Madison Has Delegates To Hockey Tournament

Kay Merrill, Ellen Ashton, and Joan Helder, members of Madison's hockey team, were selected among those invited to participate in the Blue Ridge hockey tournament. As explained previously, the Blue Ridge is the regional tournament preceding the sectional tournament and the sectional in turn proceeds the nationals.

Those attending the tournament this year were Pat Dean, Janet D'Allesie, Helen Woolfolk, Lou Brown, Pat Dean, Joan Holder, Carol Dinsmore, Ellen Ashton, Marilyn Soares, and Carolyn Jordan. They were accompanied by Miss Dickens, Miss Hester and Miss Soares.

On Friday afternoon, the girls ventured to Roanoke for the Blue Ridge hockey tournament. As folk, Lou Brown, Pat Dean, Joan Ashton, Carol Dinsmore, Ellen Ashton, and Miss Soares set out for the Big Uty at the hospitality of the American student abroad. Willing hands and willing hearts have opened their homes and families have opened their shops to 300 students and employers who participated in the placement tour. By this means the student's budget is managed and the opportunity for the student to see Europe on inexpensive tours is made possible. A native of Harrisonburg, Carolyn Hester, was dismissed by Hollins College to attend this convention and the opportunity for the student to see Europe on inexpensive tours is made possible.

During the second half, the Sweet Wisdom girls were in a state of exhilaration when the girls were sparked by that wonderful intangible—the desire to win. It was a definite hole between the back of the Sweet Wisdom girls and the back of the Hollins girls. As the final score (3-3) was their game, victory for Madison (regardless of the minor goaldifferential) must have a letter of recommendation from one of the many representatives of the Blue Ridge area. Those girls were Lou Brown, center halfback; Joan Holder, right fullback; Kay Merrill, left fullback. The Madison girls found themselves in a state of exhilaration when the committee announced that Joan Holder and Ellen Ashton would be attending as members of Blue Ridge II. This is another in a series of biographical sketches telling about those busy secretaries on campus.

Community Concert Presents Orchestra

Community Concerts Association will present "The Master Players Legion" as its second concert of the current season. The concert will be composed of string and wind instruments, and will direct the Swiss orchestra, will bring a varied program of violin and piano concerts, as well as other numbers by the orchestra.

Admission is by membership card, as this is not a free program.

Senior Class Presents "A Star In The Night"

Tonight Wilson Hall, Madison College was the scene of this season's premiere performance of "A Star in the Night." Produced on location in Harrisonburg, Virginia, the show was co-directed by Eldon Layman and Marilyn Miller with an all-star cast headlined by the Class of '60. The campus's favorite song stylists were backed by the "Chorus of Japan." Under the direction of Dick Barnes in collaboration with Ruby Wray who artistically manned a second set of ivories.

On the set, members of the Red and Black are dismissed by Hollywood director, Mr. Hinchcock (Mr. Eldon Layman). On the succeeding set of the OLD ROSE ANTIQUE SHOP, directed by "Whistle While You Work" shopkeepers Mary Beth Hurley fails in selling to shoppers but succeeds with the French star Monique (Ann Brook). In an performance Director Hitchcock frees MONI QUE, and orders her "Take Some Tom, Dick, and Harry to fill the vacancy with a new discovery — a secretary!

Tom, Dick and Harry set out for Dallas, Texas, U.S.A. and Betty Bickford (Grace Redick), director of the Secretaries Lead Busy Lives At Home And At College

Other busy secretaries on campus are Lyman G. Seese, Jo Ann Betteridge, and Mrs. Helen Kenneth. Among these services are included discussion class night props are Betty Goodman, Richard Fogle, and Mrs. Helen Kenneth.

This is another in a series of biographical sketches telling about those busy secretaries on campus.

Community Concert Presents Orchestra

Community Concerts Association will present "The Master Players Legion" as its second concert of the current season. The concert will be composed of string and wind instruments, and will direct the Swiss orchestra, will bring a varied program of violin and piano concerts, as well as other numbers by the orchestra.

Admission is by membership card, as this is not a free program.

Senior Class Presents "A Star In The Night"

Tonight Wilson Hall, Madison College was the scene of this season's premiere performance of "A Star in the Night." Produced on location in Harrisonburg, Virginia, the show was co-directed by Eldon Layman and Marilyn Miller with an all-star cast headlined by the Class of '60. The campus's favorite song stylists were backed by the "Chorus of Japan." Under the direction of Dick Barnes in collaboration with Ruby Wray who artistically manned a second set of ivories.

