Dr. Siegfried Meyers
Dr. Nichols to Speak During Founder's Day

March 14, Founder's Day, will mark the beginning of a series of James Madison Lectures. Sponsored by the Alumni Association and faculty at Madison College, the lectures will be given annually by an historian knowledgeable in the James Madison period of history. On Thursday, Dr. Roy F. Nichols, professor emeritus at the University of Pennsylvania, will present the first in the series of lectures.

Dr. Nichols, past president of the American Historical Association, has been a faculty member at Pennsylvania since 1925. He received a Bachelor of Arts degree in 1918 and Master of Arts degree in 1919 from Rutgers University. He obtained a Ph.D. degree in 1923 from Columbia University, where he began his teaching career.

Dr. Nichols has also received honorary degrees from Rutgers and Pennsylvania, Susquehanna University, Muhlenberg College, Moravian College, Lincoln University, Lebanon Valley College, Franklin and Marshall College, Knox College, and Cambridge University in England.

He has been the recipient of numerous literary awards as well; in 1949 he was awarded the Pulitzer Prize in history for his book, The Disruption of American Democracy, which is concerned with the causes of the Civil War. His latest work is a study of the development of the two-party system: The Invention of the American Political Parties.

At the 4:00 p.m. convocation, Dr. Nichols will speak on "James Madison and the First American Establishment." Also scheduled is the presentation of two awards, which include the James Madison Essay Award, and the James Madison Oratorical Award.

Following the program there will be a Founder's Day banquet at 6:00 p.m. in Gibbons Hall for invited college presidents and faculty members. At 8:00 p.m. Dr. Nichols will present a second lecture entitled "Virginia's Place in the Second Establishment." The evening program will also include the presentation of the James Madison Citation for Distinguished Service to Madison College.

Immediately following the evening program, a reception for the speakers will be held in Alumni Hall.

Faculty Lectures Of Piano Growth Given Wednesday

The second program in the Faculty Lecture Series will be given Wednesday, March 13, at 8:00 p.m. at the Dr. Shaw and Miss Helen Ininger, will present a second lecture entitled "Dynamics of the Character Piece for Piano: A Matter of Style and Interpretation."

Dr. Shaw, Associate Professor of Music at Madison, has studied at Eastman School of Music and holds a Ph.D. degree from Catholic University.

Miss Ininger is a member of the Music Department at Madison and is also a concert pianist. She holds degrees from Wilson College, Eastman, and the University of Michigan.

The lecture is open to both students and the public at no charge.

Minor offices are certainly not of minor importance. Yet one would tend to believe the students on this campus think they are by the reluctance shown to declare intentions for the various positions.

Can you conceive how your SGA would function without a secretary, treasurer, judicial vice-president, or legislative vice-president? If there were no vice-presidents for Honor Council or WAA, these organizations would be very weak indeed; without a handbook editor or business editor for the BLUESTONE, you would have no handbook or yearbook at all.

It is even less encouraging to think that Madison's voting public is indifferent toward those who are offering to serve. Complacency breeds complaint by those who have no right to criticize, so prove your interest by attending the buzz sessions and then exercise your voting privilege on Thursday. Even if a candidate is running unopposed, it is still necessary to circle his name to indicate your support.

Do not abuse the democratic right that our ancestors struggled to obtain. Do not forget that your vote counts.

REVERBERATIONS

BWE Extends "Thank You" for Warnerick Concert

Dear Editor:

The Big Weekend Committee would like to extend a "thank you" to Madison College. On Saturday, March 2, this school gave Dionne Warnerick two wonderful audiences. Mrs. Warnerick specifically commented that she enjoyed the concerts because the audiences were so responsive and appreciative. Madison deserves big names and important people, and BWE will do what it is to get them. This includes graduate dollars and proper phrasing towards achieving maximum clarity.

Administrative Questions Resolved

In addition, the Board resolved several administrative questions, such as voter qualification. It was decided that any student currently enrolled in an American college or university will be eligible to vote in the CHOICE 68 election. This includes graduate and part-time, and foreign students, as well as those studying abroad in American branch universitites.

The high point of the CHOICE 68 conference was the decision to meet with the project's Board of Directors. In an interview described as "unusual," the President discussed for nearly an hour and a half the student's plan for the national primary to be held April 24.

Since student dissent over the past year has been directed primarily against White House policies—leading most observers to believe that the student vote will be anti-administration—there was considerable surprise and curiosity that the President would take such extraordinary time with the leaders of the collegiate primary.

Nevertheless, the President expressed to the group his conviction that this kind of activity, from students to high significance, that when students express their opinion intelligently, people across the nation stop, look, listen, and evaluate." He added his belief that "stronger voices would favor Democratic candidates and policies.

