JUNIORS EXPLORE WONDERLAND

Student Body Names Melson Attendant

Junior Theme Takes Students To Land Of Animal Kingdom

Portraying Alice's most mysterious adventures in Wonderland the junior skits in the Big Gym tonight will climax the Junior Class day. The party will be brief due to the debate with Mary Baldwin scheduled for 8:00 o'clock.

Had Alice been on campus today she would have thought herself in a hall of a thousand mirrors, for the juniors, dressed as "Alices," in white with yellow aprons and bandeaux, took possession of the "Wonderland" in which they have been adventuring these three years.

According to a tradition which arose in the not-far-distant past when freshman and sophomores had to go to meals, the juniors to show their distinction did not appear for breakfast but at class-time the full glory of the class burst upon the observers.

Harrison Hall was decorated to represent the Wonderland into which Alice fell. Familiar and charming figures such as the "White Knight" and the "King and Queen of Hearts" peered forth.

Mary Van Landingham conducted assembly exercises. Ruth Shular made a short talk on The Wonderland that Lies Before Us.

A trio composed of Bobby Cook, Kay Carpenter, Inez Graybeal sang. The Normand twins, mascots of the class furnished an attractive note.

The banquet table carried out the junior colors in the Alice-in-Wonderland theme. Those seated at the banquet table were: Dr. and Mrs. Duke, Mrs. Cook, Hilda Hisey, Dr. Normand, big brother. Mrs. Normand, Tommy and Charles Normand, class mascots, Miss Marbut, big sister, Mary Van Landingham, president, Kay Carpenter, vice-president, Hattie Courter, secretary, Florence Holland, treasurer, Mary V. Montgomery, business manager.

LE CERCLE FRANCAIS PRESENTS COMEDY

A Doctor in Spite of Himself, a three-act comedy by the French author Moliere, was presented by Le Cercle Francais in chapel on Wednesday morning.

The cast included: Sgaranelle, Sarah Lemmon; Martine, Ruth Behrens; Mr. Roberts, Ruth Shular; Valere, Katherine Harlin; Lucas, Elsie Mallory; Geronte, Alice Kay; Lucinda, Hilda Hisey; Leander, Joyce Rielley.

Lillian Lambert, president of the society, gave a few introductory remarks, telling how the French Circle had translated Moliere's play under the supervision of Miss Elizabeth Cleveland. She reviewed briefly the life of Moliere and told of his purpose in writing A Doctor for a Day.

The comedy is a satire on the medical profession as it was during the life of Moliere. Sgaranelle, a poor wood-cutter, is tricked into posing as a learned physician. With his command of Latin phrases, his erroneous quotations from Aristotle, and his high-sounding but meaningless speeches, he stumbles upon the fact that his patient's illness is feigned. By amateurish plotting he succeeds in keeping up the deception but many amusing complications arise.

Other officers of the French Circle are: vice-president, Alma Fultz; secretary, Joyce Rielley; treasurer, Margaret Newcomb; chairman of the program committee, Albertina Ravenhorst.

WESTHAMPTON PLAYS H. T. C. SEXTET SAT. IN THIRD BATTLE

Westhampton and Harrisonburg will clash Saturday night on H. T. C.'s court in the third game of the season for the H. T. C. sextet. Last year Harrisonburg won from Westhampton on the latter's court. Westhampton has a strong team and so far has had a successful season.

Panzer College of Orange, New Jersey will play William and Mary at W. and M. on Friday night. Monday night on its return trip the Panzer College team will play Harrisonburg here. Panzer is a co-ed physical education school. The team is an excellent one ranking equal with Savage and East Stroudsburg. It lost to East Stroudsburg this season, on the latter's court, by a narrow margin.

Harrisonburg has been the victor in the two games played this season. H. T. C. varsity took an easy victory from Shepherdstown State College with a score of 62-12. The varsity fought a hard battle with East Stroudsburg winning by a close score of 35-30 on February 19.

