Then he went to Boston as General ence, and began service as the News Editor. In 1942 he became the Monitor's Washington Bureau.
from 1932 to 1939 he was chief of sessions in Geneva. In 1930 he received B.A. and M.A. degrees there. Between college terms he Oxford starting in 1926, and re-
A student has been suspendfor the 1965-66 session for plagiarism.
—Honour Council

IT IS MORE BLESSED TO GIVE THAN TO RECEIVE.
—THE ACTS 20:35
If you are one who feels that during this Christmas you would like to make someone else have a happy Christmas and for that,
a whole year, you will have that privilege this December.

On December 2, the World University Service Assembly will hold. This Assembly will present the purpose of the service and its functions. The World University Service is a student service organization. It is supported financially by student communities in including professors, in fifty-seven countries. The W.U.S. finds student communities that are not supported by any other organizations and supports them according to their needs. The organization is based on the idea that today's students are tomorrow's leaders.

Last year the W.U.C.A. collected contributions in the dorms. But this year, the dorms have decided to do something of more interest to the college.
During the evening of December
2 the W.U.C.A. will sponsor an auction. This is not an ordination. Many professors have promised items which are not usually for sale. The students will bid on these at 6:45 P.M. in Wilson Hall. Items are:

Dinners are given by: Miss Tegeson and Miss Flaugh; and
Mr. and Mrs. Bodkin, Mr. Brown;
Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Walmer,
Mr. and Mrs. Wilhelms,
Mr. Deane; Donald Talbert; Miss
Shay; Dean Shaffer; Mr. and Mrs.
Horn; Mr. and Mrs. Hine;
Mr. Hallam; Dr. Grimal; and Mr.
Chill
Baked goods are promised by
Miss Burns, Mrs. Showalter;
Mr. DeLong; and
Mr. and Mrs. Shay; Miss Riddle; Miss
Corrigan; Miss Miss Atwood;
Mr. Finley; Mrs. Grenier;
Mr. Shay; Miss Miss Printz.
Other items contributed include such smalls as: watches, books, guns, more, jumper, rides downtown, a personality test conducted by Mas-

Five of the nine senior girls elected to Who’s Who are left to right: Lelia Donahue, Nancy Myers, Mary Dwyer, Anne Schlos, and Marlene Renals. Those not pictured are Helen Fortin, Jackie Rebel, Susan Eatan and Marly Kay.
Thank Thee, Father

Dear God, we thank Thee:
For food and drink and good company; for the time to share:

"Fanny how things are gone before you even know they happened—just think of a horse and a slab of meat and I'll just hang around until next year about this time."

In Thy name we pray . . .

Amen.

D. S.

SGA Investigates Dating Procedures

by Carolyn Larkin

Madison's Student Government Association initiated a joint meeting Wednesday, November 3rd which was called to bear committee reports and to discuss current situations. It was decided that with the growing campus the procedures for signing in and out should be reviewed and improved. A committee was set up to investigate the methods used at different schools and to formulate new ideas, incorporating the suggestions for improvement to be submitted to the SGA.

Mary Dwyer suggested that the Social Committee look into where busy students might stay during lunch breaks.

The Breeze

PUBLISHED WEDNESDAY

Published weekly by the Student Body of Madison College, Harrisonburg, Virginia

Editor-in-Chief
Mickie Anderson

Consulting Editor
Sandra Duffel

Associate Editor
Mary Barnes
Facility Advisor
Dr. McMurray

Eastern Regional Board

Advertising Manager
Julie Allen

Advisory Manager
Callie Haskell

News Editor
Viki Mathis
Copy Editor
George Morrison
Feature Editor
Martha Armstrout
Redesign Editor
Judy Mayers
Photography Editor
Sue Kohl
Headline Editor
Judy Mayers

Sports Editor
Bob Banks
Circulation Manager
Evelyn Davis
Photography Staff
Allen Litten, Bill Johnson

Reporters
Jeniffer Willard, John Ruse, Sonya Williams, Mary Hurst, Sue Banks, Tom Willard, John Duffel, Dorothy Seymour, Don Willard

The office of THE BREEZE is in the basement of Logan. Visitors are welcome Tuesday and Thursday nights 7:00-10:30 p.m. Letters may be sent to Box 29.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

For a school in such a small town, it is the professors, not the courses, which determine whether the student becomes educated or does busywork.

