Breezeto Schoolma'am Send Representatives To Press Conference

Host Studer in Cleveland, Ohio, is the Associated Collegiate Press Conference. Grace Manly of The Breeze and Shirley Humphries and Sue Peterson of The Schoolma'am will be Madison's delegation to this conference where some 500 to 800 other college publications are represented each year. Miss Mary Margaret Brady, advisor of The Schoolma'am, will accompany the delegates.

In addition to the general meetings, the delegation will visit various smaller groups. These groups will be assigned to the following: short course departments, photo, typewriter magazine, yearbooks, and make-up and typography.

Their big day included a luncheon for the delegates, which had far less rules than they usually served two years as a representative of the Student Government. She serves this year as president of the Sigma Sigma sorority, and is corresponding secretary of Alpha Phi Delta, a national organization.

Assembles In Capital

Typical Collegiate Day

Consideration Is Made Of MC Campus School

College Choral Clinic Assembles In Capitol

On Thursday and Friday, November 1 and 2, the annual College Choral Clinic met in Richmond, Virginia. It is a statewide affair in which fourteen colleges are participating, making a total choir of over thirty and twenty-four voices.

Madison was represented by three voices, and their participation was selected by the Honor Council and the A. A. Council last year, and is a member of Sigma Sigma sorority.

Nancy Lee Gardner, Editor-in-Chief of THE JOURNAL from Ridgeway, W. Va., was both a freshman and sophomore class officer. Nancy was a representative to the Honor Council and the A. A. Council last year; and is a member of Sigma Sigma sorority.

Joan Harvey, of Bridgewater, is currently associated with Kepp Delta Pi. (Continued on Page 3)

The title of "Who's Who" originally belongs to the above six seniors due to accredited scholarship and campus leadership activities.

Students Score Smash In First Class Drama

Singing their story are "Three Coins in Manhattan" . . . . Barbara Traught, Ginger Brown, and Brown.

Once again the Class of '57 "set the halls reverberating with a mighty cheer" as Senior Class Day hit the campus Wednesday with its fun, entertainment.

Typographical, magazines, yearbooks, and make-up and typography.

Assembles In Capital

Seniors Score Smash In First Class Drama

Sing their story are "Three Coins in Manhattan" . . . . Barbara Traught, Ginger Brown, and Anne Wolfe.

by Ellen Turpin and Anne Wolfe

Annually, one of the most waited for announcements on campus is that of members of the student body who have been accepted into Madison in "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities."

This year, Madison, in accordance with enrollment, was eligible to submit seventeen students for approval. A committee composed of faculty and students from the senior class carefully reviewed the qualifications of outstanding candidates.

Nominating committees were reminded to consider the student's character, scholarship, leadership, citizenship, and his promise of future usefulness to the world.

Besides awarding the individual student, "Who's Who" is created for higher, yet less conspicuous purposes. It is a goal to inspire greater effort on the part of all students.

It is a reminder to each student to use the short time of his college education as precious time in which to develop fully, spiritually and intellectually.

From Madison the following students have been recognized by the national organization:

Glenis C. Hara, of Bridgewater, is currently a member of Phi Alpha Delta Pi Sigma Phi Lambda. Glenis C. Hara, of Bridgewater, is currently a member of Phi Alpha Delta Pi Sigma Phi Lambda.

Glenis C. Hara, of Bridgewater, is currently a member of Phi Alpha Delta Pi Sigma Phi Lambda.

Clarification of Article

On Tests in B.E. Dept.

National Business Entrance Tests in stenography were given to twenty-nine people in May of last year, and passed by twenty-three of these people.

In this group, or slightly over twenty per cent instead of five per cent as previously released, received the special proficiency certificate.

College Choral Clinic Assembles In Capitol

On Thursday and Friday, November 1 and 2, the annual College Choral Clinic met in Richmond, Virginia. It is a statewide affair in which fifteen colleges are participating, making a total choir of over thirty and twenty-four voices.

Madison was represented by three voices, and their participation was selected by the Honor Council and the A. A. Council last year, and is a member of Sigma Sigma sorority.

Nancy Lee Gardner, Editor-in-Chief of THE JOURNAL from Ridgeway, W. Va., was both a freshman and sophomore class officer. Nancy was a representative to the Honor Council and the A. A. Council last year; and is a member of Sigma Sigma sorority.

Joan Harvey, of Bridgewater, is currently associated with Kepp Delta Pi. (Continued on Page 3)
Changes Prove It: MC Can’t Complain

by Dana Booth

Place — Harrisonburg; the time is the end of the nineteenth century. A few dim, disheveled buildings can be seen standing unusually from the ground. In this part of the valley, it had looked darkly before.

It is night. Inside what seems to be a large, roomy, and dimly lit store, a group of elderly ladies is sitting around a table.

One of the older ladies looks in the mirror and exclaims, "A girl is making a fortune from selling a small dress." The others nod in agreement.