On the set, members of the Red and Black are dismissed by Hollywood director, Mr. Hinchcock (Mr. Eldon Layman). On the succeeding set of the OLD ROSE ANTIQUE SHOP, directed by "Whistle While You Work" shopkeepers Mary Beth Hurley fails in selling to shoppers but succeeds with the French star Monique (Ann Brook). In an performance Director Hitchcock frees MONI QUE, and orders her "Take Some Tom, Dick, and Harry to fill the vacancy with a new discovery — a secretary!

Tom, Dick and Harry set out for Dallas, Texas, U.S.A. and Betty Bickford (Grace Redick), director of the Secretaries Lead Busy Lives At Home And At College

Other busy secretaries on campus are Lyman G. Seese, Jo Ann Betteridge, and Mrs. Helen Kenneth. Among these services are included discussion class night props are Betty Goodman, Richard Fogle, and Mrs. Helen Kenneth.

This is another in a series of biographical sketches telling about those busy secretaries on campus.
School Spirit

Everyone has his own opinion of what school spirit implies, but few take it seriously enough. School spirit at Madison assumes a different role than the one pictured at most colleges of a roaring crowd at a football game. School spirit does mean support of our athletic teams, and it goes much deeper than that. School spirit is a deep-felt pride in all Madisonian accomplishments.

This pride can be evidenced in many ways. Through observance of rules, attendance at college sponsored functions, and care of college property, students can display their school spirit. But, quite disheartening, to "see eight couples raid into the library and out again all at once", for what could have turned out to be a capacity crowd. We are sure that the partidoers were not being chauvinistic. They would conduct themselves as ladies and gentlemen, and let the administrator of the new building take the organization on campus a lot of money!

Let's Support The Dances

In our age of "push-button" gadgets, of the time saving inventions, man is losing sight of the pleasure gained from working. Oh, to be sure there are times that work becomes drudgery, but then too, more than not, there are times that we derive a sense of security and well-being from a job well done.

We often get the impression that we lower ourselves by actual work. Perhaps one reason some of us derive no pleasure from work is that we are not satisfied with our work. We need to place a little of ourselves into it, and do something from the task. To be sure, man must work, therefore, why not enjoy what he is doing. How surprised would he be to learn that the work he would do for fun would be turned into a product, a joy to its manufacturer. It is seldom we find dedicated individuals, dedicated to the task. To be sure, man must work, therefore, why not enjoy that for which you are paid? It's not so.

Let's Try The Dances

Maybe big dances aren't the answer to Madison's social events. But few take it seriously enough. School spirit at Madison as- sumes a different role than the one pictured at most colleges of a roaring crowd at a football game. School spirit does mean support of our athletic teams, but it isn't needed in a rah-rah manner. If you have pride in your school, the spirit will come easily.

Enjoy Your Work

In our age of "push-button" gadgets, of the time saving inventions, man is losing sight of the pleasure gained from working. Oh, to be sure there are times that work becomes drudgery, but then too, more than not, there are times that we derive a sense of security and well-being from a job well done.

We often get the impression that we lower ourselves by actual work. Perhaps one reason some of us derive no pleasure from work is that we are not satisfied with our work. We need to place a little of ourselves into it, and do something from the task. To be sure, man must work, therefore, why not enjoy what he is doing. How surprised would he be to learn that the work he would do for fun would be turned into a product, a joy to its manufacturer. It is seldom we find dedicated individuals, dedicated to the task. To be sure, man must work, therefore, why not enjoy that for which you are paid? It's not so.

Letters To Editor

Dear Editor,

A campaigner or a camper? A promoter or a provoker? A wing or a weight? Who designed this place for "me.

Let's Try The Dances

Maybe big dances aren't the answer to Madison's social events. But few take it seriously enough. School spirit at Madison as- sumes a different role than the one pictured at most colleges of a roaring crowd at a football game. School spirit does mean support of our athletic teams, but it isn't needed in a rah-rah manner. If you have pride in your school, the spirit will come easily.

Enjoy Your Work

In our age of "push-button" gadgets, of the time saving inventions, man is losing sight of the pleasure gained from working. Oh, to be sure there are times that work becomes drudgery, but then too, more than not, there are times that we derive a sense of security and well-being from a job well done.

We often get the impression that we lower ourselves by actual work. Perhaps one reason some of us derive no pleasure from work is that we are not satisfied with our work. We need to place a little of ourselves into it, and do something from the task. To be sure, man must work, therefore, why not enjoy what he is doing. How surprised would he be to learn that the work he would do for fun would be turned into a product, a joy to its manufacturer. It is seldom we find dedicated individuals, dedicated to the task. To be sure, man must work, therefore, why not enjoy that for which you are paid? It's not so.

