Famous Dance Theatre Performs Thursday;
Program Reflects Culture of American Negro

"The cultural heritage of the American Negro is one of America's richest treasures. From his roots as a slave, the American Negro — sometimes sorrowing, sometimes jubilant, but always hopeful — has created a legacy of music and dance which has touched, illuminated, and influenced the most remote preserves of world civilization. I and my dance theatre celebrate in our programs this trembling beauty. We bring you the exuberance of his jazz, the ecstasy of his spirituals, and the dark rapture of his blues."

Thus, in his own words, Mr. Alvin Ailey summarizes the mission of his Alvin Ailey American Dance Theatre, which appears at Madison College Thursday, October 9, at 8 p.m. in Wilson Auditorium.

Home Ec Day Set for October 11

Home Economics Day, one of the outstanding annual programs offered by Madison's Home Economics Department, will be held October 11, 1969. Plans include distinguished specialists who will speak on new developments in food technology.

Dr. Bernard J. Liska, Director of Food Sciences Institute, Purdue University, will discuss the topic "New Advances in Food Technology." Dr. Liska's main interest is research in food chemistry, bacteriology, and chemical residues in foods. He has published approximately 80 papers in technical journals on research in the food science area.

The topic, "Space Feeding," will be discussed by Mrs. Mary V. Klicka, Ration Design Specialists, United States Army Natick Laboratories. Natick, Massachusetts. She signs foods for the astronauts. Miss Ruth Hogan, School Food Service Specialist, from Chicago, Illinois, will present a demonstration on "Meat in Action." Miss Hogan is a nationally recognized authority on food and nutrition and has presented over 3,000 meat cookery demonstrations for homemakers, home economists, and student groups.

"Phase II of Convenience Foods" will be discussed by the luncheon speaker, Miss Kathryn E. Smith, Director of Dining Services, Reynolds Metal Company, Richmond, Virginia. Miss Smith directs the activities of the two companies' operated food services and is corporate Management's representative for all catered and vended food services in Reynolds' plants.

Dr. Dorothy Rowe, Head of the Home Economics Department, is serving as program chairman. A coffee hour is planned during registration 9:00-9:45 a.m. in Moody Hall. The programs are open to the public.

SAC Desires Aid

One of the most active groups on campus is off to another busy year. Student Activities Committee has already readily listened the campus with the recent "Sam & Dave" concert.

The objectives of this committee are to plan and coordinate the various entertaining activities on campus. This is accomplished by six major subcommittees:

- Fall Weekend is headed by Pete Zenzke. Box 3003, phone 5531, has plans for the recent "Sam & Dave" concert.
- Winter Weekend headed by Sharon Hughes. Box 1642, phone 5531, has tentative plans for a Friday night concert and the (Continued On Page 5)

Center Initiates 3-Week Course

The Counseling Center will offer three-week Study Skills Laboratory, starting Saturday, October 18. Classes will meet from 9:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. on Saturday mornings in the SGA room on the second floor of Alumnae Hall.

Utilization of reading skills, techniques of note taking from books and lectures, vocabulary improvement, techniques of efficient studying, preparing for exams, and writing themes and research papers will be emphasized.

This course will be open to students who have attended a college preparatory program or in high school.

Utilization of reading skills, techniques of note taking from books and lectures, vocabulary improvement, techniques of efficient studying, preparing for exams, and writing themes and research papers will be emphasized.

Sophomore Rick Pollock "does his thing" during a recent Singapitation in Wilson. The Singapitations, which precede the campus movies on Saturday night, provide students with the opportunity to get-together for community singing.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO ALL SENIORS

It is most important that each student planning to meet degree requirements in November 1969, January, March, or June 1970, come to the Registrar's Office, Wilson Hall 4, and file an application for graduation. This should be done during the week of October 6-10.

All students are requested to complete the confidential registration form in the Placement Office at the earliest convenience in Wilson Hall 10. If you are unable to list the courses taken at Madison through the end of this semester, you may obtain a transcript from the Registrar's Office for 10 cents. Also, watch the bulletin board in Wilson Hall for interview dates which begin in early October.
EDITORIAL COMMENTS

Parking Concern Rises

One of the perennial problems of administering to a college is that of parking vehicles. Madison is no exception to this rule, and it is with this thought in mind that a review of current policies is presented.

