College 'Ups' Average For New Scholarships

State Teacher Scholarships will be opened, effective July 1, to both elementary and high school teacher-trainees during the freshman, sophomore, junior, and senior years of college.

The amount of the scholarship will be $250 per school year for the regular semesters and $175 for the eight-week summer session.

Only students who have a scholarship standing above average will be considered eligible to apply for the teaching scholarships. Each applicant must have a score of 100 or above on the 1947 College Freshman Edition of the American College Test, and each year the scholarship is awarded to the student, that repayment is inescapable. The teacher scholarships are not cancelled by teaching one year.

A scholarship holder must be enrolled full time and with a full load in the school year. The maximum cumulative quality rating required to apply for the teaching scholarships for the 1956-57 school year will be 2.25 for eligibility qualification.

The promissory notes are the same as the former regulations. If you have any questions or desire further information, please go to the Director of Student Personnel Services Office, May 25, 1956.

Fund Is Available To Foreign Student

Seniors desiring to enter graduate study in a foreign country are encouraged to submit applications to the Institute of International Education. Scholarships are available to a number of overseas students.

Campus organizations are now making contributions to the Foreign Student Fund, which brings a foreign student to study at Madison and sends Madison students abroad. Qualified students are encouraged to apply for the scholarships.

This educational exchange program has been cited as a long-range, positive approach toward a wiser, better world, promoting understanding among the nations. It also is a means of guaranteeing support abroad for United States foreign policy. It was founded in 1919 to enable people to secure a better understanding of foreign nations, and to enable foreign nations to obtain accurate knowledge of the United States, its people, institutions, and culture.

The application blanks are now ready for distribution from the Director of Student Personnel Services Office, Room 9 of Wilson Hall. The minimum cumulative quality rating required to apply for the teaching scholarships for the 1956-57 school year will be 2.25 for eligibility qualification.

Glee Club Recounts Trip; Reveals Varied Incidents

Returned home from its "good-will" tour, the representative group of the Madison College Glee Club completed its visits to Bermuda, Iceland, and the Terceira Island as part of its participation in the United States Air Force Trainee Service Program. They made a presentation of eight girls were given the generous gift of Bermuda's capital, to present a sacred concert of sacred music which was broadcasted to all the English speaking people in Iceland.

A selected group of eight girls were given the generous gift of Bermuda's capital, to present a sacred concert of sacred music which was broadcasted to all the English speaking people in Iceland.

After returning from Iceland to the McAlpine Air Force Base in New Jersey, the plane enroute to Bermuda was struck by lightning and was forced to make an emergency landing at Dover, Delaware. In Bermuda their first task was to complete its visits to Bermuda, Iceland, and the Terceira Island. As one of the major male dancers of today, Mr. Ryder began acting and dancing at an early age at the neighborhood Playhouse of the Theater. Martha Graham introduced him and later invited him to her company. After three years in the army he returned to the Graham Company, then worked his way to leading soloist. Mr. Ryder has also soloed in New Dance Group Company, Duris Haney Company, and danced on T.V., and danced in Bloomer Girl. Aiming for higher goals, the newly installed officers climb the editorial ladder. Among them are Bruce Lohnes, WYCA president; Nancy Goodger, Breese editor; Ann Warren, SGA president; Hilda Winkelman, AA president; Paul Wanger, president of Men's Student Government; Shirley Humphries, School's editor and Beverly Reit, chairman of Honor Council. Installation was held in assembly Wednesday, April 4.

F. B. L. A. Features Fashion Showing

Unique features characterized the regular monthly meeting of the FBLA Thursday night, April 12. Mr. Thomas Housiet of the Groyden Manufac-turing Company in Staunton, manufacturer of pajamas and play suits, was guest speaker and as part of the program had six Madison girls model the pajamas he company manufactures.

Mr. Groyden, active in community activities in Staunton, is a leader in the Chamber of Commerce and a member of the Committee for the Woodrow Wilson Centennial Celebration. He spoke to the FBLA on the subject of "Psychology and Effective Relations in Business."

Girls modeling the pajamas were: Augusta Echols, Virginia Lewis, Leta Jones, Betty Jane Owens, Marian Wood, and Stacey C. Turner.

