Annual Drama Festival Takes Place

All of the colleges in the state will attend the annual College Drama Festival of Virginia on Saturday, February 17, at Madison. During the festival six colleges will be chosen to present their student-directed plays. Three plays, each approximately 40 minutes in length, will be presented at 2:00 and 8:30 p.m.

Two well-known theater personalities will act as critic-judge and stage and set judge. Featured in the day-long festival are Robert Downing, director of The American National Theatre Academy, and Jo Mielziner, stage and set designer.

The festival will be sponsored by both the School of General Studies at the University of Virginia and the Virginia Museum. Other co-operating colleges are also supporting the activity.

A banquet will be held at the Belle Meade between the matinee and evening performances. Mr. Mielziner will be guest speaker for the banquet, which is open to the public.

A limited number of tickets are available from the Speech and Drama Department. Tickets for each show are $1, or $1.75 for all six shows. Banquet tickets are $4.00.

Horace Burr of the Speech and Drama Department says, that "the variety of the plays makes it especially exciting."

The Madison Stable burned down Tuesday, January 30. All that is left of 23 of the 32 horses kept there is 23 crusty black mounds. The blaze was discovered by a passer-by, but as evidenced by this picture, the firemen were unable to subdue the unquenchable flames.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Early in the fall, the student body was informed, through THE BREEZE, that the Student Government Association Rules Revision Committee had proposed changes in many of the regulations set forth in THE HANDBOOK. What has happened to these proposed changes, and why have we heard nothing more concerning them?

There is a set procedure which must be followed concerning any change in regulations. Rule changes, suggested not only by the Student Governments but also by members of the student body, go first to the Rules Revision Committee. This committee, chaired by Janie Spangler, is composed of members of Student Government. Revisions drafted by this committee are then sent to the Senate and Judicial branches of Student Government for approval. After this point, however, rule revisions appear to be lost in Administrative channels.

It is the function of the Student-Faculty Relations Committee to consider responsibilities and privileges of the students and to present its findings and recommendations to the President of the College. All proposed or revised rules must pass this committee before reaching President Miller. It is in this committee that the desire of the students for liberalization of College regulations has been stifled.

The changes drafted by the Rules Revision Committee and passed by Student Government in the fall have been before this committee for four months. During four consecutive meetings, the committee has acted on only three of the many revisions before them.

The Editors of THE BREEZE, along with many individual students feel that this delay typifies the problems that have impeded change and progress at Madison. The Student Government Constitution delegates to the students the power to govern themselves. If committees and Administrative red tape continue to block passage of rules desired by the students, and if the Administration thwarts efforts on the part of the students for change, can it be said that we hold the power granted to us?

This is not to say that we have not, in past years, been granted greater freedom and responsibility, but is this a genuine interest to comply with student desires, or token appeasement?

What avenues are open to the student body? We feel there are many. First, and most important, it is the responsibility of the student to become familiar with happenings on campus. We have elected student government representatives. Tell them the things that dissatisfy you, and find out why action has not been taken. If they cannot answer your questions, attend the President's Open Meetings and present your questions to him.

It is only through organized group effort that we will attain our desired ends. It is also the duty of the students to exhaust every avenue open in order to achieve these ends.

REVERBERATIONS

Administrative Personnel Cooperation Is Requested

Dear Editor,

Recently, there have been many articles in nation-wide magazines and newspapers concerning student rights. I feel that the administration of Madison College should pay heed to these articles. I am not asking much for my fellow students and myself—only a little cooperation from the administration. I ask only that we be treated as responsible, moderately intelligent, rational, sensible adults, not as children who are incapable of making decision and are unable to carry through with plans in a well-organized fashion.

Certain members of our present administration have said that they feel students should be able to organize functions for the benefit of groups on campus. It has also been said by these same administrators that if a student or group of students believes what he is doing is right, the student should uphold his belief. This attitude sounds very progressive, but it has not yet been carried out on this campus.

