TV Star Sings Here

Dionne will appear at Madison College on Saturday, March 2, for two shows at 7 and 9 p.m. Tickets will be sold on February 21, 22, and 23 across from the bookstore. Tickets will be $3 and $4 per person.

A few years ago the name Dionne Warwick was unknown to the public. Today she is recognized as one of the most versatile young artists ever to make a recording.

Dionne, a Jerseyite and graduate of Hartford University, Hartford, Connecticut, started her singing career as a Gospel singer. Her first attempt in the recording industry, "Don't Make Me Over," turned into a million seller and brought her instant fame.

Since then she has recorded various million sellers and has appeared in night clubs and private concerts all over the world.

Dionne has made several television appearances including "Hullabaloo," "Kraft Music Hall," and the Red Skelton, Ed Sullivan and Carol Burnett shows.

Kim to Play Thurs. Night

The 20-year-old violinist young Uck Kim, described by Leonard Bernstein as "a genius," will perform at 8:00 in Wilson Auditorium on Thursday, February 15.

Young Uck is a Korean youth whose violin and musical ability have won him an international reputation. He began piano studies at the age of five, switching to violin a year later. Young Uck studied at the Curtis Institute of Music Hall, Ed Sullivan and Carol Burnett shows.

Annual Drama Festival Takes Place

All of the colleges in the state will attend the annual College Drama Festival of Virginia on Saturday, February 17, at Madison. During the festival six colleges will be chosen to present their student-directed plays. Three plays, each approximately 40 minutes in length, will be presented at 2:00 and 8:30 p.m.

A well-known theater personalities will act as critic judge and stage and set judge. Featured in the day-long festival are Robert Downing, director of The American National Theatre Academy, and Jo Mielziner, stage and set designer.

The festival will be sponsored by both the School of General Studies at the University of Virginia and the Virginia Museum. Other cooperating colleges are also supporting the activity.

EDITIORIAL COMMENT

Early in the fall, the student body was informed, through THE BREEZE, that the Student Government Association Rules Revision Committee had proposed changes in the regulations set forth in THE HANDBOOK. What has happened to these proposed changes, and why have we heard nothing more concerning them?

There is a set procedure which must be followed concerning any change in regulations. Rule changes, suggested not only by the Student Governments but also by members of the student body, go first to the Rules Revision Committee. This committee, chaired by Janie Spangler, is composed of members of Student Government. Revisions drafted by this committee are then sent to the Senate and Judicial branches of Student Government for approval. After this point, however, rule revisions appear to be lost in Administrative channels.

It is the function of the Student-Faculty Relations Committee to consider responsibilities and privileges of the students and to present its findings and recommendations to the President of the College. All proposed or revised rules must pass this committee before reaching President Miller. It is in this committee that the desire of the students for liberalization of College regulations has been stifled.

The changes drafted by the Rules Revision Committee and passed by Student Government in the fall have been before this committee for four months. During four consecutive meetings, the committee has acted on only three of the many revisions before it.

The Editors of THE BREEZE, along with many individual students feel that this delay typifies the problems that have impeded change and progress at Madison. The Student Government Constitution delegates to the students the power to govern themselves. If committees and Administrative red tape continue to block passage of rules desired by the students, and if the Administration threatens efforts on the part of the students for change, can it be said that we held the power granted to us?

This is not to say that we have not, in past years, been granted greater freedom and responsibility, but is this a genuine interest to comply with student desires, or token appeasement?

What avenues are open to the student body? We feel there are many. First, and most important, it is the responsibility of the student to become familiar with happenings on campus. We have elected student government representatives. Tell them the things that dissatisfy you, and find out why action has not been taken. If they cannot answer your questions, attend the President's Open Meetings and present your questions to him.

It is only through organized group effort that we will attain our ends. It is also the duty of the students to exert every avenue open in order to achieve these ends.

STU GU NEWS

by Suzanne Hobson

Some of you may remember the suggestion a few weeks ago to blacklist Doc's. I had the privilege of speaking with the owner of Doc's at that time, and I was interested in our criticisms and suggestions. After some talk, he did give us all that he could. Several days ago I went over to Doc's for the first time, new management. The improvement was immediately noticeable. I found new owners, new changes in decor, and a more pleasant atmosphere. I think you will notice the favorable improvement.

Student Government sincerely hopes that all of you will participate in the upcoming major and minor elections. Needless to say, the elections are important. It will benefit you to take time to elect candidates willing to serve you.

Basketball Players in Keezell

Dear Editor:

Because there has been some campus controversy concerning the basketball games, I would like to explain to the student body the reasons why the games are not being played elsewhere. I apologize for not getting me the pages of the Breeze to make this explanation.

First, everything concerning the basketball games of Keezell are inadequate. The only suitable alternative, we discovered, was the Harrisonburg High School gymnasium; consequently, we negotiated with the city school board for its use. Unfortunately, we were unable to agree to terms, primarily because the athletic budget could not afford the fees and expenses asked.

Dress Regulations Found to be Inconsistent

Dear Editor:

We are completely fed up with the inconsistency of the dress regulations at Madison. With having to abide by them in order to please a conservative administration.

