Lyke and a cast which has capably met the challenge of extremely difficult material have exceeded even maximum expectations.

The play deals with a group of New York homosexuals who have gathered together for a birthday party of one of their number. Things get sticky when a "straight" friend of the host shows up and various hostilities are bared.

It is an unpatronizing picture of "gay" life, revealing more through its intramural depiction of the homosexual milieu than an external view from the standpoint of an outsider. To be sure, Crowley has capsulized his homosexual characters (including one or two stereotypes), but he manages to convey the very real conflict and anguish that marks a gay adjustment in a straight world.

In an age of supposed sexual enlightenment, it may seem unnecessary to assert that homosexuals are people, but "Boys" points up the unfortunate fact that to much of society they are little more than caricatures. Here we can take them seriously even while laughing at their foibles.

Miss Lyke can be credited for the admirably restrained characterizations of her actors. The play's one excessive character — the effeminate Emory — is extraordinarily well played by Steve Holstrum. As the bitchy party host, Jim Michael handles a long and difficult part with real skill. As his friend, Dennis Dewey gives a pleasing, thoughtful portrayal.

Tony Mines as Bernard deserves special mention, but it would be unfair to ignore the performances of Mike Holliday, Karl Hill, Al Linton, Lawrence Drumm and Archer Dieppe.

John Whitmire's apartment set is just right in every aspect and Cephe Fahnestock and Margot Worthington have overcome some difficult lighting problems.

"Boys" represents Miss Lyke's first directorial effort, and she has demonstrated an ability that exceeds her experience. She deserves every praise for an intelligent production that could have been merely sensational.

The plays runs nightly through May 9, with the exception of Sunday.

China Watchers

Founded in 1972, the China Watchers Club has devoted itself to the effort of bringing information concerning China to Madison College. A particularly altruistic cause of the China Watchers involved them in a book drive for Asian students. Considering the length of time the club has been in existence at Madison, it is noteworthy that Madison hosted East Asian Consortium this past year and the China Watchers were an integral part in promoting its success.

1973 Bluestone

Last year was the first year in the history of Madison College that all the yearbooks printed were picked up. In fact some seniors did not even get a copy of the publication. There were many complaints that the 1973 staff endeavored to correct in its developmental processes. In hopes to produce a better book we chose an experienced staff.

At the beginning of the year the editor, chosen by the outgoing editor, posted signs asking for interested students to attend the first staff meeting. On the basis of experience the section editors were assigned and photographers were formed into a staff. With a complete staff we marched onward against the forces of departments and clubs that did not return requested information, against negative opinions and allocation of funds by SGA and against our own failings of missed picture assignments and late coverage of events. After an advisor was found to oversee our efforts we progressed steadfastly onward through artwork, design, and data collection to meet the necessary time limits for deadlines.

In order to put the pages together the staff enjoyed long nights, forgotten tests and quizzes, and little sleep. However difficult the production sounds one must also consider the idea that for students to subject themselves to such work, they are positively reinforced by such altruistic motives as helping the school's image, doing "something" for the Alma Mater, and most important creating a book for fellow students to long remember their college days, the fabled, "good old days."

The book owes special thanks to Jim Ellis, the yearbook representative, and Hunter Publishing Company for special consideration in all matters even after the contract was signed. Also we as a staff would like to thank our advisors Miss Emslie and Mr. Logan for the assistance they graciously offered. They were both very helpful in many areas.

Campus Gold

Campus Gold is a service organization on campus that also enjoys unique types of fun such as egg rolls. Besides other social activities, which include camping and picnics, the group works with scout groups and visits a geriatrics ward at Western State Hospital in Staunton. Pictured here are two scenes from the annual Easter Festival held on the quad.

One of their larger projects was a week of activities to raise money for the Multiple Sclerosis Society.

Saturday adoption, migrant experience, Bible study groups, Work Camp, traveling music group, mini-retreats, and weekend conferences at Eagle Eyrie are all part of the Baptist Student Union's purpose to provide an enabling community for students who are engaged in "the Christian pilgrimage" — the inward-outward journey of fellowship, worship, religious education and social action. They encourage diversity in their fellowship by openly welcoming students from all backgrounds and traditions. Personal differences and variety are something they celebrate.

Baptist Student Union

Lutheran Student Association

The Lutheran Student Association attempts to promote Christian fellowship among Madison students and among Virginia colleges. Activities for the year included local fall and spring retreats, a regional retreat in the spring, fall and spring picnics, and recreational meetings open to all interested students.

Lutheran Student Association officers: Don Yeakle, president; Bev Smith, vice president; and Kevin Thomsen, secretary-treasurer.