Mary Baldwin Team Debates With H.T.C. Tonight at 8 O'clock

Opening this year's debating season, Henrietta Manson, Lottsburg, and Joyce Rieley, Troutville, will represent Harrisonburg in a debate with Mary Baldwin College in the auditorium of Wilson Hall tonight at 8:00.

The question for debate is "Resolved: That the powers of the president of the United States should be substantially increased as a permanent policy." The local team will support the affirmative side.

Mary Baldwin's representatives are Barbara Jett and Marian Nester. Marjorie Abbey will be the alternate. These, with their coach, Mr. Grafton, were entertained at a banquet in the Senior Dining Hall this evening.

According to Frances Whitman, president of the Debating Club, many interesting points will be brought out in this evening's clash. A clear outline of the president's present duties and responsibilities will be presented in addition to arguments for and against increased powers.

Henrietta Manson is newly-elected president of the student government. She has been a member of the Debating Club for two years, and is also a member of Alpha Rho Delta, Le Cercle Francais, and the BREEZE staff. Joyce Rieley was an alternate for the debating team last year. She is a member of the student council, Kappa Delta Pi, secretary of Le Cercle Francais and campus editor of the BREEZE. Both girls were experienced debaters in high school.

Yale alumni are about to abandon the policy of having a former Yale player as coach. Harry Kipke, Michigan grid mentor, or T. A. D. Jones, Howard's brother, may coach the Eli team next year.

GOVT. AID OFFERED TO WORTHY STUDENTS

Part-time employment for students who would otherwise be unable to continue their education is being offered by the Federal Emergency Administration funds, announced Dr. Duke on Monday.

The allotment of scholarships for each college will be equal to ten per cent of its full-time student enrollment on October 15, 1933. Since this college has 711 students enrolled it will be granted 71 scholarships. Seventy-five per cent of this number may be given to present students; twenty-five per cent must be given to prospective students.

Student applicants will be selected for the jobs on the following considerations. Need: her financial status shall be such as to make her attendance impossible at college without aid. Character and ability to do work; status as to present attendance.

These funds should enable each student to earn on the average $15 per month. No student shall work more than thirty hours per week or more than eight hours per day.

The types of work for which the funds may be used cover the usual range of jobs done in college including—clerical, library research, and work on buildings and grounds, and in the dormitories and dining halls. The institution shall be the final judge of the acceptability of the projects.

One hundred and forty students have applied for these scholarships.

Lois Bishop, of Norfolk, has been chosen May Queen for the May Day exercises on May 5. Marietta Melson, of Machipongo, will be her maid of honor.

The twelve attendants chosen for the court are: Hilda Hisey, Edinburg; Mary Page Barnes, Amelia; Kay Carpenter, Norfolk; Mary Vernon Montgomery, Baskerville; Anne Davies, Ballston; Evelyn Watkins, Norfolk; Hattie Courter, Amelia; Dorothy Williams, Norfolk; Conway Gray, Petersburg; Elizabeth Carson, Lynchburg; Martha Ann Shefflar, Beckley, W. Va.; Kitty Glenn, Covington.

The girls were nominated and elected by the student body. Other plans are being shaped for the May Day program.

Lois Bishop, queen-elect, was maid of honor in the May Court of last year. She is a member of the Glee Club, Bluestone Cotillion Club and Lee Literary Society.

Marietta Melson, the maid of honor, is president of Bluestone Cotillion Club, a member of Lanier Literary Society, and former president of Athletic Association. She was an attendant in the May Court last year. She has been a member of the varsity hockey team for three years and was captain of the hockey team for this year.

