EXCITING HOCKEY GAME JUNIORS PLAY SENIORS

Seniors Victorious With Score of 7-2
in Annual Hockey Game

The Juniors and Seniors have been practicing all season for the hockey game which was played last Saturday, November 24. Several mornings saw the Juniors up by daybreak practicing to beat the Seniors, but in vain.

Early Saturday morning everyone was up singing praises to her class. The Seniors dressed in green and white, and the Juniors in dark blue with orange and blue sashes, marched out on the field. The Senior's decorated Mr. Knight's car and rode around the field. The Juniors paraded out, beating drums and singing class songs. Class and school spirit was prominent.

The teams were chosen by Mrs. James C. Johnston, athletic director. They were well matched, making the game more exciting.

This is the fourth year hockey has been played at Harrisonburg. The last two annual games were tied, but this year the Seniors won 7-3.

Inez Britt made most of the goals for the Seniors, dribbling the ball nearly seventy-five yards. Dickerson, the Junior goal keeper, is one worthy of note. She kept the Seniors from scoring higher.

Seniors—Kelly (goal); Taylor and Payne (fullbacks); Z. Wagstaff, Long and H. Wagstaff, (halfbacks); Britt, Tanner, and Harris (forwards); Sellers and Page (wings).

Juniors—Dickerson (goal); Coleman and Harris, L., (full backs); Buchanan, Harris, and Hudson (halfbacks); Beard and Campbell (forwards); Hickoff and Rosen (wings).

CHILDREN'S BOOK WEEK

November 12-18 was recognized all over the country as Children's Book Week. Mr. Logan arranged his chapel programs for that week to celebrate it.

Monday some of the members of the faculty told of the first book they remembered. Strange to say, yellow seemed to be the color of most of the men's first books.

The Senior High School English class had charge of Wednesday's exercises. They gave several tableaux taken from well-known children's books. Peggy Moore gave a short reading of the tableaux. The selections were taken from "Little Women," "Seventeen," "The Blue Bird," "The Little Lame Prince," "The Prince and the Pauper", and "Cinderella".

On Friday Dr. B. F. Wilson talked. He told the students something of the joy of reading. His advice was to cultivate a taste for the best literature and thereby get more joy from reading.

The formal opening of the new auditorium which has been built just opposite Harrison Hall, occasioned a great deal of excitement in town as well as on the campus. P. G.'S ENTERTAINED

The P. G.'s were entertained at the home of Professor Chappellear on the installment plan. That is, part went one night and part went the next night. Both parties were wonderfully impressed with Mr. Chappellear's radio outfit, which he constructed himself. While there refreshments were partaken of between selections on the radio. The first party insists that they had the nicest things to eat and heard the best selections on the radio, but if you had heard what the second party had to say about it—Well it was about the nicest thing that has happened to the P. G.'s this year.

EPISCOPAL TEA

Mrs. Walter Williams was at home on Saturday afternoon, November 25, to the Normal girls who are members of the Episcopal Church. Her living room, with its open fire, gave a very home-like atmosphere to the guests. Tea and other refreshments were served towards the close of the afternoon.

Y. W. C. A. GIVES SERVICE OF LIGHTS

Most Impressive Y. W. Service. New Girls Become Members of the Association

One of the most beautiful and impressive services held by our Y. W. during the year was our "Service of Lights". Carrie Malone, vice-president of our Association, explained what the Y. W. means on our campus and what it means to be a member of any Y. W. C. A.

All of the new girls and Cabinet members were dressed in white. As the choir sang "Father of Lights," all of the new members formed in single file and came to the front of the room, where they were each given a lighted candle and a membership button.

There was no light except that given by the candles. The whole service was one of beauty and one long to be remembered by every girl, old or new, who attended it. It left a feeling that the Y. W. at H. N. S. is really worth-while and is worthy of the support that the students give it.

ANNUAL BAZAAR

The Schoolma'am's first big feature of the year will be the Annual Bazaar given Saturday night, December 9, at 8 o'clock in the gymnasium.

It has always been the custom of the Annual to hold a Christmas Bazaar and everybody always looks forward to that time, when we can get our Christmas gifts cheaply. This year there will be an unusual and beautiful lot of articles from which you may select your gifts.

A competition between the different classes and organizations for the biggest sales has been arranged. The Home Economics Club will be in charge of the fancy-work booth. A number of unusual and attractive articles have been planned. The Y. W. C. A. will take you on a tour to Japan and China and show you a fine lot of real and exquisite Japanese and Chinese articles. Then if you wish to have some sport the Athletic Association will take you fishing with them and let you try your hand at fishing. You may not get a fish, but you will be proud of your valuable catch. And last, but not least, if you want some good home-made candy or cakes, or some ice cream, the Juniors will be glad to supply your wants.