The majority of upper division students, however, will not likely need such help. Most of them have learned by this time from friends who have gone before them, who instructory to take and when to avoid.

As for those who claim this program would not insure that the student is fulfilling the requirements, we would reply that something is seriously lacking in the educational system. Few old junior does not have the necessary background to determine the requirements he must complete. Realization that if he chooses recklessly, he will have to reap the consequences.

While voluntary upper division advising appears promising, such a system would probably be insufficient for entrant students, who can not be expected to quickly grasp all of the University's requirements.

Whatever system is eventually adopted, the need for reform is apparent, if only because of the most casual observer of the University scene.

We hope by the time the new system is established, the entire student body will have a new, perhaps more generally experiential, advising system.

California Adopts Advising System

(ACP)—A lot of red tape, extra work, and inconvenience could easily be eradicated with the adoption of a voluntary advising system for upper division students, such as the Daily Californian, University of California, Berkeley. It is the answer to the problem "rest" in the lap of the typical University adviser who is usually uninterested about his advisee's requirements and often careless.

It would have been more than likely that we would have estalish a standard of excellence, which is not just to appeal of courses, but to advise students who are unsure about their major. Some professors, such as graduates, may be able to speak much more freely about the relative worth of the lecturers in his department.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

For a school in such a small town, it is the professors, not the courses, which determine whether the student becomes educated or does busywork.

The majority of upper division students, however, will not likely need such help. Most of them have learned by this time from friends who have gone before them, who instructory to take and when to avoid.

As for those who claim this program would not insure that the student is fulfilling the requirements, we would reply that something is seriously lacking in the educational system. Few old junior does not have the necessary background to determine the requirements he must complete. Realization that if he chooses recklessly, he will have to reap the consequences.

While voluntary upper division advising appears promising, such a system would probably be insufficient for entrant students, who can not be expected to quickly grasp all of the University's requirements.

Whatever system is eventually adopted, the need for reform is apparent, if only because of the most casual observer of the University scene.

We hope by the time the new system is established, the entire student body will have a new, perhaps more generally experiential, advising system.

California Adopts Advising System

(ACP)—A lot of red tape, extra work, and inconvenience could easily be eradicated with the adoption of a voluntary advising system for upper division students, such as the Daily Californian, University of California, Berkeley. It is the answer to the problem "rest" in the lap of the typical University adviser who is usually uninterested about his advisee's requirements and often careless.

It would have been more than likely that we would have estalish a standard of excellence, which is not just to appeal of courses, but to advise students who are unsure about their major. Some professors, such as graduates, may be able to speak much more freely about the relative worth of the lecturers in his department.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

For a school in such a small town, it is the professors, not the courses, which determine whether the student becomes educated or does busywork.

The majority of upper division students, however, will not likely need such help. Most of them have learned by this time from friends who have gone before them, who instructory to take and when to avoid.

As for those who claim this program would not insure that the student is fulfilling the requirements, we would reply that something is seriously lacking in the educational system. Few old junior does not have the necessary background to determine the requirements he must complete. Realization that if he chooses recklessly, he will have to reap the consequences.

While voluntary upper division advising appears promising, such a system would probably be insufficient for entrant students, who can not be expected to quickly grasp all of the University's requirements.

Whatever system is eventually adopted, the need for reform is apparent, if only because of the most casual observer of the University scene.

We hope by the time the new system is established, the entire student body will have a new, perhaps more generally experiential, advising system.

