Counseling Center Opens in Alumnae

He attended Temple University and Drexel Institute of Technology and received the M. Ed. degree from Kent State University. He is currently working on his doctorate at the University of Virginia.

The counseling center was established primarily for the students of Madison College and will attempt to help the student with personal, social, educational, and occupational problems in an atmosphere which will enable the student to make his own decisions.

Through various tests, the counseling center will also attempt to help the student in such matters as educational or vocational planning. Miss Patricia Davu, as psychologist, is responsible for administering tests such as vocational interest or aptitude tests. Miss Doris Rimel is secretary-receptionist for the center which is located on the second floor of Alumnae Hall.

Convocation Features Scholar

The fall semester convocation is scheduled for Thursday, October 8, at 4 p.m., in Wilson Hall Auditorium.

Speaker for the assembly will be Robert L. Heilbroner, professor of economics at the New School for Social Research in New York. Heilbroner is participating in the wide-state program of Visiting Scholars and has lectured before various business, student, and labor groups, including educational television. His latest books are The Limit of American Capitalism, published in 1966, and an economics text book. Heilbroner will lecture on the topic, "The Outlook for American Capitalism."

Convocation will necessitate the cancellation of 9th period classes, with 8th period classes ending at 3:40 p.m.; 10th period classes will be as scheduled from 5:00-6:00 p.m.

Madison's Counseling Center will operate under the direction of Dr. William O. Hall, assisted by Mr. Richard L. Chafey.

Lettermen to Appear

The Lettermen, one of the nation's most talented singing groups, will appear in concert in Wilson Auditorium October 19 at 8:00 p.m. The program will also feature the Wilson Brown Trio.

During the 90-minute performance, The Lettermen will present several of their most popular renditions including the best selling "Going Out Of My Head" and "When I Fall In Love." Other ballads to be offered include "Up, Up And Away," "A Taste Of Honey," "Softly As I Leave You," "Yesterday," "Theme From A Sampler Place," and "The Impossible Dream."

The Lettermen, sponsored by the Big Weekend Committee under Chairman Pat Hamilton, have appeared in numerous nightclubs and hotels across the country and have been seen on the Dean Martin, Ed Sullivan, Red Skelton, Johnny Carson, and Steve Allen television shows.

Following the concert, The Lettermen will hold a press conference after which they will be honored at a closed party by Tau Kappa Epsilon on campus. The Lettermen are all members of that organization.

Schedule Released

For Observations

The Psychology Department of Madison College is inaugurating several new ideas for the 1968-69 session. All students in Psychology tickets for the concert are on sale in Gibbons Hall just across from the book store at 7:30 p.m. No seats are reserved and the audience will be seated on a first come, first served basis. Entries to Wilson Auditorium will be open at 7:30 p.m.

Two other new appointees to Student Services are Mr. Francis E. Turner as Assistant Director of Admissions and Student Aid and Mr. Jack E. Smith as Housing Manager and Head Resident in Clyde P. Shorts Hall, the new men's dormitory.

Mr. Turner, a native of Exmore, Virginia, served in the army, and then attended Shenandoah Conservatory of Music. He received the B.M. in Ed. degree from Madison College, and M. Ed. degree in guidance and counseling from the University, where he is now enrolled in advanced graduate study.

Mr. Smith, a native of South Carolina, earned his B.S. degree in social science from Madison and is now enrolled in the graduate school here. He was president of the Men's Student Court last year.
Reflections On Progress

There comes a time in the life of a student when he must stand still. He must stop protesting and fighting for those rights which he feels are due him. At those rare times, the student must take time to say word of thanks for the privileges he has been granted. This is such a time.

Returning upperclassmen are well aware of the major changes which appear in the Handbook. These new privileges were not easily gained. Many hours of work, discussion and argument went into our new rules.

Rule changes originate with the students, but must undergo a long process of evaluation before passage in final form. After action by the Rules Revision Committee, they are voted on by Student Government. The changes and new rules are then presented to the Student Faculty Relations Committee, chaired by Dr. Leotus Morrison. Rules passed by this committee are then presented to President Miller for approval. This is the road traveled by all changes and new rules appearing in this year's Handbook.

Students and institutions can not stand still. They must continually look to the future. But in that search for improvement, they must also look back to the past. While we enjoy our new privileges and look forward to others, let us also look back and give a sincere vote of appreciation to Student Government for many hard hours of work, and to the Student Faculty Relations Committee and President Miller for the depth of their understanding into student desires.

Abuse of Basic Rights?

The right to peaceful assembly and demonstration as guaranteed by the constitution has become the most widely used freedom, in modern democracy for many hard hours of work, and to the Student Faculty Relations Committee and President Miller for the depth of their understanding into student desires.

Recently a newer aspect has entered the scope of demonstration— that of open civil disobedience. While those participating realize that they may well be rousing public opinion and interest in the object of all demonstrations: that of open civil disobedience. While those participating realize that they may well be rousing public opinion and interest in the object of all demonstrations: that of open civil disobedience, they fail to consider the far-reaching impact and effects of their acts.

