To the best of my judgment we walked about a half a mile, not a word being spoken. Then we began to descend steps, and by the cooler and damper air, I believed we were entering some subterranean place, perhaps a cave. We went down for a comparatively long distance, and then through what seemed to be a narrow passage, with sharp turnsnow to the right, and now to the left .-Then we went up a few steps, and down twice as many, and soon after appeared to enter an apartment, where several persons were assembled, chatting and was again left in darkness and solitued. laughing, who suddenly became silent.

SINGULAR AFFAIR.

It is now more than thirty years, says to starve to death?' 'It is not for us to say,' was the reply, as the heavy iron door was swung to and shall be obeyed,' said I, my heart wildly locked, leaving me in darkness, a prey to fear and despair.

For hours no one came near me; and not knowing what better to do. I stretch and finally fell asleep.

I was awakened by the creaking the hinges on my iron door. I looked free? up, and could scarcely believe my senses, when I beheld, by the light she held in her hand, a young, tall, beautiful lady, with black eyes and hair, very gayly and richly dressed : her soft, white, tapering fingers fairly glittering with rings of great value Behind her, like an evil genius, stood a wrinkled and ugly old woman, whose bleared eyes and booked nose just came out of the shadow, over her shoulder, with a very uppleasant if not startling effect.

I immediately rose from my couch, and made my most polite bow, which the younger female, after staring hard at me, in a very peculiar manner, for nearly half a minute, acknowledged by a very slight inclination of her head. 'What is your name, age and country, senor?' she said, speaking in the tone of one accustomed to command.

Extraordinary Fishing.

I was once on Lake Winnipisiogee, in the wint r, fishing for pickerel,' says Brown. It was awful cold, and the ice was four and a half feet thick. Father was with me, and, while I was thrashing my hands to keep 'em warm, I noticed that dad had ana ll-fired bite. It was so hard that it jerked the old man through the hole in the ice, and I thought he was a goner, but just then I remembered that dad was awful fond of rum and tobacco, so I outs with a piece of nigger head, soaked it in rum for a minute, and then baits my hock with the weed, and drops it through the hole what the old gentleman went into, and in less than ten minutes, gentlemen, I had a bite. and up I hauls the old man as fresh as ever. But, gentlemen, he kept the to-

A prolonged whistle on the part of the audience, as though the yarn was not believed. 'It's a fact, gentlemen,' continued Brown, 'and that reminds me of another story, which I don't mind telling. One winter I was crossing the lake on the ice, and as I was going to a raising I had an inch augur in my hand. All at once I thought I'd like to see how thick the ice was, so I bored a hole, and found that it was about two feet. Then I thought I'd find out how deep the water was, so I dropped my carpenter plumb line through the augur hole, and hang me if I did'nt have a savage bite before the lead touched bottom.

'I pulled up, and landed a seven pound

Another prolonged whistle, and some one asked Brown how a seven pound fish could get through an augur hole.

'That's somethin' I has nothin' to do with,' replied Brown. 'All I know is. that the fish was caught and carried home, and I ate my share of him, and the old gentleman, took his part. I don't bother my head about matters that I don't understand.'

It is easy to say ill natured things, and thus get a reputation for smartness; but genuine humor does'nt flow from a bitter fountain. It is gentle and genial, comes from a bright and loving spirit, and refreshes while it excites to mirth and laughter. Less brilliant than wit, it is more agreeable; while the one offends by its severity, the other makes a man ashamed of his follies without exciting his resentment.

Woman's Mission.

Dr. Stedman pays the following eloquent tribute to the loveliness and power of female piety, in his late discourse to the Board and Members of the Synchical Female College at Florence, Ala:

'I speak not in flattery, and have no view to catch applause when I remark that the susceptibilities of woman are tender, her sympathies far reaching, her affections warm and deep, and her disposition kindly, amiable, gentle, lovely and teachable. God has constituted her so for wise purposes; not that she may pride herself upon these things and glory in them, but that she may turn them to society's convivial meetings social amusegood account and exercise them on proper objects, to her own happiness and the benefit of others.

