Religious Emphasis Minister Terminates Talks, Conferences

Highlighting the Religious Emphasis Week program was Rev. William H. Ramkey’s talk in Wednesday assembly.

In his talk on “How Does it Work” Rev. Ramkey stated that sin—selfishness and self-centeredness—is public enemy number one in causing trouble in the world. If we treat the cause, which most people act, we turn from evil to good.

Along with sin as a public enemy we find fear, ignorance, and weakness. Most of the troubles we have can be summed up in these four enemies. A sure cure for sin is love.

The most important and valuable knowledge is told to us by God. Once it is found it should be used. Its application to life is extremely important and it takes strength, courage, discipline, and self-control. The power to conquer weakness is supplied by God in our close relationship with him.

Elloe Lohr introduced the speaker, and special music was rendered by the Glee Club.

This week, February 11-15, was observed as Religious Emphasis Week. A yearly observance, the week was set aside for special chapel services and worship with periods of counselling by a distinguished religious leader.

Speaker and counsellor for Religious Emphasis Week was The Reverend William H. Ramkey of Harrisonburg, pastor of the Downtown Presbyterian Churches.

Mr. Ramkey is not new to college campuses. For one year he taught courses in Marriage and Family Life in the department of sociology at the University of North Carolina and at one time considered taking full time teaching and counselling his work.

He chose for his series of talks at Madison the theme “Christian Marriage and Family Life.” He spoke on aspects of this subject at noon chapel services each day, and held worship services at 6:45 each evening. Following this he held individual conferences with students to talk over their problems.

A graduate of Hampden-Sydney College, Mr. Ramkey received both the Bachelor of Divinity and the Master of Arts degrees from Union Theological Seminary, Richmond. He is married to the former Miss Lois Sloop and has three daughters, Kristie, Mary Lois, and Carol.

His many religious activities include Directorship of Intermediate Pioneer Camp and Dean of the Leadership Training School. He is affiliated with the Christian Home Leadership Course.

The special week of religious emphasis is sponsored by the Y.W.C.A. and Y.M.C.A. at Madison. Miss Anne Turner of Waynesboro, is Chair-

Calling Campus Counselors

There are many organizations and councils here on Madison's campus of which I am sure many of us have never heard. The work that these groups do is for our good and deserves much more recognition.

One of the issues which is now being discussed concerns a personal advisor for students. This is a need on campus because of time spent in computing the duties of an advisor. This would be a full-time job.

All of us came to Madison for an education, not only in book knowledge, but in common sense, good judgment, and general maturity. But to help students become educated on this level, it is apparent that they must have the ways of reasoning, common sense, good judgment, and maturity shown by them a trained and well-qualified counselor.

This counselor would have a very interesting job, yet one which would require understanding, ability, previous experience in the psychological field of young girls, a lack of prejudice on the idea of religion, and a general all around interest in the betterment of the lives of young people around them. This counselor should have had some training in psychology, a wholesome and happy courtship and marriage, and should be acquainted with the problems of modern youth.

It would be the duty of this counselor, not to tell the girls what to do about their problems, but to point out the ways of solving those problems and the consequences in each case of the solutions. She should let each girl make her own decision about the courses to be taken in solving the problem, and by doing this she would help the girl to learn to make her own decisions and use her own judgment about important matters. This would not only give the girl a feeling of responsibility but also would have her feel that she was capable of making decisions and accepting consequences.

This we all realize is a definite need here on Madison campus—a woman who would be a personal counselor, not a fried and mother. I am sure that with the backing of the students, this suggestion will help to make Madison a better school than ever and will help each student to gain a deeper meaning of college and life.

Freedom of Assembly?

Dear Editor:

We feel that the student body should have a chance to express their opinions, their views, on issues of concern to them. We think that we speak for many of the students when we say that the freedom of assembly is a right of every Americancitizen.

Sincerely,

Attention Freshmen

Freshmen, these next eleven days are going to be confusing, trying, and overwhelming to you. Basically you will be meeting and deciding on your major for the first time. To students this election is a serious event and deserves your full consideration and thought on everyone that you will face. To do justice to yourself, your classmates, and then carefully make each choice.

Film Review

Alfred Hitchcock holds the mirror up to us in "The Wrong Man" at the Virginia Theater, starting Sunday, in a clever, well-directed, suspense film. He play the roles of two people caught in an age of mistrust and misidentifications. Director Hitchcock has already made his reputation as a director of suspense movie, and this is likely to be as intriguing as his previous movies.

At the State Theater February 16 through 21 will be "Aegean". This movie proved to be the irresistible here to bring Ingri Bergman back to the American public in an American-made film after a seven-year absence. Today before that the youngest daughter of the Russian royal family, married to the Duke of Kent in 1919, escaped death and her country. Miss Bergman plays the role of the princess in the screen solution to this modern enigma. The movie is taken from the Broadway play of the same plot. Helen Hayes and Yul Brynner co-star with Miss Bergman.

"Clubbng It"

Music will be brought to States when the Recreation Council buys a diamond needle for Bhsenese. Because the baseball team has members of the tennis team and a coke vending machine, and Ashley has the newest ping pong table.