Madison Christian Fellowship

Founded in 1965 at Madison it is the Madison chapter of Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship. At weekly meetings their members strive to fulfill their purposes of Evangelism, Discipleship and Missions. Other activities throughout the year include socials, bible studies, prayer meetings and weekend conferences.

Yoi Dachi, Hachi Dachi, Kumite. These are the beginning commands that lead into the kata — a devastating sequence of punches, kicks, and blocks, which when perfected are potent enough to ward off the most aggressive adversary. Yet, when practiced alone, they become a graceful and precise series of flowing movements.

Karate, the art of the open hand, came to Madison College this year and was widely received by the students. Members of the club learned the philosophy of Karate as well as the physical aspects.

Karate Club

Mr. Riddle and the club's president David Schmidt receive a basic move in the first Kumite.

Pegasus

A horse show in the fall and a trail ride in the spring are just two of the activities which Pegasus members participated in this past year. The club is proud of being instrumental in establishing a Madison College Riding Team. In past years Pegasus has tried to build an interest in riding and augmented its members' equitation experiences.

Pegasus Club members include Anita Foster, Carol Koch, Kim McClinton, Valerie Messner, Candy Moore, Nancy Parsons, Mary Jo Prestridge, Martha Steeves, Kim Overstreet, Cecilia Gray, Connie Miller, Kay Padgett.

Varsity Club

"To uphold, maintain, and promote clean and wholesome athletics of the student body of Madison College," this is the purpose of the varsity club, who sponsors buses to professional soccer and basketball games as well as other activities in an effort to establish itself as one of the major clubs on Madison campus. The club is only in its fourth year at Madison.

This year's Cross Country team exhibited its dedication, devotion, hard work and determination by compiling a season record of eight wins and two losses. Coach Ehlers, new to the team, managed to guide his team to fourth place in the UCAA finals and to a tie for fourth place in the State finals. What next fall holds in store is unknown but hopes are high.

Mrs. Horn's archery team reached a new high season this year. With such archers as Lisa Howard, Sue Vincke and Bob Ryder (who placed 5th at the U.S. Olympic Trials) the teams went on to score high in the ranks of the nation's best collegiate teams. At the Southeast Regional Tournament the women's team placed second along with the men's and the mixed team placed first. At the U.S. Intercollegiate Archery Tournament (Individuals) Bob Ryder managed an easy fourth place.

Wrestling

The new Wrestling team, under the direction of Coach Jay Clarke, managed to pull through a good season in their first year. Though it may only have been considered "fair" for most teams, for a beginning team very short on qualified wrestlers it was a good season. Wrestling in the U.C. - A.A. Tournament at the beginning of the season Madison's grapplers did not fare well but we hope to see some of our men win a few classes.

Hockey Team

The Hockey team this year had a typically magnificent season. Winning nearly all of their games, the team swept up the competition and dumped them where they belonged. Though the Hockey team has consistently been the school's best team, according to their winning seasons, student support for the team has been very weak. Let us all go out to support this invaluable athletic asset to our school next year.

Golf Team

Golf in the fall season was as strong as it ever has been, very strong and a generally winning season. Under the direction of Coach Ward Long, the team had reached its highest achievements in the history of Madison College. Now, with Mr. Long deceased, it is certain that the team will never be the same.

Fencing

New coach, new team members, and new, though unofficial, gender. Madison's fencing team underwent the usual changes of our teams — men infiltrated the ranks. Even with a predominantly beginner team Miss Jean Dalton expected a winning season this year.

Dari Fritt and Jan Andreason won 5th and 6th places respectively at the AFLA novice meet which was predictable for their season.

Gymnastics

Though not yet a varsity team, the Madison College Gymnastic "Troupe" has the most rigorous practice schedule of any sport sponsored by the school. Practicing all year between 15 and 16 hours a week has really developed a strong team for competition this fall. With three shows, one televised, and one women's competition with Longwood College, Madison's team has some experience and they are optimistic of the coming season. Good luck!

Comin' Through In Seventy-Two

"Comin' through in Seventy-Two" was the motto for this year's soccer team and come through they did. With Al Mayer, Ray Laroche, Pat Baker, Mike Tesla, and Joe Erickson on the All State team and Mayer, Laroche, and Tesla on the All South, one can see the true effort that our team put out this year.

Football was a new experience here at Madison this year. The controversial team was hindered by a number of tough breaks and bad luck. Desperately short-numbered and inexperienced, the squad fought valiantly. Though Madison failed to win a game or score a point this season, high hopes are held for next year. Possibly with some "imported" talent the Dukes could compile a good season next fall.