California Adopts Advising System

(ACP)—A lot of red tape, extra work, and inconvenience could easily be eradicated with the adoption of a voluntary advising system for upper division students, such as the Daily Californian, University of California, Berkeley. It is the answer to the problem "rest" in the lap of the typical University adviser who is usually uninterested about his advisee's requirements and often careless.

It would have been more than likely that we would have estalish a standard of excellence, which is not just to appeal of courses, but to advise students who are unsure about their major. Some professors, such as graduates, may be able to speak much more freely about the relative worth of the lecturers in his department.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

For a school in such a small town, it is the professors, not the courses, which determine whether the student becomes educated or does busywork.

The majority of upper division students, however, will not likely need such help. Most of them have learned by this time from friends who have gone before them, who instructory to take and when to avoid.

As for those who claim this program would not insure that the student is fulfilling the requirements, we would reply that something is seriously lacking in the educational system. Few old junior does not have the necessary background to determine the requirements he must complete. Realization that if he chooses recklessly, he will have to reap the consequences.

While voluntary upper division advising appears promising, such a system would probably be insufficient for entrant students, who can not be expected to quickly grasp all of the University's requirements.

Whatever system is eventually adopted, the need for reform is apparent, if only because of the most casual observer of the University scene.

We hope by the time the new system is established, the entire student body will have a new, perhaps more generally experiential, advising system.

California Adopts Advising System

(ACP)—A lot of red tape, extra work, and inconvenience could easily be eradicated with the adoption of a voluntary advising system for upper division students, such as the Daily Californian, University of California, Berkeley. It is the answer to the problem "rest" in the lap of the typical University adviser who is usually uninterested about his advisee's requirements and often careless.

It would have been more than likely that we would have estalish a standard of excellence, which is not just to appeal of courses, but to advise students who are unsure about their major. Some professors, such as graduates, may be able to speak much more freely about the relative worth of the lecturers in his department.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

For a school in such a small town, it is the professors, not the courses, which determine whether the student becomes educated or does busywork.

The majority of upper division students, however, will not likely need such help. Most of them have learned by this time from friends who have gone before them, who instructory to take and when to avoid.

As for those who claim this program would not insure that the student is fulfilling the requirements, we would reply that something is seriously lacking in the educational system. Few old junior does not have the necessary background to determine the requirements he must complete. Realization that if he chooses recklessly, he will have to reap the consequences.

While voluntary upper division advising appears promising, such a system would probably be insufficient for entrant students, who can not be expected to quickly grasp all of the University's requirements.

Whatever system is eventually adopted, the need for reform is apparent, if only because of the most casual observer of the University scene.

We hope by the time the new system is established, the entire student body will have a new, perhaps more generally experiential, advising system.

California Adopts Advising System

(ACP)—A lot of red tape, extra work, and inconvenience could easily be eradicated with the adoption of a voluntary advising system for upper division students, such as the Daily Californian, University of California, Berkeley. It is the answer to the problem "rest" in the lap of the typical University adviser who is usually uninterested about his advisee's requirements and often careless.

It would have been more than likely that we would have estalish a standard of excellence, which is not just to appeal of courses, but to advise students who are unsure about their major. Some professors, such as graduates, may be able to speak much more freely about the relative worth of the lecturers in his department.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

For a school in such a small town, it is the professors, not the courses, which determine whether the student becomes educated or does busywork.

The majority of upper division students, however, will not likely need such help. Most of them have learned by this time from friends who have gone before them, who instructory to take and when to avoid.

As for those who claim this program would not insure that the student is fulfilling the requirements, we would reply that something is seriously lacking in the educational system. Few old junior does not have the necessary background to determine the requirements he must complete. Realization that if he chooses recklessly, he will have to reap the consequences.

While voluntary upper division advising appears promising, such a system would probably be insufficient for entrant students, who can not be expected to quickly grasp all of the University's requirements.

