Dr. Gaines Will Give Address At Finals

Exercises to Begin June 3 and End with Gaines’ Speech on June 6

Dr. Prantis F. Gaines, President of Virginia Military Institute, Lexington, will deliver the commencement address at the graduation exercises of classes in V. M. I. to be held June 6. The final exercises will be begun Monday, June 3, at 7:00 p.m., with a reception to the graduating classes at Hillcrest, followed by a reception given by the music department in Wilson Hall. The Senior Banquet will be held Monday evening, June 6. Further plans for the days are incomplete.

College Day Program Saturday

The activities will continue Saturday at 11:00 a.m. with the Class Day exercises on the quadrangle. The class picture for this year will be shown in Wilson Hall. Later in the afternoon, the campus will be entertained by the faculty at an informal reception. "Divinae Musicae" in three acts will be presented by the Stratford Dramatic Club at 4:00 p.m.

The hats and gowns will be delivered Tuesday morning in Wilson Hall at 1:00 a.m. by Reverend W. L. Venable, the head of the Presbyterian Church, Richmond. Dr. Caron will be guest speaker at the T. W. Carlton Memorial dinner at 9:00 on Saturday night at 6:30 p.m. The Seniority Service will be held immediately after the T. W. Carlton Memorial dinner. The final exercises will be held Wednesday, June 5, and will terminate Monday, June 6, at 8:00 a.m., with the address to the graduating classes by Dr. F. P. Gaines.

Happy Feet

Clashing the May Day festivities, the annual dance will be held next Saturday night in Beed Gym. This year the shoes of Bob Riley, whose orchestra will play from 8:00 until 11:00 p.m. will be on the stage at the beginning of next week, Agnes Arnold, Chairman of the Social Committee, announced recently that the tickets will be $0.90 and students will be admitted free of charge to the Bob Riley dance.

The conestation and as guest speakers outstanding athletes from the area, will present various colleges and universities in the United States. Acceptance in sports, probably the most interesting speaker was Dr. Robert F. Johnson, Director of Health and Physical Education at Virginia Polytechnic Institute. He addressed the group on "Democracy and Dictatorship Trends in Physical Education." Dr. Johnson compared a basketball game to the middle course of the "T" of dictatorship and the "T" of democracy.

Cooperation-Swimming

We enter a game of basketball with certain restrictions and priviledges. We can’t dive at all, and we aren’t allowed outside because we only have individual freedom in order to have the privilege of being a member of the group. Neither the individual nor the group nor the member is more important; neither can function without the other, and they have their ups and downs together. This, Dr. Nash thinks, is the ideal middle ground.

In her talk on "Modern Trends in Women’s Athletic Association, in Relation to the Trends in Modern Colleges and Sports," Dr. Agnes Shugy Dugan, Head of Physical Education and director of the Women’s Athletic Association in the near future, according to an article in a recent issue of the Lexington News, will appear at 9:00 p.m. in the big gym. The Senior Dance will be presented by the Stratford Club and directed by Emma Landingham and directed by Emma Landingham. New, $50,000 Plant To Enter Construction Soon For Use Next Winter

Plans for the new heating plant, which will be constructed near the athletic swimming pool, are well under way according to a statement made by Dr. J. P. Drake, president of the Institute.

Wiley and Wilson, contractors of Lynchburg, are doing the plans. K. E. Lynch, head of the mechanical department of the plant, will be in charge of arrangements. He will be assisted by Roy Stalcup and Smoke suppressed, as was previously announced.

At Finals, the May Day pageant will be presented next Saturday afternoon, on the hill at Hillestake. The pageant will be performed by the Gang, consisting of children of all ages, representing the Glee Club, with a white dress of silk organza, adorned with large pearl set buttoned tight above the elbow and a Y neck with white feathers in the hair. The gowns has a shirred, fitted bodice and a full skirt with a train three and a quarter yards long.

The stage will be erected against the background of the side of Hillcrest, and the stage will be constructed before the dancing on the stage, except for the background of the side of Hillcrest, which will be altered.

We Love To Go To Camp, But—

In the spring practically everyone's fancy gaily turns to thoughts of camp. And why not? A week-end of (God knows) what place, with chess, forget-all games and all the other trials and tribulations that are the lot of the outdoor type—little wonder that the student body finds camp campable.

But even in this stimulant ointment the prov- ably is lacking. True, we have the question of the best anchored invitingly at the edge of the stream. One of its oarlocks is missing and nothing less than an Ancient Mariner could get any satisfaction out of navigating it. Rowing is great sport and a good boat would afford no end of pleasure.

In the case of the domestic prospect, Camp has been defined as a place where every prospect pleases and only the most minutia is vitally important. The worst, preparing meals for a hungry mob will probably never be a source of joy, but that goes along with everything. There is no laughing plate, glasses and silver that causes mutiny in the kitchen. No doubt much of the original equipment has been carelessly lost, but it is a task too easily be remodeled.

At every meal a desperate effort is made to squeeze in enough chairs to accommodate the crowd. The chairs themselves take up room and very rarely do we find ourselves squarely in front of our plate. The chairs themselves take up room and very rarely do we find ourselves squarely in front of our plate.

