Robbins Values Small Paper

"It is only by knowing the history of the past that we can evaluate or make and intelligently plan the history of the future" begins Mr. Robbins, who spoke on "Living History" last night in Wilson auditorium.

Mr. Robbins pointed out that the newspapers which "fight the battle of the people" continued Mr. Robbins, "here as in no other country. Newspapers have been instrumental in breaking up many strong underwold гангс.

Editors in the Keys of the Associated Press and the United Press carry a great deal of the international news. Newspapers are an integral part of society. Without them we would be lost. But in the future, they can literally "small a news story before it happens and, consequently, many the world."

"There are many fine newspapers which "fight the battle of the people."" continued Mr. Robbins, "here as in no other country. Newspapers have been instrumental in breaking up many strong underwold гангс.

Editors are usually casually chosen to do their job, therefore it is important to know the best in the interest of most people. The larger newspapers, such as the Baltimore Sun, have extensive editorial staffs including associate editors and editors, as well as the editors-in-chief. Mr. Robbins asserted that "news agencies now publish the news when they finally break."

Brighten Up Assemblies

With the coming of spring, Madison has taken on added charm and appeal. How long will our campus remain beautiful if we, the students, continuously pick flowers and cut campus grass? The dead grass at the base of the mesquite, Junior and Senior, behind Carter, Sprinkle and Mensick, and between the Infirmary and the Home Management house is quite an eyesore. As long as we use these trees for our cool, our campus is certain to suffer. We tend little shoots of grass have just come up; so why not give them a chance—to say nothing of saving yourself a call-down.

The picking of blossoms, and branches of shrubs and trees is not only injurious to the plants, but gives the campus a threadbare appearance. The Garden club will be glad to secure, whenever possible, bouquets from their flower garden, so when you feel the urge for flowers, see this club.

A Day to Remember

Students, faculty and friends have been anticipating this year's May Day celebration on campus for weeks, and we hope that, weather permitting, the entire ceremony will be held on campus. Many of us have never seen it held outdoors, as the past few years it has been held within Wilson auditorium. Because of the outdoor exercises, there will be no crowds; and the impressiveness of our traditional May Day is lost without the outdoor setting.

Now, however, the situation seems slightly improved. In order to make our May Day successful let us have aesthetic as well as intellectual entertainment.

Try To Understand

We have been hearing a lot about the Student-Faculty committee lately. This committee is composed of faculty members appointed by Dr. Duke and student members chosen by the students themselves. The committee's purpose is to revise the rules and regulations where they consider it necessary, and to submit these changes to Dr. Duke for his approval.

At present the committee is working on changes that have been suggested by the students themselves. The changes are considered in each of these cases; if a pet peeve of yours is not changed you may be assured that there was a perfectly good reason for not changing it. Rules always have a purpose behind them. They may not be exactly what you would expect upon this.

There are many organizations on campus pressing the talents for presenting entertaining programs in assembly. The audience as well as the performers would benefit from the use of this student talent. To make an assembly successful let us have aesthetic as well as intellectual entertainment.

The Bells of St. Mary's, starring Claudette Colbert and Charles Boyer, is the story of the 1939-1943 World War II, presented in the diary of its hero, Gian Carlo. Arturo de Cordova, a bull-throwing Latin, wants to masquerade as a titled Spanish young woman who finds it worth while to hurda, unassuming history professor, and evading from outdoors to the auditorium to see the entire program.

This movie has two Latin imports, Arturo de Cordova, a bull-throwing Latin, and Galeazzo Ciano, Mussolini's son-in-law, Galeazzo Ciano, could hardly be more degrading.

Dance Program To Be Given Twice at May Day Crowning

Madison's traditional May Day ceremonies will take place on the week-end of May 3-4 when Jane Reider, of Norfolk, will crown queen of the May Day pageant. The queen will be chosen by a large number of votes, the dance program will be presented twice this year, first before the students on Friday night, May 3. The crowning of the queen will take place in front of Wilson Auditorium on Saturday afternoon. During the reconvention the Court will proceed to the auditorium, followed by the guests, where the dance program will be repeated.

Gaye Coursing is director of the May Day committee, Jane Harway, assistant director and Miss Covington, advisor. Other members of the committee are: Shirley Macdonald, Orca Thompson, and Hilda Davis. The executive committee will be headed by Jane Morgan and Miss Davis will serve as her faculty advisor. Mary Smith, chairman of the program committee and Mary Lou Hope, assisted by Miss Marbut, is in charge of staging.

Jean Cameron is in charge of prop-rings: Eugene Savag, publicity, and Polly Van Leer, sound.

Laura Virginia Folif will head the music committee and will be assisted by Courtesy Committee. Miss Steen-fter and Mr. Marshall will serve as advisors.

Each of the above chairs will select their own executive committee and the officers will be chosen later, announces the May Day director.