During the business meeting the candidates for next year's officers were announced and further nominations made from the floor.

Fresher Group Class Day Program Features Modern Dance Group

Complementing the theme of class day, the freshmen will present Dance Drama Company for Wednesday assembly, April 18.

Featured dancers and co-producers Emily Frankel and Mark Ryder have been touring America as the Dance Drama Duo for the past five seasons in programs which they choreographed. They have been featured in their own repertoire at American Dance Festival at New London and Dance Center of New York City.

Acclaimed as the most gifted dance couple among American dancers, the duo has been hailed by the Dance Critics of New York Herald Tribune as, "the most engaging and appealing performers among the dancers of the younger generation."

Training for the two dancers began early for both. As a child, Miss Frankel began training in a local ballet school in her home town, Harrisonburg, Penn. On the advice of her teachers she went to N.Y. to study at Metropolitan Ballet School and the School of American Ballet. When she was older, and as she describes it—when her convictions were stronger—she moved to N.Y. and supported herself while studying in various schools, as a staff member of DANCE MAGAZINE. Within five months she became a member of the Weidman Company. From there on her development in the field was rapid.

As one of the major male dance-actuators of today, Mr. Ryder began acting and dancing at an early age at the neighborhood Playhouse of the Theater. Martha Graham introduced him and later invited him to her company. After three years in the army he returned to the Graham Company, then worked his way to leading soloist. Mr. Ryder has also soloed in New Dance Group Company, Duris Haney Company, and danced on T.V., and danced in Bloomer Girl. The kind of dancing which the Dance Drama Duo presents is unique in its combination of all dance forms, drama, entertainment and concerts. Because all the dancers are trained in ballet, modern, Hindu, jazz, Oriental, pizzicato, tap, Avery L. Pages, folk and dance of the nations, the type of dance shown in the program is like a play.

Emily Frankel and Mark Ryder, dancers and co-producers of Dance Drama Company, will present the Freshman Class Day assembly program Wednesday, April 18.

Fresher Group Class Day Program Features Modern Dance Group

Complementing the theme of class day, the freshmen will present Dance Drama Company for Wednesday assembly, April 18.

Featured dancers and co-producers Emily Frankel and Mark Ryder have been touring America as the Dance Drama Duo for the past five seasons in programs which they choreographed. They have been featured in their own repertoire at American Dance Festival at New London and Dance Center of New York City.

Acclaimed as the most gifted dance couple among American dancers, the duo has been hailed by the Dance Critics of New York Herald Tribune as, "the most engaging and appealing performers among the dancers of the younger generation."

Training for the two dancers began early for both. As a child, Miss Frankel began training in a local ballet school in her home town, Harrisonburg, Penn. On the advice of her teachers she went to N.Y. to study at Metropolitan Ballet School and the School of American Ballet. When she was older, and as she describes it—when her convictions were stronger—she moved to N.Y. and supported herself while studying in various schools, as a staff member of DANCE MAGAZINE. Within five months she became a member of the Weidman Company. From there on her development in the field was rapid.

As one of the major male dance-actuators of today, Mr. Ryder began acting and dancing at an early age at the neighborhood Playhouse of the Theater. Martha Graham introduced him and later invited him to her company. After three years in the army he returned to the Graham Company, then worked his way to leading soloist. Mr. Ryder has also soloed in New Dance Group Company, Duris Haney Company, and danced on T.V., and danced in Bloomer Girl.

The kind of dancing which the Dance Drama Duo presents is unique in its combination of all dance forms, drama, entertainment and concerts. Because all the dancers are trained in ballet, modern, Hindu, jazz, Oriental, pizzicato, tap, Avery L. Pages, folk and dance of the nations, the type of dance shown in the program is like a play.
Familiar to Madison students as the owner of Doc's Tea Room, "Doc" has become as much an institution as the university itself. This is not to say that his name is Mr. Harold Loewner, as can be confirmed by his friendly smile and greeting. At least a dozen names have been tossed out above windows and streets to students before holidays.