JUNIOR OFFICERS HOLD PROMINENT POSITIONS

Mary Van Landingham, Petersburg, is president of the junior class and holds an enviable record at H. T. C. She is a member of Kappa Delta Pi, Lanier Literary Society, in which she has served as president and sergeant-at-arms, and Bluestone Cotillion Club. Participating actively in athletics, she has been a member of the varsity hockey and basketball squads, class basketball, swimming and tennis teams, and Athletic Council. She has also served as sophomore tennis sport leader and freshman basketball sport leader.

The vice-presidency is held by Kathleen Carpenter, Norfolk. Kay, also, is a member of Kappa Delta Pi, is treasurer of the Cotillion Club, editor-in-chief of the Handbook, vice-president of the Glee Club, a member of Scribblers, Lanier Literary Society and Le Cercle Francais. She is a former member of the Debating Club, and Hiking Club. Kay was also secretary of the freshman class.

Hattie Courter, Amelia, is secretary of the class. She has served as business manager of the Handbook, vice-president of the Art Club, treasurer of Le Cercle Francais, and freshman tennis sport leader. Hattie has also been a member of the BREEZE Staff, Choral Club, and Hiking Club.

The business manager of the class is Mary Vernon Montgomery, Baskerville. She is vice-president of the Cotillion Club, former treasurer of Le Cercle Francais, reporter on the BREEZE Staff, member of Y. W. C. A. Cabinet and Lanier Literary Society.

Florence Holland, Eastville, treasurer of the class, is also president of the Lanier Literary Society. She is a member of the Schoolma'am Staff, Social Committee, Le Cercle Francais and has been treasurer of the Cotillion Club.

The sergeant-at-arms comes from Lake City, Florida. Elizabeth "Mike" Buie has taken an active part in athletics as sport leader, member of the varsity basketball squad, class baseball, tennis, and swimming teams. She is a member of the Athletic Council, the Page Literary Society, the Stratford Dramatic Club, and was freshman cheer leader.

TO THE JUNIORS

Today is Junior Day. Manfully we have seen the confident dreams of freshman and sophomore years shattered and brightened in turn. Triumphant as Juniors today we are only made sad by the thought that our voyage as a crew is nearing its end and class days will soon be a memory.

Although our numbers have diminished since that first memorable occasion we wish the absent classmates to feel that they still belong to the class. To them we wish success.

For three hurried years we have been working toward this day. Each one has done her share, large or small; today is her reward. But we pay special tribute to our class officers, who have been leaders, to our sponsors, who have co-operated so cheerfully with us, and to our mascots whose youthful optimism has been a boon to us.

TO OUR "BIG SISTERS"

To the members of the junior class, our "big sisters," we feel that we owe deep gratitude because of their sympathy and help in assisting us to get adjusted and prepared for our college life here. From the beginning they were ready to help whenever an emergency arose. Our individual, "big sisters," mostly from the junior class, were quite generous with their time so that we might be led around campus by an experienced hand.

And now we want to show our appreciation to our "big sister" class. Because they have helped us so much we feel that any thing we do will not be enough. We can not help acquaint them with the campus because they already know it thoroughly. We are not able to assist in the organization of their class because they are already in the hands of a competent group of officers. But we can give our whole-hearted support to anything they undertake and that is what we are going to do as long as we are both here.

APPRECIATION ATTITUDES

An attitude—the position assumed or studied to serve a purpose. This word is one of those mentioned most frequently in educational courses. Yet one wonders just how often some of us ever think about our own attitudes toward life, and if we bring it down to the present situation and environment, our campus living. Some of these attitudes, in fact most of them are formed subconsciously without any thought on our part. Yet our life is vitally affected by these subconscious attitudes. Are they the best? One wonders how often the average college student asks herself this question. If it was asked oftener would our many campus problems exist? Most of us pride ourselves upon our modern ability at self-analysis. Is this really true or only a mistaken belief? Anyway it makes one think. If this were true would as many of us unthinkingly bluff through college courses, patronize a girl to make Blank Blank society, say this or that professor was unfair because we had not made an A, make the majority of the girls fear student teaching by talking about it in tones of martyrdom, make it necessary for the library reading room to be closed save at supervised periods because we happened to want a picture from a certain paper to paste in our scrapbook? The list could be enlarged. If our attitudes were given a little thought not only our own lives would be benefited but also those of others

Again we would like to remind you that we have concrete walks across campus. In spite of the current idea that they were laid by founders of the college solely for ornamental purposes, they can be used in walking from one building to another. Seriously, there are so many zag-zag paths running in every direction that our campus is beginning to look like a labyrinth. And it has a good appearance to what it will later when grass begins growing in the untrampled spots.

