Wonders of Chemistry in Manufacturing and the Home, Told and Illustrated.

"Creative Chemistry" was the subject of the lecture given here by Ed- ward Slosson, scientist, on Tuesday evening. The beginning of his talk by his pleasant personality. This was manifested in each of the subjects of chemistry.

Dr. Slosson concluded the book and see a formula," said Dr. Rossen, "That's no harder to solve than a

"And another thing—you go to a puppet show and they make your clowns and blinks your eyes up. Try this in chem- istry."

Dr. Slosson continued to tell the wonders of chemistry—look indigo pigment only a year ago, to make different kinds of kitchen utensils, for example, he uses eluted tan- nins of milk. He also displayed skates of silk dyed with colors obtained in the laboratory. "Now," he said, "You're getting a little in- to chemistry."

(Continued to Page 3, Column 3.)

MODIFICATION SUGGESTED OF RATING STUDENTS.

In his address at the Educa- tional Conference of District I, Vir- ginia, held in Harrisonburg, Virginia, March 10, 1927, John J. Turner, President of Vir- ginia Polytechnic Institute, described vividly the forward movement being made by the students. He accused several factors for the short- coming of the student body. In the Constitution, a survey of the state government, and a survey of the educational system.

Dr. Turner made many valuable suggestions for the further im- provement of Virginia education. In the conclusion of his talk he stated this thought:

"It seems to me that a good plan would be to give all students the same pay for their tuition on a sliding scale, in inverse proportion to the re- cords they make. Under this plan everyone who can satisfy the standard requirements for admission will be admitted free of tuition for the first year. If he makes a satisfactory re- cord he will be permitted to continue in college.

"If he fails in this work re- quired he will be permitted to continue in college. He must pay in a most stealthy fashion."

"Perhaps the biggest problem is the subject of chemistry.

(MAY DAY BASKETS ARE GIVEN EXTENSIVE INSPECTION.)

May Day was celebrated on the campus in royal fashion. The day was clear and the crisp springtime. Each faculty member on the campus found at the door a lovely basket of flowers or fruit. Honor men, big sisters, and normals bring in from similar gifts at their doors.

The gifts were made by the girls themselves. A paper or early on the morning of May 1 was delivered. The gift was delivered in a most attractive fashion. If the girls make any number of table settings the morning of May 1, they by delivering each girl's table setting on the morning of May 1, they will be permitted to continue in college. They must pay in a most stealthy fashion."

"Perhaps the biggest problem is the subject of chemistry.

(MAY DAY BASKETS ARE GIVEN EXTENSIVE INSPECTION.)

May Day was celebrated on the campus in royal fashion. The day was clear and the crisp springtime. Each faculty member on the campus found at the door a lovely basket of flowers or fruit. Honor men, big sisters, and normals bring in from similar gifts at their doors.

The gifts were made by the girls themselves. A paper or early on the morning of May 1 was delivered. The gift was delivered in a most attractive fashion. If the girls make any number of table settings the morning of May 1, they will be permitted to continue in college. They must pay in a most stealthy fashion.

There were two types of baskets made by the committee.

(CALANDER.)

Saturday, May 7—College Band Picnic. The college band will be held at the location. The college will be held at the location. The college band will be held at the location. The college will be held at the location.

Saturday, May 14—Field Day. Students go camping.

Freshman girls give entertainment in Worley Band Hall.

(Continued to page 3, Column 3.)
COMMENDATION. Every girl is resolved to legalize her words by consulting Webster. The Breezer admires good make-up and is proud to have received that honor. Hereby, one and all, are agreed to aim nearer the 100 mark for the next contest.

A short time to teach a topic he is going to make the best of every minute. His ennui. Really he looked quite distinguished.

"The world owes us entertainment, but just "being bored" doesn't appear to our advantage; for wouldn't it be terrible not to hear myself think? "I'll never walk up my garden path; I'll never walk up my garden path;" a picture on the wall.

BEING BORED. There comes the welcome passing of a once popular fad. Not so long ago it was quite the rage to "be bored." The usual everyday pleasures and pastimes were so "tiresome." Now, "being bored" is quite the rage.

I possess a huge-bottle of perfume. As I walked into the leading Room I wondered, from past experience, if I would be unable to sit down.

"You're welcome."
"Barren Ground" portrays life as it is from romance to realism. Where women once remain, she now quired in reality.

NEXT YEAR’S ROOMS- MATES SIGN UP

One has made truly to realize that the school year is drawing to a more distinctive close than the subjects of the curriculum arranged for next year is to be more evident. Though, for everybody to be signing up for 1927, it is uncertain. And cards have been placed in the lobby of Miss Hensen for this purpose. The cards bear blanks on which are the present room, and three choices, respectively, as to next year’s rooms.

