Dr. Gaines Will Give Address To Graduates

Dr. Carson will Deliver Baccalaureate Sermon on June 5th

Dr. Fransie F. Galvani, President of Washington and Lee University, will deliver the commencement address to this year's graduating class on the morning of June 6, according to a statement made by President R. T. Deko Wednesday. His topic will deal with "The Virtue of Freedom." The baccalaureate sermon will be delivered on Sunday morning, June 5, by Dr. W. L. Casper, junior of the First Presbyterian Church of Richmond.

The final exercises are being held in the morning this year instead of in the evening of the day of the final examination. The graduation exercises were approved by the senior class this year.

Dr. Deko announced that a garden party in the after- noon will be given at the Governor's mansion for members of the graduating class and their parents. The final dinner in Reed gymnasium later that evening will be served to the graduate students of the junior and senior classes.

The program for Friday, June 3, which will be presented in the afternoon to members of the graduating classes and their guests, is under the direction of Dr. Argus Sanford, director of the American Repertory Theater, the drama company, and the staging crew, who will supervise the painting of the prize piece of furniture: a new light oak finish to match the wood-paneled walls of the stage. The chairs and table will be used at the next production of "The Torchbearers," by George Kelly, now in the theater, and will be presented Friday, June 3, at 8 p.m., as part of the program at the 1940 session of the American Repertory Theater. The staging crew is hammering a wonderful new set for the production, inspired by the example of the American Repertory Theater in New York. They were: Mrs. Mildred Seymour, vice-president of the board of directors; Mrs. Mary Willard, student body president; and Mrs. Elizabeth Plane, student body vice-president.
Open Letter To The Next Staff

When this issue reaches its readers another staff, the fifteenth in the history of The Breeze, will have completed its year of service. In this year we have tried to do a job that will draw joyously on your future. You will find yourself many mornings unprepared for classes or wishing that you might have slept more the night before. The night will still be natural; it's been that way for years. The Editor, especially will have to give unsocially of her time. It will be her duty not only to oversee the editorial staff, but also the advertising, circulation, typing, and broadcasting groups. She and her assistants will have to learn, to plan, to anticipate the news before it happens, and to prepare for its use both before and after.

It is not only the job one consumes time and energy in; but it is one in which you will be more disappointed than pleased on many occasions. You will hear num- erous unnecessary chapel announcements; you will see many campus organizations linger on; with the same dead spirit, and you will know that your pleas have been heard.

You will hear your thunder, it be on sports con- tests, honor roll, holidays, princesses, movies, or what-have-you, given away before you had a chance at it. Getting a "coop" is a thing you will have to work up to gradually. You may have missed the moment when you consider that your student community is made up mostly of people who have but a slight in- terest. Many of them who have the brightest regrets reverence, in part at least, to the government's tax program, see a change for the better in the new bill. Although not all the taxes that were the especial complaint of buson demand have been changed, some of which most obstinate have been revised. In common with most tax revision bills, this particular one has called for long work. It has been in process of organization since last summer.

Austria Goes Nazi

In Austria's leading city last week thousands sang the Horst Wessel song in celebration of Austrian capit- tulation to Nazi demands. After Hitler's election the Austrian government had made con- cessions to the Nazis in Austria, the new grew more turbulent instead of quieter. One letter writer among others was quoted in The New York Times as having said within the borders of the Fatherland. This statement was understood to refer also to Czechoslo- vakia, in whose borders live many Germans, potential or already Nazi. Although no official response has been made by Czechoslovakia, in Ger- many threats and demands, the Pro- tester of Austria has given a further demonstration; she says that she has gone as far as she can go. This claim that she was deprived of her right to vote in the last election, which inclusively odd number of the community calculate to be of the time of the new German Air Force would be an object of terror to opposing na- tions. The new German Army, the new Germany, is a Germany of a new sort. Austria's new Prime Minister, a member of the Nazi party, has been an object of terror to opposing nations. No, we all don't write letters when we're in school. We must remember that we are not free to write for posterity as to what we say or do. We are the ones who make this document. It is "ducky" or at least lined with angora; but I suppose that I'll just have to consign my fate to fad.

The Things which happen in the nation are important to you. A newspaper staff is important just as much as any other matter what use is made of knowledge.

In spite of the time and the energy you will spend in The Breeze, you will find the disappoint- ments you will meet, you will find real pleasure in the work. There's something of a thrill in seeing thousands of copies of the next issue which you will slip in these respects—its' human—and this column contains the usual news.

When do you usually go the theater? 3-1/2. 5-1/2. I'm going to see a picture. I'm going, I'm going. I'm not going—by the way, I'm going. I'm going. I'm going. I'm not going—by the way, I'm going.

Local Sextet Defeated In Final Tilt Of Season

Varity Outplays Opponents In Three Quarters Of Close Match

Outplaying their opponents in three quarters of the closest match of this season, the varsity basketball sextet was defeated by the Harrisonburg State Teachers College team 24-13, before 1,000 spectators in the Parmville gymnasium. At the end of the first quarter the score stood 6-4. The second quarter proved disastrous to the local girls, for their opponents poured in twelve points while H. T. C. scored only one foul shot. The whole team seemed to lose its ardor in the period of play,_trialing the half 1:0-6 in favor of Parmville.

Getting back to their competent playing in the third quarter, Harrisonburg stepped ahead of Parmville, sinking three goals to only one made by the opposing teachers.

The fourth period loomed in favor of Parmville, a point played by a 7-0 count, but the drop made by the locals in the second quarter absolved them for a victory. The final tally stood 24-13 in Parmville's favor.

Quick, sure, and Oliver, fast, were truly outstanding players for Harrisonburg. Parmville and Glover scored 7 and 1, respectively, while Fisher, 3, brought up the torpedo punters for the visitors, while each of the opposing forwards raked up 12 points apiece.

Although the team was defeated, it did its most expert playing of the season, and with the backing of the students and students of expertly tall girls.

This closes the varsity basketball season for the year; still, the other lads will play under the tithe of H. T. C.

Glee Club Offers Public Program

Presenting their second program of the campus this quarter, the college Glee Club, under the direction of Miss Rheta T. Schaeffer, appeared Monday night, March 6, at the United Brethren Church.

Stainet's cantata, "The Crossroad," composed by the group.

This organization, one of the most active on campus, has a thorough ability to adjust themselves to the needs of the college, to suit specialities in chorale singing, and to furnish a well trained choral group.

Last quarter the club gave a special choral program, a broadcast program, radio talks, and student presentations IPvVA in Harrisonburg, and took charge of the Christmas Vesper Service. This quarter it has sponsored the Virginia Military Institute Glee Club, Lexington, and the "Sextet Program" from Emory University, Atlanta, Ga.

Two Teams Equally Matched; Fletcher is High Scorer At Final Whistle

Playing Saturday night, March 2, the Froshmen junior varsity found its stiffest competitor to date in Petersburg High School. Fighting until the last how of the whistle, the visitors showed the spectators one of the best basketball games this season. The final score was 18 to 10 in the froshmen's favor.
