Defense Lecture To Help Women

On October 17, 18 and 19 Mr. Frederick Philip L. White, Secretary of the American Psychological Association, will give three lectures at Madison on his book "Prevention of Assaults on Women." He will be in Wilson Hall at 6:00 p.m.

Mr. Suvaska has given these lectures previously to various colleges and universities throughout Northern Virginia and some of these are: University of North Carolina, Virginia Polytechnic Institute, University of Virginia, Westhampton College, Hollins College, Salem College, and Westhampton College of the University of Richmond.

The mechanics of his self-defense program are designed to help every woman student with the University working knowledge and understanding of assaults on women. Women are in one of prevention of assaults with non-violence. He strives to give women the knowledge and the tools of psychological appraisal of the type of person who usually commits an assault and the type of behavior that is detrimental (vic- tims) of assaults with non-violence. The theme of this year's event was "Nutrition Educational Program." The theme was announced Thursday evening when in Wilson Hall.

Dr. Philip L. White, Secretary of the Council on Foods and Nutritional Society, will speak here on October 14, 1966.

The program will consist of one hour and十五 minutes of the lectures and one hour of a critical appraisal of the lectures by a group of students.

The program will be open to the public, and tickets may be purchased at the College business office.

Fisher Tapped As Frosh President

Not only is Madison progressing this year, it is also reversing in the news. The president was called a frosh Thursday last.
Student dining hall conditions are described as inadequate, with complaints ranging from unappetizing food to unclean facilities. Students are requesting alterations to improve their dining experience. A dance was held in response to their complaints, with approximately 60 students present. The text concludes with an encouragement to continue voicing their concerns.

When the Institute of Human Events becomes necessary for one people to fill their stomachs with food which gives them life, and to assume among the powers of this world the station which Laws of Nature and Nature's God entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare that the cause which makes them angry to them.

We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men eat, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable cravings, that among these are meat, potatoes, and vegetables. That to secure these rights, Dining Halls are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the state which gives them money, that whenever any Dining Hall lets the right of the People to alter it, and to institute a new Dining Hall, laying its foundation on such principles and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to feed and nourish them. Prove, indeed, that the ancient Dining Halls long established should not be changed for light and transient causes; and accordingly all experience hath shown that mankind are more disposed to go hungry while hunger is subservient, than to right themselves by abolishing the forms to which they are accustomed. But when a long train of abuses and purposes has confronted them, it is their duty, to change such Dining Halls, and to provide a new system to relieve their dietary ebb?

Interested Faculty Displays Concern

To the Editors of THE BREEZE:

Concerning your editorial on the inadequacy of the information last Spring the Student Personnel Advisory Committee, of which I was a member (the committee has since been abolished) made a formal recommendation to President Miller that the facilities and personnel of the institution be gradually increased to meet the needs of our rapidly growing student body. We specifically suggested expanding existing services and the retaining of a professional psychiatric counselor.

Similar recommendations were made, at our instigation, by the Student-Faculty Relations Committee of the Health Council. I do not know at this time what action has been taken or is being planned by the Administration, but I think you should realize that some of the faculty are greatly concerned about this important problem, and have said they would.

Artmobile Brings Ancient Artifacts

Artmobile IV, the Collegiate Artmobile, is due to arrive on campus October 10, and will be located on the Grace Street parking lot.

Thirty-nine art objects, some nearly 4,000 years old, and relics of the four early major civilizations, Sumerian, Egyptian, Greek, and Roman will be exhibited. All are normally on display or in storage at the Virginia Museum in Richmond.

The Collegiate Artmobile is a part of the Artmobile program sponsored by the Museum since 1953. Artmobile I was so successful that Artmobile II was acquired nine years later. Artmobile III began taking tours this fall. In contrast to the three former Artmobiles, the exhibitions of Artmobile IV are on a more academic level since its primary audience is the Virginia student population.

Academic Colors Have Significance
by Raleigh Edwards

From time to time, the faculty of Madison College asks that of any educational institution, does the academic regalia and participate in the traditional academic procession.

The event is very colorful, for the stands, hoods and gowns are varied in style and color. Each color has its own connotation and in this way schools and degrees can be differentiated.

The colors of the lining of the hood are those of the school from which the degree was earned. For example, Madison College graduates wear hoods lined in purple and gold. Tassel colors represent degrees earned. White would indicate a

Rule of the Week
This is an attempt by Judicial Council of Student Government to put forth their interpretation of various rules which have been broken through misinterpretation. We hope the Rule of the Week will clarify any doubts, if not please contact a Student Government member.

Off Campus — Section 4 — p. A1

“Any student going to any other college for the day must sign date slips and have a written invitation if the boy does not call for her. Freshmen sign date slips in Alumnae Hall and upperclassmen, if not please contact a Student Government member.

If the late permission is obtained and the girl signs in before 10:30 p.m. the late permission still counts as one of her lates.

STUDENT S NEED
by Ray Sonner, Director of Field and Placement Services here.

When the announcement was made to the seniors at a Placement Meeting, Mr. Sonner emphasized the fact that really all the trainees are requiring the exam, among those that require it are Norfolk and Roanoke.

The examination is offered only once next year in this area. Sindents may take it elsewhere though. The exam is divided into two main parts; teachers, or students, may take the Common Examinations, which measures the professional preparation and general cultural backgrounds of the person, and one of 13 Teaching Area Examinations which measures the mastery of the subject they expect to teach.

Mrs. Zula H. Minton, Librarian
at Anthony-Seegar Campus School, has the application forms and information booklets for the exam.

The five education majors will be

This includes children who are

Last summer Madison had the

This year is not the first that Madison has given trainingships;
last year five other seniors were

TYPICAL DIARY OF A TYPICAL COLLEGE GIRL

MONDAY
Studied . . . . Called Famous Restaurant 434-7253 for Pizza and spaghetti (I save 10% on any delivery).

THURSDAY Studied . . . . Weather was good so I took a walk to the Famous Restaurant for supper (I lost the 10% but the food was better).

WEDNESDAY
Studied . . . . Tonight I went to the movies and then loaded up on the delicious food at the Famous Restaurant. I have a date with Dashing Jack Saturday. Start my diet tomorrow.

SATURDAY
Studied . . . . Forget dieting — Handsome, Jack thinks skinny girls aren't attractive. My roommate is so skinny she rattles. She doesn't like Pizza. Went shopping, but saved $1.20 for the famous Famous Pizza'and a cake.

FRIDAY
Studied . . . . Swinging Jack called, but I was foundering myself at the Famous Restaurant. My skinny roommate talked with him. Last night I dream of Pizzas — Famous Pizzas, of course — Millions and millions of those round rascals.

SATURDAY
Studied . . . . Ugly Jack and my skinny roommate went dancing. I hope she falls through a crack! Anyway, I've got my Famous Pizzas to keep me warm. . . . . . . . . . I LOVE you, FAMOUS RESTAURANT.
