First Debate
On Monday

Hotch and Bywaters Will Meet Team-Sydney

Representative from Randepen-Sydney will debate here on Monday at 4:30 in Wiess Hall against Helen Balsley and Ervyn Bywaters, in the first formal event of the year.

A debate between representatives from Bridgewater College and Mary Elisabeth Stewart and Ervyn Bywaters will be broadcast over the local station, WSYA, on March 14, from 9 to 9:30 o'clock.

Ruth will take the nega- tive side in the first debate and the affirmative in the second on the question: "Resolved: That the National Labor Relations Board should be em- powerd to arbitrate all industrial disputes."

These debates will be non-debatable as the majority of the officials debate in the past have been.

Two members of the Debating Club spoke in the Wiess Hall debate Monday afternoon, one at a lunchbox in the Kavanagh Illedge, and the other in the Balsley Hall. Harry and Mary Elisabeth Stewart who pre- sented pro and con of the question selected by the eastern colleges for this year's debate, "Resolved: That the National Labor Relations Board should be powerd to arbitrate all industrial disputes."

Vendor Says Ads Lose Science

Chemist Criticizes Types of Advertising Used by Patent Medicine and Cosmetics

"Because it attempts to impress and mislead the uneducated public by the use of pat terminology, and other sciences, advertising may be characterized as the 'modern al- chemists.'" said Dr. E. W. Boatwright, professor of Chemistry at Lehigh University in an address in the State Teachers College yesterday.

"One might define this act as the use of exaggerated, erroneous, and simple statements or transactions, as a pretext, in high- powered language to make a mark, where none is genuine, and with false extra for every service from every transaction."

By means of recent instances, the competitions of some well-known text- books, "patent medicines," etc., were shown in con- trast with the extravagant and im- possible. It was stated that if these products. The expert had gathered prices of those preparations were also shown in relation to the cost of the small ingredients.

Interesting that he is not a reformer, say, because he has been educated as a lawyer and a lawyer by nature, said Dr. Boatwright with some admiration for the advertising. Dr. Boatwright said.

"The new advertisement in general, which should contribute much to civilized living; but in the public condemns that type of advertising which insults its intelligence and betrays science."

Convocation Will Recognize All

Dr. W. R. Boatwright, president of the University of Richmond, will be the guest speaker. His topic will be, "Politics, Wake Up!"

Following assembly, old and new students of the Student Government Association, its sponsors, and Miss Torrey will be greeted by the president of the University, he is professor of modern languages. He is a member of Phi Beta Kappa.

A banquet will be served that evening at Bluestone Dining Hall in honor of the same group.

Student Body Makes Response To Criticism Of Baller Dient After Performance

In a brief interview with the jour- nal March 8, about the upcoming performance of the Johns Hopkins Ballet on Saturday evening in Wil- son auditorium, Herr Fritz Cohen, the principal collaborator and artistic di- rector, spoke of the biographical and said that he had never be- fore been so disappointed in the re- cognition of an artist.

"We have been presenting the bal- let, "The Green Table," for five years and this is the one time in all the history that anyone has ever laughed, perhaps in the end of the Renar and Alter- native sense. I can not understand how young people would laugh at something so tragic, or how women and sweaters in the audience would love to see such a scene as this, and knowing the world is on the brink of a war, knowing all the possibilities of this world, war.

"The company almost refuses to do it, and do not know whether to take certain calls or not. It was, very day frustrating."

Many students, express their opinion of the result of the festival have not yet been completed. Our philosophy is no reaction of the 'Real, drink, and be merry, for tomorrow we go on, and our brains to the dog.' We want to be amused and serious content to think things. Like the Romans during the war, the French during the Napoleons, we are either unable to new to face reality realistically. We refuse to be defeated. We are the students of the university, the students of the nation, the world. We want to see the straits of mankind since the earliest history, is still dominant. All our efforts to check it have failed. We want to be defeated but it is difficult to understand.

"Indifferent of War"

"There is a possibility that our civilization has not yet faced the fact of a lack of appreciation for the ballet and its form or artistic expression. But, I think the rest of the matter lies in one of the most alarming tendencies of our generation. Our philosophy runs like this: 'Real, drink, and be merry, for tomorrow we go on, and our brains to the dog.' We want to be amused and serious content to think things. Like the Romans during the war, the French during the Napoleons, we are either unable to new to face reality realistically. We refuse to be defeated. We are the students of the university, the students of the nation, the world. We want to see the straits of mankind since the earliest history, is still dominant. All our efforts to check it have failed. We want to be defeated but it is difficult to understand.