Whatever system is eventually adopted, the need for reform is apparent, if only because of the most casual observer of the University scene.

We hope by the time the new system is established, the entire student body will have a new, perhaps more generally experiential, advising system.
Teacher Tells of European Travels

by Lynn Nagy

I don’t think there’s any substitute for the educational value of travel. I saw it in my own travels in Europe last year. I spent a year in England, Italy, and then I crossed the continent by train.

Miss Ininger, who was teaching music here for four years, received her A.B. at Wilson College, and her M.A. from the School of Music, M.M. at the University of Michigan and while in England she was awarded a degree from the Royal Academy of Music in London.

Miss Ininger began her trip to Europe by leaving New York on the Queen Elizabeth bound for South Hampton, England. “I lived in the small English town of Hampshire, a province of London, which could be considered typical Tom Jones countryside—land of geese, and hunts are still part of the scene. The model of life is totally different from that in America. For example, people there don’t rely on refrigerators the way we do. I eat food every day.”

Miss Ininger said that while in Europe she visited all of the usual tourist attractions. “My most ghastly experience, however, was meeting the actor Alec Guinness at a London church as I did.” Miss Ininger explained.

When asked if there was any language barrier, Miss Ininger replied “Yes! The English have their own vocabulary and accents—so much so that even one who was in a foreign-speaking country could not understand them! I tried French quite extensively while on the Continent, and while I learned some, Scandinavia is one of the few places where I can speak English so I don’t have any problem there.”

“I would visit my brother in Rome again for a summer of study. I would especially like to visit Venice, Italy again. There are so many beautiful things to see there. I would like to get back to Scandinavia.

The topic of Miss Ininger’s trip was to study piano in England.

Young Republics Make Busy Plans

The first organized faction of Republicans at Madison saw their first opening meeting on November 11. A constitution was adopted and officers, headed by Sandra Duffel, Chairman, were elected. A complete charter from the Young Republican State Headquarters is pending. Dr. B. McIntosh, Professor of History, will be the sponsor of the Madison Chapter of the Young Republican Club.

The guest speaker for the meeting was Mrs. Kenan, the vice-president of the Y.R.S. at the University of Virginia. He spoke on the responsibilities of the Young Republicans and the goals of the group. These are centered around democracy and a sincere desire to strengthen a few-pound alcoholism, while efficiently backing the program and candidates of the national and state party platform.

The group plans to work with local Republican Headquarters, as well as with clubs at neighboring colleges. Plans are now being formulated for a series of program speakers, rallies, and trips throughout the year.

New members are cordially welcomed. Anyone wishing to join the club should contact Sandra Duffel or Janene Slaughter.

Essay Competition Opens For Prizes

College students are invited to participate in the annual Creative Writing Competition sponsored by Spalding College, Inc., South Amboy, N. J.

The company will award United States Savings Bonds for the best entries in the following categories: Financial Uses for Calcium Sulfate and Fizz; and Spalding, a Modern Base Ball, a Modern Goal. Entries will be judged on the originality and feasibility of the ideas presented. Entries should be typed and must include the entrant’s name, school and major.

First prizes will be a $100 bond; second, a $50 bond; and third, a $25 bond. Any prizes which may result from the student papers will be protected by a royalty agreement.

Entries must be submitted by December 12, 1965, and a winner will be announced by February 15, 1966. No entries will be returned.

Send all papers to: Spalding College, Inc., Broadway, South Amboy, New Jersey.

Competitive Swimming Team Begins Season By Accumulating Victories

This year for the first time Madison has a competitive swimming team. Eight girls representing Madison won their first meet with Mary Washington College of the University of Virginia Thursday, November 11.

Ginned Bowery, Marcia Atkinson, Pamala Carlock, Caroline Light, Keith Marston, Barbara Ramey, Karen Sullivan and Sandi Frank traveled to Mary Washington College for the meet and won by a score of 42-29. The Madison swimmers won eight of the ten events and took both first and second in many of the events.