Cultivate a little pride in taking care of the campus and your shoes—they are both yours.

TOM SAYS

I know this "Alice in Wonderland" stuff is the bunk now, 'cause everytime I turn a corner I'm seeing double.

Teacher—"If I tear a piece of paper into four, what do I get?"

Kay—"Quarters."

Teacher—"And if I divide it into eight?"

Kay—"Eights."

Teacher—"And if I divide it into eight thousand parts?"

Kay—"Confetti, sir."

Doug M.—"I can't find a single pin. Where do they all go to anyway?"

Leanie—"It's hard to tell, because they're pointed in one direction and they're headed in another."

Mike came to a word she could not pronounce.

"Barque," prompted the teacher.

Mike snickered.

"Barque," explained the teacher harshly.

Mike (obediently): "Bow-wow."

Grandmother: "Were you a good girl at church today, Emily?" asked grandmother when the girl returned from church where she had been for the first time.

Pitt—"Yes, grandma. A man even offered me a plate full of money, and I said, 'No, thank you.'"

Pam—"What kind of ears has an engine?"

Bobby—"I don't know."

Pam—"Why, engineers, of course."

Teddie—"My grandpa has reached the age of 96. Isn't it wonderful?"

Mary Page—"Wonderful nothing! Look at the time it's taken him to do it."

Mary Van—"I had a fall last night which rendered me unconscious for eight hours."

Todd—"Really! Where did you fall?"

Mary Van—"I fell asleep."

Dick—"Does the moon effect the tide?"

Dot Merryman—"No, only the untied."

Rosie Cox—"Did you pick your teeth?"

Polly S.—"No, they came by themselves."

Bean—"Just coming from the bank? So you have money to put away?"

Flo. H.—"I didn't put money in the bank."

Bean—"Then you drew some out."

Flo—"No."

Bean—"Oh, well, and what did you do there?"

Flo—"I filled my fountain pen."

Elizabeth Thweatt led the Y. W. C. A. services last Thursday night. The Reverend Mr. Parks Wilson of the Presbyterian Church delivered a talk, The Challenging Hour. He impressed us with the fact that if we wish to live a true Christian life, we must be different from the present generation. Dot Parker sang a solo, God's Calling.

Charleva Crichton led the Y. W. C. A. services on Sunday afternoon. Gradatim, a poem by Joseph Holland, was read by Ruth Hardy. Mildred Johnson sang a solo, Take My Life and Let It Be. Dot Williams talked briefly on Courage. The service closed with a hymn and the Y. W. C. A. benediction.

JUNIOR DEMONSTRATE ERROR IN SURNAMES

Wouldn't you and you hate for Lou to get mad with you? She would be Allred.

Why don't Montgomery and Ward go in the merchandising business? They'd be successful no doubt.

Suppose Virginia Bean should marry a man named Pork?—We've heard that "Teedie" Studebaker rides often in a Plymouth. Not patriotic, we'd say.

Kay Carpenter wouldn't know a hammer from a monkey-wrench. If "Genia" is ever lucky enough to teach school she'll Train-um well.

Don't you envy Bobby's husband?—She is such a good Cook I could enlighten you dopes on that one, but I'm a noble soul.

Let's hope that Pigg doesn't marry a butcher. Wish Hattie and Julia were boys so they could Court-er. (Plural).