Counselors and physical instructors will support the Madison College Band. No, you don't have to be a music major. Instruments are available if you left yours at home. No tryouts are required. And if you are so fortunate as to have a date, you might be wearing the American public in an American-made film after a seven-year absence. ANNOUNCING

Dr. Charles Price of Alexandria will use as his topic, "Science and Panta!" in Wednesday assembly, February 20. Dr. Price, who is under the sponsorship of the Interfaith Council is a theologian, philosopher, mathematician and engineer. At present he is a member of the faculty of the Virginia Theological Semi-
It was in 1943 that Dr. Eagle came to Madison. Here he served as High School Counselor and Supervisor of High Schools in Northern Virginia for a number of years. Parallel to this activity he fulfilled the position of Director of Guidance for Augusta County from 1943 to 1945. In 1945 he became Professor of Guidance. Added to this work, he was Director of Guidance and Director of Student Counseling.

Dr. Alfred K. Eagle is a member of the Episcopal Church of Harrisonburg and belongs to the Rotary Club.

During his tenure and during his constructive years spent in education, Dr. Eagle has been an inspiring guide and counselor. He is the type of man, his country, his associates, his students, and himself well and fully respected. He was respected by the students, and his colleagues considered him conscientious, dedicated, and able to fulfill the position of Director of Guidance and Director of Student Counseling.

Well-liked by his fellow classmates and friends, MR. EAGLE received a citation in 1956-57 for "Best All Around" and "Friendliness" in the class of '57.

The typical Madisonite is an elementary education major and during the summer she is very much involved in teaching at Keister elementary school. After graduation, Miss Madison plans to do graduate work in the field of marriage. Her plans include teaching at the University of Virginia, a senior at Clemson University.

Candidate for the title of "Miss Madison" were Misses Pauline Saun, Virginia Wilson, Hilda Win-son, Belinda Lohr, Nancy Gardner, Joan Allen, Beverly Bob, Suzanne Bowdle, and Marcia McIntosh.

The "Miss Madison" contest is sponsored by the Art Club. They consider it a way to express their wishes for a quick economic recovery in action once again before very long.

NEW FACULTY MEMBERS SHOW VERSATILE LIVES

For a change from technical column 1 write for the non students. I thought you would be interested in reading what some of the other fellows have to say.

The BREEZE has devoted an entire page to the non students this week. Thank you, Nancy, for running the column. You have been a great help to me. We braved the elements and concreted (?) back campus is not in enshrinement! There are only 80 students to grow a goatee; however, membership and participation were cooperation.

The local fraternity was called Sigma Delta Rho and we were able to operate under their own laws. It was not until later that they adopted a co-ed constitution and parliamentary procedure. The fraternity, upon localisation, began to focus their interest, even more so on the home campus. Their activities were concerned only with activities on and near about the campus.

With new up to present day, the fraternity is still localized and active on much the same way. It did seem that interest had not at a low ebb there, was plans made, to erect another greek house. In that planning was included such things as printed constitution to go with certificates upon formal initiation. Magazines were ordered, pins were ordered, etc. Only one thing membership and participation were cooperation.

The fraternity members feel that the organization has improved and has progressed in a positive and real-advancement in the near future.

On the evening of February 5, "Our Gang," the Singing Collegians, were unable to proceed on their tour of singing and joying toward Woodstock to sing for the annual conclave of "Dad's boys (that's our car) the600's cause she was experiencing one of those "Happiest days" phenomena. As usual we had another flat tire! After we stopped off the highway to get the tire changed. After we received our point we were treated to a fun ride by Skeeter and Skeeter. The route was completed and Woodstock was continued to Woodstock.

Our next meeting will be held on February the 19th, at which time the nominating committee will be appointed to serve on the athletic committee to replace two former members. Spaces were vacated by Dave Brewer and Stuart English who received greetings from Uncle Sam.

Improvements have been made in the Men Student's Day Room. Proposed plans for securing lockers and additional athletic equipment are near completion. There will be sufficient lockers according to our present enrollment.

An appropriation has been made for secure-warm-ups jackets for the basket-ball team. Mr. Long, the coach, met with the athletic committee and basketball team, to decide the most desirable style jacket. Our report of the financial committee, will ask for bids from several companies and a purchase will be placed with the lowest bidder. This order will not be filled in time to be used this year, but it seems that our financial committee is now being handled in the most careful and capable manner.

This year the men will take a more active part in the May Day Festivities. The Women's and Men's SGA will co-sponsored a Float in the May Day parade.

Warm spring air which descended upon the Madison campus brought out the hikers and softball enthusiasts at the beginning of the week, but they were replaced by the ones who love "ole man winter". The snow saw many sleigh riders and the building of snow men all over the campus!

Many new intramural sports will be coming onto the scene in the next few weeks. Volleyball sign-up sheets are now in all the dorms, so come on, sign up and play.

Fencing intramurals are also fast approaching. A member of the Fencing Club will be in Reed Gym each Tuesday at 4:30 to help those who are rusty or want practice. Equipment will be provided for all interested.

The Mercury Club had its regular monthly meeting last Tuesday. Members tuned in to radio station "FEST" (physical education student teachers) and listened to their many experiences which they had while student teaching.

Tomorrow Madison's extramural basketball teams travel to Longwood to play their third game of the season. Be good gals and come up with a win!
