Seven Assume Major Offices

The students who will head the major campus organizations were elected last week. These new officers will be installed April 9.

Cheryl Nicely was chosen to serve as President of the Student Government Association. Cheryl, a physical education major, was "excited and overwhelmed" when she learned of her election results. She feels that the campaign was one of the most fantastic experiences of her life and attributes her victory to her campaign committee and their efforts.

Cheryl has been active in the Mercury Club and has participated in the Virginia Association of Student Government (VASG). She recently pledged Sigma Sigma Sigma Sorority.

Heerlein Accepts Post

John C. Heerlein, a junior Business major from Annandale, Va., was recently selected as First Male Editor for the Breeze for the 1969-70 session.

The new SGO president will be Mike Cappeto, a biology major from Union, New Jersey. The results of the election also came as a pleasant surprise to Mike as the major portion of his campaign was limited to his article in the Breeze.

As the new president, Cappeto will stress the merger of the men's and women's government and he looks forward to completion of this goal during his term in office. He plans to use the past SGO record as a tool in forming the future union, and sums up his feelings in one sentence: "I want most of all to make the SGO do something this year."

Mike was also elected President of Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity recently and contributes much to his time and effort to the IFC.

Heerlein Accepts Post As First Male Editor

John C. Heerlein, a junior Business major from Annandale, Va., was recently selected as Editor-in-Chief of the Breeze for the 1969-70 session.

The new editor, son of Mr. and Mrs. C.C. Heerlein, has served as Associate editor for the past year. He is also an officer in Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity, Vice President of the MAA, and President of the Intramural Council.

John will be the first male student at Madison to assume the role of editor. When asked for a comment, he replied, "it certainly will be a challenge — I'm sure of that much. My only thoughts are similar to those of past editors: the Breeze will only be as successful as the students and administration contributing to it."

Schuller Lectures on Music Language

Madison will welcome guest lecturer Gunther Schuller, president of the New England Conservatory of Music, to Wilson Auditorium, March 17 at 2 p.m. He will speak on "The Changing Language of Music."

Mr. Schuller, an award-winning conductor, composer, and teacher, played solo French horn with the Cincinnati Symphony at the age of 17. Since then, he has composed many works for the Modern Jazz Quartet, and has accepted commissions from many of the more prominent orchestras in America.

In addition to these accomplishments, Schuller is the author of Horn Technique and Early Jazz: Its Roots and Musical Development.

Madison Offers Culture

Madison, like other colleges and universities, provides various opportunities for cultural growth through textbooks and lectures. But Madison takes education and cultural advancement a step further than the classroom by providing numerous speakers, concerts, plays, and exhibits. These facilities, often taken for granted by the student body, provide an endless source of enjoyment and cultural growth.

The visiting scholar program is an excellent opportunity to listen to the views of some of the outstanding speakers, poets, and educators of our time. The College allows a generous budget for this service yet attendance must be compulsory in order to draw an audience.

The Duke Art Gallery draws a new art exhibit every two or three weeks but the gallery is usually bare except for art majors. The displays require a great deal of work on the part of the art department and often some expense for rental fees. Although the aesthetic value may not be appreciated by all, one would think that students would make use of this service for factual knowledge, since art often appears on Graduate Record Exams, medical boards, etc.

Students are also invited to attend various community concerts and plays when they are in the area, but the percentage of Madison students is usually low.

Every club and organization on campus periodically sponsors a speaker or lecturer of worth, but only the club members attend. Occasionally, WVCA, the Social Science Club, and English Department bring speakers in during class hours for student benefit. These lectures are always open to all students.

The Arts Festival in the spring of the year is usually well attended, but the question arises why do students suddenly take an interest in the arts. The speakers and entertainment throughout the year are as important as those brought here during the spring.

When the student is faced with the decision of attending a lyceum program or eating popcorn in the dorm, he should present again "may never be T-.

The Grapheon was pleased when the student body of Madison College, Harrisonburg, Virginia

The first grade pupils of Madison's Anthes-Campbell School look forward to their reading class on Monday morning. This unusual occurrence is due to a new program in which the first grade reads aloud the books of his choice to an assigned fourth grade student.

The fourth grade pupils are prepared for the visiting first grade by discussing the importance of being a good listener, of helping the child with a difficult word, of building a friendly relationship, and of always encouraging the reader.

The first grade supervisor prepares the younger group by challenging the child with a difficult word, of building a friendly relationship, and of always encouraging the reader.

Holton Selected During Convention

by Frank Humphreys

At a meeting of the Virginia Republican State Committee held recently in Roanoke, the state Republicans unanmously pro-claimed A. Linwood Holton as their candidate for governor. The elections to be held in the fall.

Holton, a 45 year old graduate of W & L and the Har-vard Law School, is heading the Republican ticket for the governor in Virginia. Holton, who was the regional coordinator for Pres. Nixon's election, he was the regional coordinator for the campaign in Virginia, North Carolina, Tennessee and Ken-tucky, a position in which gave Nixon's overwhelmingly support. Holton's close association with the state and his belief that Washington is sure to be an asset in gaining programs for Virginia.

