Clear Coast

We have probably heard rumors lately to the effect that the sophomore house is going to be torn down soon. Carter has been singled out by rumor as the first subject in a series of demolitions. This has, of course, disturbed a number of our students here on campus. The morale of those involved have been high in their determination to pursue reorganizing projects and things of that sort because, if the rumors were true, they felt that such projects would be impractical expenditures of money.

In order to allay the fears and uncertainties that these rumors seem to have caused, President Miller has said that the rumor regarding the demolition of Carter or any other sorority house in the foreseen future is unfounded.

The "coast is clear" so plan away girls; spring house cleaning 'a decorative' time-a-coming!

What's Your Gripe?

What do you gripe about most often? Why do you gripe about this thing?

Many of us complain loud, long and often about the dining halls. We complain about the food, the manner in which it's served, the hours, the cleanliness, the atmosphere, the pricing, and the variety. How many of us could arrange for well balanced meals on such a budget? But, we're still not satisfied. If you're one of those who are always complaining about the food, you may be doing yourself a favor.

We complain about having chicken too often, and chicken is much more expensive than other meats and economy is an important factor. The approximate cost of serving fried chicken for one meal is $1.95. That sounds like a lot of money, and it is but it compares well with the prices of approximately $2.75 for serving a beef entree for one meal. Besides, let's think back. Wasn't it roast beef that we complained about having too often last year, and wasn't it ham the year before that?

We sometimes hear (and make) remarks like, "Our waitresses surely are not nearly as good as other human beings and economy is an important factor. Some people wonder if all Christ's sufferings were necessary—couldn't God have spared His son? This was His promise of life after death.

It's All In The Way You Look At It

"Class" Status Makes A Difference

"It's all in the way you look at it," one of the most popular expressions of the new generation, is fittingly appropriate for college students.

A FRESHMAN THINKS: Please Miss, may I go out tonight? I better start my project. It's due in a month.

One should always wear a dress suit to a dance, I started right behind the teacher during the whole trip.

A SOPHOMORE THINKS: May I go out tonight? I'll be home by 11:00.

My date and I made date in a couple of weeks; I better get going. You should at least wear a tie.

I stayed right behind the teacher most of the time on the trip. My date and I both home no later than 11:30.

A JUNIOR THINKS: I'm going to the dance Saturday night. Oh dear, that project is due in to- morrow morning.

It's better to wear a clean skirt. I was with the group that got separated from the teacher at the beginning of the trip.

We usually get home by 1:00.

Attention

It has been brought to the attention of THE BREEZE staff that there has been a misuse of theater passes. Starting this week, when you recieve a free pass you must use the pass sometime during that week or return the pass to THE BREEZE in which your name appears and give an explanation as to why you can't use the pass.

To our knowledge this is the first time anyone has returned this privilege in nine years. We are sorry it happened but we hope the above regulations will correct it.

An Unusual Interest in Volleyball Creates Inter-Class Tournament

Skill and team work are the main ingredients of volleyball. This sport, which is a team sport, requires the cooperation of all the players on the court. The members of the volleyball team work together to keep the ball in play and to score points. The team that scores the most points in a set, wins the set.

In the inter-class volleyball tournament, the teams were divided into two groups. Each group played against the other teams in its group. The winner of each group then played against the winner of the other group to determine the champion.

An unusual feature of this tournament was the presence of the physical education staff. They were asked to form a team and participate in the tournament. This added an extra level of excitement to the event.

The tournament was a great success, and the students enjoyed themselves. The members of the tournament committee were pleased with the outcome and hope to organize similar events in the future.