To illustrate my point, I would like to mention briefly a situation that occurred recently in which this philosophy did not hold true. During the weeks following Christmas vacation, the group spent many hours and much hard work planning an activity for the members of that group. The administration was approached concerning this activity and all channels were followed concerning the correct procedure for seeking permission to have the activity at the place desired. The chairman of the group followed the "helpful" suggestions of the administration, only to find that a week before the activity was to be held, all the hard work had been to no avail; the administration then informed the girl that they had never said that any group could make requests made by the group.

This is just one illustration of the injustices done to Madison College students. There have been many incidents like the preceding one, particularly this year, and there will be many more if we cannot clear up this matter of atrocious student-administration relations. I feel that any human being has the responsibility to keep his word to another and this pertains particularly to the administration of a college. Lately Madison's administration has encroached greatly on the students' rights and even reneged on its word. This should not happen at any college, large or small. Students cannot run a college, but neither should an administration suppress the rights of students. My only hope is that before I graduate, I will be able to see Madison as a prison in looks only.

Dress Regulations Found to Be Inconsistent

Dear Editor:

We are completely fed up with the inconsistency of the dress regulations at Madison, and with having to abide by them in order to please a conservative administration.

Lack of common sense in the dress code is quite obvious. Why, may we ask, are we permitted to wear slacks to breakfast and supper during snowy weather and not to Sunday dinner? Surely the administration wants to please visitors, but who or what would visit the campus with twelve inches of snow on the ground? Is the dress code merely an attempt to protect the image of Southern womanhood?

We realize that college is not just wearing what we choose to wear. It is a place to expand oneself. However, our administration and faculty have been thwarting our independence concerning these matters.

Is the Student Government merely a figurehead? We have asked several representatives

STU GU NEWS

by Suzanne Hobson

Some of you may remember the suggestion several weeks ago to blacklist Doc's. I had the privilege of speaking with the owner of Doc's and he was interested in our criticisms and suggestions. After our talk, he said he would do all that he could. Several days ago I went over to Doc's for the first time since our talk. The improvement was immediately noticeable. I found no long wait for my order, changes in decor, and a more pleasant atmosphere. I think you will notice the favorable improvements.

Student Government sincerely hopes that all of you will participate in the upcoming major and minor elections. Needless to say, the elections are important. It will benefit you to take time to elect candidates willing to serve you.

Basketball Played In Keezell

Dear Editor:

Because there has been some campus controversy concerning the use of Keezell gym for men's varsity basketball games, the Athletic Committee has asked me, as chairman, to explain to the student body the reasons why the games are not being played elsewhere. I appreciate your letting me use the pages of the Breeze to make this explanation.

First, everyone concerned realized before the season began that facilities for spectators in Keezell are inadequate. The only suitable alternative, we discovered, was the Harrisonburg High School gymnasium; consequently, we negotiated with the city school board for its use. Unfortunately, we were unable to agree to terms, primarily because the athletic budget could not afford the fees and expenses asked.

about dress code revisions, and the answer is always the same. "We've done our part, and now it is up to the Student-Faculty Relations Committee", which we understand has not been operating effectively this year. How can the faculty and administration hold us in contempt for our supposed apathy, when attempts to revise regulations are repeatedly suppressed?

We have several suggestions for the revision of the dress code now in effect:

- (1) Skirts and proper school clothing be worn to all classes.
- (2) Sports attire (without a coat) can be worn at all times except to Sunday dinner and to special occasions. (i.e., Parent's Weekend, Founder's Day)
- (3) Sports attire may be worn in any academic building and to the library after 5 p.m., as long as one is not at (Continued on Page 4)

New record holders for the Division of Girls and Womens Sports 80 yard medley relay are Joyce Plaughter, Jody Dalrymple, Zan O'Brien, and Sandy Frank. Their time of 50.9 seconds is 4 seconds under Skidmore College's old record.

BASKETBALL PLAYED

not dropped at this point. Further investigation revealed that sufficient money might be found, on an once-only basis. After much deliberation, the Athletic Committee decided that to request specially so large a sum for such a restricted purpose was not in the best interests of the athletic program as a whole. Before the vote was taken, though, we polled the coach and players; they unanimously voted their desire to play the remaining home games in Keezell.