The convention also voted for State Senator H. Dunlop Dawburn of Wytheboro to be Holton's running mate. Dawburn will be selected as the lieutenant governor.

Richard D. Obenshain, a Richmond lawyer in the firm of McGuire, Woods and Bat-tle, was selected as the candi-date for Attorney General. The irony is that one of his law partners is one of the Democratic gubernatorial candidates.

Obenshain is a graduate of Bridgewater College and the New York University Law School, and has been very active in state politics for many years.

The convention approved a platform which included:

- higher quality education, including more competitive-scholarships and retirement benefits for teachers;
- abolishing the open in-rollment system of the University in non-judicial matters;
- careful review of taxation measures to insure educu-ation is not disrupted by tremendous groups of dissenters;
- civil service system not "hardships and difficulties" and "strategy and constitution for the success of Democratic administrations which many feel have caused widespread stagnation.

Thoughts of Beards Assessed

Jean Baptist van Helmont, an older lady who contributed to the natural sciences, was the first to go on record. "Mind if I ask you about your problem with your beard?"

Adam, the first man, had a beard. There is no agreement among anthropologists as to whether Adam was created with a beard or without.

Jean Baptiste van Helmont was of the opinion that Adam couldn't have been without a beard because of the thick, black, curly head of hair, well-groomed limbs and a deep voice. He'd be bold enough to "say the truth," and his dry liver and his generative parts are also of the same tem-per.

Consequently, he is in-cluded to lustful desires.

"Why don't women have beards?" An authority on the philosophy of beards concluded women were never in-tended to be exposed to "hardships and difficulties" (Continued on Page 5) lottesville, is a health and phys-ical education major. She is a member of the Mortor Club and Kappa Delta Pi.

Cinnie sees great changes in the store for WAA. The organi-zation will be altered to include more recreational activi-ties, and a more complete ful-fillment of the recreational and athletic needs of the stu-dents. She also hopes for a closer bond between WAA and MA.

The newly elected president of the Men's Athletic Asso-ciation is Bob Toohey. Bob is reproduction to the currently studying pre-law (business administration). He won't have much time for this office, Bob expressed his doubts about winning the elec-tion. But when the results were announced, he was ex tremely pleased and began for-mulating his plans for his next year. He stresses that MA is no longer served by minor officers and the major func-tion of the president is to represent male students before the Athletic Committee.

Bob qualifies for the position extremely well as he has participated in both Varsity basketball and golf at Madi-son for the past two years. He is also an officer and IRF representative for Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity.

Carol Burke will replace Emily Hardy as the editor of the BLUESTONE, Carol, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Burke of Cherry Hill, New Jer-sey, is an elementary edu-cation major with a concentra-tion in history. She is also a member of Phi Mu Sorority.

She regretted the lack of space to put on the grounds that she has always felt the position to be an important one with the store for the coming year. She emphasized the fact that the BLUESTONE belongs to the students and requests sug-gestions, comments, ideas and sincere workers for the year book.

"You don't understand," Janet said. "He wants' to go. He can't stay at home doing nothing when so many college kids are sacrificing so much for the campuses."

Larry said, "He wants to be where the action is."

"But maybe he has a sense of duty," I said.

"I tried to talk him into go-ing into the Army instead."

Larry said, "As a little boy he always had his heart set on being a farmer. He says he was going to stage sit-ins in the kitchen, and he picketed our bedroom at night, and once he locked me out of the room because his grandfather wouldn't grant him amnesty for using a naughty word."

"I thought it was a stage all kids go through, so I didn't do anything. But when I found out he had known he was truly thinking of going to college, I certainly wouldn't have encouraged it."

I tried to cheer my friends up. "Maybe he'll be all right. Don't forget, not everybody who goes to college gets ar-rested. If he comes out of it without a criminal record, I would feel I could be a very broad-minded person. Why, some kids even get an education from college."

Janet was really crying. "You're just saying that to buck us up, I don't really believe it, do you?"

I looked at the distraught girl. "Harvey," I said, "I don't think you should believe it."

Dr. Mayo is a scholar on Thomas Jefferson and Alex ander Hamilton. He was the Jefferson Scholar of Madison County in 1962-63. He has been visiting scholar at various universities and colleges.

The lectures are an annual event and in the past have in-cluded subject matter from the period of Madison's life and thought.

During the afternoon program, students will be named to the Percy H. Warren Hon- or Society. The James Mad-ison Distinguished Service Award will be presented at the evening session, and the Men's and Women's boards chosen for having done the most good for the college during the year.

Zeiss to Direct Three-Week Study Skill Lab

A new Study Skills Lab will begin today, under the direction of Mr. Todd Zeiss.

This new lab will be similar to the one presented in February. It includes a three-week intensive course which emphasizes the techniques of note-taking, vocabulary building, and test-taking.

