Many Worlds To Explore

By this time the majority of new students are familiar, at least financially, with Harrisonburg. The commercial centers and various churches have extended courtesy indiscriminately. In return Madison students have been quite discriminating. "This town just isn't home." Of course it isn't. Who said so in the first place? Don't judge Harrisonburg by your home town. If you must judge Harrisonburg at all, obtain your evidence first. This involving interval will be provided in a portion of the last issue of the General Assembly at its 1966 session.

A Freshman Daze

Dear Friends:

I feel like I have been running all week. Keeping all my appointments, registering for classes, and walking that long way to the cafeterias have really worn me out. I had visited Madison before, but I had not realized how much I would be needing to help you form one.

Outing club trips are always enjoyable and invigorating experiences. Many trips are arranged with other outing clubs and require no prior experience or equipment. All trips are planned so that you relieve some of the worries of school while you learn how to appreciate the beauty and experience freedom of the outdoors. No matter what your interests are, more about outing club activities, about how to establish an outing club, or about upcoming trips can be had by asking a member of the Blue Ridge Outh Club Association to make a trip during the year include all of JOCA and offer an excellent chance for meeting outing club leader from all over the East and Midwest.

Varied Activities

If you are at all interested in canoeing on the Shenandoah River (or any of the many friendly and nice people. Everyone and everything has been grand! I really love it here. Just thought you might like to know how much I have enjoyed...

6SA Members Discuss Changes

Dear Students:

On September 6, 1965, the newly elected Student Government officers and representatives convened for the first time for a retreat. The reason for the meeting was to discuss the differences in student body. Constructive changes were proposed, and new and different ideas were submitted. Although none of the ideas died in committees, some were not passed, many were discussed. It is hoped that the problems of Madison College student body. Committee will work this year on a logical method, and it may quite possibly be in effect in the spring elections. Off-limits establishments

The Whistling Oyster

Don't Trust Lines

by Mike Arch

Registration is a time of necessary evil on all college campuses in the country. Every college has its own special whistling oyster. The following incident occurred during registration and, what is more, this writer feels that it would probably be the same at many other colleges.

This college was forced to call in a plumber to fix the water pipes in the basement of Logan Hall. It was this poor, unfortunate soul's first day of work. He had not read the manual for the machine." This was his reply.

I can fix cold water," he replied.

The office of THE BREEZE is in the basement of Logan. Visitors are welcome Monday through Thursday nights, 7:00-10:00 p.m. Letters may be sent to Box 28.

Pierce With Your Peers
Sounds Of Primitivism — Ear Rings
by Saundra Duffell

America, the land of progress and modernization, is becoming primitive; especially among the college set. This primitivism is manifested in the form of pierced ears.

The typical college lady usually has her best friend pierce her ears. First, said friend submerges the victim's ear lobes with ice and then firmly but gently pushes a sterile yarn needle through the lobes. Then the newly purchased earrings replace the needles and another victim joins the crowd of conformists.

Of course, some girls go to their family or college physician. For five dollars they are guaranteed by the physician to feel no pain from the "piercing" needle.

There are a few non-conformists on the college campus too, some earrings "look-like" pierced earrings. "It is almost impossible to tell a difference," so says the advertiser.

College men are joining all conforming primitives by going "gypsy". They are wearing a gold earring in their left ear.

Perhaps the next fad will be for all victims to wear boxes through their noses. What could be more primitive?

Well, it's that time of the year again when everybody must trade in their surfboards and golden tans for nine months of books, class lectures, and their most dreaded by-product — exams.

Once again, it is my pleasure to report on the sports editor of The Breeze this year. Last year you marked the highpoint in men's sports here at school. Not only did the Madison Dukes enjoy their most successful basketball season, but golf, tennis, and fast-pitch softball were introduced on the varsity level with startling success.

Madison's MAA Intramural Program was very successful last year with such sports as football, basketball, bowling, and table tennis participation at an all-time high.

I would like to point out that every year a person is chosen as the MAA Man of the Year and every year a person is chosen as the most active part in this year's program in order to insure the best year ever.