Lack of common sense in the dress code is quite obvious. Why, may we ask, are we permitted to wear slacks to breakfast and supper during snowy weather and not to Sunday dinner? Surely the administrators want to please the students, but who or what would visit the campus with twelve inches of snow on the ground? Is the dress code merely an attempt to protect the image of Southern womanhood?

We realize that college is not just wearing what we choose to wear, but instead, has to expand oneself. However, our administration and faculty have been throwing our individuality and freedom of thought.

Is the Student Government merely a figurehead? We have been asked several representatives about dress code revisions, and the answer is always the same. "We've done our part, and now it is up to the Student-Faculty Relations Committee," which we understand has not been operating effectively. How can the faculty and administration hold us in contempt for our supposed apathy, when attempts to negotiate our complaints are repeatedly suppressed?

We have several suggestions concerning the dress code now in effect:

(1) Skirts and proper school attire will be worn to all classes.

(2) Sports attire (without a coat) can be worn at social occasions, (i.e., Parents' Weekend, Founders' Day). We have several suggestions concerning the dress code now in effect:

New record holders for the Division of Girls and Women’s Sports 80 yard medley relay are Joyce Flanum, Jody Dalrymple, Jan O’Brien, and Sandy Frank. Their time of 50.9 seconds is 4 seconds under Skidmore College’s old record.

not dropped at this point. Further investigation revealed that sufficient money might be found, on an once-only basis. After much deliberation, the Athletic Committee decided that, to request specially so large a sum for such a restricted purpose was not in the best interests of the athletic program as a whole. Before the vote was taken, though, we polled the coach and players; they unanimously voted their desire to play the remaining home games in Keezel.

We want the student body to know that the committee wants to promote an interesting, wide-spread inter-collegiate athletic program at Madison, benefiting spectators (both students and local citizens) and players. We will try again to use the high school facilities next year, and we will do everything possible to expedite construction of a new full sports house.

The presidents of the W.A.A. and M.A.A. are now full members of the committee, and we welcome any suggestions or questions to us through them. But, while we are waiting for the millennium to arrive, let us all work together with whatever facilities we have, and sustain the enthusiasm already generated this year.

Mimi Mag, Director of Dance, conducted a workshop in stage movements for actors at the Turner-Ashey High School in Dayton, Virginia on Monday, January 8. Three representatives from King George County Schools from 10-4 interviews will be conducted by the representative from the Franklin County Schools.

The Placement Office has announced that the Loudoun County Schools will send their representative to interview interested students February 12 from 10-3:00. On the same date the representative from the Baltimore City Public Schools will be in the Placement Office from 10-4. From 10-4 interviews will be conducted by the representative from the Radford, California Schools.

On February 13 the Carroll County Board of Education representative will be in the Placement Office from 9-4. Any student leaving a large, expensive article in the Cafeteria over Christmas vacation, please notify Miss Copper to return to Mrs. Marr, P. O. Box 286.

A Medical Answer For

MUSCULAR

Low Back Pain

Promptly Relieves Pain
So Still Muscles Loosen Up and You’re Back Into Action

Doctors who specialize in back troubles report most aching backs are due to weak, tense muscles which can go into painful spasm as you suddenly bend, stretch or twist. To relieve such backache docto ors recommend the pain-relief compound in Anacin® Analgesic Tablets. And Anacin gives you more of this medication than any other leading tablet.

Anacin is a specially fortified formula. It promptly relieves pain, helps reduce swollen tissues, and so relieves pressure on sensitive back nerves. Then notice how stiff muscles loosen up and you move around with greater ease.

Only Anacin has this special fortified formula. It’s not found in any other product. See if Anacin’s exclusive formula doesn’t work better for you.

Scott McNeil were guest dan-ters. The same concert will be presented by the club at Elkon High School on Feb-

uary 24.

Rosemary Rumsen, coach for the Fencing Team, has announced the following girls will be probable starters for the team this season: Gwen Bruns, Taffie Johnson, Sherry
Miller, Faye Mitchell, Susan
Russell, and Sharon Skinner. Alternates will be announced at a later date. The team's first match will be held February 10 at Mary Washington. Good luck to the team.

The VM1 Foil, Epé and Sabre teams will present a

Faculty 'A' Team Beats Shenandoah

The men's intramural Volleyball league ended play on December 7 with the Faculty
"A" team playing the Shenandoh "A" team for the championship. The Faculty mandate will consist of four players and it will be a handicap team. The same concert will be presented by the club at Valley Lanes in Harrisonburg.

Each school had two all-star teams which played a round of tournament. The schools were: Bridgewater 1-3, E. M. C.
4-0 and Madison 1-3. Conference: the clock is never considerably and makes it much easier on the players themselves.

This speeds up the action considerably and makes it much easier on the players themselves.

The Southeast "B" team placed third in the league by defeating Lincoln and Zirkle (also in best two out of three games) by scores of 12-15, 15-3
and 15-8 and 15-3, defeating Lincoln and Zirkle and Madison 1-3.

Volleyball intramurals officially ended February 1 with a spotlight in the program. Basketball began February 6, and will continue through 13 January 27 with a play-off game and the championship. Games are played on Tuesday and for the man-

Thursday nights starting at 6:00 p.m., with two others to follow. The teams play two twenty minute periods which is similar to Varsity ball. There is only one major dif-