In fact, "Doc" has long been known for his interests in other people, especially the young and the underprivileged children. He is recognized as the founder of the practice of repairing broken toys for the needy children, along with cloth, candy and fruit. Seeing under-privileged children happily play with or brighten their Christmas day year after year, while children surely are all a part of the story, was what prompted "Doc" to canvass the streets and put toys by the backs of boys who could mend and give to children.

When touring a storefront with the Harrisonburg Fire Company, he interested the company in this movement. They made it their project since, and it has spread all over this country.

Now Christmas time alone does "Doc" confine his "Santa Claus" activities, for throughout the year he can be found doing something to make the world a better place. A person's success is measured by the dollar, and a husband's good fortune by the clothes of his wife. Society ignores the individual who seeks to be himself, until he has been acclaimed for some great achievement, and then he is greeted with open arms.

Emerson has written: "Society everywhere is in conspiracy against the manhood of everyone of its members. Society is a joint-stock company, in which the members agree, for the better securing of his bread to each shareholder, to surrender the liberty against the manhood of every one of its members. Society is a great and powerful enslave maker. It poisons society's blood by false values, the lies which it tells about reality. It is the harder because you, will always find those who think they know what is your duty better than you know it. It is easy to be a Cassandra, to see the danger and to figure out the policies that would avoid it. But the true difficulty is to get others to listen to you."

Some of the greatest gifts to a culture are made by men and women who respect their own individuality and who hold fast to their ideals despite the snobbish glances of a society. They waste little time in falseness but live fully in the richness of their simplicity. It appears that a large part of an Education is superficial, concerned too much with teaching a student to blend in with any surrounding and yet belong to none. Perhaps in the future, other members of society who know something about the struggle of the individual may start accepting the truth that a person is what he does and what he is, not what he is told to do or is, and that it is what he is that determines what he is to do and is. People's success is measured by the dollar, and a husband's good fortune by the clothes of his wife. Society ignores the individual who seeks to be himself, until he has been acclaimed for some great achievement, and then he is greeted with open arms.

"What I must do is all that concerns me, not what the people think. This rule, equally arduous in actual and in intellectual life, may serve for the whole distinction between greatness and mean-

—Ralph Waldo Emerson, Self-Reliance

...the gratification of a friend. It is a quality that battles for exist-

...and that it is what he is that determines what he is to do and is. People's success is measured by the dollar, and a husband's good fortune by the clothes of his wife. Society ignores the individual who seeks to be himself, until he has been acclaimed for some great achievement, and then he is greeted with open arms.

"What I must do is all that concerns me, not what the people think. This rule, equally arduous in actual and in intellectual life, may serve for the whole distinction between greatness and mean-

—Ralph Waldo Emerson, Self-Reliance

...the gratification of a friend. It is a quality that battles for exist-

...and that it is what he is that determines what he is to do and is. People's success is measured by the dollar, and a husband's good fortune by the clothes of his wife. Society ignores the individual who seeks to be himself, until he has been acclaimed for some great achievement, and then he is greeted with open arms.

"What I must do is all that concerns me, not what the people think. This rule, equally arduous in actual and in intellectual life, may serve for the whole distinction between greatness and mean-

—Ralph Waldo Emerson, Self-Reliance

...the gratification of a friend. It is a quality that battles for exist-

...and that it is what he is that determines what he is to do and is. People's success is measured by the dollar, and a husband's good fortune by the clothes of his wife. Society ignores the individual who seeks to be himself, until he has been acclaimed for some great achievement, and then he is greeted with open arms.

"What I must do is all that concerns me, not what the people think. This rule, equally arduous in actual and in intellectual life, may serve for the whole distinction between greatness and mean-

—Ralph Waldo Emerson, Self-Reliance

...the gratification of a friend. It is a quality that battles for exist-

...and that it is what he is that determines what he is to do and is. People's success is measured by the dollar, and a husband's good fortune by the clothes of his wife. Society ignores the individual who seeks to be himself, until he has been acclaimed for some great achievement, and then he is greeted with open arms.