A very entertaining programme has been planned, which will consist of a feature from each of the literary societies and from the dramatic club, and a few selections from the expression students.

Do not fail to be present. Bring your friends.

Miss Brinton: "What are you doing—learning anything?"

Student: "No, ma'am, listening to you."

"Gold Harris reminds me of the sea."
"Howzat?"

"She looks green, but sometimes she is awfully rough."

H. N. S. GETS SCHOOL PAPER, "THE BREEZE"

Final Plans Submitted at Student Body Meeting. Editor and Staff Elected

H. N. S. has at last succeeded in getting a school newspaper. The plan presented to the student body by the committee appointed last spring to work out some way by which we could start a school newspaper was unanimously adopted last week.

Last year the prep-English classes got out a paper called the "Go-get-er". Although there was only a single typewritten copy published, everyone watched the magazine rack in the library eagerly for the monthly appearance of the "Go-get-er". From reading this little magazine the students realized that there was no reason why the student body should not have a newspaper. Of course, there was The Virginia Teacher and The Schoolma'am, both fine in their way, but the students wanted something more of their own; a paper in which they could tell all the happenings around the campus and could say exactly what they thought about things.

After discussion in a student body meeting, a committee was appointed to go into the matter more in detail. It was so late in the year that very little could be accomplished then, but this fall the committee was reorganized. Through the untiring efforts of Roselyn Brownley, the chairman, a plan was finally worked out. This plan was presented to the faculty. They gave the students permission to start a school newspaper.

Pep meetings were held in chapel to get subscriptions. A combination rate of $2.00 for The Virginia Teacher and the school newspaper was too good a bargain to miss. Before the campaign was over, the necessary 300 plus a good many more, were secured. Monday night, November 20, the student body elected Roselyn Brownley editor-in-chief and Florence Shelton, business manager. They appointed the rest of the staff. So H. N. S. now has a school newspaper.

PRESBYTERIAN PARTY

Miss Lancaster gave the Presbyterian girls a delightful party in the music room.

The girls from each dormitory and the cottage gave stunts and helped with the entertaining. There was a contest to be worked out of the word Presbyterian. The prize was a bunch of chrysanthemums, which went to Margaret Guntner.

The best eats were served. (There's no other way to say it.) Everyone went away much happier and feeling better for the good old time.

On Saturday, November 25, the Philathea class enjoyed a social given in the Y. W. rooms. Several contests were engaged in—contests that tended to show the brilliance or dullness of all individuals present.

Good "ole" ice-cream and cake were served and everybody went home after having heaps o' fun.

FACULTY, THANK YOU!

We wish to take this opportunity to thank the faculty for the part they have played in helping us to launch the school newspaper. Last year, when the students first thought about having a paper, Mr. Logan became very much interested. It was largely through his enthusiasm and energies that the committee, appointed last spring, got down to brass tacks this fall and made definite plans for the paper.

When the plans were finally completed, they were presented to the faculty. The faculty has always supported the student body in its worthwhile undertakings, and it did not fail us this time.

While we are saying "thank you", we must not forget the Virginia Teacher. Through the combination rate of $2.00 for which we receive the Virginia Teacher and the school newspaper, we were able to get more subscriptions than if we had a single rate. Besides that, it makes us feel quite important to have the Virginia Teacher take such an interest in us.

We have quite a trust to live up to. The faculty and the Virginia Teacher think we can make our newspaper go. We thank them both and we shall show them that their trust is not in vain.

WHY THE BREEZE?

After having scanned again and again the box which held the expressed wishes for names of the new publication, the newspaper staff has decided in a way, the fairness of which would not be questioned by the hardest gambler, that the name is to be "The Breeze".

But first consider some of the names which were suggested. "Blue Stone Grit", "Bells of the Blue Stone", "Blue Stone Hill" and many others with the Blue Stone element, all of which have no particular significance save the fact that our buildings are made of Blue stone. Then came the "Valley Dictorian", which despite its stateliness seemed to say good-bye. Next was the "Dingle-dine". It might more appropriately be called "The Logan". Lighter names from lighter minds then seemed to prevail. "The Maniac", "The Lunatic", "The Scrutter", "The Ketch All". And then came the "Campus Cat", but the campus is already full o' such. Some one suggested "Anti-lope", but we can't elope. It has already been tried.

And then came "The Breeze"—it suggested pep, humor, even quiet and rest. But the Staff couldn't agree.