All parking lots are now designated by a particular letter, this to better control the parking facilities available. All cars registered on campus are assigned to one of these areas as the space exists. Signs are posted at the entrances to each assigned parking area, and times during which these lots are restricted are posted on the signs. Those students eligible to have and/or operate a vehicle on campus are required to register the vehicle for the purpose of controlling campus traffic. This may be done by going to the director of Building and Grounds to complete the necessary forms.

Now that the system has been functioning under general operating conditions for a couple of weeks, it would perhaps be wise to examine how it is actually working. Of primary concern is the additional burden it places on the campus police. Since every lot is restricted, it is therefore necessary that they conduct more extensive patrols to insure compliance with the regulations.

For the average driver on campus, the new regulations may seem somewhat restrictive. For example, though many vacant parking spaces exist in those lots more accessible to main campus, the drivers are forced to park in the lot to which they were assigned. This may seem to many ineffective utilization of the existing facilities, since those assigned are not always on campus for the entire 14 hour restricted period.

And what of the visiting student coming to campus and finding, much to his chagrin, that none of the lots are designated for any visitor parking. In a recent incident, an unsuspecting visitor was given a citation for illegal parking when, after searching of the existing facilities, since those assigned are not always on campus for the entire 14 hour restricted period.

One of the perennial problems of administering to a college is that of parking vehicles. Madison is no exception to this rule, and it is with this thought in mind that a review of current policies is presented.

Now that the system has been functioning under general operating conditions for a couple of weeks, it would perhaps be wise to examine how it is actually working. Of primary concern is the additional burden it places on the campus police. Since every lot is restricted, it is therefore necessary that they conduct more extensive patrols to insure compliance with the regulations.

For the average driver on campus, the new regulations may seem somewhat restrictive. For example, though many vacant parking spaces exist in those lots more accessible to main campus, the drivers are forced to park in the lot to which they were assigned. This may seem to many ineffective utilization of the existing facilities, since those assigned are not always on campus for the entire 14 hour restricted period.

And what of the visiting student coming to campus and finding, much to his chagrin, that none of the lots are designated for any visitor parking. In a recent incident, an unsuspecting visitor was given a citation for illegal parking when, after searching of the existing facilities, since those assigned are not always on campus for the entire 14 hour restricted period.

One of the perennial problems of administering to a college is that of parking vehicles. Madison is no exception to this rule, and it is with this thought in mind that a review of current policies is presented.

Now that the system has been functioning under general operating conditions for a couple of weeks, it would perhaps be wise to examine how it is actually working. Of primary concern is the additional burden it places on the campus police. Since every lot is restricted, it is therefore necessary that they conduct more extensive patrols to insure compliance with the regulations.

For the average driver on campus, the new regulations may seem somewhat restrictive. For example, though many vacant parking spaces exist in those lots more accessible to main campus, the drivers are forced to park in the lot to which they were assigned. This may seem to many ineffective utilization of the existing facilities, since those assigned are not always on campus for the entire 14 hour restricted period.

And what of the visiting student coming to campus and finding, much to his chagrin, that none of the lots are designated for any visitor parking. In a recent incident, an unsuspecting visitor was given a citation for illegal parking when, after searching of the existing facilities, since those assigned are not always on campus for the entire 14 hour restricted period.

One of the perennial problems of administering to a college is that of parking vehicles. Madison is no exception to this rule, and it is with this thought in mind that a review of current policies is presented.

Now that the system has been functioning under general operating conditions for a couple of weeks, it would perhaps be wise to examine how it is actually working. Of primary concern is the additional burden it places on the campus police. Since every lot is restricted, it is therefore necessary that they conduct more extensive patrols to insure compliance with the regulations.

For the average driver on campus, the new regulations may seem somewhat restrictive. For example, though many vacant parking spaces exist in those lots more accessible to main campus, the drivers are forced to park in the lot to which they were assigned. This may seem to many ineffective utilization of the existing facilities, since those assigned are not always on campus for the entire 14 hour restricted period.

And what of the visiting student coming to campus and finding, much to his chagrin, that none of the lots are designated for any visitor parking. In a recent incident, an unsuspecting visitor was given a citation for illegal parking when, after searching of the existing facilities, since those assigned are not always on campus for the entire 14 hour restricted period.

One of the perennial problems of administering to a college is that of parking vehicles. Madison is no exception to this rule, and it is with this thought in mind that a review of current policies is presented.

Now that the system has been functioning under general operating conditions for a couple of weeks, it would perhaps be wise to examine how it is actually working. Of primary concern is the additional burden it places on the campus police. Since every lot is restricted, it is therefore necessary that they conduct more extensive patrols to insure compliance with the regulations.