"What I must do is all that concerns me, not what the people think. This rule, equally arduous in actual and in intellectual life, may serve for the whole distinction between greatness and mean-

—Ralph Waldo Emerson, Self-Reliance

...the gratification of a friend. It is a quality that battles for exist-

...and that it is what he is that determines what he is to do and is. People's success is measured by the dollar, and a husband's good fortune by the clothes of his wife. Society ignores the individual who seeks to be himself, until he has been acclaimed for some great achievement, and then he is greeted with open arms.

"What I must do is all that concerns me, not what the people think. This rule, equally arduous in actual and in intellectual life, may serve for the whole distinction between greatness and mean-

—Ralph Waldo Emerson, Self-Reliance

...the gratification of a friend. It is a quality that battles for exist-

...and that it is what he is that determines what he is to do and is. People's success is measured by the dollar, and a husband's good fortune by the clothes of his wife. Society ignores the individual who seeks to be himself, until he has been acclaimed for some great achievement, and then he is greeted with open arms.

"What I must do is all that concerns me, not what the people think. This rule, equally arduous in actual and in intellectual life, may serve for the whole distinction between greatness and mean-

—Ralph Waldo Emerson, Self-Reliance

...the gratification of a friend. It is a quality that battles for exist-

...and that it is what he is that determines what he is to do and is. People's success is measured by the dollar, and a husband's good fortune by the clothes of his wife. Society ignores the individual who seeks to be himself, until he has been acclaimed for some great achievement, and then he is greeted with open arms.

"What I must do is all that concerns me, not what the people think. This rule, equally arduous in actual and in intellectual life, may serve for the whole distinction between greatness and mean-

—Ralph Waldo Emerson, Self-Reliance

...the gratification of a friend. It is a quality that battles for exist-

...and that it is what he is that determines what he is to do and is. People's success is measured by the dollar, and a husband's good fortune by the clothes of his wife. Society ignores the individual who seeks to be himself, until he has been acclaimed for some great achievement, and then he is greeted with open arms.

"What I must do is all that concerns me, not what the people think. This rule, equally arduous in actual and in intellectual life, may serve for the whole distinction between greatness and mean-

—Ralph Waldo Emerson, Self-Reliance

...the gratification of a friend. It is a quality that battles for exist-

...and that it is what he is that determines what he is to do and is. People's success is measured by the dollar, and a husband's good fortune by the clothes of his wife. Society ignores the individual who seeks to be himself, until he has been acclaimed for some great achievement, and then he is greeted with open arms.

"What I must do is all that concerns me, not what the people think. This rule, equally arduous in actual and in intellectual life, may serve for the whole distinction between greatness and mean-

—Ralph Waldo Emerson, Self-Reliance

...the gratification of a friend. It is a quality that battles for exist-

...and that it is what he is that determines what he is to do and is. People's success is measured by the dollar, and a husband's good fortune by the clothes of his wife. Society ignores the individual who seeks to be himself, until he has been acclaimed for some great achievement, and then he is greeted with open arms.

"What I must do is all that concerns me, not what the people think. This rule, equally arduous in actual and in intellectual life, may serve for the whole distinction between greatness and mean-

—Ralph Waldo Emerson, Self-Reliance

...the gratification of a friend. It is a quality that battles for exist-

...and that it is what he is that determines what he is to do and is. People's success is measured by the dollar, and a husband's good fortune by the clothes of his wife. Society ignores the individual who seeks to be himself, until he has been acclaimed for some great achievement, and then he is greeted with open arms.
Regional Convention To Be at Madison

Madison College Chapter of the Future Business Leaders of America will be host Saturday, April 14, to the Madison Region FBLA Convention. A changing morning session will be led by Dr. Albert G. Edwards, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Harrisonburg who will have devotion. Devotions will be followed by a short business meeting at this time campus speakers will be presented and the election of next year's officers will take place.

At eleven o'clock various contests will be held in Wilson Hall. These contests include public speaking, spelling, parliamentary procedure, debate board, exhibits, and scrap book. A Mr. & Miss FBLA will also be chosen from contestants from all of the high schools represented.

Lunch will be served to all of the conference delegates, in Madison's dining hall.

During the afternoons demonstrations and exhibits will be presented by ten different Office Machine Companies. The conference delegates will tour all of these exhibits which will be set up in Wilson Hall. Following the tours the installation of the new officers will take place.