Heads or Tails? Up went the quarter. Down came heads. "The Breeze" blows.

KEEP OFF THE GRASS!

Come on girls, let's give every blade of grass its birthright. Just from a casual glance here and there it would seem that many blades of all sizes have been ruthlessly mashed into oblivion. There are some reminders, with words on them, dotted about where the worst crimes have been committed. After Mr. Duke's interpretation of these words all of us will, of course, spare the grass.

Nothing has been said regarding the yard surrounding Cleveland Cottage. Gentle reminders are reposing at conspicuous places here too, but they seem to be entirely too gentle. We girls who live at the cottage and who so often take the long way around to get there, think it just a bit thoughtless in those who run in occasionally to take the short cuts. The results are clearly evident. The circle around the sun dial at the end of Jackson Hall is likewise crying for merciful consideration.

We all want a beautiful campus. Mr. Chappellear is doing his part, but he can't get very far without the co-operation of every girl. If we would think about it, I'm sure that all the signs on the campus would be unnecessary. All together, let's think before we step.

WELSH RAREBIT

The thirteenth no longer holds any fears for the Degree Class. After the good time the thirteenth of this month brought them, they rather consider it their lucky day. Everyone who has been at H. N. S. long enough to really know the Converse has heard of their famous Welsh rarebit parties. The one they gave the Degrees on Monday, November 13, was even nicer than the reports of it. Dr. Converse presided over, or better still, reigned at the chafing dish. He stirred into the rarebit, along with the other ingredients, various interesting stories and jokes. The whole evening was a very delightful one.

DEBATE

"Resolved that membership in the Home Economics Club shall be automatic upon entering the Home Economics Course" was the subject for debate in a recent meeting of the Home Economics Club. The affirmative side was upheld by Nancy Mosher and Hattie Jacobson, while the negative side was upheld by Mary Warren and Marie Cornell.

"Who'll win?" was the question much discussed by the impatient audience as they eagerly awaited the decision of the judges. Then the inevitable decision finally came. "We, the judges, render our decision in favor of the affirmative."

MISS LANCASTER'S TALK

On November 21, Miss Lancaster addressed the entire student body for the first time this session. She suggested many courtesies and kindnesses that would make school life more home like, and therefore happier.

FIRST VARSITY GAME

The first Varsity game is scheduled for February 3, 1923, with Farmville here. Will we win it? Well, I guess, we're the girls of H. N. S.!

JUNIORS—GRADUATES

Friday night, November 24, Juniors played the Graduates (Degrees and Post Graduates). All day long yells were heard from all four corners of the campus. In the lobby of Harrison Hall before meals, everyone was singing and yelling so loud that the walls fairly quivered.

During the first half the Graduates made two goals and one foul, Grace Heyl making one goal and Anna Forsberg, and others. Bernice Cook threw three goals for the Juniors. The score at the end of the first half was 7-5, Juniors ahead.

In the second half Cook pitched five goals, Rosen two, and Clark two. For the Graduates, Forsberg pitched one and Heyl two. The final score was in favor of the Juniors, 25-10.

Heyl	Forward	Cook

THE GREEN TEA-POT

For days the Seniors had been rushing around in a mad way with rolls of green and white paper trailing behind them, preparatory to making the "Tea-pot" the attractive thing it was. There were others who flashed menu cards, with saucy green tea-pots perked on their topmost lines, as they rushed to and fro in the wild chaos. After the making of the candle shades had been duly discussed on the way between Post Office and Dormitory, they, too, proved to be things of real pleasure to gaze upon.

Then there were girls whose faces wore the mark of a bit of responsibility and who gathered together in groups where mystery alone pervaded. These girls were the menu makers!

Besides the posters that decked the halls to announce the opening, there were odd bits of poetry read out in the dining-room, which afforded much merriment and promoted interest in the affair.

Then the night came, November 4th at eight o'clock! Such a crowd as had gathered by the time the clock struck the hour. Besides the music that was provided for the jollity of the occasion, an interesting feature was presented every few minutes. One of the first the dramatization of the "Farmer in the Clutches of the Five Feminine Pursuers," to the music of "I Ain't Got Nobody". Among other entertainers of the evening were Dr. Converse, who led in several rounds. Laura Lambert gave some humorous readings and Mary Ford was at her best in the "Snake Dance", in which she was strikingly costumed.

A delicious salad course was served (for two-bits) and because of the good reputation we started, everyone has been running to the "Green Tea Pot" ever since and asking "What 'cha got to eat to-day? I'm hungry!"

Dr. Wayland: "What part of history is the hardest?"

