MC Relinquishes Honor Code

Editor's note: Contrary to usual procedure, the Honor Council has submitted the following minutes of their last business meeting.

The meeting of the Honor Coun-cell was called to order December 15, at 6:30 p.m. by Pat Torrence, President. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.
Since there was no old business, Pat Torrence brought to Council's attention the current apathetic atitude of the student body toward the Honor Code. After some discussion, Council agreed that the cited situation did infringe a lack of student interest. Working on the assumption, that the Honor Council no longer represented the feelings of the student body, it was moved and seconded that the Honor Code be temporarily deemphasized. After some discussion
the following was suggested:
1) Each student will be responsible for his possessions both in his room and elsewhere on campus.
2) Each student will be solely expected to report any observance of the Honor Code. After some discussion, the following was suggested:
3) Bring costs to your table, as coat racks and umbrellas should be removed from the Dining Hall.
4) Take advantage of the baik's extended hours to accommodate those who will deposit change.
5) Note the following items now
in stock at the Book Store:
A) Keys for dormitory
rooms
B) Cover sheets for exam
papers
C) Sturdy, metal file cabinets with locks.
D) Infra-red laundry tape (available with portable fluorescent lamp).
E) Super-sealed refrigerator
bags
There was a call for the question. The motion did not carry.
The meeting was adjourned at 8:45 p.m.
Respectfully submitted,
Honor Council

JOHNSONS, ORLING

Rejoice Lucky Ones

Blessed are the poor in health, for they may rest and sleep after exams.

Blessed are those that fail, for there's always next semester.

Blessed are those who do not participate in class, for their professor will not recognize them when they repeat the class next semester.

Blessed are those who hunger and thirst for an education, for they will not have to cram the night before their exam.

Blessed are the merciless professors, for they shall hear many sad tales.

Blessed are those who do not cheat, for they shall get more than an A.

Blessed are the exam-takers, for they shall have many friends.

Blessed are those who are given a paper do to at the end of the semester, for they shall have no sleep.

Blessed are you when you have studied all semester, when you have turned all your work in on time, when you have gone to class, and when you have not allowed everything to pile up at the last minute. Rejoice and be glad, for your reward is great in future life, for so worked the great scholars before you.

Letters To The Editor

Citizen Reverses Thoughtful Article

Dear Consulting Editor:

May I congratulate you on your Christmas message to the boys in uniform and health? Since the armed forces prescribe uniformity of dress for uniformity of action and to a certain extent uniformity of thought, I like your last line "We never rescue your cause — the road to FREE-DOM," particularly. We are a pluralistic people with many opinions and a strong belief that we must never forget to allow each to seek and pursue the truth he finds correct as long as he is guided by lawful and constitutional procedures. We believe in free people, with free minds, thinking honestly, speaking sincerely and not afraid to stand up tall enough in righteous principle to see the evils of the world about us — and rebuke them. Here is my $0.02 for the next 25 issues of The Breeze. I will look for more of your superb journalism.

Very truly yours,

Glenn Gildersleeve

Word of Wisdom

Dear Students,

In observing our twentieth anniversary of Honor this week on January 8, 1966, Honor Council held a panel discussion during their scheduled assembly program. Participants in this program represented colleges with different systems. Bridgewater, V.M.I. U., V.P.I., and Madison College representatives presented a variety of working Honor systems.

From Thursday's assembly program, you learned of Holton's intentions to compile a system, which would develop more democratic procedures for the accused with this in mind, what is your idea of a perfect Honor System? Let us know!

The Honor Council
Art Committee Promotes Fairness, Aid

A new organization on the Madison College campus has been born. It has been in operation since the beginning of the 1965 fall session and for this college is a pioneer in the nature of its purpose. It is the "Student-Faculty Committee on Art".

This organization is composed of two elected art majors from each class and each member of the art teaching staff.

The purposes of the "Student-Faculty Committee on Art" are:

1. To establish direct lines of communication between art faculty and art majors at Madison with a view toward becoming a closer working group.
2. To attempt to better acquaint the art students with all the areas immediately relevant to their work and thereby better equip them to be productive members of society.
3. To provide a basis for the establishment of art departments and their activities.
4. To promote publicity for the art department and its activities.