We at Madison College should be actively interested in what students are doing. The Mock Trial, narrated in printed form, was most interesting by use of special lighting effects. The Honor Council pledge followed and the program ended with the singing of the Alma Mater.

Honor Council Our Responsibility

To all members of Madison's campus the Honor Council extends a warm welcome with the announcement that the coming year will be a profitable one.

Responses to the Mock Trial Assembly from new students indicated that it's purpose of maintaining a serious time in order to maintain respect for the Honor System were accomplished. The agenda included Dean Rice speaking on the meaning of the Honor System. The Mock Trial, narrated in printed form, was most interesting by use of special lighting effects. The Honor Council pledge followed and the program ended with the singing of the Alma Mater.

Honor Council has established a Faculty File in which students may refer to for information concerning their profession's compliance with the Honor System on such matters as aid on outside assignments and their particular ideas of plagiarism. We would also like to impress upon students that the new policy on stealing requires students to take the responsibility of bringing matters to the attention of Council only when definite evidence is presented. We do, however, request and urge students to fill out a personal property violation form. To obtain these property forms or for the use of the Faculty File please contact any Honor Council member for information.

November 1 First Date For National Teacher Examinations

College seniors preparing to teach school may take the National Teacher Examinations on any of four different dates. The tests will be given on November 9, February 1, April 12, and July 19.

Results of this test are used by many large school districts in the selection of new teachers and by several states for certification and licensing of teachers. Some colleges also require all prospective teachers to take the examinations.

The test is given in two parts: the Common examination, which measures the students' general cultural background and professional preparation, and a Teaching Area Examination which measures the subject to be taught.

The Bulletin of Information contains a complete list of all pertinent information about the examinations, and a registration form which must be obtained from college placement offices, or directly from National Teacher Examination, Box 911, Education Testing Service, Princeton, N. J. 08540.

SGA Names Committee Chairmen

by Suzanne Hoben

The Student Government Association, at its first meeting, five days early this year in order to select new committee heads for the 1968-69 school session. Named to head the various committees were: Suzanne Hoben—Chartered Buses; Judy McKie—Brumfield Orientation; Barb Krum—Publicity; Mary J. Williamson—Lecture Series; Pat Richardson—Student Government; Cheryl nicely—Course Evaluation and Carol Morris—Constitutional Revisions.

Student Government is extremely interested in finding students to work on the various committees with Student Government representatives. Those interested are asked to attend the committee meetings or to contact the Student Government representatives. Those unable to attend the meetings may send their suggestions to Student Government, P. O. Box I.

The SGA has formed a Reading Day committee to explore the possibilities of having a 24-hour period between the end of a semester of classes and final exams for the 1968-1970 session. Before we can put our plans into effect, we feel we should have the opinion of the student body. Please fill out the following questionnaire and return it to either Pam Richardson, Box 2779, or Sharon Hughes, Box 1402.

1. Would you like to have a Reading Day, a 24 hour period between the end of a semester of classes and final exams? Yes No

2. Would you like to be willing to have the first class a day earlier in September in order to have a Reading Day? Yes No

3. Would you like to have the second class of the day be on Monday rather than a Sunday in order to have a Reading Day? Yes No

We will notify you of the results of this poll in a future article.

"Consumer Credit In Today's World" Theme of Home Ec Day

Home Economics Day, one of the outstanding programs offered annually by Madison College, was held last Saturday, on the campus—Guest speakers, consumer exhibitors, and a film showing were used to develop the meeting’s theme of "Consumer Credit in Today's World." Other activities included a coffee hour during registration at Moody Annex hall and a business meeting of the District VII Chapter of the Virginia Home Economics Association.

Guest speakers on the program included Mr. Charles Cavagnaro, Associate Director for Consumer Education for the President’s Committee on Consumer Interests, Mr. Clarence W. Alton, Vice-President in charge of the Retail and Marketing Division of the Bank of Virginia, and Dr. Gwen J. Byrnes, Professor, House and Family Economics and Management, New York State College of Home Economics at Cornell University.

The morning session of the program was opened by Mr. Cavagnaro, who discussed consumer credit in the economic system. Mr. Cavagnaro holds several important positions with the federal government and works with Betty Furgus in promoting the development of consumer-oriented education and information programs.

"Cost of Credit to the Citizen" was Mr. Alton’s topic in the morning session. He is a member and past president of the Advisory Board of the Richmond Chapter, American Institute of Banking and has also served on the American Banking Association special committee to study the Uniform Consumer Credit Code.

Dr. Byrnes spoke at the luncheon meeting in Gibbons Hall and offered guidelines for using credit. She is prominent in several national organizations including the American Economics Association, the American Home Economics Association and the National Council of Women, and is the author of many articles which have appeared in professional journals.

The Home Economics Day Program attracted many teachers, dietitians, home economists and other professional people from throughout the state. Miss Martha Sieg, Assistant Professor of Home Economics, served as program chairman.
“Mademoiselle” Sponsors College Competitions

Each year Mademoiselle magazine sponsors College Competitions in the fields of publishing, art and photography, and fiction and poetry. Winners of the contests receive monetary awards and national publication of their work. Runners-up receive honorable mention and special recognition from Mlle.

