Wake Up and Be Curious

Curiosity, educators say, should be a salient part of every student’s mental equipment. But curiosity, like coffee and cigarettes, is available in small doses. There are several reasons. There is the Winzelian sort which snoops and spies into other people’s affairs, never realizing that some luscious morsel of gossip is pro- \text{...}
Three Girls and an Am\nA Man, Age 0, Make Stafford \nWell the Commencement Play Any\nway

When asked what kind of movie \nthe kids, she answered, "Almost any \nkind-cowboy, mystery, or love \nstory, just so they turn out hap\npily." As for Shirley Temple, she \ncan't say much. "Of course, Shirley \nwill have a part that's big enough, \nbut she's such a sissy. I like Jan's \nbrother better, 'cause she's a little \nbrother.

Jack, who is ten, hoboes with \nopen and empty eyes, but the \ngirls have the great only in the men's \nplay. "Do I like the girls? Oh, boy! Say, I went to stay in Rich\nmond, and one time I got lost. They \nfound me with a bunch of the girls \ngirls, going around kissing them.

The reporter asked, with interest, \n"Do you have a regular girl?"

"Well, you've got me there," grin\ned Jack. "I don't know you—

Four Piano Students Present Recital

Piano students of Mrs. Robert H. \nSlaughter presented a recital last \nweek in Harrison Hall. The first \nselection was Beethoven's "Pasto\nfino," played by Dorothy Thomas. \nJean Leachman followed with Chopin's "Prelude Opus 14 No. 6.

Two selections, Bartók's "Berceuse" \nand Beethoven's "Fur Elise with Vari\nations," were played by Nellie \nCrenshaw. Helen Wise then presented \nHenderson's "I'll Be a Bird." Thomas \nagain appeared on the program, play\ning Tchaikovsky's "Andante" from \n"Sixth Symphony" and "Grieg's and the \nMountain King." Crenshaw re\nturned to present "Consolation" by \nMendelssohn and "Rusti Bug" by \nSchumann. Rachmaninoff's "Prelude \nC Sharp Minor," played by Wise, was \nthe final selection on the pro\ncertation.

A.A.U.W. Tenth Anniversary Observed

Former Presidents Trace History of Club Through Last Decade's Work

The local chapter of the A.A.U.W. observed the tenth anniversary of its establishment with a dinner meet- ing at the Shenandoah Monday evening. Miss Peru Hoover, of the library department, outgoing president of the organization, was in charge of the meeting. Miss Mary Stubblefield, Harrisonburg, is the incoming presi- dent. Miss Mary Stubblefield, Harrisonburg, is the incoming presi- dent. Miss Myrtle Wilson, of the Home Economics Department, and Mrs. H. E. Gibbons, former president of the local chapter, were also among those who traced the history of the organization.

Miss Virginia Barlow, Harrisonburg, is the first president of the local A. A. U. W. chapter and for- merly librarian at the college, was largely responsible for the founding of the chapter. She is deceased.

Six Hundred and Seven Girls Housed for 39-40
Six hundred and seven students have been housed in their respective dormitories for the coming session of 39-40. Mrs. Annie Bailey Cook, Dean of Women, announced recently. Among this number are three hun- dred and twelve Freshmen, one hun- dred and sixty-three Sophomores, one hundred and ninety Juniors, and six Seniors who are returning to com- plete their courses.

On the whole, this enlargement shows a decided increase over the corresponding enrollment of last year.