For the average driver on campus, the new regulations may seem somewhat restrictive. For example, though many vacant parking spaces exist in those lots more accessible to main campus, the drivers are forced to park in the lot to which they were assigned. This may seem to many ineffective utilization of the existing facilities, since those assigned are not always on campus for the entire 14 hour restricted period.

And what of the visiting student coming to campus and finding, much to his chagrin, that none of the lots are designated for any visitor parking. In a recent incident, an unsuspecting visitor was given a citation for illegal parking when, after searching of the existing facilities, since those assigned are not always on campus for the entire 14 hour restricted period.

One of the perennial problems of administering to a college is that of parking vehicles. Madison is no exception to this rule, and it is with this thought in mind that a review of current policies is presented.

Now that the system has been functioning under general operating conditions for a couple of weeks, it would perhaps be wise to examine how it is actually working. Of primary concern is the additional burden it places on the campus police. Since every lot is restricted, it is therefore necessary that they conduct more extensive patrols to insure compliance with the regulations.

For the average driver on campus, the new regulations may seem somewhat restrictive. For example, though many vacant parking spaces exist in those lots more accessible to main campus, the drivers are forced to park in the lot to which they were assigned. This may seem to many ineffective utilization of the existing facilities, since those assigned are not always on campus for the entire 14 hour restricted period.

And what of the visiting student coming to campus and finding, much to his chagrin, that none of the lots are designated for any visitor parking. In a recent incident, an unsuspecting visitor was given a citation for illegal parking when, after searching of the existing facilities, since those assigned are not always on campus for the entire 14 hour restricted period.

One of the perennial problems of administering to a college is that of parking vehicles. Madison is no exception to this rule, and it is with this thought in mind that a review of current policies is presented.

Now that the system has been functioning under general operating conditions for a couple of weeks, it would perhaps be wise to examine how it is actually working. Of primary concern is the additional burden it places on the campus police. Since every lot is restricted, it is therefore necessary that they conduct more extensive patrols to insure compliance with the regulations.

For the average driver on campus, the new regulations may seem somewhat restrictive. For example, though many vacant parking spaces exist in those lots more accessible to main campus, the drivers are forced to park in the lot to which they were assigned. This may seem to many ineffective utilization of the existing facilities, since those assigned are not always on campus for the entire 14 hour restricted period.

And what of the visiting student coming to campus and finding, much to his chagrin, that none of the lots are designated for any visitor parking. In a recent incident, an unsuspecting visitor was given a citation for illegal parking when, after searching of the existing facilities, since those assigned are not always on campus for the entire 14 hour restricted period.

One of the perennial problems of administering to a college is that of parking vehicles. Madison is no exception to this rule, and it is with this thought in mind that a review of current policies is presented.

Now that the system has been functioning under general operating conditions for a couple of weeks, it would perhaps be wise to examine how it is actually working. Of primary concern is the additional burden it places on the campus police. Since every lot is restricted, it is therefore necessary that they conduct more extensive patrols to insure compliance with the regulations.

For the average driver on campus, the new regulations may seem somewhat restrictive. For example, though many vacant parking spaces exist in those lots more accessible to main campus, the drivers are forced to park in the lot to which they were assigned. This may seem to many ineffective utilization of the existing facilities, since those assigned are not always on campus for the entire 14 hour restricted period.
The facial expressions tell the story of that long-awaited dream called “walk” which took place on the quad.

One of 142 happy girls greets her new sister with open arms during recent Fall Rush. The expression tells the story of the long-awaited dream called “walk” which took place on the quad.

NTE Scheduled For November 8

PRINCETON, NEW JERSEY: September 27. College seniors preparing to teach school may take the National Teacher Examinations on any of the four different test dates announced this month. Education and population problems with political, educational organization which prepares and administers this testing program.

New dates for the testing of prospective teachers are: November 8, 1969, and January 4, April 7, and July 14, 1970. The tests will be held at nearly 500 locations throughout the United States, ETS said.

Results of the National Teacher Examinations are used by many large school districts as one of several factors in the selection of new teachers and by several states as one of several factors in the certification of teachers. Some colleges also require all seniors preparing to teach to take the examinations. The school systems and state departments of education which use the examination results are designated in the Bulletin of Information for Candidates.