Equestrian

Another first in sports this year for Madison was the Equestrian team coached by Mrs. Lois Geil. Formerly known as an interest group called the Pegasus Club, the more serious members joined this year's team and went into competition to win quite a large series of ribbons in numerous classes. Hopes and expectations for next year are even higher with large amount of competition experience chalked up this season.

Womens Recreation Association

Flag football for women premiered at Madison this year.

The Women's Recreation Association is the unifying body which oversees intramurals, interest groups, and varsity sports for women at Madison. The purpose of the Women's Recreation Association is to afford recreational opportunities for all students and to develop a high degree of sportsmanship, as well as an interest for participation in physical activities. The Association sponsors intramurals in basketball, softball, volleyball, swimming, tennis, bowling, golf, badminton, ping pong, bridge, soccer, and flag football.

M.A.A.

Through the guidance and leadership of Coach Bradley Bobcock and MAA official Jay Tigner, the Madison College Men's Athletic Association has brought sports into the lives of a great number of men in the school population. Through soccer, cross country, track and field, flag football, swimming, wrestling, and softball the MAA has been able to produce a fine combination of fun and sportsmanship throughout the campus. Although hampered by the failure of official's elections the MAA managed to produce a full schedule of events for the year.

Volleyball at Madison took a great season this year, completing their games with an 18 and 8 record and the State Tournament with a 5 and 1 victory. Playing against such teams as the U. of North Carolina and the U. of Maryland, the team had a particularly hard schedule this year yet still came out ahead.

Volleyball Team

Lacrosse Team

According to Mrs. Judy Campbell, "Lacrosse is a growing sport and is becoming more and more competitive." The 1972 Varsity Lacrosse Team ended with a 5-2 season, sending twelve players to the State Tournament. Bev Haynes, Dee McDonough, Mary Ann Gasper, and Trish Frear then traveled on to Nationals. The JV's were undefeated in the 1972 season. The 1973 season, consisting of seven games and two tournaments, began with an organizational meeting on February 12. Madison hosted the State Tournament on April 27-29 and the Great Britain-Ireland Touring Team played on April 29.

Basketball

The Dukes pour it on! Madison's 1972-73 basketball team, under the invigorating leadership of their new coach, Lou Campanelli, really went out to a winning season this year. With a twenty-three game season this year the team had a good opportunity to show its strength, skill, and endurance. With the help of assistant coach Mike Fratello, Madison came through their heaviest season compiling one of their best records. This season also saw Varsity player, George Toliver score his 1000th point for Madison College.

Track Team

Under the direction of coach McMillan this year's track team went all out and broke more records than any Madison track team before. Led by such runners as Greg Gerlach and Tom Riley the team really established an outstanding reputation for itself in '73.

This year's versatile squad of cheerleaders had some new additions; two dogs. One was a large, fiery brute with big, wild eyes, the other was a very solemn, dignified, and reserved Bulldog known now as "Duke the First". Together, "Duke" and his big friend added quite a novelty to the cheering section of Madison College.

Women's Tennis

This year's women's tennis team had an interesting season. With a new coach and old players, the team held together very well, completing a season consisting more of victories than defeats — a good way to finish a year.

The Madison men's tennis team this year had a tremendous season. Though faced with some formidable competition the experienced team encountered little difficulty in compiling another winning season. With such team members as Alan Mayer and Rich Coleman the team could not help but enjoy a victorious season.

Men's Tennis

Women's Golf

The 1973 golf team, under the direction of coach Martha O'Donnell, made the rounds this year on quite an up-swing. Having a successful season on the greens and elsewhere, the Duchesses put on a typically good show for Madison. We can only hope that next year's team will do as well.

Women's Basketball

Nancy Clark — 34, Brenda Datterer — 31, Sue Redfield — 11, Debbie Ronemus — 12, Curbie Webster — 14, Lyn Craun — 15, Jill English — 20, Betty Lewis — 30, Meredith Overstreet — 24, Patty Banick — 32, Pam Barnes — 25, Cathy Nolan — 23, Nancy Parker — 31, Teena Rash — 35, Becky Rathbun — 10, Eileen Stewart — 13, and Carrie Conally — 33.

The Madison College "Duchesses", coached by Miss Betty Jaynes, had a very good season this year, compiling a record of ten wins and two losses. Led by such talented players as Susan Redfield and Debbie Ronemus, the team had no trouble keeping up the winning tradition of the women's team. With nine returning players and nine freshmen, there was a variety of playing ability, much to the satisfaction of Miss Jaynes.

