Of late, a number of Madison students can be heard expressing concern about and questioning the necessity of our campus police carrying guns. Perhaps the administration could explain the current policy. Being a veteran, I am well aware of what guns are capable of doing to human beings and since there are no wild animals on the Madison campus, I must conclude that these weapons are carried to shoot people.

President Carried, is it necessary for the campus police to carry guns? The students aren't causing any trouble; there are no demonstrations or administrative office takeovers; there isn't even a non-violent peace movement on campus. So why the 38s????

Madison college is under control. The student prototype is greek, and no signs of dissent are anywhere to be seen. Your students may drink once in awhile and maybe even smoke a little pot, but they do say yes and smile, vote for Nixon, and cut only an occasional class.

When a few students did exercise their 1st and 14th Amendment rights during hawk Harry Byrd's visit, you displayed your tolerance level for free speech well. We students realize that you mean business and that any exercise of our very basic right of free speech and peaceful assembly that is not deemed "in good taste" will be met by stern action on your part. We surrender!!!!!! (cont. on page 2)
So please, for the love of God, disarm your police before someone gets hurt!

A Questioning Mind

TILL FOREVER AND MORE

I thought you and I would be friends forever, until the sun died
until the grass would grow no more

I let you go your way that was not enough

I trusted you before my heart was bleeding before my guts were torn before my thoughts scattered before the lands stolen
the women and children dead
the Circle of Life almost broken

Hear me, America
still I live
the memory of your lies fills my heart
memories of The People's blood on your hands and lips
the memory of your darkest white thoughts

Hear me America
you can never be forgiven
Hear me America
you will never be forgiven

Hear me America
Never.

I saw the rifles of Naiche and Geronimo. The carbine and its sheath of Sitting Bull.

I saw the still war bonnet of Crazy Horse. All encased and silent, their spirits angry.

I saw them all, apart and spirits crying to rise again.

Indian Affairs Organization

One reason why the status of Native Americans has not improved in this country is because Native Americans have remained invisible to the majority of Americans. For the most part America was unaware that Native Americans were in some type of plight. Many people were content to believe that Native Americans were happy weaving their blankets and drinking white man's whiskey. The only Native Americans that most people saw were on television, which often tried to portray them as less than human. So for a long time now white people have not had a clear conception of their problems nor have white people had a clear conception of the solution to Native American problems.

So in an attempt to make the Native American more visible, to give a clearer conception of the Native American, there is forming an organization at Madison to accomplish this task. This will be the first goal of this organization, to educate the student body about current conditions of the Native Americans, about his problems and the solution to those problems. Also there will be made an attempt to increase the understanding of Native Americans culture and philosophy.

The second goal will be action! To mobilize financial and political support to raise the status of the Native American. So if you are interested in working with an organization that wants to aid Native Americans come to the Student Union at 6:30 Dec 5 in meeting room A. This is the first organizational meeting so all ideas and suggestions are welcome. Thank you!

---WITH A LITTLE FROM OUR FRIEND---

GOD

---WALK IN THE OLD WAYS---

500 years since the white man came
Thousands of years of Native Pride Ending now in native suicide.

Where are you now?
Getting drunk?
Shooting junk?

Walk in the Old Ways.
The Nation must never die,
The young must hold their heads up high
Let faith and courage be your guide
And with your brothers at your side
Walk in the Old Ways.

The Rules Review Committee of the Student Government Association is working on a proposal to give students the option of separating their housing and dining contracts. In other words, a boarding student would be able to live on campus, and not automatically be required to pay to eat in the cafeteria.

however, before this policy is adopted, the Student Services office has requested additional facts concerning the number of students who would support this policy, and who would take advantage of it. Therefore, we ask you to help us by filling out this form, and return it to the box marked "Dining Contract Survey" in the Post Office Lobby. If you have any questions about this write Steve Ryan Box 2292. Thank you for your co-operation!

NEW HORIZENS FOR A GROWING MADISON

Irrelevant tradition must face extinction as positive growth can only be achieved through the acceptance of the reality of a changing world. The RA's in the men's dorms have made it clear that each individual is his own judge concerning his personal affairs at school.

Women are receiving more freedom under the new state laws. This protective policy in the form of curfew hours and dorm mothers is in its decline: Possession of alcohol, student legal rights, extended open dorms; and an increased interest in SGA handling our affairs have resulted in a revision of school policy. There will be a certain amount of discomfort, parental disapproval and resistance to some undesired but needed changes. This inevitable in the process of improvement. Certain rules must be retained in order to allow academic stability (quiet hours), but they will be minimal.