Pupil: "The stone age, I suppose."

MUSICAL CONTEST

In Laniers Saturday night, November 25, the new members of our Society gave a dandy programme. We had more fun. The first number on the programme was a musical contest. Questions were asked and were answered with selections by our home-spun orchestra. As there were so many ties for the highest score, the prize was given to the lowest scorer, "Micky" Lamphier. The next number was a reading from "Tom Sawyer", given by Laura Lambert. The programme was concluded with a piano solo by Rebekah Stephenson.

SCHOOLMA'AM AT WORK

"Does my hair look all right? Is my collar straight?"

"Yes, you look fine. How about me? I don't think this dress is becoming. Ready? No, I'm not ready. Gotta fix my hair some more. An' wait a minute, can't you? You say Mr. Aufinger is waitin' for me? All right."

"Sit here? Oh, yes, my hands. What? Oh, yes. Smile? I can't smile 'less you tell me somethin' funny. Oh, yes. Well, I'm holdin' still. Oh, yes."

"Whew! I know I looked awful. Felt so self-conscious, you know. Had the sickest grin. What? Oh, if it ain't so bad and he's real good lookin'. Kinda flatters you too. Gosh, kinda like him."

This doesn't sound like news, but such phrases permeated the air during the last week-end in October when Mr. Aufenger came from Roanoke to take pictures for the Annual. That was a busy week-end, and of course the wind blew and it was cold the day for the group pictures out-of-doors. Still the "Schoolma'am" is not to be daunted and the work which was scheduled progressed finally. Here's congratulations for starting early. We do not approve of Xmas Eve shopping even for the "Schoolma'am."

PST!! OUT OF DEBT

Everyone will be interested to know that the Athletic Association is out of debt. Think of it—out of debt! Don't owe the world a cent. But—that's not all. They have $182.00 to the good. One hundred and eighty-two dollars to spend anyway and any time they choose.

In connection with that everyone ought to know what part the Degree and Post Graduate Classes had in helping to get out of debt and establishing a surplus capital. They have a 100% membership in the Athletic Association.

MR. DUKE'S NEW BOOK

THEATRE NOTES

It seems that everyone has just done his best in the way of getting good things on at the Virginia Theatre this year. There have been no end of good attractions and the Normal girls have patronized the majority of them.

Everyone remembers the Russian Symphony Orchestra which came in September under the auspices of Modest Altschuler. Remember "The Banjo Picker" and "Soldiers Song."

Before everyone had gotten over the effects of this, along came Madame Lazzari and Mr. Diaz under the auspices of the Music Lovers' Club. Both of these artists were thoroughly enjoyed by the large number of Normal girls who attended, as well as by the town people.

Next came "Lightning" and "The First Year," which are both Goldwyn Productions. Were they enjoyed? Well, some of the girls are still laughing over the matrimonial difficulties of Grace and Tommy.

The two movies which were the best attended and the most enjoyed were "Orphans of the Storm" and "Way Down East", by Griffith. All went well supplied with handkerchiefs which were amply used before the evening was over.

DANIELS SPEAKS

On Tuesday, November 21, a number of the faculty and some of the students of the Normal School heard the Honorable Josephus Daniels deliver his address on "THE CHALLENGE OF PEACE". Mr. Daniels stressed the importance of the United States entering some kind of a confederation with the other nations who fought for democracy in the great World War. He said this would relieve the unrest and suffering in the world, and insisted that we are capable of yielding a great influence for good and have too long delayed this opportunity.

US AT THANKSGIVING

The student body of H. N. S. is very glad to hear about the splendid way in which the Alumnae and Faculty represented the school at Richmond Conference.

At the joint meeting of the Kindergarten Primary Association and Department of Grammar Grade Teachers, Miss Anthony presided.

At Virginia Home Economics Association Mrs. Pearl Powers Moody presided.

Penny Morgan, Mary Lees Hardy and Mary Phillips made talks relative to Home Economic work.

Miss Greenawalt gave an address on "What Should a Course in Clothing Include?"

Miss Elizabeth Cleveland was a prominent member at the Hollins Alumnae Luncheon.

On Friday, December 1st, the Alumnae Luncheon of H. N. S. was given in the Red Room, Hotel Richmond.

Mr. C. T. Logan will read a paper, "A Reading Public for High School Writers" before the Twelfth Annual Meeting of the National Council of Teachers of English at Chattanooga, Tennessee.

The Normal School may well congratulate itself on the splendid programs given by its representatives. It gives the entire student body a great deal of pleasure to learn of their success in every way at the Conference.