Let's Support The Dances

In our age of "push-button" gadgets, of the time saving inventions, man is losing sight of the pleasure gained from working. Oh, to be sure there are times that work becomes drudgery, but then too, more than not, there are times that we derive a sense of security and well-being from a job well done.

We often get the impression that we lower ourselves by actual work. Perhaps one reason some of us derive no pleasure from work is that we are not satisfied with our work. We need to place a little of ourselves into it, and do something from the task. To be sure, man must work, therefore, why not enjoy what he is doing. How surprised would he be to learn that the work he would do for fun would be turned into a product, a joy to its manufacturer. It is seldom we find dedicated individuals, dedicated to the task. To be sure, man must work, therefore, why not enjoy that for which you are paid? It's not so.

Let's Support The Dances

In our age of "push-button" gadgets, of the time saving inventions, man is losing sight of the pleasure gained from working. Oh, to be sure there are times that work becomes drudgery, but then too, more than not, there are times that we derive a sense of security and well-being from a job well done.

We often get the impression that we lower ourselves by actual work. Perhaps one reason some of us derive no pleasure from work is that we are not satisfied with our work. We need to place a little of ourselves into it, and do something from the task. To be sure, man must work, therefore, why not enjoy what he is doing. How surprised would he be to learn that the work he would do for fun would be turned into a product, a joy to its manufacturer. It is seldom we find dedicated individuals, dedicated to the task. To be sure, man must work, therefore, why not enjoy that for which you are paid? It's not so.

Let's Support The Dances

In our age of "push-button" gadgets, of the time saving inventions, man is losing sight of the pleasure gained from working. Oh, to be sure there are times that work becomes drudgery, but then too, more than not, there are times that we derive a sense of security and well-being from a job well done.

We often get the impression that we lower ourselves by actual work. Perhaps one reason some of us derive no pleasure from work is that we are not satisfied with our work. We need to place a little of ourselves into it, and do something from the task. To be sure, man must work, therefore, why not enjoy what he is doing. How surprised would he be to learn that the work he would do for fun would be turned into a product, a joy to its manufacturer. It is seldom we find dedicated individuals, dedicated to the task. To be sure, man must work, therefore, why not enjoy that for which you are paid? It's not so.

Let's Support The Dances

In our age of "push-button" gadgets, of the time saving inventions, man is losing sight of the pleasure gained from working. Oh, to be sure there are times that work becomes drudgery, but then too, more than not, there are times that we derive a sense of security and well-being from a job well done.

We often get the impression that we lower ourselves by actual work. Perhaps one reason some of us derive no pleasure from work is that we are not satisfied with our work. We need to place a little of ourselves into it, and do something from the task. To be sure, man must work, therefore, why not enjoy what he is doing. How surprised would he be to learn that the work he would do for fun would be turned into a product, a joy to its manufacturer. It is seldom we find dedicated individuals, dedicated to the task. To be sure, man must work, therefore, why not enjoy that for which you are paid? It's not so.
CLUB CORNER

The Student Education Association will meet November 12 at 6:30 in the campus club. Helene M. Frank and Dr. Raymon. Pointdexter will speak. Their topic will be "Requirements Necessary for Virginia Certification." Everyone is cordially invited to attend this meeting.

The club would like to stress American Education Week which is coming up November 8-14th. Also, the Virginia State Convention, being held November 13-14 at Hotel Roanoke, Roanoke, Virginia, is on this month's agenda. Those attending the convention from Madison are Angie Boyse and Hallie Totten, Helen Carayus, Suzanne Calo, who is a member of State E E A committee, and the sponsors Mr. John Stewart and Dr. Elmer Smith.

The club has just elected officers for the coming year: Mr. president, Martha Beatty; vice-president, Cynthia Coolsa, secretary, Joan Pharr; treasurer, Diane Lester; reporter, Iris Capron; and program chairman, Jerry Birdthulme.

A campaign is underway for the election of new members who will be initiated November 28. Dr. Men-gubler will speak on scholarship for graduate students at this meeting. The Madison College Concertor Orchestra will soon be having auditions for a female vocalist for their spring tour which will be during the week of April 4-8. It is hoped that much interest will be shown.

Dr. Cecil D. Eby, Jr., will speak on "The Past and the Present in 'The Old Smith' at the meeting of the Ex Libris, November 19.