It was a good thing for the college that there wasn't another Sheets along that windy day when Charlotte and Evangeline went walking—"Three sheets in the wind" might be misunderstood.

Not only people but names also lie—else why would Ruth Early always be late to Art class?

Joyce had better take heed in her amours or she'll Riel-ey (ri-le-ic).

Is Agnes Mason a brick? Was your hand up that time?

"Pete" tells us confidentially that Louise Bores-im. Names lie again—anyway, why the perpetual smile on Louise Cloud's face?

Has Emily Saff ever been known to pass an intelligence test?

Is it true that Elizabeth Page is a book-worm? What if Alva Rice should marry a Jap? When will Ann cross the Andes?

Is Mary always Wright? Will Olga's Herd go to Mary Page's Barnes?

"Topping" day, eh what Elizabeth? We should give Obenchain (open chain) to convicts.

Who's the best life saver? Buie, of course.

Everybody toots his own horn and does Madeline Blair?

Aubyn Chance is very conservative. Is "Doug" tight? Well listen to this—Douglas MacDonald from Scotts, North Carolina.

Does Pam like Parkin (?) How does Edith like her "Toddie"? "Leany" doesn't sound like she'd need Graham (crackers which are used for dieting but—oh well!)

Is "Flo" Holland Dutcb? Wonder how Mary feels about having her name so familiarly used Blank, Blank, Blank.

Our two pacifists Kin Cannon and Fray run around together. Wonder if Maude goes to the Poore-house? I suppose Virginia would make a Hitt on a date.

Our advice to Kathleen Brands, "go west, young woman, go west." Frances should be good company—She's Jolly.

Do Joyce and Virginia frolic over the Lea?

How convenient for Johnston girls—they never use slang anymore—they yell "Goll-a-day!"

Is Thelma a good Baker? Louise should have no trouble in storing knowledge—She's a Garner.

Virginia Zehmer should never marry—She'd be X-Zehmer.

MARBUT AND NORMAND TALK ABOUT JR. CLASS

"Class days are days when esprit de corps is the true feeling of classmates," said Miss Marbut in a recent interview when asked what she thought of them. "They tie the class together and make each Frosh, Soph, Junior, or Senior feel like she belongs. On a class day the campus originality is brought to the fore. These are carried out with a dash of color and some of the glamour one reads about and sees in the movies of campus life. The Alice in Wonderland Theme is most fitting at this time when we've become 'Alice conscious' again."

Dr. Normand, another of our sponsors, said that he spent the week-end thinking of something original in the way of a statement, but to quote his direct words—"I fizzled the job!" He continued, saying: "I could say all manner of nice things about the Junior Class and its contributions to the campus, but someone would say that it was just publicity talk. Miss Marbut seems to have made an original statement but—I fizzled the job!"

The twins, it seems, had not a printable remark to make. They may loosen up during the day, however, and tell the juniors a few things which are both original and come from the heart.

Vera Austin was the week-end guest of her sister, Claudia Austin, at the Maple's Tourist Home in Harrisonburg.

Marjorie Baptiste was the house guest of the Averetts at their home in Lynchburg last week-end.

Mary Page Barnes and Mary Van Landingham accompanied Eleanor Studebaker to her home in Luray to spend the week-end.

LITTLE AMERICA

Pressure Camp, Somewhere in Antarctica, Feb. 8 (via Mackay Radio): Goodbye, good old Jacob Ruppert. Our grand old steel flagship, never intended for pounding through hundreds of miles of ice cakes as big as the Brooklyn Bridge and bergs as big as half of Boston, is leaving us for a whole year. I hate to see her go. I bet I'll yell like a fool when she heaves into sight again next December or January. She has been a grand old friend to us, noisy, smelly, uncomfortable, but we've felt safe on her, that is comparatively safe.

At least she never showed any tendency to crack open and spill us all into the sea, the way this whole landscape around her is doing.