Swimming

Standing: Mgr. Marianne Anderson, Patty Fenstermaker, Laura Moore, Sandy Lindsay, Mrs. O'Donnell, Patty Turner, Susie Smith, Virginia Oxtell and Mary Jane Syzmanski. Kneeling: Martha David, Joan Kelly, Denise Wilda, Cathy McGrail, Arlene Goodspeed, and Bev Haynes. Sitting: Barbara McIntyre, Lynn Sheppard, Barbara Black, Barbara Hamlin and Peggy Hoffmaster. Not pictured: Leslie Howe, Ellen Meadows and Tula Zazanis.

Swimming at Madison this year was much enhanced by the new facilities at Godwin Hall and with new competition such as Penn State. The team was stronger than it had ever been with such swimmers as Ellen Meadows, Patty Fenstermaker and Virginia Oxtell.

The Dukes, Madison's 1973 baseball team, played a fine season this year. Coached by Mr. Bradley Babcock and led by such veterans as Larry Hunt, Ken Collins, Pete Jones, and Mel Morris, the team went up against some new competition, but nothing that they couldn't handle.

Greeks respond to the demands of the social needs by sponsoring mixers, movies, beer blasts, and concerts. In the altruistic vein of activity, many fraternities and sororities donate time, energy, and money to various local and national philanthropies. Throughout the year the Greeks are active in many ways but essential to their survival is, "Walk", and "Greek Week."

Alpha Phi Omega Stresses Service

Alpha Phi Omega is America's largest fraternal vice organization, and Madison's only independent fraternity. The brothers work with the Admissions Office every week by giving tours of the campus to prospective students. APO runs a weekly book lift, and helps the Campus Program Board by checking ID's at the movies. APO also helped pay for the education of a mentally handicapped child at the Staunton Rehabilitation Center. In addition to the many service projects, the brothers of APO also keep busy with social activities, such as mixers and parties at the campus farm.

Alpha Chi Rho

Madison College
1973

The brothers of Phi Kappa Beta were officially installed as members of Alpha Chi Rho on May 6, 1972 and maintained their original three letter name as their chapter name. Beside their affiliation with a national fraternity, growth and stabilization have been their goals this year. I.F.C., intramural sports, social and service functions are all a part of the overall social education that they provide. Alpha Chi Rho tries to vary their social life because a strong belief exists that strong fraternities play an important role in building co-education at Madison.

The Eta Kappa Chapter of Theta Chi Fraternity has worked as an integral part of Madison's Greek System during the 1972-73 school year. In addition to rushing and pledging new brothers or carrying on service projects, Theta Chi threw several great parties, the biggest and best being Chi's Annual Halloween Party.

Whether it be Social, Service or the Sports life at Madison, Theta Chi is always a part of the Madison scene, growing and changing with the campus.

The I.F.C. of 1972-73 devoted most of its efforts towards developing cooperation and friendly competition. I.F.C. meetings were characterized by open discussion of general problems faced by all fraternities.

The I.F.C. joined the S.E.I.F.C. and sent representatives to the S.E.I.F.C. convention held in Atlanta, Georgia in February.

By springtime, two new fraternities, Phi Gamma Delta and Sigma Pi, were established with the aid of the I.F.C. and the efforts of the new I.F.C. advisor, Dr. Byron Wills. As always, the I.F.C. worked with Panhellenic to sponsor Greek Week. This year's Greek Week was highly successful and characterized typically by fierce but friendly competition, especially on the football field.

President Carrier Promotes

In the first few years of his administration, President Carrier contributed a great deal to Madison College. The open door policy offers a personal touch of communication between the student and the president. In the way of bettering the college the president has reorganized the administration, expanded the student body, and improved Madison's library facilities. Finally all classes receive fair opportunity in registration with the new procedures. Football has even taken on an important role in the many intercollegiate teams associated with Godwin Hall. Besides performing a job as administrator, the president makes himself seen in the cafeteria, the snack bar, and all around the campus. As a friend who takes fair judgment in mind, the president aids student organizations in any problem they may encounter. On the more formal side of the job the president represents the college to both local and state authorities to take care of any economic and political matters.

From the Editor:

I once heard that the only sure way to fail was to try to please everyone, I hope that in this case, that proves false. The past year will mean something different to each individual, yet it is my hope that we have in some way captured something for everyone to identify with, be it a picture or a phrase in some copy. I know one of the many things I will remember will be those staff members who stuck it out for the whole year. I know it was rough at times with deadlines falling over vacations or during exams but we all did our best and I know that is all the Student Body could ask for from a staff.

January 27, 1973 Signing of the Peace Agreement 7 O'clock cease fire

With Peace at hand as this book goes to print may we, both in our personal lives and in society, remember the good times and forget the bad times except for a few fragments to help us learn from the experience.