'Woman is more patient than man, more self-denial, more sensitive, more generous, more given to hospitality, more benevolent, more inclined to faith and confidence, more full of mercy and good works, more disposed to visit the sick, to hermitage, therefore they are not subject pity the distressed, to care for the indigent, to entertain the good, and to serve as a ministering angel, as a messenger of love to the afflicted and dying. Woman is also a lover of virtue, and appreciates the beautiful, and is candid, free, open and without disguise and hypocricy.

'But with all these natural and at tractive gifts and graces, she is a sinner before Him who looketh not upon the outward appearance but upon the heart, and is inclined to be a lover of pleasure more than a lover of God' She is at enmity to her Maker; at variance with His law, and with all her amiableness and good-heartedness, when judged by a human standard, is nevertheless, 'without hope and without God in the world.' It is therefore, indispensable to her happiness that she becomes savingly acquainted with Jesus, that she welcome Him to her warmest affections, that she take the place of a learner at His feet, that she listen attentively to His instructions, that she receive the words from His lips with meekness and fear .-In Mary's position and conduct, all feman's chief ornament, as it is the highest honor and reward, 'to be clothed with humility, and to be adorned with a meek

God is of great price 'Nothing is more unlovely in lovely woman, than that, amidst her amazing powers for good, she could manifest a spot her beautiful garments with earthsupremely fond of fashion, show, dress and parade; that she should constantly exort the admir tion of dying worms like herself and pine away in sorrow because of a more successful rival for worldly attractions : that she should live only to enjoy herself, and like the gay butterfly, sport away in amusement and folly, the brief summer of her existence, without purpose and without end.

'And if the mission of woman is accomplished only beneath the cross, then her province is not to deck herself in haste with brilliant charms, instead of adorning herself by slow degrees with himself in the jovial circle, or at the social useful graces.' A vain brilliancy, a precious development, knowledge badly directed, the memory burdened without regard to the intellect, gifts of imagination placed in the front rank; this is the tinsel of education, which is by no manner or means to be substituted for the pure gold of instruction, solid, benificent, precious in the sight of God and man.

'It is for you, to say, then, young friends, whether, like Mary, you will fulfil your mission beneath the cross, or whether you will waste your energies, your talents, your opportunities, your blessings and your life, in a career of vanity, worldliness, and sinful forgetfulness of God, Christ, your own immortal soul and eternity! Man Was Framed Both for Society

How sweet how passing sweet, is solitude if But grant me still a friend in my retreat. Whom I may whisper solitude is sweet.

In perusing a work written by an author of o sd rab e rept tation I met with th's idea Man was not framed for Solitude but for society. Although we believe this is true in the sense the auther intended, still, we protpose evading the signification of the author and showing that man was neither framed, exclusively for the once, or the other; but but both in their proper seasons,

A Preacher Caught.

Once two ministers of the gospel were conversing together on extemporaneous preach-

'Well,' said the old divine, waxing warm, 'you are ruining yourself by writing your sermons and reading them off. Your congregation cannot become interested in your preaching, and if you were called upon to preach unexpectedly, unless you could get hold of an old sermon, you would be com pletely confused.'

The young devine used all his eloquence, but in vain to convince, the old gentleman that the written sermon expressed his own thoughts and feelings, if called upon he could preach extemporaneously.

'As we are of the same faith,' said the young minister, 'suppose you try me next Sabbath morning.' On ascending the pulpit you can hand me a text from any part of the Bible, and I will convince you that I can preach without looking at the text before I stand up. Likewese I must be allowed the same privilege with you, and see who will make the best of it.'.

The idea seemed to delight the old gentleman, and it was immediately agreed

A Touching Reply .- In a Christian fam. ily, near Amoy, China, a little boy, the youngest of the three children, asking his father to allow him to be baptized, was told that he was too young ; that he might fall back if he made a profession when he was only a little boy. To this he made the touching reply; 'Jesus has promised to derive from society, that we can claim to be | carry the lambs in his arms. A CALL FOR A CONSERVATIVE vention to be held on Wednesday, the 11th of December, was issued, last week, by the Executive Committee of the Conservative party of Richmond : The Executive Committee of the Conservative party in Richmond, obeying the indications of the sentiments of the people of Virginia, and without any intention to dietate to them, but acting because there is no recognized body to provide for such a concontingency, invite the people of the various counties and cities to assemble in primary meetings and appoint delegates to a Con-vention to be held in the city of Richmond, on Wednesday, the 11th of December, for the purpose of effecting an organization of the Conservatives of the State. H K. ELLYSON, Prest.