Just a reminder everyone, don't forget to return your student union photo cards before November 9-24. The sign-up sheets will be posted soon.

Initiation of new members was the foremost business of the members of Le Club Francus as they met in Converse Hall on Tuesday, October 27. The direction of the club's president, Lois Howard, ten new members repeated their pledge. The new members are as follows: Sandra Lee Sparks, Janie Simms, Joann Palmer, Jessie Letter, Pat Petrun, Inge Schramm, Becky Walton, Sandra Hepp, Carol Almond and Ronald Taylor.

A安装 ceremony for members of the Lutheran Student Association will be held in place of the regular meeting of the L.S.A. on November 10 in Converse reception room. All members will wear white. Please make a special effort to attend this ceremony as the picture for the annual will be taken at that time. Plans will also be discussed concerning the retreat on November 14-15 at Culpeper, Virginia.

Psychology Club Will Organize

The education and psychology department is inaugurating a psychology club with the intention of affiliation with Psi Chi, a national honorary psychology society.

Students majoring and minoring in psychology and, with at least eight semester hours of psychology or those who have had six hours and are at present taking at least two more are eligible for membership.

Dr. Ben R. Patton, psychology professor, will be the adviser for this new club. Students interested in becoming members should sign up on the sheet posted in Wilson Room 23 and also contact Dr. Patton in his office.

Hixon To Represent Fraternity At W & L

Joan Hixon, a member of Sigma Kappa Sorority on campus has been nominated by Phi Gamma Delta fraternity to represent them in the Homecoming festivities at Washington and Lee University, Lexington, Virginia.

Free State Passes

Brenda Alexander
Carole Buhl
Judy Coffman
Elizabeth Frante
Cathy Kennedy
Andrea McCluskey
Bonnie Oyler
Billie Scruggs
Larry Armstrong
Jerry Bartholomew

FABIAN in "HOUND DOG MAN"

FABIAN in "HOUND DOG MAN"

NOW SHOWING THRU WED., NOV. 11th

NEW THIRD FLOOR

COMING SOON

Three

Va. Museum Of Fine Arts Has Exhibition In Wilson Hall

Correct and incorrect methods of framing pictures are exhibited in Wilson Hall by the Virginia Museum of Fine Arts. Shown above is Helen Carayus examining the incorrect method.

Great Uncle Jackson is hanging over the ping-pong table. His picture, that is, and it's definitely out of place.

This is one of the many problems of hanging and framing pictures featured at the current exhibit on the third floor of Wilson Hall. The exhibition, given by the Virginia Museum of Fine Arts will be at the college until November 14.

The finish, design, and texture of the frame should be chosen with the type of picture, to be put in the frame in mind. These two elements can enhance or bring out the quality of the picture.

The depth of the frame should also coincide with the type of picture. The deep shadow box type of frame is suitable for flat color patterns, while simplicity of style calls for simplicity of framing.

The best picture and the finest frame improperly hung becomes an incongruous element in a room. Other factors to consider when hanging a picture are scale, character, location, height, lighting, balanced type of materials used to hang the picture.

The size of the picture and weight of the pattern must be in scale with the surroundings. The character should be in character with the room. Rooms which are gay should contain gay pictures. A formal setting calls for a formal picture. Rooms with a realistic atmosphere should have pictures which are realistic to the eye.

The best location for a picture is a natural location. A large picture should hang, jungle wall space. Several small pictures grouped well may also be used on a large expanse of wall. An important picture may be used as an axis with furniture grouped around it.

Pictures should be hung eye level or with the center line approximately five feet five inches from the floor. They may be hung lower if they will be viewed mostly from a sitting position, such as in a dining room.

A picture should be attached directly to the wall from the back of the picture. If nails may not be used in the wall a thin wire from both edges of the picture should be used rather than the heavy rope type of material which is attached to the wall only at one point. Pictures hung in this manner will tend to tilt and always be at an angle to the wall.

Of no less importance is the back-ground of the picture. A dull background should be chosen. Pictures should be placed against a neutral wall tone or against wall color which repeats or harmonizes with a color in the painting. A muddy or dark background makes the painting seem lifeless, it is better to give hints for colors of other furnishings in the room.

Favorities From Our Hit Selection Of College Sportewear At Reasonable Prices

- Ivy Shag Sweaters
- Headbidders
- Wool Scarves
- Car Coats
- Gloves
- Skirts

All designed with the Madison Girl in mind.

Dressy Dresses TOO!

