"German Democracy"

Mr. Klaus West of Bielefeld, Germany; Dr. Erich Zann, of Berlin; and Dr. Joseph Walpole, "class night program chairman announces, "Among the Spirits," how fortune-telling mediums enable "spirits" to return to deliver personal messages to their living friends and to do presumably supernatural things.

Dr. Gifford will be present for an encore, Dr. Walter J. Gifford, D.C., Mrs. Baker, Mrs. Curtis, Colleen Vandever, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Gifford, Dr. and Mrs. W. J. Gifford, Miss Mancha Holland, president of the German Club, will be present for an encore. The Madman Modern Dance will be presented by the student group before the 11:00 p.m. dance. The German Club will be present for the student group before the 11:00 p.m. dance.

The German Club will be present for the student group before the 11:00 p.m. dance. The theme of the evening will be "The German Constitution," and a variety of students will be present for the student group before the 11:00 p.m. dance.
Are You Guilty?

The way this student body of ours acted in assembly Wednesday was disgraceful. Throughout the hour students managed to do quite a bit of whispering, wriggling, and conversing. To write is fine; to eat and talk with friends is delightful. But that was not the point and all for this to be conducted. Common courtesy to the speaker demands that we be quiet, if not attentive and still, if not interested.

Are we really lacking in courtesy, good manners, and the social graces? Perhaps in our hearts we aren't, but our actions speak so loudly that they belie all else. Whatever we, the students, do about this problem, will be up to us, but some kind of student action is called for.

Go To The Polls

Mark Tuesday, March 8, as a red letter day on your calendar, because that day should be the culmination of a lot of thinking—a great deal of studying on your part. By that time, you should know the candidates for the six major offices and just what these girls stand for.

Since, on election days in the past, about half of the students on campus failed to go to the polls, the officers of the Student Government Association suggested campaigning in an effort to stir up more interest. You, the student body, accepted the suggestion, and campaigning has been underway for several days.

Tuesday is election day on the campus. Don't forget to go to the polls and cast your vote, behind which there is a lot of careful thought.

MAD-CHAT

Madam caption this week has really been "run down," what with everyone so excited about the candidates, badgers, ballots and an issue that has the student body in a thrall. Her name is print a week later. Plain humilitating. Some of us have scrap yards work which we've learned how to do the proper thing while in service. To be bold, I have taken it upon myself to write a few notes at the request of my friends.

Dear Madam_caption:

Goodness gracious! Have you ever seen or heard of more things happening the past week end! Frankly, I strain myself trying to keep up with all that goes on. (Many of my friends really need my help with this news activity.) Finances here is a gigantic list of the boys who did things of social import recently. We owe our sucess on the propriety of omitting the fact that dozens of us caught fois with loads of fun, too. Eh, what fellows? Some eyes had marvelous seeing.

"Serious that Harry Wood and Bob Nash had a scrummetry time in ye olde Harrisonburg this past week end. All Baccalum visited Chantilly, as we all know, and some of us couldn't find any of their friends. But he had loads of fun.

Maybe you've noticed that big de

Preston Dickerson is "going on". He's really just a friend out and about but he will be waiting for his Day.

"To say that V. J. M. bad only been next weekend, the center there should be open (thank goodness), and the M-C club will be coming soon. Does anybody ever have time to study, any more? This is almost time for the German Dance, and the fun that weekend promises, and the Greek groups on campus will be coming up with some new members this Saturday. Sigma Delta Rho held their rush party for this semester last Monday, and really only this strong that the men's group will be coming forth with something unique in the way of dancing. April mid-May. Speaking of the boys, as everyone has been, since the show last Friday night, they brought forth one of the best productions ever acted by a student group this season. "expert de corps" someone remarked, is something to they. One little boy who was in the chorus last winter was the first to tell that he wants to be a singer, and the second was the last to be named. "That's the end in these grades, and four wins in a row!"

Next week's going to be another one—Monday night the rally, Tuesday, the election, and Wednesday, Sophomore class day. Speaking of the symphony last night was all that we expected, and more, but what the campus needed for the sothing of senses, and a grand evening of music entertainment. More students listen to the concert. The last night would be welcomed.