JNO. R. BRANCH, Sec.y.

It has been suggested that the railroads furnish free tickets to the delegates to the Conservative State Convention .-We hope they will do no such a thing. If they do, we shall have thirty dele gates from some counties. Let the delegates pay their fare as gentlemen ought always to do .- Charlottesville Chronicle.

We opine that the editor of the Chronicle has succeeded in becoming a "Dead Head" on all the railroads of the State, and when he looks at his free passes, feels rich enough to pay his fare like a geutleman, "if required to do so" We, however, think his suggestion in bad taste, and if pursued by the railroad companies, (which we are sure will not be the case,) would have a tendency to keep away from the Convention at Richmond a number of "gentlemen," who was once able, richly able, to pay their way "l'ke gentlemen," but now would be obliged to decline to render the State a service as their representative, simply because it would cost them $30 or $40 in money to make the trip to Richmond. We would say to the Chronicle, that the intelligence and patriotism of Virginia, is not confined to the gentlemen who can pay their way. Instead of the Virginia railroads transporting the delegates a member. to the Convention of the 11th proximo, at half fare, it is their duty to take them entirely free, as we regard the Convention to be held in Richmond, at the time above mentioned, as more important to the dearest interests of the white people of Virginia than any other Convention ever convened in the State. That we Monday next. have a Conservative white majority in the State, is an incontrovertible fact, but we prohibit a further reduction of the cur have no organized Conservative party, rency, and another for terminating the er with the people or the press. While | ident, when articles of impeachment are indeed, no organization whatever, neithwe are aiming at the same end, every section seems to have a course of policy different to the rest to attain that end. Previous to the late election, which was all important to the people, the Press of the State was very much divided as to the proper course for the people to pursuc, some of us, in consideration of the pro and con advice given by cotemporaries, together with the fact that no discipline had been adopted to prepare us to do battle with our enemies, actually refused to take position at all, as to the proper course of action to defeat negro supremacy under Radical law in this once glorious and proud old Commonwealth-while other papers (and the Chronicle is of that number) was very situation and vote "for a Convention," until a few days before the election, at which time they made a somersault, but happiness. too late to undo what they had done in the opposite direction. While other papers were very consistent, we are glad to say, in their efforts to have the peoplavote against the Convention, and are still on the right track, by advising those who can, to vote against anything that has in it negro equality or negro suffrage. We believe, however, that this is now the aim of the Conservative people and papers of the entire State, and to accomplish this, a Convention of the sovereigns of the State has been properly called to convene at Richmond, and we have no doubt that the platform and policy laid the church ground used for this purpose, down by that Convention, will enable us to form a Conservative party in Virginia, that will defy the sworn Leagues of negro politicians, and make their worse than negro white cusses who act with them, ashamed of their associates, by inscribing on our banners "victory, liberty and no negro suffrage in Virginia," the mother of States and statesmen. We the church which they found closed. Aptherefore would respectfully urge that every gentleman appointed as a representative, should not allow any trivial matter to prevent his attendance, and would be glad to see every railroad in the State offer a free pass to the delegates, and the hotels of Richmond reduce their rates to half fair, during the setting of the Convention. All of which Funkhouser, after making a few remarks we desire for the good of our adopted, from the door-step, dismissed his hearers .though not less loved State, Virginia.

Congress.

Yesterlay at noon the adjourned session of the Fortieth Congress commenced at Washington. There was a full attendance in each branch, with a large number of spectators in the galleries .-The impeachment subject, which was prominent in the public mind as one of anticipated action, was not reached at all but it was announced that the majority and minority reports of the judiciary committee thereon would be made on Monday.