Commodore Gjertsen and Captain Verleger did a magnificent job bringing us through those hundreds of miles of roaring, tumbling, threatening ice. Many times a false move would have sent us to the bottom of the world's coldest ocean. But those wonderful men don't make false moves. The Jake's going back to Dunedin, I think, or Port Chalmers, New Zealand, to be laid up for a year. And we're staying on the ice. I wonder! What will she find when she returns? Well, we'll be in communication by radio with her and the rest of the world all the time and we can tell Gjertsen our troubles even if he can't get to us.

The Ruppert is empty of supplies—450 tons. I feel that I personally must have carried it all onto the ice and lifted it onto the tractor and dog sledges and airplanes and snow mobiles. I'm that weary. Now the wonderful old Bear of Oakland—and she is old—64 years—is with us pouring more stuff out on the ice and getting 250 tons of that borrowed coal from the Ruppert. They've both got to get out of here quickly before this whole place freezes up and squeezes them to death. Wouldn't we be in a pickle then?

I am now watching absolutely the world's most peculiar sight. There cows and a baby bull on their way over the ice to Little America. Iceberg and his mother, Klondike, are riding in style in a crate on a sledge behind a tractor where I helped to fasten them. Foremost Southern Girl and Deerfoot are walking over the bumpy ice so buried in blankets they look like moving rug-piles. One thing, we can still laugh. In fact, we're laughing most of the time, in spite of our worries, work and troubles.

And now, I've got the job I came on this trip to fill—fuel engineer—in charge of all gasoline and oil for the Condor, Pilgrim and Fokker airplanes and a Kellett autogyro, the two Citroen and one Cletrac tractors, the two Ford snowmobiles with caterpillar treads and skis, the Matthews motor boat cruiser and last, but not least, the big Kohler generating set for our electric light supply. It is a twenty-four hour job satisfying the appetites of all these units. One plane uses one kind of gas, another and so on, even to the motorboat and the generator.

Now that we have actually and permanently landed, the real job has begun. But I'm in good shape for work. You know, all of us softies were given special training when we started this journey back at Norfolk. All of us, scientists and everybody, were set to work in the engine room and holds for a month, to harden us up. Otherwise we'd collapse in an hour with the work we're doing now.

All day long—and that means 24 hours long—radio messages arrive from the various caches we've established all over the place so if the ice goes out it may not take everything with it. They tell us to send ten gallons of Tydol gas for the tractors to Number One cache, send fifteen gallons to Pressure Camp for the snowmobiles, send 25 gallons of Veedol oil to Little America for the Condor, 20 gallons to Number Two cache for the Fokker. Then there are calls for kerosene for the stoves. It's like a combination of Fifth Avenue and Roosevelt Field here, with the automotive activity. The amount of gasoline and oil used is tremendous. In one 24-hour period the planes, tractors and other motor equipment drew 750 gallons of gas and 60 gallons of oil. And I have to keep track of it all, seeing that it all gets safely to our permanent home at Little America and meanwhile making sure that as they draw it each machine gets the proper fuel and lubricants.

Here we have vivid illustrations of the old and new methods of explorative transportation. It takes a dog team three hours to go between the ship and Little America, detouring about four miles around the dangerous pressure ridges and crevasses. Any of the planes makes the same trip in three minutes with a greater load. It is interesting and thrilling, this unloading business, with planes roaring overhead, tractors milling over the ice, snowmobiles whizzing along throwing up big chunks of snow and the dog teams straggling along the side of the trail. There will be no rest until all the supplies are safely at Little America. Foodstuffs, gasoline and oil take priority over everything else. We are working strictly on our own code—20 hours a day! Lots of fun!

The maps and membership cards are still pouring out through the mail. And membership applications are still pouring in. If you and your friends, without cost, would like to join the club and get the free maps, simply send us a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Arthur Abele, Jr., President Little America Aviation and Exploration Club, Hotel Lexington, 48th Street and Lexington Avenue, New York, N. Y.