We don't want to appear ungrateful for the un- derstanding of the dining courts, neither do we want to pose as so disgustingly feminine that nothing short of Palm Beach satisfies. We don't expect the student body's fancy wends campward. It's the shortage of serving dishes, less than an Ancient Mariner could get any satisfaction from.

A Museum For Madison

For many unsuccessful attempts to estab- lish a museum at our Alma Mater, I am interested. Indeed, it is just a little bit surprising to have a exhibit of tangible, interesting things to be shown to visitors. We think a museum is a rather outdated idea, and there is an institution with a reputation and the progress of it. Especially do we need to start a collection now. Visitors interested in the history of the college have to wonder about our institution's new name. Therefore it would be quite appropriate to show them objects associated with James Madison. I think that there isn't an institution university student who doesn't know Madison as a man and isn't interested in wanting to know more about the university's new name. Recently he purchased a silver medal, cast in 1807, during Madison's administration. It is an unusually large medal signifying peace and harmony between the white and red races. On one side is an excellent engraving of the head of Madison. Recon- ciliation for more than a century, this medal can be appreciated not only by a connoisseur but also by an ordinary individual.

I want to make a statement with regard to the change in the goal of the A. A. Council, which is the hub of the A. A. Club. The goal was to provide a place and setting. I am not criticizing the fact that our May Day programs may be criticized. I am saying that they are—but it would seem that assistance from the council would be such a relief to those few who have the responsibility. They might be willing.

Some girls who have fine talents are left out of these programs because their talents are not known. Although it is possible for us to help select the characters (including everyone in the program except the court), these programs are not organized because all classes are represented on the council.

Can you imagine how much more a part of the whole theme the court would be if its members were dressed in the costumes of the royalty of the country from which the theme was taken? It seems to be a tradition everywhere at May Day time to wear flowing frocks regardless of the general atmosphere of the program.

Someone will say that the costumes suggested would be too expensive and that the girls would not be able to use them again. It does seem that way, but we have an obligation to consider decorations for the girls who are in the court. Sometimes, cost cannot afford it and therefore lose the honor of being in the court. Readin’ ‘n’ Writein’

By Evelyn Rords and Mary J. Wright

Alition students at the University of Richmond there is a problem about escape so called on their “H” average subjects. As a student project, it is being conformed by the faculty, who believe that at first it was merely an attempt of the students to get out of some unnecessary work. Some of the faculty have already expressed themselves as being wholly in accord with the plan; in no case the argument for exams being that an examination is a test of a student's knowledge.

Advise to those who plan to put in a season like “year-round—practise more—avoid cancer!” Two faculty members of the Albany Medical College tells the members of the Pedagogical Societies that too much sun can be a tax on skin cancer. Two much ultraviolet rays, they say, draws a concentration of chromosome of the blood and other substances which, when exposed to the sun, are known to cause cancer.

Sleeping in Glass Costs Money

In a survey made by an Essex Cheaters College reporter, it was found that for every minute the student sleeps in class—and they do waste 1½ cents, for it takes 63 cents for every hour each student is in class. This 63 cents includes only 15 cents for instruction, while the remainder is used for upkeep of buildings and various other expenses of the college. These statistics are based on the $131.11 per term charged at this college. If the entire sum $150 is for education. It would be interesting to make the same survey of this college.

As advertised in a college Ter- mail—dining and dancing, featuring Benny Goodman’s Recordings. Before long we’ll be advertising our big jam session of every- thing for every student in attendance. We have forty-four contestants represented R. E. Lee and East Radford and Farmville, the University of Richmond, William and Mary College, and Randolph-Macon Woman’s College.

The French division of the tournament was conducted here by Miss Joseph Bell, director of modern languages in the city of Richmond, and the papers will be sent to the University of Virginia to be graded. The questions were prepared at William and Mary and at Y. M. I. Nasa.

The contest in this group represented Randolph High School, Winchaster, Toms Brook High School; Randolph-Macon Academy, Frank Royal; and R. E. Lee High School, Staunton.

The Latin tests were prepared and will be graded at the College of William and Mary. The thirty-five contest are represented R. E. Lee and Beverly High School, Toms Brook School; Woodstock High School, Valley High School, Hot Springs; Handley High School, Winchester; Bibb High School; Staunton Draft High School; Toms Brook High School; and Randolph High School, Staunton.

The contestants and their sponsors were entertained at luncheons by Al- sto’s and, afterwards, at the motor club, “Least Horton’s,” in Wilson Andertons.

Tennis Courts Prepared For Tournament

Programming the girls from all classes with the advanced sports leaders and the advanced sports class, Miss Savages and Miss Pertel are co-sponsoring for giving instruction to beginners in tennis.

There will be a tournament held for these beginners to test the skill they have acquired during this period of instruction.

Sports leaders are hoping to work out a plan by which students can sign up in advance for the use of the courts, so that tournament players may be assured of a definite time to run off their matches.

It has been further decided that there will be a ladder tournament for individual competition with a college emblem as top award.

Broken practices and individual training are being emphasized as preparation for this tournament.

To keep the courts in shape, stu- dents must strictly observe this rule: “No footwork except flat soled shoes is allowed on the courts. This excludes rubber soled sports shoes or sneakers with any heel.”

The trip is planned to include run by sports leaders who take charge of the various games. Several activities are going on at the same time and students are allowed to go from one to another at will.