In the Senate, Mr. Sumner, mounted his usual hobby, and obtained leave to introduce a bill "for the further security of equal rights" in the District of Columbia. It strikes ont the word "white" from the charter of the cities of Washington and Georgetown. This bill was passed at the late session, but not having been returned by the President in time for final congressional action, failed to become a law. A first approach to any branch of the financial questions was also made by Mr. Edmunds, of Vermont, who offered a resolution, which lies over under the rules, pledging the faith of the government to the payment of the 5-20 bonds in gold. Several bills reported at the last session, among them one to vacate the offices at Alexandria, were called up and indefinitely postponed. The Senate then adjourned until Monday next.

In the House a protracted debate ensued, in consequence of objections to the admission of the Tennessee delegation, the first objection being by Mr. Eldridge to Mr. Stokes on account of disloyalty. and the next to the whole delegation by Mr. Brooks, on the ground that there was not a republican form of government in Tennessee; the 45,000 white men in that State had been disfranchised, and that the members elect were chosen by the votes of 55,000 freedmen. He wished to apply the action of the House, as regards the Kentucky members at the last session, to the Tennessee members. Mr. B particularly objected to the admission of Mr. Butler, (radical,) of Tennessee, on the ground that he had been a member of the secession convention of that State. After the rejection of the motion to refer the whole of the credentials, and to exclude three of the delegation from taking the test oath, it was finally determined that the credentials of Mr. Butler be referred to the committee on elections, and that, pending the investigation, he be not sworn in as

The order pending, when the house took its recess in July, that the judiciary committee report forthwith on the impeachment question, coming up, it was postponed in accordance with the intimation that the committee would be prepared to submit the evidence, &c , on Several bills were introduced, one to preferred, and the House adjourned till Monday .- Balt. Sun of 23d, SECTABIANISM .- For some time past, and especially since the close of the war, we have heard but little of ill feeling between different religious denominations in this section, and had hoped that these unpleasant differences were numbered with the things that are past and forgotten. Different denominations were permitted and invited to occupy each other's churches, union prayer meetings and even consolidations of cangregations that seemed in times past to think illy of each other, and various other evidences of peace and good will have we observed. And this general good feeling was not confined alone to Protestantism, but existed between them and the Catholics. We are always glad to see this state of things; it makes us think zealous in advising that we accept the that the cause of true religion, and with it humane and moral principles, is advancing to the good of both our earthly and eternal

While the above is true as a general thing to our shame we are forced to acknowledge that it is not quite universal. One of these exceptional cases was brought to our notice a few days ago, by the very best authority, as having taken place in this county, which we deem it our duty as journalists to publish in our columns, and therefore have no apology to offer for so doing. We believe it but proper to hold up such conduct to a civilized people for their frowns and contempt. It seems that a few weeks ago, a Mr. Bright, llving near the Lutheran (O. S.) Trinity Church, lost one of his children, aged about 2 months, and made application to the Trustees of this Church for permission to bury the child in which request was granted, but, as since learned, with much reluctance. This was not known by Mr. Bright at the time, and not until after he had made arrangements for funeral services, and had spoken to the Rev. Jos. Funkhouser to conduct the same at said church, made the announcement of the time and place, &c. A number of friends assembled at the time appointed and proceeded to plication was made to the Trustees for the key, but they refused to give it, or to allow the congregation to enter the church to hold the service, giving as their reason that the church had been built for the exclusive use of their own congregation, and they would not allow a preacher of any other denomination to occupy it for any purpose. The day was too cold for out-door preaching, and Mr. We hope to hear that this bigoted action on the part of the Trustees will meet with the

The trial of Robert Forney, charged with the murder of Henry Trenary, on the night of the 22nd of Febuary last, was commenced before the Circuit Court in Winchester, Judge Parker presiding, on Wednesday morning last, and after a patient examin: tion of the case, the jury returned a virdict that Forney was insane at the time the offense was committed; and he was sent to the Insane Asylum at Staunton, where he had formerly been confined.

MISCELLANEOUS.