JUNIORS ADVENTURE IN WONDERLAND TODAY

"Alice in wonderland Come let me take your hand I'll show you paradise Come with our Junior class."

We're all Alices today, won't you come with us juniors? We're following the white rabbit through a wonderland which is really lots like the original Alice's! Listen while I tell you a few adventures which you may have if you come.

Plop! We landed here three Septembers ago with varying degrees of jolt; Alice landed safely on a mound of leaves; we landed in a Jackson or Ashby dormitory room. Alice soon saw the White Rabbit not far distant. Lucky Alice! And speaking of cats! What a relief to us to know that Campus Tom, who's always advising us doesn't disappear and reappear with the alarming agility of the Cheshire Cat. It's really lack of control, you know, and that is the course of this feline world.

Another thing, Alice got an invitation (wasn't R. S. V. P. either) to play croquet with the Queen. We all get it on this go 'round although Alice didn't have so many hazards to overcome as we golfers have. The flamingo mallet which Alice used didn't hungrily lay in wait to gobble up the guinea pig croquet balls she used as the brooklet meandering between the seventh, eighth, and ninth holes swallows our little white pills—We Alices get the Alice blues.

Then the court scenes—but let us away with the griffin to hear the mock-turtle, who is now an Alumna, telling wondrous tales of his school days. These days he insists were the happiest of his life, and the glycerine tears he shed!

The Duchess! There are lots like her in the world, even today. "At first chance," Alice told me in an ultra-special interview, "she appeared to be a fussy and bossy somebody, but when you had met her socially, and really got to know her bidding system in contract, she was really very nice. The only thing which I never could quite understand was her giving

CLUB NEWS

LEE
Dr. John W. Wayland, sponsor of the Lee Literary Society, discussed the life and character of General Robert E. Lee, at the regular meeting of the club, Friday night. Dr. Wayland, in his talk, related several anecdotes which are told of Lee, and concluded his talk, by showing to the club his collection of photographs of Lee, his home, family, and his famous horse, Traveller.
Marion Smith, president, conducted a short business meeting after the talk.

PAGE
Two recent plays were reviewed at the Page meeting, Friday night as a continuance of the study of drama which the club is making this quarter. Helen Madjeski discussed Wednesday's Child by Leopold Atlas, and Dorothy Parker gave a review of The Wind and The Rain by Merton Hodge.
The program ended by the singing of the Page song by the Club.

LANIER
Several new members, under the direction of Gene Averett, chairman of the program committee, gave the Lanier program, Friday night.
Alyce Gieger made a short talk on the Trends of Modern Poetry; Frances Averett told something of the life of Robert Frost and read one of his poems and Dorothy Beach concluded the program by reading Birches, another of Frost's poems.

FRANCES SALE CLUB
Resolved: That a woman can maintain a home with children and be employed outside the home, was the subject of a debate at the regular meeting of the Frances Sale Club, Tuesday night, February 12, in Wilson Hall. The affirmative side of the question was upheld by Annie Cox and Isabel Bailey while Mary Parker and Mary Jones supported the negative. The Club decided in favor of the latter.
During the brief business meeting, the club decided to make a financial donation toward the flower garden.

DR. PHILLIPS ADDRESSES KAPPA DELTA PI

Dr. Ruth L. Phillips, professor of biology at the college, spoke to the members of Kappa Delta Pi at their regular meeting last Thursday evening on the American Conference on the Cause and Cure of War. The conference was held in Washington several weeks ago.
Dr. Phillips began by reading a list of the organizations represented at the conference. Some of these were: the American Association of University Women, the Women's Christian Temperance Union, Federation of Women's Clubs, Business and Professional Women's Clubs, and the League of Women Voters.

Mrs. Katt, who is the president of the organization, stated that we cannot me the baby that turned into the pig. I guess it was all just a joke because she was one of the kindest and most delightful people I met in wonderland."