The group continues to discuss the fashion industry, touching on topics such as the rising cost of materials and the changing tastes of young customers.

When the discussion is over, the group members all get up and head out for some tea and cookies. They part ways with smiles and promises to see each other soon.

---

Filmfare

A fascinating character in western fiction is brought to life in the new film, "The Old West: A Table Rock," coming to the Virginia Theater on the 19th of March. The story, centering on the legendary Dodge family, captivates audiences with its themes of courage, friendship, and survival.

The film features a talented cast, including the renowned Susan Baker, whose performance as "Dora Dodge" has earned her critical acclaim. The supporting cast includes several other notable actors, all bringing their unique talents to the screen to create a truly unforgettable experience.

Don't miss your chance to witness this gripping tale of the Old West. Tickets are available now, so be sure to reserve your seats before they sell out! Enjoy the magic of cinema, and experience the thrilling adventure of "The Old West: A Table Rock."
A.C.E. Guides Potential Teachers
In Promotion of Primary Education

Many people have been wondering what A.C.E., or Association of Childhood Education, offers a Madison student. This article attempts to explain by relating a little of the background of the organization and how it has come about in the country and on Madison campus.

ACE, as it is called, maintains its headquarters in Washington, D. C. and is through this office that the plans for each Local Branch Member is unified, with other Local Branch Members all over the country. ACE was formed in 1900 by merging two organizations—teachers of young children, the International Kindergarten Union, and the National Council of Primary Education.

Members of ACE are teachers, parents, community workers, and others concerned with the education and well-being of children.

At Madison, ACE, by becoming an International Member, receives professional bulletin, issues of Childhood Education, a yearbook with reports of the organization, and the ACE Branch Exchange, as well as a variety of other books and pamphlets for children, parents, and teachers.

By becoming a member of ACE at Madison, one will be affiliated with the ACE, benefiting not only in gaining valuable suggestions for planning a teaching career, but also having vital experiences in learning how the standards of education and welfare for all children can be raised. Madison's ACE invites all those planning to teach in Curricula I or Y with a 2. average to take advantage of this professional opportunity. The second meeting of ACE is November 8, and it is at this time initiation will be held for all those wishing to become members.

Seniors Score Smash
(Continued from Page 1)

Hershey's
Snacks — Sandwiches
Madison Souvenirs

Seniors who scored their personal best on the final meet of the year included those who scored above 2200 on the ACT in order to qualify for college scholarships.

Who's Who
(Continued from Page 1)

Winston wins honors on flavor!

Like a cigarette should!

Switch to WINSTON America's best-selling, best-tasting filter cigarette!
Sports Chat
With Pat

Sunshine follows rain! That is exactly what the ole sun did this week. With its bright shiny face the fall intramural sports are finishing up the season.

Congratulations are to be extended to the members of the hockey team who fought so bravely in the rain to play hockey over the weekend at Sweet Briar.

Despite the loss to Sweet Briar, Madison played its best game from one of the top spots in the nation to the bottom with a 26-6 loss to Clemson. Our sorrows are with you!

Yesterday Madison tied Bridgewater in the last hockey game this weekend in Delaware.

MEANWHILE

To the national scene of sports Virginia Tech took a nose dive this weekend at Sweet Briar.

Tish Quarles had the honor of being placed on the Blue Ridge Hockey Tournament honorary team. Pat Schultz, Betty Harrelson, Shirley Stewart, and Mary Ashton made the second Blue Ridge Team, but were unable to participate in the Southeast Tournament this weekend in Delaware.

Congrats gals, for the fine showing you made.

To the national scene of sports Virginia Tech took a nose dive this weekend at Sweet Briar.

Despite the loss to Sweet Briar, Madison played its best game.

MEANWHILE

Hockey Tournament honorary team. Pat Schultz, Betty Harrelson, Shirley Stewart, and Mary Ashton made the second Blue Ridge Team, but were unable to participate in the Southeast Tournament this weekend in Delaware.

Congrats gals, for the fine showing you made.

To the national scene of sports Virginia Tech took a nose dive this weekend at Sweet Briar.

Despite the loss to Sweet Briar, Madison played its best game.

MEANWHILE

Hockey Tournament honorary team. Pat Schultz, Betty Harrelson, Shirley Stewart, and Mary Ashton made the second Blue Ridge Team, but were unable to participate in the Southeast Tournament this weekend in Delaware.

Congrats gals, for the fine showing you made.

To the national scene of sports Virginia Tech took a nose dive this weekend at Sweet Briar.

Despite the loss to Sweet Briar, Madison played its best game.

MEANWHILE

Hockey Tournament honorary team. Pat Schultz, Betty Harrelson, Shirley Stewart, and Mary Ashton made the second Blue Ridge Team, but were unable to participate in the Southeast Tournament this weekend in Delaware.

Congrats gals, for the fine showing you made.

To the national scene of sports Virginia Tech took a nose dive this weekend at Sweet Briar.

Despite the loss to Sweet Briar, Madison played its best game.