A CARD.—I hereby tender my sincere thanks to the citizens of Harrisonburg and Rockingham County for the liberal patronage extended to me during a residence of twelve years in their midst, and take this opportunity of saying that I have always rejoiced in the improvement, either morally or socially, of the town and its inhabitants, and have ever aided, as far as my humble means afforded, to further the cause of Education and the spread of Religious Knowledge to the rising generation. It is also well Bundle means anorded, to lutther the cause of Education and the spread of Religious Knowledge to the rising generation. It is also well known by the most respectable inhabitants of the town that in the year 1864 I was the only regularly licensed Liquor Dealer in Harrison burg, and, as far as my knowledge extends, in the whole County, while at the same time there were at least twenty-six Grog Shops openly selling liquor without a license to soldiers and others; and, strange to say, I never heard of one of these persons being indicted by a Grand Jury—but, on the contrary, they were liberally patronized by the "City Fathers" of that day. However, in the event of Good Liquors being required for Medicinal or Hospital purposes, for the benefit of sick or wounded soldiers, I (being the only person who could,) cheerfully tilled all orders sent to me, for which I never received a single dime. The orders are still in my possession, and can be seen by any person doubting my assertion. And furthermore, I always furnished Pure Wine for Sacramental purposes to any of the Churches, when called for, and invariably refused compensation therefor.

I wish the foregoing facts to become known the Churches, when called for, and invariably refused compensation therefor.

I wish the foregoing facts to become known with the following, viz: That at the last June Term of the Court I made application for a license to retail Liquors, &c., which was refused by a beach of Magistrates partly composed of persons who it is notorious liberally patronized the unlicensed dealers before mentioned, and actually licensed some of the same dealers at the time my netition was rejetted. time my petition was rejetted.

Renewing my sincere thanks to the citizens of Rockingham County for the many favors heretofore extended, and hoping for a continuance of their patronage, I subscribe myself their obedient servant,

BONE DUST. The Bone Mill at Bridgewater is now in operation. Bring on your Bones: 30,000 pounds of superior and unadulterated BONE DUST now on hand and for sale. 3,000 pounds manufactured daily. Price $55 cash per ton for bone dust, at the mill—the purchaser furnishing bags or barrels for the same. This is FIVE DOLLARS LESS per ton than the Staunton and Harrison-burg prices for adulterated city Bone Dust. I will pay $12.50 per ton for dry bones delivered at the mill, or one-third of their weight in bone dust, as the owner may prefer. And having a good flouring mill at the same place and a first-rate miller, I will take good wheat at current prices, delivered at the mill in exchange for Bone Dust.

Those who have engaged Bone Dust should come on without delay and get it, as there is a great demand for it. By delay they may find themselves obliged to wait when they may wish to use it.

For the purpose of informing the Farmers of the quantity of Bone Dust used to the acre, the manner of using it, and the good opinion formed of it by those who have heretofore used, I here. insert a letter written to me by B. E. Dorsey, who work d up 700 tons of bones at Winchester, Va., since the war, on the same mill that I now have, which Keefer sold to me, after exhausting, va., since the war, on the same mill that I now have, which Keefer sold to me, after exhausting the stock of bones within resch.

Winchester, July 24, 1867.

G. W. Berlin, Esq :—Yours of the 20th was received this morning, and in answer can say the smallest quantity of bone dust used to the acre is 100 pounds, I advise the Farmers to put on 200 pounds per acre, and it will pay them richly in the first crop, and besides will improve the the land for ten years. We sow with a Drill.—We have Drills with an attachment so that we can sow Wheat and Bone Dust at the same time. If you have no Drill sow broad-east at the time you sow the Wheat * * * I could self 500 tons to my old customers if I had it: Try and get the Farmers to put on 20 pounds per acre, if you can. It will pay them much better than a smaller quantity, although some use only 100 pounds per acre.

Yours, truly,

THE ROCKINGHAM LIBRARY ASSOCIATION. -This Associdtion held a meeting at the office of the President, Capt. James Kenney on Saturday evening last, and was attended by a majority of the members. A Constitution and By-Laws for the government of the Association were adopted, and the usual standing and special committees appointed.

We commend the objects of this Association as being worthy the attention of not only the gentlemen and ladies of Harrisonburg, but of the entire county of Rockingham, and we hope to see the enterprise meet meet with that success it so richly deserves. We are surprised that a town like Harrisonburg has not long since shown an interest in this important matter of a Library-a thing, perhaps, more calculated to engender social feelings and cultivate the good taste of a community than any other society that could be formed. But it is not now too late to commence, and we feel sure that with proper energy of the members, by the 1st of January we will have a room full of books tha will be a credit to Rockingham.