The President ended the meeting by wishing the students and CHOICE 68 success.

BREEZE BRIEFS

The Shenandoah Valley Chapter of the Council for the Exceptional Children will meet March 14 at 4 p.m. in Anthony-Seger Campus School cafeteria. A panel made up of John Kauvough, June Hawkins, Don Sellet, John C. Meyers, and Paul Glanz will discuss "The Secondary Program in Special Education." Plans will be made to attend the State CEC Convention in Roanoke, March 29-30 and the National CEC Convention in New York, April 14-20. Barry Hawkins, President, will preside.

The Wesley Foundation will sponsor the JW Coffee House, March 15 at Wesley House, 690 S. Mason Street. The Coffee House will be open from 8-10:30. A slight charge will be made for refreshments.

The Music Department will be featured on Viewpoint at noon, Sunday, over Channel 3.

Dr. Ohlsson, Dr. Shaw and Dr. Staw, and the leaders of the university's Board of Trustees have been attending the meeting held by the VASA. At this time, the meeting's purpose is to establish goals for the university's future.

Final Ballot Determined

The nation's students have determined the final ballot and referendum issues of their first nationwide collegiate presiden- tial primary, called CHOICE 68.

Meeting in Washington, D. C., from February 10-13, the program's student directors selected a slate of fourteen can- didates for the presidency. They are: Fred Halstead, Mark Hatfield, Lyndon Johnson, Robert Kennedy, Martin Luther King, John Lindsay, Eugene McCarthy, Richard Nixon, Charles Percy, George Romney, Ronald Reagan, Nelson Rockefeller, Harold Stassen, and George Wallace.

The students also decided that three referendum ques- tions should be included on the ballot. Two deals with the country's current involvement in Viet Nam, and one with the priorities of government spending in confronting the "urban crisis." Mr. Richard Scammon, of the ELECTION RESEARCH CENTER, and Dr. Howard Penniman, of the Psychology Department at Georgetown University, as- sisted the Board in their efforts to ensure that the questions were properly phrased towards achieving maximum clarity.
Warwick To Begin First Film

by John Stanley

At 8:30 and 10:15 on Saturday, March 2, in Wilson Auditorium, Miss Dionne Warwick, since her appearance on television, has continued to add to her present entourage to their feet and applauds a unique and talented performer—Miss Dionne Warwick.

This ovation, by two different and sincere, gave Miss Warwick the recognition she has been waiting for. Her performance at the Ed Sullivan Show is a stirring tribute to America's foresightedness, a statement of her willingness to America's foresightedness, and her willingness to show her citizenship.

The chance of getting killed by skydiving is one of the basic facts of life, but it is simple, raw, requires little, and is one of the most important aspects of life. War is one of the basic tools of mankind for population control. It always has been and always will be. It would be more gratifying to elevate man from war, as he is more than capable of being elevated from disease and is trying to master famine. It would seem man was not intended for space. For space, so it would be.

I doubt, however, that she will be pursuing this avocation anytime soon, in that she appears to be at the height of her career, with no let-up in sight. I feel that Miss Warwick will enjoy continued success, as her overwhelming talent, distinctive style, eagerness and sincerity cannot help but prevent any possible decline in her popularity for many years.

Plea for Space Progress Neglected

by K. Jones

When John Fitzgerald Kennedy became president of the United States, he addressed to the world, a stirring plea for a realization that there were new frontiers yet to be conquered. In his speech a stirring tribute to America's foresightedness, a statement of her willingness to show her citizenship.

The placement office has announced the following interview schedule:

- March 11—Culpeper County Schools (Virginia), 11-1/2.
- March 12—*General Accounting Office, 10:30-30.
- March 13—St. Mary County Schools (Maryland), 11-1/4.
- March 14—VISTA (outside bookstore); CIA, 6-9:30-12.
- March 15—VISTA (outside bookstore); Calvert County Schools (Maryland), 10-1/3.

For space, so it would be.

"Don't Make Me Over" was a stirring tribute to America's foresightedness, and her willingness to show her citizenship.

Sky Diving Holds Thrills

Special Deliveries Discussed

In recent weeks, housewives have expressed fear that special deliveries are not being received by the person for whom they are intended, because of early deliveries to the dormitories, because letters may be left on desks or tables where they are not seen, and because letters are often directed to the wrong dormitory addresses.

For these reasons, the local post office has been advised that special deliveries intended for students will be received in the Office of the Dean of Women. The person on duty in the office will keep a daily listing of all special deliveries received. The student will be asked to sign this sheet indicating the receipt of the delivery.