Jimmies

Dress Shop

Just A Minute Off Main Up East Market

CHARLES & DOLLY

PHOTOGRAPHERS

OF HARRISBURG

LEGGETT'S

Watch For Opening Dates Of Our New Third Floor
The Extramural Hockey Team finally found the goal as they tied Sweatt Briar 3-3 after dropping the first game of the Blue Ridge Tournament to Hollies J-O. Playing superb hockey the team drew favorable comments from all around. Scoring for Madison was Pat Dean with one goal and Kay Merrill with two.

Those selected to go to the Southeast Tournament were Ellen Ashton, Joan Fields, and Kay Merrill. In the all-star game between the first and second team Kay again found the range for the second team's only goal. The goal tied the game up at 1-1 which stood as the final score. These girls travel to Hollins the 14th of this month to participate in the Southeast Tournament.

This year proved to be an excellent year for archery. Tournament results showed Nancy M. Lee as the intermediate winner, and Jeanne Benson as the beginning winner. Special recognition should be given to Micky Lockovich and Larry Davis — men students that took time out to participate. Congratulations Peggy and Brenda for a job well done.

Fencing intramurals found 17 interested people out on the field. For those of you who are interested, fencing meets on Monday, Tuesday, and Thursday at 4:00. It isn't too late to take advantage of this sport which is another of the many sponsored by the Athletic Association. Men as well as women are invited to participate so if you are interested get in touch with Linda Quist as soon as possible.

The Massanutten climb sponsored by the A.A. seems to have been a big success — only two snakes were spotted according to Billie Jean Cook. Thirty-six hikers did climb the peak thereby making it a reality. Plans for another such climb in the spring have been suggested but nothing definite has been settled. Congratulations to the junior and senior physical education majors for the job you did on the Freshman Field Hockey Day.

Don't forget Madison takes on Longwood Saturday, November 7, at 2:00. The all-star team picked from the Freshman Field Hockey Day will play a game before the extramural team takes the field.

So until the next time remember — "Nothing astonishes men so much as common sense and plain dealing."

— Dr. Johnson

Letter of Thanks

Below is a recent note to Dean Garber from Barb Rymer, a freshman who had to leave school because of illness.

Dear Dean Garber:

This is just a short note to tell you how much I appreciated your letter. My condition remains the same and I am still in the hospital. The doctors don't know when I will be permitted to leave. But he did say that after I left the hospital I would have to rest at home for a few weeks. Then I could return to Madison.

I am trying to keep up with my studies while I am here. My roommate is sending my assignments to me. I can't get over how kind the faculty is to me. I have received several letters from my professors. I came from a high school composed of four thousand students. Naturally you didn't receive much individual attention. But Madison is wonderful. Everyone takes a special interest in the students.

Once again, Dean Garber, I want to thank you for the lovely letter. I appreciated it from the depth of my heart.

Admiringly yours,

Barbara Rymer

---

Psychology Students Plan Staunton Trip

The abnormal psychology class is planning a field trip to Western State Hospital, a mental institution in Staunton, on Wednesday, November 18. The class will be accompanied by Dr. Ben K. Patton, psychology instructor, and Dr. Clyde Shorts, professor emeritus.

Kappa Delta Pi To Have Tapping

Wednesday, November 11, is Kappa Delta Pi Day. Kappa Delta Pi, an Honor Society in Education, will hold its first semester tapping in the assembly on that day. To climax the day, we will have a meeting at 6:30 p.m. in Alumni for both old and new members. Miss Grove will be the speaker.

For those who do not know about Kappa Delta Pi, it is an honor society in education and its purpose is to encourage high professional, intellectual, and personal standards, and to recognize outstanding contributions to education. Eligible for membership are juniors and seniors in the upper quintile of their class. (All members please remember to wear white on Wednesday.)

Sir, if it hasn't got it there, it hasn't got it!

Old Dr. Sam has done it again — brought his dictionary up to date in terms of modern Winston usage. Winston (will'ston), n. A cigarette with Filter-Blend on one end and a wise man his dictionary up to date in terms of modern Winston usage. (The section Filter-Blend on one end and a wise man his dictionary up to date in terms of modern Winston usage.)

Filter-Blend (fil'ter-blend), n. A happy blend of art and science. Light, mild, flavorful tobaccos are artfully selected, then scientifically prepared to please smoking.

Slogan (slo'gan), n. (e.g., Winston tastes good like a cigarette should). A statement of disputed grammar but unquestioned fact.

Fibre-Blend (fil'br-blend), n. A happy marriage of art and science. Light, mild, flavorful tobaccos are artfully selected, then scientifically prepared to please smoking.