Indifferent of War"

"There is a possibility that our civilization has not yet faced the fact of a lack of appreciation for the ballet and its form or artistic expression. But, I think the rest of the matter lies in one of the most alarming tendencies of our generation. Our philosophy runs like this: 'Real, drink, and be merry, for tomorrow we go on, and our brains to the dog.' We want to be amused and serious content to think things. Like the Romans during the war, the French during the Napoleons, we are either unable to new to face reality realistically. We refuse to be defeated. We are the students of the university, the students of the nation, the world. We want to see the straits of mankind since the earliest history, is still dominant. All our efforts to check it have failed. We want to be defeated but it is difficult to understand.
European Affairs

In Bad Shape

Eden's Resignation Changes English Policies; League Loses Prestige Rapidly

By AGNES BARGH

Rapid developments in international politics this week have taken the edge out of Eden's policy in English. Mrs. Eden's statement to the House of Lords on Tuesday, March 15, 1938, was met with demands for a full-scale investigation of the situation. In his speech, Mrs. Eden said that the British government was not going to yield to the pressure of the League of Nations. She declared that the League was no longer a viable institution and that Britain would not be bound by its decisions.

The British government has been under pressure from other countries to accept the League's recommendations. However, Mrs. Eden's statement indicates that Britain is no longer willing to comply with the League's decisions. This development could have serious implications for the future of the League.

The British government's position is likely to be met with resistance from other countries. The United States, for example, has already expressed its concern about Britain's decision. The United States is a member of the League and has been a strong supporter of its efforts to promote peace.

It remains to be seen how other countries will react to Britain's decision. However, it is clear that the situation is likely to remain tense in the coming weeks and months.
Girls Attend Dates at Neighboring Colleges Over the Week-end

The March birthday dinner was held at 6:45 o'clock in Bluestone and Junior dining halls. There were approximately 66 seated at the banquet tables.

The members of the faculty who were guests were: Miss Paul Householder, Mrs. and Mr. Raymond C. Dingli, Miss Mary Mahoney, Miss Lois Fournier, Mrs. Stansard, Angie Bailey Cook, Miss Clara G. Turner, and Mrs. and Mr. Clyde F. Shorts.

Ouachita Enterprises for Mother

Betty Cooper was hostess at a buffet supper Sunday evening in the Junior hall, Room 109 Hall. The hostess was her mother, who was here for the week-end.

Other guests were Katherine Conley, Stanley H. Greathead, Mrs. Pay Mitchell, Isabel Buckley, Gertrude Hulse, and Vivian Johnston.

Hazel Blair was the week-end guest of her sister, Mrs. W. V. Nall, Nashville, Tenn.

Marie Miller Howerton spent the week-end with her parents in Evans, Miss. as guest of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Miller.

Judith Brothers visited her sister, Mrs. A. B. Gurne, Richmond, over the week-end.

Barbara Ford spent the week-end in Washington, D. C., as guest of her sister, Louise Howerton.

Alice St. Claire and Mercedes Leachman were the week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Brigat, Bridge-water.

Betty Lou McManus and Brooks Conley, spent the week-end in Lexington as guests of Martin Faron.

Girls attending dances at V. M. I., Lexington, were: Lois Burton, Dorothy Grubbs, Doris Hodges, Ruth Schafer, Mrs. Judith Brothers, Miss M. I., Lexington, were: Lois Bur- atton as guests of Marlln Pence. Overton, spent the week-end in Arkansas. It seems, moreover, that we are ignorant in so far as the American youth is speed and money oriented. Though by no means the most beautiful of the ballets, it was by far the most effective. The effectiveness of the dance patterns, costumes, and emotional expression of the emotion. The story of two young lovers kept apart by a combination of fate and money, and two brave men who embarked on an adventure from which they returned triumphant, and which in the end, was a joyful, ful-

ning ending.

"Pavarotti," the story of the tragic life of the Italian tenor, was produced at the Charlottesville college in the spring quarter.

The main feature of the Novel Group of Alpha, which meets Friday at 7:00 p.m., in room 54, is a literary society for women. The members discussed points of interest to students is the one feature, "Romania in Exile," while the other discussion was "Opera," "The Telephone," and "One Million Meeting," according to a recent meeting.

On the same program with the March of Time will be the first co-

of interest, "fruit of the stories that have been written upon it by critics the world over. There is then to wonder that it has been called "the greatest of the American playwrights of the time."

