Candidates For Six Major Offices
Campaigns Begin, Elections Feb. 24

BY PATRICIA NICHOLAS

Elections are in the air, and during the following week campaigning will become the primary interest of every student here at Madison College.

The major officers present their candidates to the nominating convention and the nominating convention then made its report to the electoral board and in turn the electoral board met and screened the candidates. The report of the electoral board was sent to the major officers, who asked the two candidates eligible to run for the office, if they would accept the nomination.

The candidates are as follows: Student Government President,

PATRICIA (PATTY) DAVIES and JACQUELINE (JACKIE)

JEFFRESS; Honor Council Chairman, JOAN BENNETT, and

BERTA BIRITOS; Y. W. C. A. President, ALICE HARRIS and

NANCY CAROLYN MOORE; Athletic Association President, ELLEN ASHTON and JANE GOGHEGAN; Editor-in-chief of the Schoolma’am, ELIZABETH (LIZ) DAWSON, and JOAN

HALL METTS; Editor-in-chief of THE BREEZE, SHIRLEY

JACOBS and ELLEN RAINES.

Since that time campaign managers have been selected and the selection of campaigning committees will take place tonight.

Each of the twelve candidates will address the student body

February 23, in Wilson auditorium. Elections will be conducted the following day, and the returns will be announced to the candidates and the student body on the same night.

The period of time extending from the announcement of candidates to the announcement of the final returns of the election, is one of the most exciting and important times on our campus.

These are the students who must decide on policies which affect the to them a small portion of the service they have given to you?

Like many class-site rehearsals, the minstrel had its rough practices when the enthusiasm of the men was still present. That is to say, it did not work that it was an effort to laugh at them.

I don't believe anyone’s help or ignore their contributions in the show, but, several names in particular that seems to me, degree of measurement of acknowledgment which may have been avoided. The French club, Harris State Department has stated that it will refuse to supply information concerning the eleven airmen who may, it is feared, have been killed.

And why must these individuals give of their time and talents so we will be able to get the best possible job.

When the reader is probably now saying “so what?” The “so what” of this is these representatives need and want your faith and support.

Wouldn’t you find out who your representatives are, and give back to them a small portion of the service they have given to you?

The personal story for this week is Jane Bivens. Her hometown is now Pearlburg, but this does not mean she has always been a “Southern Belle.” Jane has spent most of her life in Ohio, but when she graduated from high school her family came to Madison to encourage her in her teaching career.

The train of thought and interest for the next week and a half will be campaigning. This last week's BREEZE we attempted to explain the process of choosing leadership and obtaining these candidates. This week our editorial is concerned with pointing out the major questions that we will be working on through the next week. We hope that you will remember that these questions are not all that important.

The French club will provide us with an opportunity to try our French and learn more about the French play techniques.

Students Opinions On Bookstore

by Mary Francis Tyler

Many articles have been written during the past few months about establishing a paperback bookstore on campus. A recent survey revealed the following opinions of the student body concerning their actual need and regard for such a service.

Do we really need one? Everyone interviewed stated an affirmative answer. Providing inexpensive copies of interesting and enjoyable books would motivate more reading among the students. Since paperbacks are compact and more easily transported, the student can read during the very moments usually consumed by waiting for a bus or beginning a long and tedious trek.

What type books would you be interested in? The most frequent answer to this question was books of a certain and can be correlated with the study major. Current best-selling novels and outline series are not student definite choices. How extensive should the book store be? Books of academic subject matter from every field of knowledge should be included to aid the student in research. Biography and fiction for enjoyable reading were often mentioned. On the whole, the students all agreed that it should be limited to only good works of literature; of both humanitarian and value. What many books would you buy? Various, less specific answers were received, but everyone stated definitely that one may buy many books so long as they read and the amount of spare time the student has.

Complaints were varied concerning the location and organization. Popular opinion was that the books should be organized on shelves to facilitate looking through the various books offered. Because of the problem of making a choice, it was felt that one person should be available to take the money, rather than having the service completely on the honor system.

