

"Save Your Receipt" Depicts Registration

Miss Helen Frank, Registrar, has announced the dates for paying the $10 room reservation fee, registration for classes, and for making room reservations. These are as follows:

Juniors will begin their payments of $10 on April 8. Registration for classes will take place in the Registrar's office beginning April 12. Drawing for rooms has been set for April 15, in Harrison, and room assignments will be in Alumnae on April 16.

Beginning of the payment of $10 will take place on April 15, for Sophomores. Registration for classes in the Registrar's office will begin on April 26. Drawing for rooms will be in Harrison on April 29, and room assignments will be given out in Alumnae on April 30.

Freshmen will begin their payments of $10 on April 25. Registration for classes in the Registrar's office will begin on May 3. Drawing for rooms in Harrison has been set for May 13, and room assignments will be given out in Alumnae on May 14.

Payments may be made in the Treasurer's office. The receipt for the $10 payment must be shown in the Registrar's office before registering for classes, and it must also be shown to the Student Government representative at the time of room selection.

Noted Psychologist Speaks Wednesday

Dr. Emma McCloy Layman, Chief Psychologist and Associate Director of the Department of Psychiatry, Children's Hospital, Washington, D. C., will be the distinguished speaker at the Wednesday assembly.

LIVES IN CHINA

A native of Danville, Virginia, Dr. Layman grew up and completed her high school in China.

She has taught physical education but chose psychology as her field of major interest and has done most of her work as a clinical psychologist, and as a lecturer in psychology at various colleges. She took three years off to serve in the Navy.

In addition to her work at the Children's Hospital, Dr. Layman is Adjunct Professor of Child Psychology at American University and a lecturer in the school of social work at Harvard University.

She also serves as a consultant to the Department of Neuropsychiatry at Walter Reed Army Hospital.

SERVES AS COUNSELOR

This year she is spending one day a week at one of the elementary schools in the District of Columbia working with some of the children, but primarily counseling teachers and parents in how to work with disturbed children.

"We are most grateful to Dr. Layman for giving us her time", stated Dr. Caroline Sinclair, head of the department of physical education at Madison.

Lockard Judge For Mrs. America Title

One of the instructors of the Home Economics Department of Madison College, Mrs. Jeanette Lockard, has been selected as a judge for the Mrs. America contest.

Well-known to all Madison students, Mrs. Lockard attended the local area contest held on March 21, at the Home Service Auditorium in Staunton.

Actual demonstrations are given by each contestant to prove her proficiency in the many areas of homemaking. The qualifications are then reviewed by each judge with the idea in mind that the person chosen must represent the highest qualities of millions of homemakers.

Other judges working with Mrs. Lockard were Mrs. Anna Lee Linville, head of the Home Economics Department of Southern Seminary in Buena Vista, and Mr. E. Lewis Knowles, editor of the Staunton Evening Leader.

Tapping Of Goddesses Discloses May Court

Gardner, Goodwin Rank
Queen, Maid of Honor

by Joan Lambert

Superstitious about the number 13?

To Nancy Gardner, recently elected May Queen, it was her lucky number. She was the thirteenth girl to walk on March 13.

Nancy is a senior from Ridgeway, West Virginia, and is majoring in biology and psychology. Her many activities this year at Madison include: Editor of the BREEZE, Recording Secretary of the Panhellenic Council, Who's Who In American Colleges and Universities, and First Angel in the Christmas Pageant.

Nancy is also a member of Sigma Sigma social sorority, and has served on the Honor Council and Athletic Council.

When Hilda Winkleman presented the white carnation to Nancy, her hands flew to her face in surprise. Kissing the flower, the green-eyed, blonde-haired Queen joined the thirteen girls on the stage who will reign in the court.

In contrast to the fair queen, is the dark-haired, brown-eyed Maid of Honor, Martha Ann Goodwin. A senior from Salem, Martha is majoring in elementary education and concentrating in English. She includes among campus activities, Editor of the Panhellenic Handbook, a member of Alpha Sigma Tau social sorority, and a member of both Standards and the Recreation Council.

Wine Holds Ruling Gavel For Men's Student Organization In Coming Year

by Winifred Waite

Next year the Men's Student Government Organization will be headed by Joe Wine. Joe, who served in the United States Coast Guard during the years of 1951 through 1954, has been at Madison since the 1955-56 school term. He is working for a B.S. degree in Business Administration. Accounting is his specialty.