The results of the events are:

100 yd. medley relay—(1) G. Bowery, M. Atkinson, P. Carlock, C. Light; 1:54.8, 7 pts.
100 yd. free style—(1) B. Ramey, 25.2 (2) K. Marston, 25.5.
200 yd. free style—(2) G. Bowery, K. Marston, 49.1.
8 yd. breaststroke— (1) C. Light; 32.9, 5 pts.
40 yd. butterfly—(1) M. Atkinson; 25.4, (2) P. Carlock, 8 pts.
100 yd. free style relay—(2) K. Marston, K. Sullivan, G. Bowery, R. Ramey.

Diving— (1) K. Marston; 12th points accumulated, 5 pts.

Other members of the swimming team are Betty Jane Gagey and Linda Goeben. The team practices three times a week; Mondays and Wednesdays, 4:00-6:00, and on Thursdays 7:00-9:00.

The team, coached by Miss Dorothy V. Harris of Madison’s Physical Education Department, will travel to Westminster College in Richmond on Saturday, December 4. There they will participate in a meet with Westminster College, Longwood College and Lynchburg College. The last meet of the season for Madison will be Wednesday, December 8. Madison will be hosted by this tri-meet in Mary Baldwin College and William and Mary College.

All girls who are interested in joining the swimming team are invited to attend practice.

In order that the Civil Service Exam can be given earlier this year, we would like all persons interested in taking it to plan to sign up at the Alumnae Hall.

The deadline for signing the list will be December 2, 1965.

It is important that your name appear on the list if you plan to take the exam so that we will not have to mail too many tests to be ordered.

School and Art Supplies College Outline Series Books—Bibles Pens—Stationery VALLEY BOOKS DIAL 434-6643 82 S. Main St.

Delivery of Book Orders and Other Specialties by Carl's Pastry, Inc.
located in Mickel's Store Phone: Either Store or 434-3625

HUGHES PHARMACY, INC.
1021 South Main Street DIAL 434-8650
PRESCRIPTIONS—FILM COSMETICS—STATIONERY CANDIES—GREETING CARDS

MISS J. Brown Golden Grain Green Brown Kangaroo

$1.95 - $2.95

Progress report on Madison’s Fine Arts Center.

THANKSGIVING

from everyone

at

DOC'S

HAPPY THANKSGIVING

F. BARTH CARBER, INC.
124 South Main St.
Harrisonburg, Va.
Smith Speaks At Education Program

On November 12, 1965, Mr. Henry Smith, the Director of Lynchburg Special Education Program spoke to a group of special educators. The title of his presentation was the "Education Program," and he was a past president of the Special Education Department. Virginia Education Association; State Membership Chairman of the Council for Exceptional Children. He was presiding as Chairman of the National Board of Governors for the Council for Exceptional Children.

One of the major points of Mr. Smith's speech was the progress which the State of Virginia has made in the field of special education during the last two years. He stressed that although Virginia is making progress in this particular area, there are still thousands of exceptional children in the state that are not being helped. These exceptional children include the mentally retarded, the gifted, the speech defective, the emotionally disturbed, and the physically handicapped. Mr. Smith feels that it is the educator's responsibility to extend the efforts of Virginia, the state that has a great deal of education and as a result we can do more for these things to happen not only in special education but in all education.

"What is happening to movements in special education today?" Mr. Smith asked. Are special educators being led by those who are irresponsible? Are they having to play a "numbers game" in which he defined the numbers game as being a program that serves many exceptional children before a special class can be justified. It is a great mistake if this is being done.

The main purpose of special education is not to produce as many as he can but as well as he can. The important thing is the quality.

Special education is a catalyst in the education program. It is measured by the quality, and some- times, as a term and a number of students it produces. It is important that special educators associate with different college processes and attributes as well as material values. It is necessary, then, for all of education to change, to accept change as it improves education. Special educators and administrators must learn to work together.