The problem of no snow has been solved by the use of artificial snow at Shawnee on the Great North Mountain. Shawnee has one ski area on the West side of the mountain. The Atlantic states have been lacking in a ski area where they have been assured of that precious white stuff for their favorite sport. It is Shawnee on Great North Mountain, 11 miles west of Winchester.

The 6000-acre country club and resort undoubtedly has set some kind of record for ski slopes in the East this weekend of January 31-February 1. Madison College has marked the height of consecutive weeks in which skiers enjoyed two full days of skiing.

It is made possible by an artificial snow-making rig using compressed air and mountain stream water. In the afternoon of running, the snowmaker lays down enough snow to sustain the equivalent of a moderate snowfall.

If the snow drags continues indefinitely, Shawnee hopes to continue supplying artificial snow for skiers, according to Owner Dan Lamont.

Normal Dance Theme: Sinhony In Gold

"Sinhony In Gold" will be the prevailing theme for German-Codillion dances this year during the week of March 6 and 7.

This week end will be sponsored by the combined efforts of the Codille and German dance clubs and will bring Bully Bierhley and Miss Tatiana Durling for both an afternoon concert and the formal dance on Saturday night. And the Bill Bierhley combo from Washington, D. C., for the Friday night entertainment.

An imprinted account of the prices is as follows: Friday night dance, $2.50; Saturday afternoon concert, $1.50 per couple, $2.75; Saturday night dance, $6.00. A block ticket will be sold for $9.00.

Zeta Tau Alpha Is Feature Of Series
Zeta Tau Alpha, located in Lincoln House, originated from Longwood College in October of 1898. With the help of several fraternity men, nine Longwood girls laid the foundation for this organization. It was decided to call the organization a "fraternity" to distinguish it from high school sororities and honor societies. Therefore, although it is actually a women's organization, Zeta Tau Alpha is still technically a fraternity.

Zeta has grown from this small beginning to become an international organization of 113 chapters and almost 23,000 members, having chapters in Canada and Hawaii.

The Madison chapter of Zeta Tau Alpha was started ten years ago as the local group, Tau Alpha. After one year on campus, this group petitioned the national Zeta Tau Alpha organization and, consequently, became the Gamma Kappa chapter of the international fraternity. Zeta Tau Alpha is the only international sorority (fraternity) on campus. This year's presidanit is Pat Hubers.

The National Cerebral Palsy Foundation receives the support of the Zetas nationally. Also, the members sell magazine subscriptions. The Zeta Tau Alpha Foundation gives scholarships to a number of students each year to aid in their completion of college. Madison's Gamma Kappa chapter gives a scholarship to a Madison student annually in addition to supporting the national scholarship-biops.

Xta Tau Alpha is divided into provinccz for supervision. Gamma Kappa is located in Province one, along with 10 other colonies. Every two years a national convention is held, and every three years a national officer visits each local chapter.

This year's Province Workshop will be held here at Madison College with the members of Gamma Kappa as hostesses. The Gamma Kappa chapter of Zeta Tau Alpha is in possession of the Panhellenic scholarship cup which is awarded annually. The scholarship was won by Gamma Kappa for last year was 2.895. Sport's Flash
With Ash

Sledding away—bring out the raquets, because the weather is cooperating with all tennis enthusiasts. Speaking of tennis, let's all support the student's movement for improving the tennis courts.

Since spring is seemingly drawing near, what action has been taken by the Recreation Council to appropriate the funds necessary so that all students will be able to take advantage of the golfing opportunities extended by the Spoonwood Country Club? Such an appropriation would be possible if student interest is displayed.

Before it is forgotten, let's welcome back the seniors who were away student teaching. Everyone is looking forward to hearing about their experiences.

Now that the studying rush is over, why don't we participate in the intercollegiate sport of our choice. You will never know how much enjoyment can be obtained by participating until you give it a try.

Congratulations to the extramural basketball team in their victory Saturday over Sweetbriar College. May the power of positive thinking continue this winning streak in Saturday's game with Lincoln.