On each day of testing, prospective teachers may take the Common Examinations, which measure their professional preparation and general cultural background, and a Teaching Area Examination which measures mastery of the subject they expect to teach.

Prospective teachers should contact the school systems in which they seek employment, or their colleges, for specific advice on which examinations to take and on which dates they should be taken.

The Bulletin of Information for Candidates contains a list of prospective teachers may take the Common Examinations, which measure their professional preparation and general cultural background, and a Teaching Area Examination which measures mastery of the subject they expect to teach. Prospective teachers should contact the school systems in which they seek employment, or their colleges, for specific advice on which examinations to take and on which dates they should be taken.

Holton Urges Youth Movement

Political activity on campus last week was highlighted by the appearance of two candidates for state office, one of whom was Linwood Holton, the Republican nominee for governor.

Speaking to an enthusiastic crowd of supporters and interested students in Blackwell Auditorium, Holton outlined for all present the plans and aims of the Virginia Republican Party for the upcoming election and the years that follow.

One of the main points stressed by Holton was the Republican Party's strong desire to involve the young people of the state in the political workings. He told of the various organizations now open to high school and college students, and he also mentioned his plans for active involvement of the young people in government if he is elected governor.

After delivering a prepared speech, Holton fielded questions from the floor. Among these was a challenge to do something about the tax on food and drugs. Holton then presented his plan to allow the taxpayers a $500 rebate from their state taxes to help compensate for this.

When asked what the Republican Party did not like the primary as a means of selecting their candidates, Holton stated that the party had not grown large enough to warrant it.

- Following the stop at Madison, Holton continued on his statewide tour in preparation for the Democratic State convention in November. Among future appearances was one scheduled with Vice President Agnew the following night.

Reynolds Desires Involvement For Building “A Better State”

Sen. J. Sergeant Reynolds, speaking to two hundred Liberal arts students, stated that he wants more people to take an interest in politics and government.

“We feel we lost ground to the Republicans,” he said, “because the channels of communication were closed to the young people—this is one of the reasons Sen. Reynolds said, “I don’t think that this is a serious problem. The Democratic Party has always had good relations.”

Commenting on the problems foreseen with the AFL-CIO’s lack of backing of his running mate, William Battle, Sen. Reynolds said, “I don’t think that this is a serious problem. The Democratic Party has always had good relations.”

Zeiss Cited For Contributions

Todd R. Zeiss, Asst. Professor of English, has been listed in the volume: Outstanding Young Men of America, 1969.

Mr. Zeiss was cited for his contributions to literature and for his work in the field of international education. He was also recognized for his participation in local, state, and national politics, the Boy Scouts of America, and the Ohio Foster Parents Association.

His story, “Early Winter,” was included in the Alexander Reid Prize Fiction for 1968. In 1968, Mr. Zeiss was awarded the Laconia E. West Book Award by the Ohio Poetry Association for his poem, “Cinncinatus and the Senators.”

Professor Zeiss served on the Study Year Abroad Committee of the Regional Council on International Education from 1965-68 and in 1969, was appointed to the Special Committee on Policies and Procedures.

Senator J. Sergeant Reynolds of the Republican Party has always had good relations.

Commenting on the Negro problem, Mr. Reynolds said, “We will try to get them in the system.”

He considers the lottery system the best answer for the draft but refused to comment for his party.

Perhaps Reynolds’s latest comment should be applied to politics, you’ll have a better state.”
New York, September 24—The headmaster of New York's exclusive Dalton Preparatory School today accused permissive parents of "directly financing the New Left revolution and the drug cop-out."

Donald Barr, former administrator at Columbia University, charged in an article in the current issue of McCall's, that most parents of campus rebels "do not disapprove of what their children are doing now. They never have. They are comfortable, middle-class people for the most part, many of them professionals—the sort of parents who are anxious to be modern, the sort who regard preciosity."

---

PIZZA

Barr noted that parents have produced children who set the most extraordinary value on their own opinions. "The child at the center of the child-centered household is likely to be a monster of iniquity," he added. "One of the startling characteristics of the New Left is that it does not hesitate to interfere openly with private lives—but then, children never respect what they have never been without.

"On the day that parents stop paying tuition for non-education, on the day they stop handing out allowances for strike funds and narcotics and recking apartments, the student revolutions—impudent with reason, violent against restraint, a holiday from self-control—will begin," Barr wrote in McCall's.