To the Students and Faculty of the State Normal

We wish to congratulate you upon the first publication of your paper and we wish it much success. Our Christmas Novelties are now being displayed and you are cordially invited to visit our store.

CHAPEL EXERCISES

The students have been quite interested in Chapel exercises this week, which have been conducted by Dr. Wayland. On Monday he spoke briefly of some historical personages and places about Harrisonburg, which have made the Valley famous.

Wednesday, some members of the faculty gave some inside dope on their teaching experiences. They were delightful, if not true. Mr. Duke described vividly his arrival in Oklahoma at 2 o'clock in the morning clad in his pajamas. He said the porter forget to call him, but none believed it. Others told about love affairs and cases of discipline, but very little about teaching.

Friday was given over to the following musical program:

- Tarantella, Daisy May Gifford.
- Gypsy Round, Rosalie Ott.
- Butterflies, (Chopin), Elizabeth Buchanan.
- Etude, Helen Walker.
- The Road of Loving Hearts, Lucie James.
- Romance, Marian Travis.

MUSIC FOR H. E. CLUB

Variety was added to the H. E. Club program this month. On Tuesday, November 28, Margaret Wiley had charge of the meeting which was given over to music. The club girls, who are members of the Choral Club, sang one chorus, "The Top o' the Morning." Nan Taylor told the story of Rigoletto and then played several records from the opera. Musical current events of recent interest were given by Frances Henderson. Rebecca Stephenson played one of Chopin's Nocturnes. The program was concluded with a quartette, by Gladys Coier, Nancy Roane, Mary Lacy, and Jennie Dean Payne.

ALUMNAE GAME

The Farmville and Harrisonburg Alumnae game is to be played in Richmond, Thanksgiving. Last year Harrisonburg won the game, but this year Farmville has more teachers in Richmond and they have been practicing hard to win. Those who are here are backing the Alumnae of Blue Stone Hill and hoping that history will repeat itself.

Among the Harrisonburg Alumnae who will play are Edith Ward, Marion Nesbitt, Polly Parrott, Rita McGana and Lucretia Upshur.

A number of the girls hope to be in Richmond during the holidays and of course will be at the game to cheer the players.

NEW BUILDING SHAKES

Mr. Duke's pet building just completed on the east side of the campus felt its first shock on Monday morning, November 20. The exercises had been almost concluded and Mr. Duke had risen to make one of his usual little talks. Everybody leaned forward to hear what he had to say, but he had hardly begun when there were screams, shouts, and yells from the audience. One girl in the back of the room, who had not been listening very attentively, nearly fainted when her friend just behind her, grabbed her around the neck and shouted at the top of her lungs, "Oh, Jane, I'm going home." She looked around to see what it was all about, but the noise deafened her so completely she could not understand. Almost instantly silence reigned, and Mr. Duke was still talking.

"Now, I hope you will thoroughly enjoy the Thanksgiving holidays, but you must bear this very carefully in mind. No one is to leave school until her last class is over on Wednesday, and everyone must be back before her first class on Monday morning." Again the new building trembled. An hour later it was still standing, but according to the students at H. N. S., "It will never look the same."

THE BREEZE'S HOME

Among the best things which may be said for our paper is that it has a home. Heretofore when work has been done on things and when meetings have been held, the persons concerned have been forced to wander aimlessly around at times because of the lack of a meeting place. Not so with "THE BREEZE". Its beginning is one to cause the most unobservant to sit up and take notice. Its headquarters is the southwest corner room in the Alumnae Building. Already this room has the newspaper atmosphere, a rather gloomy view from the windows, rather bare walk, but cheery hearts and busy heads, trying to make "The Breeze" blow in the right way and just the right things to you.

GRADUATES DEFEATED

Saturday, November 19, everybody in school was excited over the game to be played that night between the Graduates and the Seniors. "Pepped up" was no name for it.

The Graduates and Seniors walked out on the basket ball court ready to fight a hard battle.

At the end of the first half the Seniors had scored 45, the Graduates 3. The fight became harder for the Seniors as they only scored 8 more points, while the Graduates doubled theirs. The final score was 53-6.

FACES AND HEARTS!

All girls are interested in faces and hearts and that is why Mr. J. C. Copenhagen's address on Y. W. on November 16 was enjoyed and appreciated by so many students.

Have you forgotten the question he asked: "Which is more important, your face or your heart?"

WEDDING BELLS RING

Wedding bells rang at H. N. S. for the second time this year, when Miss Ethel Kelly became Mrs. John Kelly. Mrs. Kelly has had charge of the laundry ever since there was one here, so she will be greatly missed, but the students all wish her much happiness in her new life.