At Madison Joe was elected to the Y.M.C.A. Cabinet. He also belongs to the Sigma Delta Rho social fraternity.

Filling the vice-presidency will be Eddie Broyles. Eddie is very familiar with the S.G.O., and has served the organization in many capacities. For one year he held the position of recording secretary and for two years was on Student Court, the activities committee, and the financial committee. He has worked with Y.M.C.A., and has been a member of Honor Council. Also, Eddie is a member of the orchestra and Stratford Players. He is an active member of Sigma Delta Rho.

Gene Driver has been elected to the office of secretary of correspondence. Before coming to Madison, Gene was in the United States Air Force. Gene, majoring in Business Administration with accounting background, is in Curriculum XI. He is a member of Sigma Delta Rho social fraternity. The men's Athletic Committee has had Gene's assistance.

Filling the position of recording secretary is Larry Bohnert. Although Larry has been at Madison only two years, he has been very active in all campus organizations. He is a music major in Curriculum VII. For two years he has served on Student Court, been Orchestra librarian, and a member of Sigma Delta Rho. Through his weekly column in The Breeze, "Mainly Men," he speaks for the men of Madison. In addition to serving on the Y.M.C.A. Cabinet, he is sergeant at arms of the sophomore class.

William Wright, a member of the Freshmen Class, has been elected to the office of treasurer. William is from Warren County. Curriculum XI is his chosen field. He is Chaplain of Y.M.C.A., and Business Manager of the Freshmen Pen. His fraternity is Sigma Delta Rho.

Joe Wine will be installed Wednesday, April 3, along with the presidents of all other major organizations. The other officers will be installed in the first Monday assembly in April.

Glee Club To Tour Eastern Virginia On Annual Spring Trip

Leaving the campus at noon on Saturday, March 23, the Madison College Glee Club begins a three day singing tour through eastern Virginia.

First on the list is Richmond, where they will rehearse Saturday afternoon with the University of Richmond Glee Club in preparation for a joint concert that night at the Mary Munford Elementary School. After rehearsal, the group will be taken on a tour of the university campus, then to dinner at the Clover Room.

Sunday morning the Glee Club will sing in the Second Baptist Church of Richmond, and that afternoon they will present a concert at the Reville Methodist Church. Following this concert, the ladies of the church will provide a dinner for the girls.

Leaving Richmond, the Glee Club will go to Fredericksburg where they will present a concert at the Fredericksburg High School on Monday morning. After lunch they will leave for Orange where an afternoon concert is scheduled at the high school there.

Following this concert, they will return to Madison early Monday night.

Former Professor Has Unique Hobby

A collection of figures illustrating characters from children's books has proved a profitable hobby to Miss Ruby Ethel Cundiff, a former professor at Madison.

FIGURES ILLUSTRATE

Miss Cundiff, who retired last year from teaching in the library science department of the college, has had an article published in the March issue of Hobbies Magazine describing her collection. "Figures that Illustrate Books" is the title of her article. It is illustrated with a picture showing the case of figures she presented to Madison College last year. The collection is on permanent display on the second floor of the college library.

STORY TELLING

In addition to her article on her unique hobby, Miss Cundiff has also been working on a book to be entitled "Story Telling for You," in collaboration with Barbara Webb. She recently signed a contract with Antioch Press for Publication of the book.

Announcement of Miss Cundiff's writing successes was made at the A.A.U.P. luncheon meeting early last week.

Incoming Officers Pledge Leadership

Installation of major officers will be held Wednesday, April 3 at twelve o'clock in Wilson Auditorium.

Dr. William L. Mengebier, of the college Science Department, will be the speaker and music will be provided by the college Glee Club and the college Orchestra.

At this time, the officers of the Student Government Association and the Young Womens' Christian Association will administer the oath of office to the newly elected officers. Also the new officers of the Mens' Student Government Organization and the Young Mens' Christian Association will be installed.

After the installation of officers, a luncheon will be held for old and new officers and advisors in Senior Dining Hall.

Prolonged Suspense Ends With Revelation Of 16 Minor Officers

Congratulations are due for those girls who have been newly elected to fill the positions of minor offices. The results of the voting were announced in Harrison Hall at 9:00 P. M. on March 19.