A committee of ladies will wait upon the citizens of Harrisonburg in a short time to solicit subscriptions for stock, and hope our people will properly and liberally appreciate their praiseworthy mission.

The Association will meet again on Saturday night next, at Capt. Kenney's office, at which time the members, and all others favorably disposed, are requested to attend by an advertisement in to-day's paper.

LYCKUM -The Harrisonburg Lyceum Association held their regular meeting at the Court-House on Friday evening last, at which time the question, "Is the world progressing in morality?" was debated by Mr. A. Carter Attkison and Dr. S. M. Dold, in the Affirmative, and Prof. Turner and Capt. Warren S. Lurty in the Negative. The speeches on the question, we understand, were very creditable to the gentlemen making them. After the argument was concluded the President submitted the decision to the House, which voted in favor of the Affirmative side. The foliowing question was selec ed for debate on Friday evening next: "Is a Republican a better form of Government than a Monarch-Ical?" Messrs. Dwyer, Sr. and Eastham were appointed for the affirmative, and Messrs. Grattan and Harnsberger for the 'negative, after which the meeting adjourned to meet on Friday evening next. We are authorized to invite the attendance of the ladies and gentlemen of Harrisonburg.

ARRESTED -We stated in our last issue that a man by the name of John Dofflemcyer, of Page, killed a man by the name of Hezekiah Lamb, near East Point Church in East Rockingham, and that Lofflemoyer had left for parts unknown, &c. The killing part of the story was true, but we have since learned that Dofflemoyer made no effort to escape arrest. He simply went to his home in Page county, and on Thursday last gave himself up to an officer to have the case investigated, which resulted in him being sent on to this place the next day to jail. His friends made application to his Honor the Judge of the Circuit Court for his release on bail, which was granted, making the amount $5,000. Mr. D. succeeded in giving the necessary sureties, and was permitted to return home on Saturday.

Annual Meeting of the Stockholders of the O. A. & M. R. R. Co.

Pursuant to adjournment, the stockholders e-assembled at the Lyceum Hall, Alexandria, on Thursday, when Mr. Massie, Chairman of the Committee on Proxies, reported that a majority of the stock of the company was represented-report accepted.

The chairman then announced that the neeting was ready for business; whereupon Mr. Barbour read and submitted the rethe report of the President and Directors. The report of the Chief Engineer and General Superintendent was next read, and then Col. W. B. Shepherd submitted the report of the Examining Committee, which, after a few remarks from Mr. Barbour protesting against charges being made against the agents of the company upon mere hearsay evidence, thereby reflecting upon the Directory, and by Mr. B. H. Shackleford, in vindieation of the course pursued by the committee, was, together with the report of the President and accompanying documents, referred to a special committee, consisting of N. H. Massie, of Albemarle; F. L. Smith, of Alexandria; F. M. Latham, of Culpeper; J. H. Lee, of Orange; and J. L. Pascoe, of Lynchburg.

Col. R. E. Withers, on behalf of the Lynchburg and Danville Railroad, addressed the meeting in a few pertinent remarks, urgthe claims of this road upon the stockholders here assembled, and pleading not only for moral but material assistance. On motion of W. H Gaskins, the amendments to the By-Laws proposed by himself, and of which notice was given at the last meeting of the stockholders, were referred to a special committee appointed by the chair, as follows: W. H. Gaskins, J. J. Wheat, and John Wood, Jr.

The meeting then took a recess until 71

Upon reassembling, Mr. Massie, Chairman of the committee to whom was referred the reports of the President, Examining Committee, and accompanying documents, made a favorable report, which on motion, was adop-

On motion of Mr. Chapman, the meeting then proceeded to the election of officers, as follows:

John S. Barbour was unanimously reelected President; and D. F. Slaughter, W. G. Cazenove, W. D. Hart, R. A. Coghill, E. C. Marshall, and Dr. S. A. Coffman Directors on the part of the Stockholders.

J. J. Wheat, from the Committee to whom was referred the proposed amendments to the By-Laws, submitted a report which occasioned considerable debate, but after various suggestions, amendments, motion, &c., the whole subject was laid on the table, when notices were given by several of their intention at the next annual meeting, to move to amend the By-Laws in many particulars.