Frat Sponsors Smoker

Omega Phi Alpha, a service fraternity affiliated with Alpha Phi Omega National Service Fraternity, wishes to announce that its smoker will be held March 17, from 7:30-11:00 pm in Shorts Hall Dining Center.

Other Virginia chapters of Omega Phi Alpha are located at the University of Virginia, Virginia Polytechnic Institute, William and Mary, and Lynchburg College.

As with the previous lab, there will be no fee charged for the course (except a required book charge of $1.25), and the program will be limited to 15 students per course on a first-come, first-served basis.

All students interested in the Study Skills Lab are requested to stop by the Counseling Center on second floor Alumniae today.

Frat Dance Theatres Participate in Festival

Madison Dance Theatre will participate in the Mid-Atlantic Regional Dance Festival to be held March 14-15 at Hollins College.

Activities will begin Friday evening with an on-stage presentation of dances by the visiting collegers. Madison is presenting a series of modern dances based on "sky" theme.

Saturday will include technical rehearsals of the dances chosen for the Saturday evening concert, a master class directed by the guest artist, and showing of a Paul Taylor film.

Madison Dance Theatre wishes to announce that the following were recently accepted as apprentice members of the club: Leslie Birkeland, Evelyne Buison, Judy Cutler, Debbie Donald, Sara Dunn, Katy McGiffat, Kathy Nugent, Anne Painter, and Karen Valenya.

Sixteen new pledges were initiated on March 3: Rumsey Dearani, Jennifer Moore, Judy Camper, J. J. Camden, and Terry Smith.

Sixteen new pledges were also initiated on March 3: Barry Threewitts, Larry Trolinger, Don Lefeyre, Steve Nardi, Scott Mackey, Dennis Moore, Jerry Breeden, Lee Kerns, Rick Pollack, Steve Smith, Tom Rose, Russ Dunson, Bugs Vaughan, Chuck Asheralt, Dan Highton, and Ron Samsmyers.

Frosh Clinches Scoring Title

Steve Misenheimer captured season scoring honors and Bob Hummer was the Dukes' leading rebounder, according to figures compiled by Purcell Conway and John Garrison, team statisticians.

The hard-working Misenheimer, a freshman, pumped in 397 points for a 19.8 average and trailed Hummer's rebounding mark of 240 by just four. Hummer, one of two seniors on the squad and the only one who will graduate in June, came through with a 16.2 scoring average to take runner-up honors in scoring.

Butch Rinker, a senior who has one semester of eligibility remaining, was third in both departments. Rinker tallied 278 points for a 13.9 average and hauled in 118 rebounds.

The best shooting percentage on the team was held by reserve George Sinclair who was successful on 26 of 39 attempts from the field for a 66% average. Misenheimer and Rinker at 47% paced the regulars. In addition, Misenheimer was the team's best foul shooter.

As a team, the Dukes fired at a 45% clip from the field and posted 60% from the foul line for the season.

Dukes Victorious in Season Finale

The Dukes finished their best basketball season in history by easing past Eastern Mennonite College, 83-68, on the losers' floor March 1. It was their 13th win against virtually the same teams. It was the first time that the Dukes had bettered the .500 mark in any sport.

Four members of the team scored in double figures as the Purple and Gold took an early lead and staved off EMC's attack which was paced by Larry Yoder's 20 points. Steve Misenheimer took game scoring honors with 23 points while Bob Toohey had 17, Bob Hummer 15, and Butch Rinker 14 for the Dukes.

The Dukes led 48-37 at halftime and pulled away gradually in the second half to defeat EMC's press defense. They hit 32 of 75 shots for 42% while the losers made 23 of 69.

The win capped a surprising season for the Dukes who won only six of 16 last year against virtually the same opponents.

Coach Huntsinger leaps high in the air to flip the ball over the net for a point in the men's volleyball intramurals. Games are played Monday through Thursday from 7 to 8:30 pm. in Keezell.
Sports Of Sorts

Madison's male athletic teams are starting to become known in the state if the pile of applications from athletes on Athletic Director John Rader's desk is any indication.

"We're getting applications and inquiries from all over," the genial Rader said today. It appears that nothing breeds success like success and the Dukes' basketball season was a definite success.

Coach Phil Huntsinger said after the finale against EMC that he was pleased with his team's 13-7 mark but also recounted for two or three losses."

Candidates for the boys' tennis team are already out on the courts getting the legs and lungs in shape for the coming season and golf prospects will begin, practice in the near future. Can spring be an even better season had it not been for a recurring foot injury which robbed him of some of his effectiveness in several games.

The Dukes will be hard-pressed to fill his shoes next season.

SPE has won its first four games to take the lead in the men's 15-team volleyball league. Faculty B and the Studs are also unbeaten but each has played but one game. Shoris 1st Floor has compiled a 4-1 record thus far.

Eight quarter-finalists in the men's badminton tournament battled last night to reach Wednesday's semi-final round. Results of the quarter-finals not available at press time.