Those holding minor offices for the Student Government Association are: Doris Talbert, Vice-President; Frankie Landis, Secretary; Mitzie Harper, Treasurer; Joyce Casteen, Recorder of Points; Carrie Lou Jeter, Editor of the Handbook; Sis Watkins, Chairman of Standards; B. B. Banks, Social Committee Chairman.

For Honor Council, Betty Johnson will serve as Vice-President. Minor officers for the Y.W.C.A. include: Betty Lou Simpson, Vice-President; Frances Crockett, Secretary; Annette Moore, Treasurer.

Filling the minor offices for the Athletic Association are: Martha Talman, Vice-President; Susan Matthews, Secretary; Jackie Zehring, Treasurer.

Connie Howell will serve as Business Manager of the Breeze while Nora Jane Roberts will assume the post of Business Manager for the Schoolma'am. Not pictured are: Doris Talbert and Connie Howell.

Is There An Answer?

Serving as the mouthpiece for several voices, this editorial's intention is, mainly, to pose one question to be answered by anyone who knows the answer. After an attempt to understand the reasons given us why seniors can't have cars on campus all year long, there is still one remaining question that needs a plausible answer before we give up on this problem. If parking space is available the last month of school why isn't there room for cars all year long?

And actually there aren't those many seniors who will be bringing cars on to the campus that would over run us, are there?

Although there would still exist the rule governing the use of cars during the week, seniors would be grateful enough to accept the offer even if cars could only be used on a week end, out-of-town basis.

One other slant that possibly the faculty might appreciate is the angle of class cuts. To comply with the miserable bus schedule it is often necessary for students to leave for their destinations hours, and sometimes a full day earlier than actually should be necessary.

Since bus schedules are immovable for obvious reasons, Saturday classes will continue to be cut. Obviously parents can't journey down to Madison each week end to transport "daughter" to her varied destinations.

The question that will most likely be aimed at this public plea is—Well, if so few seniors will be bringing cars on campus, why all the fuss? It is for the benefit of those who do have cars parked at home dry rotting from inactivity.

Back to the original question to which we would like to see an answer? Surely this angle has been thought of and answered privately, but there are those who would appreciate hearing the squelch for the one gleam of hope left.

Some Incoming Seniors

Congratulations — At Last!

Much has been said in the past on the subject of student conduct in assembly. Always before notice was taken to the effect that student behaviour was not equal to assembly manners that would become students of proper college caliber.

However, it was recently brought to the attention of THE BREEZE staff that a congratulatory note to the students was long overdue. One person who serves in an administrative capacity on campus feels that the attention and listening response of the student body has definitely improved and merits special attention.

THE BREEZE staff wishes to join in commending the entire student body for the reception given to recent assembly speakers. Attitudes, listening behaviour and general conduct have improved only because each student chose to do so. These individual choices definitely indicate that Madison students are aware of proper assembly behaviour and have chosen to enact it.

We Thank You

Response given to the announcement concerning improper care of washing machines and dryers has been great—and good!

Mrs. Lenox states that there has been a marked improvement in the care with which students use the washing machines. All problems have been eliminated save one. That lonely remainder consists of those girls who continue to use an excess amount of soap powder. This results in clogged pipes and causes the machine to run over with suds and water. Mrs. Lenox requests that one measuring cup of soap powder only be used.

They are grateful for the response with which the students acted to previous requests made last week. It is hoped that even more care will be exercised in the future while using the machines and dryers.

Orchesis Dancing Group Presents Color, Variety

For weeks the Modern Dance Club of Madison College has been planning, sewing, building, painting and dancing to produce its recital in Wilson Auditorium tonight and tomorrow night at 8:00 p.m.

This year the recital will consist of much color and variety. A "Fugue" will be danced by a large group using the fugal forms, theme, variations by inverting, and augmenting and changing spatial and rhythmic patterns. Ruby Wray will provide the accompaniment by playing the Bach G Minor "Little Fugue".

The Sun Ritual is a derivative of primitive folk form accompanied by a Greek folk song. Moresco dance is based upon the "Morris Dance" from Henry VIII Suite, which will be played by the Madison College Orchestra. A dance medieval inspiration in which strolling jesters encounter the ever present figure of death was so well danced when the group went on tour that they have added it to their repertoire.