Last, but not least, there's the Queen's order—"off with her head!" Well I guess we've all had our heads taken off in varying degrees by the simple phrase "off with the lights!" If you develop a stiff upper lip, and a rubber neck and a few dodges, you fare pretty well, but the Queen's poor executioners—they really earned their living!
It's all a hodge-podge but all Alices love it. You're not a real Alice if you don't love your Wonderland 'cause it's really loads of fun following the White Rabbit. He might take you over some rough country but you'll probably end up having tea with the Mad Hatter and the March Hare or playing croquet with the Queen—it's all part of our wonderful Wonderland.

JUNIORS LEARN OF FORMER CLASSMATES

The present Junior class may be interested in knowing about their classmates who did not return to school. Four of the members of '35 are students in school elsewhere: Marguerite Bass is attending business school in Richmond, Eleanor Browning is attending William and Mary Extension in Richmond; Alice Moon is at George Washington University, Washington, D. C.; Elinora Glick is a student nurse at Rockingham Memorial Hospital, Harrisonburg; Leota Kelley is attending West Virginia University.

Beatrice L. Scott, Louise W. Jenkins, Sarita E. Byrd and Eunice H. Burkholder are married.

Those who are holding positions in the business world are: Eleanor Davis now at Charleston, W. Va., and Mary Bragg Young at the C. W. A. in Petersburg.

Bernice Lyttle and Adis Mantiply are teaching in Amherst County; Lillian Alexander and Margurite Dillard in Alleghany County; Betty Marie Coffey is teaching in Augusta County; Lemma Owen in Campbell; Eva Riggins in Elizabeth City County; Ruth Webb has a teaching position in Fluvanna County; Neta Helsabeck in Gloucester County; and Katherine Kirtley in Greene County; Lucy Hubbard in Lancaster County and Anna Larrick in Loudoun County; Helen Lucas, Kathryn Mauck, Ruby Miller, Ruth Miller are teaching in Page County; Margaret Cooper, Katherine Cox, and Catherine Taylor, hold positions in Patrick County; Helen Kitchin is teaching in Roanoke County; Gladys Leech, Thelma Leech, Dorothy Shluser, Edith Shluser, and Mary Powers are teaching in Rockbridge County; John Roy Black, Lawrence Bowers, Elizabeth Showalter, Mabel Glick, Virginia Bowman, Phyllis Miller, and Stanley Knupp are teaching in Rockingham County; Julia Evans, David Jones, Marjorie Lutz, Elizabeth Shutters, Dorothy Burkett, Julia Fansler, Louise Hockman, Kathryn Keller, Eddie Williams, and Dorothea Wright have teaching positions in Shenandoah County; Elizabeth Preston, Washington County; Frances English, Westmorland County; Florence Lewis is teaching in Lynchburg; and Margaret Hannah is teaching in Cass, Pa.

Farmville basketball team defeated Sweet Briar's team Saturday afternoon in a hard fought battle, ending with a score of 18-13.—Rotunda.

not hope to realize our ideal of peace in a few years more in a generation. The first step toward peace will probably take one hundred years. Dr. Phillips stressed the fact that we need to realize this broad view of our ideal. The conference studied such topics as disarmament, Latin American Relations, and the existing conditions between Russia and Japan, Germany and Austria, and the French situation. The representatives were entertained at a tea in the White House one afternoon where President Roosevelt addressed them. He said that he was not a militarist as many people believed but was whole-heartedly in sympathy with the work of the conference. He said he believed the women alone could prevent war.
Dr. Phillips believes women's votes count, and it is up to them to vote and to support peace though we may not see it during our lifetime.
Dr. Phillips was delegate to the conference from the local chapter of the American Association of University Women.

Several new members, under the direction of Gene Averett, chairman of the program committee, gave the Lanier program, Friday night.