On motion, Messrs, W. P. Shepherd, of Nelson, T. T. Hill, of Culpeper, W. E. Coleman, of Amherst, J J. Chapman, of Orange, and B. H. Shackleford, of Fauguier, were reappointed an Ex. mining Committee. After which a vote of thanks to the presiding officer was passed, the usual number of copies of the proceedings of the meeting ordered to be printed, and the meeting adjourned sine

We publish the following extract from the President's report touching the MANASSAS BRANCH ROAD.

The General Assembly of Virginia passed an act at the last session, by the terms of visich authority was given to the Manassas Gap Railroad Company to con ract with this company for the transfer of the stock shares, franchise, and property, of the former to the latter company upon certain stiapulions and conditions specially set forth in the law This act was subsequently accepted by both companies in general meetings of their respective stockholders called for the purpose, a contract entered into as required by the lav the deal of transfer duly executed and recorded, and the road and other property requiarly turned over to the authorities o this company. As the early commencement of the undertaking assumed by this company to rebuild and complete the Manassas Road was provided for by the act of Assembly, as well as by the contract between the companies, and at the same time as it was material to the interests of this company to realize a return upon its outlay as soon as possible, measures were at once initiated to comply with the obligation assumed, and to proceed with the construction of the work with the least possible delay. As a preliminary proceeding, however, it was necessary to make some adjustment with the mortgage creditors of the late Manassas Gap R. C. to satisfy their demands and to remove the existing priority of lien which these parties held up on the road and property of the company. After some delay and negotiation with the creditors an agreement was finally entered into, by which they accepted new bonds of the consolidated company secured by mortgage on both roads, in lieu of their own, at the rate of sixty-two per cent of the principal and interest then due and outstanding. It will be perceived that under this a rangement thirty-eight per-cent of their debt was surrendered by these parties in consideration of the undertaking of this company to assume the residue, and to resume payment of interest on the principal amount on the 1st of January next. This arrangement has obtained the concurrence of the bulk of the bondholders, and so far has been refused in a single instance only, As soon as this difficulty was removed the Directors proceeded without further delay to have prepared a new issue of bonds running fo 15 years; and bearing 7 per cent per annum interest to an amount not exceeding $1,650,000 and to execute a mortgage on the property and fran chises of both roads to secure the payment of the same. The issue of these bonds was required partly to take up the former bonds above referred to, and as a financial basis to raise the means recessary to rebuild the road, and complete the unfinished section to Harrisonburg. At the date of taking possession of the Manassas Road the track had been im-perfectly laid to Piedmont Station, a distance of 34 miles, with an intervening space of 27 miles to be bridged and relaid from that point to Strasburg. From Strasburg to Mount Jackson the old track was still standing, requiring, however, the renewal of a large amount of bridging and the putting in of some additional cross-ties. The Directors decided to rebuild and open the line at first as far as Mount Jackson, where an important point in the trade of the Valley would be reached, and having placed the work in charge of the experienced Chief Engineer of the company, H. W. Vandegrift, Esq, preceded to invite proposals for con-tracts to reconstruct the bridges, furnish cross ties, and relay the track between the points above described. A contract on favorable terms has been entered into with the prove not unfavorable it is reasonably to be expected that the line will be finished, and the road ready for the passage of trains as far as Mount Jackson in the month of January. From this last named point to Timberville, in the county of Rockingham, a distance of twelve miles, the track is now laid the construction of some bridging only requiring to be supplied. From Timbrrville to Harrisonburg the work will be resumed in the spring, and as the main body of the gradua-tion is already executed no obstacle is now perceived as likely to prevent the com-pletion of the entire line next summer in time for the transportation of the next wheat crop of the large and productive, county of Rockingham.

The Directors congratulate the stockholders upon the success which has attended their efforts under all the difficulties involve ed in the reconstruction of this importan line of railway, the progress already made and the early prospect of its completion to its chartered terminus at Harrisonburg. The opening up of this new and important line of railway communication must produce valuable results to the interests of the State, the city of Alexandria, and the shareholders of the company.

