Back Those Votes!

Attendance at YW vespers on Sundays has been steadily growing smaller. Now it has become so meager that vespers are no longer held, with the result that Wilson auditorium, and the YW are completely empty. The only reason for arranging a room for vespers is to give the students a chance to gather in a room of their own and get away from the distractions of the outside world. The YW students are now faced with the problem of finding a more suitable place for their meetings. They have decided to hold their meetings in the Student Union, which is a more spacious and comfortable place.

I. A Big Problem

We hear Dr. Gifford discuss the attendance problem in assembly Monday. It is difficult if the student body understands the area of the problem before his talk. Even now, the importance of the problem has not come home to many of us yet. It is difficult for each of us to realize why our particular case shouldn’t be regarded as special or unique. But, if the attendance problem is to be solved successfully, we must be willing to think of something different than what our own personal situations might be.

As each day pointed out, the war is not over yet, as far as our reasons for requesting special privileges are concerned. The officers of the Student Union, seeing how crowding classes have become, are preparing to arrange to relieve the overcrowded classes. In addition, the armed forces, we will be faced with this wartime phase of class absence.

Let’s use the help that the student committee and our scholastic records. If we are expecting to need time off from school, we should have our regular class leave for that purpose, if possible. Sometimes this may not be possible, but it can be very unproductive for us to try if we have already used our allotted leave, is one of the times when application for a special leave is understandable.

There are other instances in which the student will receive assistance from the committee, if we are willing to meet the committee halfway.

The important thing for us to remember is this—we can’t do anything to help ourselves if we don’t want to help ourselves. Let’s make our final grades the best yet, by putting our minds to work, while keeping those grades up.

Thanks, Old Officers!

Saturday, March 15, marks the beginning of a new quarter. It also marked the end of a year of hard work for Madison’s campus officers. They have given the major part of their time to their offices. They have not only given us standards to live up to, but they have set an example for us to follow. Their inspiring personality and good taste, have made Student Government Association, YWCA, AA, the School, and the Breeze the best.

A vote of thanks to those who have served so capably and let us have that high ideals for such successors to follow.

Comes March, Quadrupled With Lent, Exams, St. Patrick's Day And Spring

BY PEGGY VAN BRETH
March entered our peaceful campus domain with a two-week vacation from her former home, bringing with her Lent, exams, St. Patrick's Day and the opening of spring semester. What more could any month ask?

Lent once again called to the attention of the campus and the world the lives and deaths of Jesus. The Lenten season was observed with a few days away to see the swing of the long, long winter, setting free the spring awakening.

Cora Mapp—

Jean Jones, class of '44, was on campus last week-end.

Mary Bailey worked at the YWCA station while waiting for a train. While a student here, she was one of the upperclassmen who has been allowed to leave Korea because of her service to the government.

With the aid of a sailor, she obtained his autograph, hastily scrawled on the cover of her Bible.

Elaine Clarke, Jean Fawley, Rosetta Mullen, Doris Norman, Thelma Reid, Thelma Rice and Selina Evens brought back a great deal of interest.

Porpoise Club 'Aquacle'd' Tone is Fantasy Of Man Overboard

"A Dream with Mermaids," an original fantasy by Peggy Vee Reeth, will be the theme of the Porpoise club's "Aquacle'd" tonight in the Reed gym.

Mary Louise Hope, president of the Porpoise club, portrays the man over whose adventures on the high seas are strictly private. A host of beautiful mermaids entice him to ailed land beneath the waves. The scene, portrayed by Jane McMarie, puts the under-sea people through their paces for the amphitheater audience.

Though he is charmed by the spirit of the porpoise, starfish, and the graceful mermaids, the man returns to the world where he is rescued by the crew of a fishing schooner.

Archers To Hold Classes

The Archery club will hold classes March 25-29. Those interested in learning to shoot are requested to sign the paper on the bulletin board in Reed. Tryouts will be held the first week in April.

To be a member you must make a score of 70 at 30 yards with a recurve.

With a little twist: "The Man I Love," which, contrary to custom, has a light, airy arrange- ment—the background being provided by the bass and guitar for the piano; "Boo and Soul," which is entirely in afro-American rhythm; "Summer," which is told in that warm, intimate manner throughout; "Embraceable You" which has many quick, unexpected notes. This novel ending adds much. Running a close second is "Pretend in C Sharp Minor," which is not woodsy or swampy, but thoroughly "Eas'ly Listening Blues."