After concluding his very stimulating talk entitled "Many Miles to Go Before I Sleep," Mr. Smith met with prospective members of the local chapter of the CEC. He discussed the need for Exceptional Education Teachers.

Women's Basketball Schedule

Dec. 11—Bridgewater—At Bridgewater.
Dec. 15—E.M.C.—7:00 P.M. at Madison.
Jan. 12—Lynchburg—At Madison.
Feb. 9—E.M.C.—At E.M.C.
Feb. 19—Longwood—At Longwood.
Feb. 26—Westhampton—At Madison.
March 2—Bridgewater—At Madison.
March 5—Sweet Briar—At Sweet Briar.
All home games will be played at 7:00 P.M. in Keenel Gym.

HAPPY THANKSGIVING FROM THE BREEZE STAFF

"THANK GOODNESS"

Who's Who Selects Nine Outstanding Madison Students

On Friday, November 12, 1965, nine Madison ladies were chosen for Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. These students were chosen on the basis of independent qualities, scholastic achievement, and participation in campus clubs and organizations. We congratulate the following young ladies for this distinction.

MARY DWYER—Mary is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. K. Dwyer of Martinsburg, Maryland. Miss Dwyer is president of the SGA, a member of the Social Science Club, Zeta Tau Alpha, and Sigma Phi Lambda, but is a social science major.

NANCY MYERS—Miss Myers is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Myers of Alexandria, Virginia. Her major is social science.

MARY KAY—Miss Kay is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Kay of Portsmouth, Virginia, and she is an Elementary Education major. Miss Kay will graduate with honors in the spring. She is a Junior Counselor.

MERLE KAY—Miss Kay is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Kay of Farmville, Virginia. She is president of Alpha Sigma Tau and secretary of Virginia.

JACQUELINE REBEL—Jackie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Joseph, Rebel of West Virginia. Miss Rebel is secretary of Alpha Sigma Tau, president of Omicron Pi, business manager of The Benison, secretary of the Senior Class, and is majoring in Business Education.

SUSAN EASTES—Susan is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Eastes of Martinsburg, Maryland. Miss Dwyer is president of the SGA, a member of the Social Science Club, Zeta Tau Alpha, and Sigma Phi Lambda, but is a social science major.

HELEN HEIGHTON—Helen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Heighton of Timontum, Virginia. Miss Fortune is the Vice President of the Junior Council and a member of the Social Science Club.

HERMAN KENNA—Miss Kenna is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Kenna of Alexandria, Virginia. Miss Fortune is the Junior Counselor.

CAPITAL DISCOUNT

PARK AT OUR DOOR

NATIONALLY ADVERTISED BRANDS AT DISCOUNT PRICES

FEATURED:

2.00 Get Set Hair Spray .79
.98 Listerine .75
1.00 Secret Deodorant .67
2.00 Tone Home Permanent .39
4.15 Alpha Keri Bath Oil .98
Adjacent to CLINE'S DAIRY BAR Dial 434-0941

Send the Breeze Home

LOEWEBER'S RECORD SHOP

17 E. Market St.

Come in and Browse

HEFNER'S

Have A Complete New Line of College Jewelry

At Low Prices

CHARMS, PINS, KEYS AND RINGS

166 S. Main St.

FOR THOSE WHO MISSED A VISIT TO THE FAMOUS RESTAURANT LAST WEEK, LOOK WHAT HAPPENED.

MONDAY NOV. 8th. ABOUT 7.15. IN THE EVENING, TWO 250 Lbs. 7' TALL MEN CAME IN THEY ORDERED:

FOUR 16oz. PORTE-HOUSE STEAKS, FOUR DOZENS EGGS, SIX LARGE PIZZA, FOUR ORDERS OF SPAGHETTI, ONE BOSTON CREAM PIE, TWO GALLONS OF MILK, ONE GALLON ICE CREAM, AND TWO DOZEN HOT ROLLS WITH ONE LB. BUTTER, PLUS FOUR CHEESEBURGER TO GO.