He also asserted that "one cause of restlessness among young people is the steady lengthening of adolescence. Our society defers longer and longer the time when an intelligent man or woman can stop studying and become fully responsible for himself. "Adolescence may now last a decade," he said, adding that "we have stuffed our youngsters with vitamins, we have stuffed their sexuality with our advertising and our mass fantasies, we have encouraged them to dream and criticize, and when they are bursting with energy and self-importance, we make them wait in schools."

---

VA OFFERS CHECK LIST TO VETS

Veterans in college under the GI Bill today were offered a check list by the Veterans Administration to be sure their G.I. checks arrive on time, at the right place and in the right amount. Turn in your Certificate of Eligibility to the college registrar as soon as you register.

If you drop out of school — or even reduce your course load — tell the VA right away.

---

AUTUMN'S IN THE AIR!!

Football Weekends Call For A Coordinated Outfit by Ladybug

WHAT TO WEAR?

Football fans are already thinking about what they will wear this fall. Look to Ladybug for ideas. Here's one:

SHOP MADISON SQUARE

UNUSUAL MERCHANDISE

It's Harrisonburg's Most Unusual Stores

GLEN'S FAIR PRICE

187 N. Main St. Complete Camera Dept. Gifts of Distinction

GLEN'S GIFT CENTER

95 S. Main St. Home Owned Stores With FRIENDLY PEOPLE TO SERVE YOU AND SOLVE YOUR NEEDS

UNION'S TOP QUALITY

Harry and White

2 ft. x 3 ft. Poster only $2

1000 written or printed words

3 ft. x 5 ft. Poster only $4

1000 written or printed words

12 ft. x 16 ft. Poster only $75

3600 written or printed words

Poster Mart

P.O. Box 165, Woodside, N.Y. 11377

Send checks or money order to: Poster Mart. P.O. Box 165, Woodside, N.Y. 11377

See to it the school official return promptly the Certificate of Attendance card you have received from self-control — "11 wither away, and the real learning that most precedes intelligent social-change will begin," Barr wrote in McCall's.

A workman's view of the second new men's dorm shows the structural task almost accomplished. Completion date should be sometime early next year.

VA Offers Check List to Vets

Veterans in college under the G.I. Bill today were offered a check list by the Veterans Administration to be sure their G.I. checks arrive on time, at the right place and in the right amount. Turn in your Certificate of Eligibility to the college registrar as soon as you register.

If you drop out of school — or even reduce your course load — tell the VA right away.

---

POINTS TO PONDER

Be true to your teeth, and they won't be false to you.

—Pete Rogat

---

U. of Iowa Installs New Exam System

Students in the University of Iowa's College of Liberal Arts will be able to earn more than one-third of the credits for their bachelor's degree—without going into a classroom—beginning this fall.

The reason is that the college faculty has voted to extend the credit-by-exam program, already available for all 12 semester units of general education requirements, to up to 30 hours of credit in a student's major field, if the department chooses to participate. A total of 126 semester hours are required for the degree.

When credit-by-exam was first begun in 1966, Dean Dewey B. Suits said that it would enable the college to em phasize accomplishment, rather than the satisfaction of rigid credit-hour requirements, as the chief concern of higher education. Students receiving credits and exemptions are free to devote the time they have gained to their major field or other areas that interest them.

The extension of credit-by-exam was recommended by the College of Liberal Arts' nine-member educational policy committee.

---

BLOW YOURSELF UP

A beautiful pin with a图 handshake for each member of the family. It will cherish it forever.

For only $12.50

DAVID B. GARBER

49 W. Water St.

---

J. W. Taliaferro Sons JEWELERS

Featuring a Complete Line of Silver

Expert Watch and Jewelry Repairing

54 S. Main, Harrisonburg
Hard practice and lots of running is the name of the game and one unidentified Madison soccer player works out to keep in top physical shape. The team plays at home next Wednesday against Hampden-Sydney at 3 pm.

---

Intramurals

Intramural flag football is underway with a new system of 13 teams divided into two divisions. Division I includes the four fraternities (Phi Alpha Pi, Phi Kappa Beta, TKE and SPE) while Division II separates all the dorm and day students into nine teams.

Dr. Ed Lipton, Intramural Director, has broadened the program this year so that each team will play close to 18 games. The play-offs, scheduled for the weeks of November 14 and 21, will include the top teams from the two divisions.