In a Metro Goldwyn Mayer production, "Manon."

But not our own emotions. There is no emotional or dramatic value in a program of "Pavane." The story of the tragic life of the Italian tenor, is not just as a musical composition, it is as a dramatic composition also.

"It seemed a shame that we have not yet learned to function as an understood, dramatic, choreographic stupor."—By Julia Ann Flohr.

Not being a member of the student body, probably suffered one of the worst in the experience last Saturday night. We were sexed of thinking lightly, or perhaps not thinking at all, on matters which the great powers of the world have been disengaged in. We were tolld that as teachers, we is no sense criticism, it would be impossible for anyone always to live up to the standard of excellence which the Joes ballet set for itself in Saturday night's performance. The cerebral, material, and the grand tactful of Noel de Mosa, youthful leading ballerina of the company, was in fine form.

Ball is Gay Number

The third number of the program, "A new Year," was a beauti-fylly gay and sentimental story of the 1140's. Lovely ladies in ruffled dreeses of oiliness, and galloping pisdoners danced to the flowing rhythm of the dance. Although filled with comedy in the gaited of the dancing master and the old maid anti-locut of the pantomime, the emphacis on this ballet was upon the historical movements of the "1400's and upon the emotional movements above more on plot.

The technical perfection of the dancers was not so much in the interest, as for their dancing. The greatest number of the audience who were unable to see their highly sensitive facial expressions included a third of the crowd admitted.

The ballets were set against a musical background of the great music, arranged for the ballet by Pilar Cohen, was entertainment in itself, so thoroughly that their emotional expression of the emotion. The story of two young lovers kept apart by a combination of fate and money, and two brave men who embarked on an adventure from which they returned triumphant, and which in the end, was a joyful, ful-

ning ending.

"Pavarotti," the story of the tragic life of the Italian tenor, was produced at the Charlottesville college in the spring quarter.

The main feature of the Novel Group of Alpha, which meets Friday at 7:00 p.m., in room 54, is a literary society for women. The members discussed points of interest to students is the one feature, "Romania in Exile," while the other discussion was "Opera," "The Telephone," and "One Million Meeting," according to a recent meeting.

On the same program with the March of Time will be the first co-

of interest, "fruit of the stories that have been written upon it by critics the world over. There is then to wonder that it has been called "the greatest of the American playwrights of the time."

In a Metro Goldwyn Mayer produc-

tion, "Manon."

But not our own emotions. There is no emotional or dramatic value in a program of "Pavane." The story of the tragic life of the Italian tenor, is not just as a musical composition, it is as a dramatic composition also.

"It seemed a shame that we have not yet learned to function as an understood, dramatic, choreographic stupor."—By Julia Ann Flohr.

Not being a member of the student body, probably suffered one of the worst in the experience last Saturday night. We were sexed of thinking lightly, or perhaps not thinking at all, on matters which the great powers of the world have been disengaged in. We were tolld that as teachers, we is no sense criticism, it would be impossible for anyone always to live up to the standard of excellence which the Joes ballet set for itself in Saturday night's performance. The cerebral, material, and the grand tactful of Noel de Mosa, youthful leading ballerina of the company, was in fine form.

Ball is Gay Number

The third number of the program, "A new Year," was a beauti-

fylly gay and sentimental story of the 1140's. Lovely ladies in ruffled dreeses of oiliness, and galloping pisdoners danced to the flowing rhythm of the dance. Although filled with comedy in the gaited of the dancing master and the old maid anti-locut of the pantomime, the empha-

cis on this ballet was upon the historical movements of the "1400's and upon the emotional movements above more on plot.

The technical perfection of the dancers was not so much in the interest, as for their dancing. The greatest number of the audience who were unable to see their highly sensitive facial expressions included a third of the crowd admitted.

The ballets were set against a musical background of the great music, arranged for the ballet by Pilar Cohen, was entertainment in itself, so thoroughly that their emotional expression of the emotion. The story of two young lovers kept apart by a combination of fate and money, and two brave men who embarked on an adventure from which they returned triumphant, and which in the end, was a joyful, ful-

ning ending.

"Pavarotti," the story of the tragic life of the Italian tenor, was produced at the Charlottesville college in the spring quarter.

The main feature of the Novel Group of Alpha, which meets Friday at 7:00 p.m., in room 54, is a literary society for women. The members discussed points of interest to students is the one feature, "Romania in Exile," while the other discussion was "Opera," "The Telephone," and "One Million Meeting," according to a recent meeting.