Last but certainly not least, awards and special recognition will be given to the various high schools for their work during the year. The Harrisonburg Rotary Club will present a $25 Savings Bond to the "first place winners of the Public Speaking Contest." The winners of the contests will then compete for state honors at the State FBLA Convention to be held at Hotel Roanoke, in Roanoke, Virginia, in May.

Future Business Leaders of America is a national organization for high school and college students of business and has as its goal the promotion of high standards of performance in the business world.

Obern unusually the Madison College chapter of the organization has attracted active student bodies from many Virginia high schools.

Orchestra, Understudies Present Varied Modern Dance Program

Under the direction of Mrs. Hewitt, the Orchestra Club and the "Understudies" group presented a colorful and varied modern dance program April 6 and 7.

Playing for the first production, "Pre-Classic Suite", was the college string orchestra directed by Doug Seyfarth. The first production included a number of dances: "The Minor", "Gigue", a lively and spirited number; "Coventry", changing the mood to a very slow pace; and "Savoyette", also in the lively mood.

Next on the program was Jazz Smidder, three dances done to music by Stan Kenton and Moondog. The two by Kenton were "Synchronization" and "Parade for Rhythm Section", while Moondog provided musical accompaniment for "Something for the Birds".

Modern Revelation done to a mobile expressed great feeling through the dancers movements.

Hand movements told the complete story of the Hindu Dance Drama, while a speaker backstage, Ann Hearl, spoke to the audience of what each movement represented.

One of the highlights of the entire program was Hellene Sellner's solo, "Negro Spiritual", which brought her a curtain call.

Mystery and intrigue was the attraction for "The Wall", a spiders web that had captured its victim. It was an amazing production that left the audience feeling as if they had been caught up in the magic spell of the spider.

"Light and Gray", performed by the class, the end was not worthy of the "Understudies", told in dance excerpting, thus setting the theme for from various Emily Dickinson's "Odes".

Also included in the recital was a dance program a success, the audience feeling as if they had been taken to foreign countries. Hellene Sellner, president of Orchestra Club, Betty Hunt and Jan Bolton assume typical positions of the modern dance recital, Friday and Saturday, April 6 and 7.

WHAT'S THIS? For solution see paragraph below.

CALENDAR

Saturday, April 14—
8:00-10:00 a.m. Vs. Latin Tournament, Reed, II
5:00 p.m. Mercey Club, college camp
7:30 p.m. Campus Movie "Cal-mile"

Sunday, April 15—
4:00-5:00 p.m. Recital, Betty Neal and Betty Berezowski

Monday, April 16—
6:00 p.m. Sigma Delta Rho, college camp
7:00-10:30 p.m. Auditorium, Freshman Class

Tuesday, April 17—
8:00 p.m. Auditorium, Freshman Class

Wednesday, April 18—
FRESHMAN CLASS DAY
12:00 noon; "Fresh" Class Day Assembly
3:00 p.m. Freshman Class Night

You're on the Right Track when you light up a Lucky, because Luckies taste better. Only fine tobacco — naturally good-tasting tobacco that's TOASTED to taste better — can give you taste like this. All of which goes to explain the droplets above: Light-up time in exhalve, as seen by bailed motorist, Switch to Luckies yourself. You'll say they're the best-tasting cigarette you ever smoked.

Broodles, Copyright 1953 by Roger Price

Lucky Strike, Copyright 1940 by American Tobacco Company

COLLEGE SMOKERS PREFER LUCKIES!

• Luckies lead all other brands, regular or king size, among 36,075 college students questioned coast to coast. The number-one reason: Luckies taste better.

Lucky Drodles! Purr-fectly Hilarious!

DROODLES, Copyright 1953 by Roger Price

It's Toasted! To taste better!

FOR ALL YOUR OPTICAL NEEDS:

FRAME

Glasses

STATIONERY

Opposite the College

COLONY

OPTICAL CO.
Sports Chat
With Pat

Spring has sprung, fall has fallen, all the intramural sports are doing well! The intramural spring sports, tennis, softball, archery, and golf all started out with a bang on Monday. Softball practice games are being held this week with the regular games starting on Monday. Tennis also started with tournament games being set up for beginning, intermediate, and advanced players. Golf matches are being scheduled for all participants according to ability. Arrows can be seen piercing the targets on the archery field.