Games this week include: Phi Kappa Zeta vs. 2nd Floor Shorts and Phi Alpha Pi vs. 3rd Floor Shorts — today; TKE vs. 4th Floor Shorts, SPE vs. Ashby, 2nd Floor Shorts vs. Stads, and Day Students vs. Lincoln-Shenandoah — Thursday, Friday will serve as a rain date.

---

Clubs Begin Activities

Mr. William Wilson of Wallaferro and Wilson Jewelers will speak to the Geological Association of Madison College on Thursday, Oct. 9, 6:30 pm in Burruss 306.

The Student Education Association is inviting all Madison students to join. This year’s theme is “Do Your Thing—Teach.” The S.E.A. has projects which will enable students in all phases of education to “do their thing.” The S.E.A. is going out into the community where the action is to see what teaching is first hand. Membership for the entire year is $9.00 and this fee covers papers and journals for each member. Members will receive from the V.I.A. and N.E.A. Anyone interested may sign up in the bookstore lobby or contact Chris Taylor, P.O. Box 265, Hoffman 212, before Oct. 15.

The Pegasus Club held try-outs on October 1 for their new members. Cathy Hayders, Martha Berry, and Diane Wood were initiated Oct. 6 by wearing horse shoes around their necks for the day. The club is also making preparations for their Horse Show on Sunday, November 16 at Oak Manor Equitation School in Burkertown, Virginia.

---

OSCAR'S BARBERSHOP

MEN — Now You Can Have the Roffler Sculpting Technique registered by the U.S. Patent Office. Get Your Own Individual Style — $4.00.

WOMEN — Now You Can Have the Roffler Sculpting Technique registered by the U.S. Patent Office. Get Your Own Individual Style — $4.00.

WELCOME STUDENTS

Shop Our Young Men Store with all the latest styles, colors, in all famous makes

- College Hall Suits, Sport Coats
- Clubman Sport Coats
- Austin Hill Slacks
- Higgins & Botany Slacks
- Creighton Shirts
- Sero & Eagle Shirts
- Lakeland
- Thane & Lord Jeff Sweaters
- Harbor Master Rainwear
- Gold Cup Socks
- Pulitzer Neck Ties
- Canterbury & Tex Tan Belts & Wallets
- Manhattan Furnishings
- Toiletries & Gift Items

We Honor Master Charge

FORMAL WEAR FOR RENT
By the time this reaches print, the major league play-offs in the American and National Leagues will be over and the World Series foes will be decided. If all goes as it has during the regular season, the finalists will be the Baltimore Orioles and the New York Mets, sports' latest Cinderella aggregation.

The Birds won their division in the American League by so far that Detroit was closer in distance than it was in the standings. In fact, the Orioles barely missed matching the all time record for wins in a season in the A.L.

At the risk of alienating those who always go with the underdog, the Grandstander has to go with Baltimore as in anything else and a good crop of rookies suddenly became a mature bunch of players.

Ohio State has already served notice that it wants the nation's mythical college foot-wheel championship this year. The Buckeyes should win the Big Ten title once more but there will be no Rose Bowl pot of gold at the end of this season since they are ineligible to make the trip.

Outside of Illinois, which has fallen on lean days in the past few years, almost any other team in the loop could win the trip. This corner leans toward Purdue which showed plenty of power in dumping Notre Dame a couple of weeks ago.

In loosing its season opener, Coach John Rader's soccer team displayed tenacious de-

The Grandstander

The Closing date for the submission of manuscript by College Students is November 5

THE NATIONAL POETRY PRESS

3210 Selby Avenue
Los Angeles, Calif.

90034

TALLIAFERO & WILSON
Jewelers

EXPERT ENGRAVING
Madinon Seals Engraved On Most Pieces of Silver and Proucer

83 S. Main St.

434-4693

HUGHES' PHARMACY, INC.

1021 South Main Street
DIAL 434-8650

PRESCRIPTIONS — FILM
COSMETICS — STATIONERY
CANDIES — GREETING CARDS

Your Shoe Headquarters

★ COACH & FOUR IMPORTS
★ MISS PAPPAGALLO
★ EDITH HENRY
★ JOYCE
★ SPALDING
★ ETIENNE AIGNER
★ AIR STEP
★ RHYTHM STEP
★ U. S. KEDS
★ HUSH PUPPIE
★ HUSH PUPPIE
★ HUSH PUPPIE
★ HUSH PUPPIE
★ F. BARTH GARBER, INC.

124 South Main Street
HARRISONBURG, VA. 22801

OPEN THURSDAY NIGHT