Student Teachers Assume Duties In Near Vicinities

This semester eighty-four Madison College students are doing their student teaching either here and away. Among the experience one is getting is that of 30 girls who are teaching in this vicinity or away, and all are finding the experience one of value-interest and excitement.

Dr. Poindexter, Director of the student teaching reports that 30 of these girls are living off campus; part of these are away from September 17 until November 10, and then the second group will leave on November 10 and return January 30. They have been teaching more quickly this year than in the past. Every student-teacher has had some

Students Motivate Activities

Dear Editor:

Although it seems to be news to numerous students, the Student Government Association is comprised of everyone who matriculates to Madison. However, this governing council begins work early at S.G.A. Retreat. Chapmioned by Mrs. Wilcox, and Miss Wilcox, we met at Riverwood on September 14, 1956, to organize the 1956-57 schedule for Monday assembly; and for addresses made by our foreign students.

First on schedule was registration of all new students. The handbook rules were discussed and made familiar to the council; plans were made to improve more student participation in Monday assembly; and for addresses made by our foreign students.

Committee members were appointed to work with other organizations for the Madison College Student Organizations’ Tea on October 11. We made sandwiches, writing invitations, serving as hostesses— all this doesn’t just happen!!

Our big activities include dormitory coke parties for new students, contests, and planning for Old Student-New Student Day on October 24. The S.G.A. dance, “Masked Fantasy”, opening formal, will be given in cooperation with the Men’s Student Government and the Social Committee.

Neither new nor original is the concept that Riverwood needs additions and repairs. We have organized tentative plans for new furnishing, heat, and recreational facilities, to be achieved through cooperation with other clubs and organizations. I am not at all sure that the students realize that these things are accomplished— the washing machines, the soda fountain, were initiated in S.G.A. and accomplished through the Recreational Council.

So that our aims may be fulfilled again this year, we ask for the cooperation of the students in some of the following things: understanding, being aware of the organization’s activities, and by being well versed on your handbook. In return, we will attempt to keep the students informed through THE BREEZE.

Kapaa Resident Enrolls As Student of Madison College

From the land of coconut, girls, skirts, and palm trees comes another interesting student to the Madison College campus in the person of Sanee Kuchara, better known to all as Sandy.

Sandy balls from Kapaa on the island of Kauai, in Hawaii. This is in the third year of our country, the two previous ones being spent at Marion Junior College in Virginia. Her home is in Marion, and she has great ties with her native state. She was born in Marion, and her family is native to the state. She has lived there all her life.

The United States is granted to claims as “bome” for Sandy. Her family, consisting of her mother, two brothers, and two sisters, resides in Marion. Sandy graduated from high school in Marion, and then went on to the University of Hawaii. In her junior year, she transferred to the University of Hawaii. She is in her final year of college, and will graduate in the spring.

When asked what she likes most about the United States, Sandy replied that she enjoys the change of seasons. Another particularly interesting fact that she noted is her frequent visits to the beach. This is because she enjoys the beach.

Candies Make Appearance

In Senior Dorm Black Out

At the end of fourth period we all turned the lights off simultaneously. This was done unannounced. The dorm was in total darkness. This was a very dramatic moment in our lives.

The dorm was in total darkness for 15 minutes. There were many people who were delighted. The dorm was dark for a very long time. The loss of light is not easy to overcome.

It was discovered that there were too many students in Senior. The door was unlocked, therefore the power failed.

This situation can be remedied by one of two methods: first, a light bulb, or second, a power outage.

Roll call in Dr. Glenn Smith’s history of civilization class was clipping along at the usual pace, going remarkably, I might say. Our class was in the middle, Miss Glass, Miss Hall, Miss Johnson, Miss Koons, when suddenly... a humming sound was heard. The teacher stopped the class and said, “What’s going on?”. The class was in shock. The teacher explained that the sound was coming from the ceiling. The class was relieved. The teacher continued the class and the sound continued.

Tea Room Capers

Cause Cleaning Bill For Haepless Coeds by Lynne Saunders

There is a lot of truth in that old saying that "you can’t get up to sleep in the mornings." We realized the importance of that saying until recently. It was Wednesday morning as a matter of fact, and I was meeting Grace Manly in the Tea Room.

We got to the door without any trouble. From our exhibition upon entering the room, we soon discovered that the entire area was empty except for ourselves.

Grace picked the sugar grains from the sugar bowl, then turned to her home in Hawaii.

Sandy graduated from high school in Marion, and then she came to the United States. She attended college in Kauai, then she came to Marion. She is our only student from Hawaii.

Diapason Presents
New York Organist

William Watkins, the brilliant young organist of the New York Avenue Presbyterian Church in Washington, D. C., recently visited All American Assembly, Wednesday, October 3. The program was sponsored by the Diapason Club.

Mr. Watkins began his program with one of the greatest organ works of J. S. Bach, the "Prelude and Fugue in D Major." Roy Perry's organ arrangement of "Schenck Melody" by William Davidson followed the Bach selection. This was a quiet composition, with a luscious theme occurring throughout the piece.

"Variations on America," by the contemporary composer Charles Ives, was an interesting and unusual work. In parts of the work the composer has written in two different keys at the same time. Varied rhythms were employed throughout the selection.

Leo Sowerby's "Carolus" was constructed with both chimes and a harp. Mr. Watkins played phrases of this work on three manuals—once, using three of the pedals and the other two for a lower manual.

To close his program, the organist played "Introduction, Passacaglia, and Fugue" by William Byrd, a Canadian composer. The theme of this work was first heard in the pedals and then throughout the composition.

A luncheon was given by the Diapason Club in Junior Dining Hall. Mr. Watkins' honor after his program.

Mademoiselle Initiates Contest For Collegiate Talent, Creative Ability

Mademoiselle is now accepting applications from undergraduate women for membership in its 1956-57 College Board.

Mademoiselle College Board Contest offers a chance for the freshman, sophomore, and junior who yearns for her share of the twenty Guest Editorships—each to the staff of Mademoiselle. Those who are accepted on the College Board will choose one assignment during the college year.

Assignments for College Board Members a chance to write features about life in their campus, to submit art work and fashion as well as feature, fiction or promotion ideas for possible use in Mademoiselle; to develop their critical and creative talents; to discover their own abilities and job interests; to win cash prizes and possibly publication for outstanding work submitted during the contest.

Nancy Sweeney, former Madison College student during 1954-55, entered the contest during that time and won a position on the Mademoiselle College Board.

This year's twenty Guest Editors will be brought to New York regularly for help, writing, editing, and illustrating the August College issue. They will be paid a regular salary for their month's work, plus round trip transportation to New York City. The Mademoiselle Editor takes part in a full calendar of activities. She interviews a celebrity, goes on a trip, visits newspaper offices, fashion workrooms, stores, advertising agencies, besides working daily with the Mademoiselle Editor to whom she is assigned. The twenty Guest Editors get help in finding positions in their special fields, and each year several join Mademoiselle's own staff.

November 17 is the deadline for applying for College Board Membership. This is the way you do it

Write a 1,500-word essay of the editorial section in Mademoiselle's August 1956 College issue for a later issue if you can't get August.

A good critique will tell something about your attitudes, interests, how you express yourself.

Give first your over-all likes and dislikes, suggested changes and additions; then comments on what interests you most—fashion, illustration o fiction, for example. In case you feel the critique isn't enough to indicate your particular ability, send in addition something you think will. Successful candidates will be notified of acceptance on the College Board before Christmas; the first College Board assignment will appear in Mademoiselle's January issue.

For further information see the August, September, October or November issues of Mademoiselle.