Judges of the College Board Competition (publishing) will award twenty Guest Editorships for a salaried month in Mlle’s New York offices. These twenty winners will also be considered for jobs with Mlle, and Conde Nast publications. Twenty Honorable Mentions will be awarded cash prizes and be considered for jobs with Conde Nast. All entrants will be paid for work published in Mlle. Entries in this category must be received, by the College Competitions Department of Mlle, no later than November 1, 1968.

Winners of the Art and Photography Competition and the Fiction and Poetry Competition receive cash awards and publication of their entries in Mlle. Honorable Mention entries will be called to the attention of professionals in the fine arts, and Mlle reserves the right to buy their work for publication in the magazine at regular rates. Deadline date for the art and photography contests is January 15, 1969, and entries for the fiction and poetry contest must be in by February 1, 1969.

For complete information on contest rules and regulations, contact the English Department, the Art Department, the Post Office, or Sue McGray in Frederikson C-102-C.

“Bluestone” Plans Yearbook Pictures

All seniors who have not had an informal picture taken for the Bluestone or have not signed up for one should see Emily Hardy, in Wayne 107, immediately.

O’Neill Studio of New York will be on second floor Alumni, October 7-11, to take pictures of all students. The sitting fee for all underclassmen is $2.00, and should be paid at the time the picture is taken. Seniors who have already paid for an informal picture will not be charged. Those who have not yet paid for an informal will be charged $3.50.

Anyone who wishes to receive a copy of the ’69 Bluestone should order one from Patty Jacobucci, Box 1456, prior to November 1. The cost is $3.00 per copy. Anyone who pays the school activity fee automatically receives a copy.

Organization presidents and chairmen are asked to get their picture scheduling information and copy sheets turned in to the Bluestone on time.
Hustle and agility are both depicted in the above photo as two sophomore members of the new men's intercollegiate soccer team strive to gain control of the ball. Moving in fast from the left is Roger Wolfe while the inborn subject is Mike Mott.

Coach John Rader, the team will play an eight game schedule, beginning October 15 at W&L. There are ten teams in the conference, and it is hoped that matches can be scheduled with U.Va. and William & Mary in the near future.

The squad currently consists of 12 freshmen, seven sophomores, one junior, and three seniors. Six men have actual playing experience behind them and this could prove to be a major asset in the team's first year of play. The frosh members of the team include Greg Druggan, James Fleming, Mike Frye, Jeff Headley, Charles Huffman, Scott Mackey III, Rip Marston, Pat McLaughlin, Steve Nardi, Jim Robinson, Doug Snably, and Charles Wymer. Sophomores are John Miller, Mike Mott, John Gillette, Carl Cole, Durwood Michael, Tom Saunders, and Roger Wolfe. The only junior member is Jake Mert while Mack Orebrough, Elwood Whitmore, and Dave Roosch are seniors. The trainer is Mike Null.

Coach Rader feels his team will be able to "run with the other teams" on the schedule. Stating his confidence in the team's physical ability, he said that the offense needs more development and that his men are working hard to create a well-rounded attack. He cited the hustle and desire of the players as prime assets in the shaping of a balanced team, and thinks this will aid tremendously when playing the more experienced teams in the conference.

No predictions have been made but the team is looking forward to an exciting and rewarding season. Three home games will be played in nearby Purcell Park, the first of which will be October 29 with E.M.C. (check the schedule below for other home dates).

IT MAKES SENSE

MR. PAPPAS: If you are only 8th, you have to try harder!!

REPORTER: What do you mean 8th?

MR. PAPPAS: It is 8 blocks from Madison to the Famous.

REPORTER: Oh, come on, Mr. Pappas. That's not the way to run a restaurant.

MR. PAPPAS: You bet your sweet bippee is isn't. But you have to start somewhere.

REPORTER: What do you mean?

MR. PAPPAS: Well, some people have it, some don't.

REPORTER: There you go again, Mr. Pappas. Explain that, if you can.

MR. PAPPAS: At the Famous we've got it — we've got guts! And if you've got, you've got guts! Ha! Ha! Ha!

REPORTER: Wait a minute, you've lost me there.

MR. PAPPAS: That's OK; I lost myself too! Hey — did you hear about the whale who fell in love with the submarine?

REPORTER: No, but how does that tie in?

MR. PAPPAS: It doesn't, but no matter. The sub got orders to go on maneuvers and the whale went along for the swim. Ha! Ha! Anyway, while on maneuvers, every time the sub fired a torpedo, the whale passed out cigars.

REPORTER: Oh, boy, what corn! Seriously though, I understand the students from Madison are always welcome at the Famous. Is that true?

MR. PAPPAS: That's a fact! And we have so much to offer — fine atmosphere, cloth table cloths and napkins, and great food priced for a college student's budget.

Pizza for only $1.00.

Italian Spaghetti with salad and beverage — $1.45.

Chicken Dinner with two vegetables and beverage — $1.25.

Add this to a 10% discount on all delivery orders for Madison students — well, what more can I say?

REPORTER: Would you believe, "Here comes the judge!!" Thank you for this very sensible interview, Mr. Pappas.