The Lynchburg and Danville Railroad Company have recently put under contract the graduation of a large portion of their road, which when completed must afford a valuable connection and tributary of your road. It does not require any inspiration of fancy, or coloring of the pencil to depict the future prosperity and importance of the Orange, Alexandria and Manassas Railroad when its branches now in progress are completed. with one arm extended through the neart of the fertile Valley of Virginia, and the other reaching to the North Carolina line at Danville.

Presented on behalf of the directors, by J. S. BARBOUR, President.

THE NORTH END AHEAD. - The new Lumber manufactory near the Depot is now so near completed that the whistle of the large engine was distinutly heard in town yesterday. The entire machinery will soon be up and ready for operation. We congratulate the energetic company upon such speedy reconstruction, and also our town and county upon the many advantages to be derived from an improvement of this kind.

'THE OLD GUARD' FOR DECEMBER. The December number of The Old Guard s now ready, containing the concluding chapters of Wm. Gilmore Simm's story of 'Joscelyn.' 'The magazine opens with an article by the editor entitled, 'What the South has not lost by the War.' 'The Bat tles of Virginia,' by John Esten Cooke, will be concluded in January, the present number containing an account of Early's Campaign in the Shanandoah Valley. 'Spoils by a Receiver, Speculative Inquiry into the Old Principle,' a'Sonnet,' and the Book and the Editor's Tables, complete a very readable number. The January number now in press, will contain the first chapters of one of the most thrilling popular historical novels ever published in this country, covering the history of the fall of the Italian States' under the rule of the Caesar Borgia. The next volume of The Old Guard will also contain a series of articles from the pen of Dr. Van Evrie, on the Races of Men, which will be illustrated by beautiful plates of the different types of mankind. Single copies. 25 cents. Van Evrie, Horton & Co., publishers, No. 172 Nassau street, New York.

Godey's Lady's Book. -The December number of this popular monthly Magazine is on our table. We take pleasure in commending it to our lady friends, as we know Godey to be the great favorite in this section. It contains two steel-plate engravings, besides several fashion plates printed in colors, &c. The reading matter is always the best selection of Literature, Novelettes, Postry, &c. that can be found in a publication of this kind. The Publisher offers rare inducements to subscribers for 1868, and promises that the Lady's Book will be greatly improved in many respects. The following are the terms for 1868 :

The attention of the young men of the Valley is called to the advertisement in today's Commonwealth of that old and reliable Southern Commercial College of Bryant, Stratton & Sadler, of Baltimore. This institution is too well and favorably known in this State to require a eulogistical notice at our hands, and we will, therefore, only remind our friends that it is still in successful operation, and we feel justified in saying that there is not an institution of the kind in America where a young man can get as thorough and systematic education in the same length of time as at the Bryant, Stratton & Sadler, at No. 8 N. Charles Street, Baltimore.

We call attention to the Insurance card of Messrs. Price & Lrcke, who are acting for quite a number of companies. Those who desice to insure either their life or property will find Messrs. Price & Locke the right kind of men to deal with. We think it scarcely necessary to say anything upon the propriety and great advantages to be derived from insurance. These things have by long experience been demonstrated to the business world. The reliability of the companies that these gentlemen represent is as good as any fore reaching Strasburg. If the weather in the country. Insure at once.

CREAT STAGE LINE THROUGH

THE VALLEY OF VIÆGINIA.
The old and well-known stage line of Trotter & Bro., in the Shenandoah Valley, is now making its regular trips between Staunton and Winchester, twice daily, (Sundays excepted.) The best possible accommodations are offered by this line, and the fare is lower than upon any similar line in the State. It makes regular connections with all the Railroad trains leaving Winchester and Staunton. Travellers who wish to view the splendid scenery and the numerous battle fields in the Valley, can have the finest opportunity to do so, as the stages leave Staunton and Winchester in the morning as well as in the evening, allowing passengers to stop at any point and resume their sea's at any time thereaft. ren either of the passing stages.

THE BEST HORSES AND COACHES, and none but the most careful, experienced and accommodating DkIVERS are employed.

The bridges on the Valley Turnpiks are all up now, and the whole road will very soon be put in good condition. good condition.

Travellers need have no fears about making the proper connection at either end of the Valley.