Congratulations are to be extended to all the lucky gals who recently received ratings in volleyball. National ratings were given to Carolyn Legard, Myra Smith, and Margaret Hartzel; Anna Lewis received a local rating; Anita Webb, an associate and Tish Quarles received an intramural rating.

The National Bridge Conference was wonderful for all those attending. Dr. Abernathy, President of the National A.H.P.E.R., Harnsbarger, Jacqui Albrecht, Barbara Cooley, Carolyn Legard, and Pat Schultz. Miss Tate accompanied the group and also led a discussion on health education.

Congratulations to Senior (third floor) Dormitory for winning the volleyball championship over Sheldon I. You played a great game!

College Home Ec. Majors Will Attend Virginia Convention

For the Fifty Fifth Annual Convention of the Virginia Home Economics Association at John Marshall Hotel in Richmond, April 12-14, the theme will be "YOU—THE FUTURE OF HOME ECONOMICS." Different aspects of home economics will be brought out in the programs with talks on foods, equipment, and textiles. Miller & Rhoades is providing a tea on Thursday afternoon and Thimberline is in charge of the Fashion Show that night.

Representing this area, Mrs. B. R. Varner, head of the home economics department at Madison, is attending in the capacity of Counselor to the Virginia Home Economics Association. Miss Martha Sill of Madison is alternate advisor to the College Club section. Miss Carolyn Driver, home demonstration agent for Rockingham County, will attend as Treasurer of the association.

Others attending include the following students from Madison College: Louise Babcock, Vice-President of the association.

Just Arrived
New Styles of Madison Stationery
24 Eng. Sheets
24 Plain Sheets
24 Envelopes
ONLY $1.00

"The Best In Flowers And Service"
Blakemore Flowers
"The Shop To Know In Harrisonburg, Va."
115 E. Market St. Dial 4-4467

Radio And Player Repair
Guaranteed
WHITSEL Music
RCA-Victor — Columbia
Deco — Capital
"New Releases Weekly"

Patronize Our Advertisers

Diary Of The Rite
HAMBURGER and SHAKE 39 Cents
Beginning Friday Come In and See Our Menu Price Change Starting Friday, March 23, will be open weekend nights til 11:00.

"The Best In Flowers And Service"
Blakemore Flowers
"The Shop To Know In Harrisonburg, Va."
115 E. Market St. Dial 4-4467

JARRELLE'S SHOE STORE
92 S. Main Street Harrisonburg, Va.
We Now Have In Stock A Complete Line of P. F. Canvas Shoes by B. F. Goodrich
COLORS: White, Navy, Red and Charcoal
SIZES: 3 1/2 to 10

SENTRY's
Jewelers
Jewelry — Watches
56 S. Main Street
HARRISONBURG, VA.

Cain's Home Furnishings
JEWELERS
Just Arrived
New Styles of Madison Stationery
24 Eng. Sheets
24 Plain Sheets
24 Envelopes
ONLY $1.00

"The Best In Flowers And Service"
Blakemore Flowers
"The Shop To Know In Harrisonburg, Va."
115 E. Market St. Dial 4-4467

Radio And Player Repair
Guaranteed
WHITSEL Music
RCA-Victor — Columbia
Deco — Capital
"New Releases Weekly"

Patronize Our Advertisers

Diary Of The Rite
HAMBURGER and SHAKE 39 Cents
Beginning Friday Come In and See Our Menu Price Change Starting Friday, March 23, will be open weekend nights til 11:00.

"The Best In Flowers And Service"
Blakemore Flowers
"The Shop To Know In Harrisonburg, Va."
115 E. Market St. Dial 4-4467

JARRELLE'S SHOE STORE
92 S. Main Street Harrisonburg, Va.
We Now Have In Stock A Complete Line of P. F. Canvas Shoes by B. F. Goodrich
COLORS: White, Navy, Red and Charcoal
SIZES: 3 1/2 to 10

SENTRY's
Jewelers
Jewelry — Watches
56 S. Main Street
HARRISONBURG, VA.