We want the student body to know that the committee wants to promote an interesting, wide-spread inter-collegiate athletic program at Madison, benefitting spectators (both students and local citizens) and players. We will try again to use the high school facilities next year, and we will do everything possible to expedite construction of a new field sports house. The presidents of the W.A.A. and M.A.A. are now full members of the committee, and we welcome any suggestions or questions to us through them. But, while we are waiting for the millenium to arrive, let us all work together with what facilities we have, and sustain the enthusiasm already generated this year.

A Medical Answer For MUSCULAR Low Back Pain

Promptly Relieves Pain
So Stiff Muscles Loosen Up and You're Back Into Action

DOCTORS who specialize in back troubles report most aching backs are due to weak, tense muscles which can go into painful spasm as you suddenly bend, stretch or twist. To relieve such backache doctors recommend the pain-relief compound in Anacin® Analgesic Tablets. And Anacin gives you more of this medication than any other leading tablet.

Anacin is a special fortified formula. It promptly relieves pain, helps reduce swollen tissues, and so releases pressure on sensitive back nerves. Then notice how stiff muscles loosen up and you move around with greater ease.

Only Anacin has this special fortified formula. It's not found in any other product. See if Anacin's exclusive formula doesn't work better for you.

Basketball, Badminton Players Needed

by Diane Hillman

Badminton and basketball intramurals have started and there is still room for YOU to join. Badminton intramurals will be held Monday and Wednesday from 8:30 to 10:00. Basketball intramurals will be held on Tuesday and Thursday from 8:30 to 10:00.

Volleyball intramurals officially ended February 1 with a sportnight between Madison, Bridgewater and E. M. C. Each school had two all-star teams which played a round robin tournament. The school records at the end of the tournament were Bridgewater 1-3, E. M. C. 4-0 and Madison 1-3.

February 3, Madison College's Orchesis Club attended a workshop and presented a concert at East Tennessee State University, Johnson

City, Tennessee. The workshop was presented by Mimi Marr, advisor to the Orchesis Club. Approximately 100 students from the University, surrounding colleges and high schools attended. The theme for the workshop was "Creative Stimuli for Dance Composition". That evening the club presented a concert which included the "Cake Walk" and other dances. The fifteen club members attending were: Sherry Davidson, Linda Deavers, Sharon Durost, Linda Grafton, Judy Hoskins, Meg Kable, Esten Lambert, Ann Leonard, Joyce Morrison, Toni Pavone, Marianne Perrin, Nora Stone, and Denay Trykowski. Andy Keyser and Scott McNeil were guest dancers. The same concert will be presented by the club at Elkton High School on February 24.

Faculty 'A' Team Beats Shenandoah

The men's intramural Volleyball league ended play on December 7 with the Faculty "A" team playing the Shenandoah "A" team for the championship. The Faculty managed to defeat Shenandoah in the best two out of three games, 15-8 and 15-3, to avenge their only loss during the regular league competition. The members of the Faculty "A" team were: Mr. Heading, Mr. Bodkin, Mr. Bland, Mr. Bradford, Mr. Sereno, Mr. Ziegenfus, Mr. Cline, and Mr. Voegtlin.

The Southeast "B" team placed third in the league by defeating Lincoln and Zirkle (also in best two out of three games) by scores of 12-15, 15-3 and 15-10. These two play-offs brought an end to the Volleyball competition for this year. Basketball and Bowling intramurals have now taken the spotlight in the program. Basketball began February 6, and will continue through February 27 with a play-off game and the championship. Games are played on Tuesday and Thursday nights starting at 6:00 p.m., with two others to follow. The teams play two twenty minute periods which is similar to Varsity ball. There is only one major difference: the clock is never stopped during the course of the game except for a possible time-out by either team (each is limited to one per game). This speeds up the action considerably and makes it much easier on the players themselves.

Bowling intramurals will begin February 12 on Mondays from 4-5:15 p.m. at the Valley Lanes in Harrisonburg. Each team will consist of four players and it will be a handicap league. Trophies will be awarded to each individual member of the winning team, and also for high game, high average, and high series.