Solos are also a center of interest, especially one by Shirley Brankley when she dances to the rangeless voice of Yuma Sumac and the "Seven Winds", a modern version of a folk legend. Letty and Cherry Marshman will be guest performers when Orchesis dance the story of "The Fable of the Donkey". Betty Roberts will dance a portrayal of "Determination" to the music of Ravel's "Bolero."

The first part of the program will be devoted to early forms of dance, and in the remaining segment the group will perform a program of modern forms of music and dance.

...to shout, to leap, to exalt. Listen to my jubilant song" These stimulating words of Walt Whitman inspired an expressive dance to the music of "Jubilant Song" by Norman Delo. Poio. The exuberant glee club of Madison College will be guests of the Club to sing this number. "Remembrance" was originally inspired by nostalgic thoughts of Thomas Wolfe on the passing crowds in the city and is suggestive of remembered faces in childhood, adolescence and young love.

Barbara Edwards and Mary Ann Potzler will express two moods through flute and percussion in their duet. The program will close with the entire dance club gathered to present in finale, "College Days". Miss Monica Gutchow, who has recently received her Master of Fine Arts Degree from the Woman's College of the University of North Carolina, has assisted Mrs. Lewellen Hewitt in directing the dance group.

Sigma Delta Rho has pledged six new members. The "lucky goats" were Richard Barnes, Gene Driver, William Wright, David Steelman, Bob Jones and Sonny Spinks. The pledges have to go through formal initiation before they will become fraternity brothers. Hope they all have learned the motto!

Congratulations to the newly elected S.G.O., officers. A lot of credit should be given to this year's officers, especially president Paul Wenger. They have done much to promote morale and recognition of the men on campus.

I heard a lot of compliments about the Porpoise Show last week. The members of the Porpoise Club and sponsor, Miss O'Neil, are to be congratulated for a swell show. Perhaps part of the success was attributed to the fact that a male was in the act!

Another show I hope everyone takes advantage of this week is the Orchesis Modern Dance Recital tonight and Saturday. Show time is 8:00 p.m.

Nominees for next year's Men's "Y" cabinet have been selected. Candidates are: president, Roland Wine; vice president, Eddie Broyles; secretary, Gene Pfautz; treasurer, Sonny Spinks and James Conrad; and chaplain, William Wright. Elections will be held March 27, at the regular YMCA meeting.

A 1954 Madison graduate, Wayne Garber, a member of the engineering staff at WSVA-TV, has been named to emcee the 11th Annual Shenandoah Valley Beauty Contest, at New Market, on April 26th.

Representatives Of College Attend Roanoke Home Economics Meetings

This weekend, March 21-23, the Virginia Home Economics Association and the Virginia Dietetic Association are holding a joint meeting at the Hotel Roanoke in Roanoke. This meeting is a highlight for the members of these organizations since they meet together only about once every ten years.

Five members of the Home Economics staff of Madison College are attending this meeting. They are: Mrs. Bernice R. Varner, Miss Martha Sieg, Miss Dorothy Rowe, Miss Jean Copper, and Miss Elizabeth Patterson. The staff members are being accompanied by ten Madison students who were selected by the Frances Sale Club because of their outstanding accomplishments in home economics work.

The purpose of this meeting is to familiarize these students and instructors with the activities and methods used by other home economics clubs and schools, and to help increase their knowledge of their major subject. Along with this purpose, it is hoped that the people will make new acquaintances and lasting friendships. To the instructors, it is offering an opportunity to see many of their graduated students who are now teaching home economics.

At the convention, several distinguished guest speakers are being presented. Their speeches will be centered around the general theme of the convention. "United for Better Living". Some of these speakers are Dr. Pauline Knapp, director of the Merrill Palmer School in Detroit, Michigan; and Dr. Paline Hurd, chairman of the Department of Sociology at Rutgers University in New Brunswick, New Jersey.

Pageant Officials Ask Song Entries Of Valley Writers

Can you write a song? If so, you may be the recipient of a $25.00 United States Savings Bond.

In conjunction with the Shenandoah Valley Pageant, a song writing contest is being held. The song, which will be selected by a panel of judges from entries received, is to become the theme song for Miss Shenandoah Valley, and each year it will be used in the presentation of the valley-wide pageant.