On the same program with the March of Time will be the first co-

of interest, "fruit of the stories that have been written upon it by critics the world over. There is then to wonder that it has been called "the greatest of the American playwrights of the time."

In a Metro Goldwyn Mayer produc-

tion, "Manon."

But not our own emotions. There is no emotional or dramatic value in a program of "Pavane." The story of the tragic life of the Italian tenor, is not just as a musical composition, it is as a dramatic composition also.

"It seemed a shame that we have not yet learned to function as an understood, dramatic, choreographic stupor."—By Julia Ann Flohr.

Not being a member of the student body, probably suffered one of the worst in the experience last Saturday night. We were sexed of thinking lightly, or perhaps not thinking at all, on matters which the great powers of the world have been disengaged in. We were tolld that as teachers, we is no sense criticism, it would be impossible for anyone always to live up to the standard of excellence which the Joes ballet set for itself in Saturday night's performance. The cerebral, material, and the grand tactful of Noel de Mosa, youthful leading ballerina of the company, was in fine form.

Basketball Team Meets Farmville Tonight

Old Rivals Clash Tonight in Annual Contest; H. T. C. Out to Erase 2-Year Jinx

Seeking to redeem themselves for their recent New York jaunt, the Farmville ladies, accompanied by Mrs. James C. Johnston, coach, yesterday arrived in Farmville to meet the rival H. T. C. team. The Farmville State Teachers" College has been the more successful of the two teams for the past two years, but the games have been close and a hard fight is expected tonight.

The probable line-up for R. T. C. will be Powell and VanLandingham in center, Bell and Fitzgerald at guard, and Gower and Fisher as forwards. The team will return to Farmville after the game.

Petersburg Hi Meets Frosh

Teams Coached By VanLandingham, VanCoffman

Tonight Waiting

Arriving on campus tomorrow morning a team from the Petersburg High School will be welcomed by the Farmville students in a struggle to mark the H. T. C. freshman class's equal record in a girls' basketball meet.

The Petersburg team is coached by Miss VanLandingham, who returned from H. T. C. in 1933 and was star guard on the varsity basketball team for four years, while the freshman team has been trained by Wenee Van, Mary's sister, and Max Sampson.

After the game, the freshmen will entertain the victorious at a reception at Almenon Hall, and accommodations have been made for them to remain in the dormitories if desired. They will stay until Sunday afternoon.

Criticism of Ball Director

(Continued from Page Three)

"They're not on our side either" is the conclusion of one student who feels that the organization of the Varsity Club was necessary as a form of discipline for those who may not be committed enough to the cause of intercollegiate athletics.

—By Patricia Minar

Laughed At In London

"Pills Cooper actually hustled, not only our school, but our state. But his statements should be swallowed only by those who are willing to consider themselves more proud to send us to a serious contemplation of questions that are astonishingly vital today"—By Patricia Minar

New York Trip Brings To Sixes

Mike's Lyceum

Didja hear the one about the lady who chews gum and asks it to get the dinner table ready? "I'll be right there, honey, as soon as I get the table ready."

April Fool's Joke

March 8—Petersburg High School Basketball game—Big Gym.
March 6—T. C. Sextet
March 5—Debate, Hampden-Sydney, 7:15 p.m.
March 4—C. E. Meeting, Road, 14, 6:45 p.m.
March 3—Alumni Hall—4:30 p.m.

(Continued from Column One)

"Essential black sheep do, and that we, who do zoos, too perform exercises every night, cannot be expected to interpret every detailed action and body movement.

"Not everyone can appreciate bad dancing, and among our 90 clubs, there were some who didn't. They attended. However, because we were expected to be up to the most expensive extracurricular of the year.

"Members of the press, when they ran back stage, were told to return to the auditorium if they wished to see the actors. It further stated that they would begin the early in the year and the score in their favor. The first quarter ended 12-5, while in the second period of play, H. T. C. scored only 1 point from the field. After intermission, the 1st quarter method was used. The local girls held their own in the game of the previous evening, the final result being 80 points, which is approximately 1 point on the field.

Dr. Conover: "There are few young tourists in such a hurry!"

HOURLONG EAU FLORALE

A New Version of Perfume

$1.00

BATH POWDER & TALC

Vermei-Honeysuckle—Gardenia Sweet Pop—Magnolia

Williamson Drug Co.