THURSDAY: NOTHING UNUSUAL HAPPENED, EXCEPT WE FUNDED THE FIRST 4" BROUGHT HIS GIRL IN, SHE WAS 6feet 94".

THEY DRANK COFFEE. SHE USED A STRAW.

WEDNESDAY: OH BOY! I AM NOT GOING TO TELL YOU.

THURSDAY: THOSE TWO BIG MEN CAME IN AGAIN, BUT THEY WEREN'T HUNGRY. I WONDER WHY.

FRIDAY: SOME GUY CAME IN AND ASKED ME IF IT WAS O.K. TO BRING HIS PAL IN. I SAID OK AND HE BROUGHT HIS HORSE, BUT I STOPPED HIM. HE PICKED UP HIS LEASH AND SAID "BECAUSE OF DIFFICULTIES IN "SAYING GOOD NIGHT." HIS STEP LATTER BROKE. SO YOU SEE, DESPITE THE GOOD FOOD WE HAVE LOTS OF UNUSUAL CUSTOMERS IF YOU DON'T WANT TO MISS ALL THIS YOU MAY DROP IN ANY TIME FROM 7A.M. TILL 11P.M. IF YOU DON'T SEE ANYTHING UNUSUAL YOU STILL WILL ENJOY OUR PIZZA, SPAGHETTI, SANDWICHES, ICE CREAM, COFFEE, STEAKS, CHICKEN, etc.

THE FAMOUS RESTAURANT HAS BOTH ENDS, GOOD FOOD AND GOOD HUMOR. AND WE ARE STILL AT 131 N. MAIN ST. THE TELEPHONE NUMBER IS THE SAME. THE POST OFFICE IS STILL ACROSS THE STREET FROM THE FAMOUS PLACE CALLED "THE CAFE."" THE BOSS TOM PAPPAS IS STILL MANAGER OF THE FAMOUS RESTAURANT WHERE THE FAMOUS FOOD IS SERVED.

DID YOU KNOW? Mrs. Mills E. Godwin, wife of the Governor of Virginia, is an alumna of Madison College.

PIPPSBURG, Nov. 9 (UPI) A teacher at Lynchburg Junior High School said today that references to God and Christ were deleted from a school pageant because of a complaint by the American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU).

Music teacher Doris M. Stewart, who wrote the musical pageant, said she had never realized the deletion made in the script.

The pageant is part of a Veteran's Day program to be held at the school tomorrow in observance of American Education Week.

"I'm against any attempt to make atheists out of us," said Mrs. Ste- wart. She said the references to God as part of a performance by students taking fictional roles rather than school policy to be taken literally.

STATE

Harrisonburg, Va.
DIAL 434-3582

Starts WEDNESDAY

ANN MARGRET

KLAR MARDEN

TUESDAY WELDS

in color

"The Cincinnati Kid"

Send a letter to:

THE BREEZE

17 E. Market St.

Harrisonburg, Va.

Miss Fort is the Junior Counselor and a member of the Social Science Club.

HELEN HEIGHTON—Helen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Heighton of Timontum, Virginia. Miss Fortune is the vice president of the Junior Council, and a member of Elementary Education.

MARLENE RENALDS—Miss Renalds is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Renalds of Timonium, Maryland. Miss Renalds is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Renalds of Timonium, Maryland. Miss Fortune is the vice president of the Junior Council, and a member of Elementary Education.

MARLENE RENALDS—Miss Renalds is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Renalds of Timonium, Maryland. Miss Fortune is the vice president of the Junior Council, and a member of Elementary Education.

KARL MARDEN

ANN MARGRET

TUESDAY WELDS

in color

"The Cincinnati Kid"