General Chairman of the pageant, Frank O'Roark, stated that the song should be of the popular type, not classical or country style, and that it should be suitable for a young lady who reigns as queen of beauty over the valley.

All residents of the Shenandoah Valley are eligible to enter the contest, and interest seems to be mounting, especially among college and music students. All entries must be submitted to the Valley Pageant Committee of New Market, on or before April 26.

The song selected as most suitable will become the property of the Valley Pageant Committee. The committee reserves the right to refuse any and/or all entries. The final selection will be made by a group of three capable judges.

To qualify as Miss Shenandoah, the girl must be one who is in possession of charm, personality, poise, and who has beauty both of face and figure.

MADRIGALS SING IN MONDAY ASSEMBLY

Monday's assembly will consist of a program of musical numbers as sung by the Madrigal Singers. Included in the program will be madrigals, modern novelty numbers, and two songs by the men's quartet.

Other coming appearances* for the Madrigals will be an augmented program for the Strasburg Rotary Club's spring party on Tuesday evening. They have been invited to sing with the Harrisonburg Church choirs who will give a joint recital on Palm Sunday of Favre's Requiem.

For An Amusing, Different And Enlightening Experience Attend Classes Saturday, March 23, 8:00-12:00 Noon.

Hungarian Pianist, Robert, Presents Recent Program

by Miss Elizabeth Harris

Walter Robert, pianist, was heard in a recital on Friday evening in Wilson Hall. This was the third program in the current entertainment series at Madison College. Mr. Robert has just returned from a Concert Tour of Italy, Spain, and Switzerland, and is giving a series of recitals and lectures at various eastern colleges. He is a Professor of Piano at Indiana University in Bloomington.

The program opened with a Bach Allegro in G Major transcribed for piano by the late Hungarian composer, Bela Bartok. This massive composition was played with breadth and complete understanding of its depth and dignity. Mendelssohn's "Rondo Capriccioso" was gay and very fleet. The "piece de resistance" of the evening was the Brahms Sonata in C Major, op. 1, the composer's favorite. Mr. Robert was at his best in this work, both intellectually and musically. The broad themes were treated boldly, and with driving energy, sweeping on to one climax after another.

The second half of the program included the "Cipressi" of Mario Castelnuovo-Tedesco, a tone-poem of much atmosphere, descriptive of the Tuscan landscape around Florence, with its stately cypresses standing guard over the warm beauty which is Italy. A sonata by a contemporary American composer, Ronald Williams, came next, followed by the seldom played "Valse Nobles et Sentimentales" of Ravel. Mr. Robert's commanding technique showed to great advantage in his final number, the tremendous Liszt "Polonaise in E Major," which was played with brilliance and poise. A responsive audience demanded encores, which included the Gluck-Brahms "Gavotte" and "In der Nacht" by Schumann.

Sports Chat With Pat

Attention Seniors!

Grab your racket and ditch your knitting and let's do something more physically fitting. If tennis is the game that you like to play, Tuesdays and Thursdays will be your big day from 2:30 to 3:30. Let's all come and play!

If archery is your favorite 'cause you like to shoot, we'll string along—and teach you to boot. Seniors, you're not old and lazy as we think, so grab your bow and prove you're still in the pink.

Betty Harrelson and Anita Webb are in charge.

Intramural volley ball has come to a halt and it looks like the freshman came through again... Sheldon finished first followed by Junior, and Jackson and Shenandoah tied for third. On March 26 at 4:30 Sheldon will play a faculty team.

We extend our thanks to Bill Bos and Mary Jane Donnelly for the tennis exhibition held Monday. Many tennis enthusiasts showed up and the instruction helped all who participated.

Metcalfe Foretells Of Optimistic View

Noted journalist and lecturer, John C. Metcalfe, discussed current events in his speech, "Where Are We Going?", in the Wednesday Assembly on March 20.

In discussing problems of the Secretary of State, Mr. Metcalfe said that the secretary's greatest worry is that trouble might recur between Egypt and Israel. "We can no longer afford even a small war," he warned.

Later, Mr. Metcalfe presented a more optimistic view when he predicted that "as the days go by, there is less and less chance of conflict..." between America and the USSR. He said that in the past Russia has steered away from the property America has sworn to protect.