Comments from the members of the art committee indicated that the organization is successful thus far and, hopefully, will even better accomplish its purposes in the future. According to Dr. Theodore, head of the department, this committee will be useless unless the art majors co-operate and express their opinions to their class representatives. She indicated that if the organization is successful, it may lead the way to better communication and improvements which will be beneficial to both professors and students.

LEGION URGES
Speaker Ban

ROANOKE, Dec. 17—(AP)—Copies of an American Legion resolution urging that some persons be banned from speaking at state-supported colleges will be mailed to all members of the General Assembly within a week. Copies also will go to heads of Virginia's state-supported colleges, an Legion spokesman said at Richmond.

The Legion resolution asks that three types of persons be barred from speaking on state college campuses: (1) Known members of the Communist party. (2) Anyone who has advocated the overthrow of the United States Constitution or the commonwealth of Virginia, and (3) A person who has pleaded the Fifth Amendment to avoid answering questions concerning Communist or subversive activities.

Office of Dean of Students

If additional study halls are needed for the period of about two weeks before examinations, they will be open. Need will be based on whether or not the Old Senior Dying Hall Study Hall will accommodate students who want study halls. Please watch for announcements.

The Junior English Proficiency Examination, will be given at 8:00 a.m. on Wednesday, January 26. The place will be announced later.

T A K E A BREAK FROM EXAMS AT DOC'S
Swimming Show Portrays Holidays
by Carlotta Hampton
The Porpoise Club gave its annual Christmas Water Show Tuesday, December 14 at 8:30. There were seven numbers given.

In "Do you hear what I hear?" Connie Beall, Sharon Pence, Tad Pritchett and Joan Guarner swam. Linda Winstead, Mary Vick, Carol Niesz, Diana Fox, Mary Alice Fowler and Sandy Soeder swam to ‘Rudolph, The Red Nose Reindeer." Pam Czychok and Marcia Atkinson swam to "What Child is this?" Carlotta Hampton, Barbara Hard and Cathy Zazanis swam to "The Dreaming of a White Christmas." Carlotta Hampton, Mary Harmon, Lynn Pawler and Barbara Smith swam to "O Come All Ye Faithful."

The show ended when the Porpoise members lighted sparklers and formed a circle in the pool.

The pool was decorated to depict the Christmas atmosphere and the swimmers wore colorful, Christlike attire, with "Merry Christmas" and "Festive Time" inscribed on the swimmers' caps. "A White Christmas." Linda Winneshiek, Mary Vick, Connie Beall, Sharon Pease and Jill Lott swam to "Shepherd's Carol," Vastine Vawter and Barbara Smith swam to "Adeste Fideles." Carlotta Hampson, Barbara Hand and Cathy Zazanis swam to "I'm dreaming of a White Christmas." Zah Vawter and Barbara Smith swam to "Jingle Bells," and Kay Ellington, Barbara Gonder and Janis Gordon swam to "The dream of a White Christmas." Carlotta Hampton, Mary Harmon, Lynn Pawler and Barbara Smith swam to "O Come All Ye Faithful."

TYPICAL DIARY OF A TYPICAL COLLEGE GIRL

Diary
Golly, it's great to be back with you again. My vacation wasn't too exciting — plenty of dates, but I wanted the experience. Imagine, two weeks without eating at the famous restaurant! I've lost so much weight, it will take a month of pizzas, famous restaurant pizzas, that is, to get back in shape. Speaking of shape, I had three dates with lanky Lewis the famous debater from Harvard University. That boy just won't eat. Every night he wanted to shoot baskets, shoot baskets. Then there was dialogue. He talked and talked and talked — about everything but feeding yours truly.

My next vacation is going to be different. I am going to stuff my suitcase with famous restaurant pizzas, famous restaurant pizzas, that is, to get back in shape. Speaking of shape, I had three dates with lanky Lewis the famous debater from Harvard University. That boy just won't eat. Every night he wanted to shoot baskets, shoot baskets. Then there was dialogue. He talked and talked and talked — about everything but feeding yours truly.

I just can't stand this any longer. — I've got to reestablish communications with the food at the famous restaurant. I hope they haven't moved. — If they have no one will be able to find the United States post office.