Seniors will have first choice of rooms, junior remaining in the present room will have a greater choice of retaining her room than if she changes, likewise, a girl who wishes to stay in her present dormitory will have a sure choice coming back to her dormitory than one who is not there now.

This choice of rooms and dormitories is allowed in order to make condition, comprised and planning to those returning.

(Signed from Page 1, Column 1.)

The changeable weather has not only the bare necessities of life, the biggest idea of the remaining in Virginia known as poor white.

Dorinda, the heroine, is the daughter of a religious fanatic who endured only the call. She returns home, with new ideas, and a real life of her to exist. She is in love with a boy, and three choices, respectively, as to next year’s rooms.

VALLEY BOOK SHOP

Ruth Eastham and Mrs. W. H. Davis.

Loch Lewis was Helen Browns.

S. C. T. pin, rings & novelties in silk hose, at our present site.

Helen Brown was Virginia Goddard.

Wonders of synthetic chemistry as the manufacture of Rayon, silk, rubber, synthetic fibers, and ivory are explained and illustrated in the concrete products. Mr. Millin is even more interested and clever in speaking than in writing. His wit even allowed him to write a newspaper article, and clever in speaking than in writing.

One person cannot go out for both track and baseball.

"Forewarned, forearmed."

Small Colored Boy—No, suh, boss; little tin, Rastus?

It is a girl's dream almost a year.

"Why is it a little over two feet?"

“Barren Ground” portrays life as it is from romance to realism. Where women once remain, she now quired in reality.

NEXT YEAR’S ROOMS- MATES SIGN UP

One has made truly to realize that the school year is drawing to a more distinctive close than the subjects of the curriculum arranged for next year is to be more evident. Though, for everybody to be signing up for 1927, it is uncertain. And cards have been placed in the lobby of Miss Hensen for this purpose. The cards bear blanks on which are the present room, and three choices, respectively, as to next year’s rooms.

Seniors will have first choice of rooms, junior remaining in the present room will have a greater choice of retaining her room than if she changes, likewise, a girl who wishes to stay in her present dormitory will have a sure choice coming back to her dormitory than one who is not there now.

This choice of rooms and dormitories is allowed in order to make condition, comprised and planning to those returning.

(Signed from Page 1, Column 1.)

The changeable weather has not only the bare necessities of life, the biggest idea of the remaining in Virginia known as poor white.

Dorinda, the heroine, is the daughter of a religious fanatic who endured only the call. She returns home, with new ideas, and a real life of her to exist. She is in love with a boy, and three choices, respectively, as to next year’s rooms.

VALLEY BOOK SHOP

Ruth Eastham and Mrs. W. H. Davis.

Loch Lewis was Helen Browns.

S. C. T. pin, rings & novelties in silk hose, at our present site.

Helen Brown was Virginia Goddard.

Wonders of synthetic chemistry as the manufacture of Rayon, silk, rubber, synthetic fibers, and ivory are explained and illustrated in the concrete products. Mr. Millin is even more interested and clever in speaking than in writing. His wit even allowed him to write a newspaper article, and clever in speaking than in writing.

One person cannot go out for both track and baseball.

"Forewarned, forearmed."

Small Colored Boy—No, suh, boss; little tin, Rastus?

It is a girl's dream almost a year.

"Why is it a little over two feet?"

“Barren Ground” portrays life as it is from romance to realism. Where women once remain, she now quired in reality.

NEXT YEAR’S ROOMS- MATES SIGN UP

One has made truly to realize that the school year is drawing to a more distinctive close than the subjects of the curriculum arranged for next year is to be more evident. Though, for everybody to be signing up for 1927, it is uncertain. And cards have been placed in the lobby of Miss Hensen for this purpose. The cards bear blanks on which are the present room, and three choices, respectively, as to next year’s rooms.

Seniors will have first choice of rooms, junior remaining in the present room will have a greater choice of retaining her room than if she changes, likewise, a girl who wishes to stay in her present dormitory will have a sure choice coming back to her dormitory than one who is not there now.

This choice of rooms and dormitories is allowed in order to make condition, comprised and planning to those returning.

(Signed from Page 1, Column 1.)

The changeable weather has not only the bare necessities of life, the biggest idea of the remaining in Virginia known as poor white.

Dorinda, the heroine, is the daughter of a religious fanatic who endured only the call. She returns home, with new ideas, and a real life of her to exist. She is in love with a boy, and three choices, respectively, as to next year’s rooms.

VALLEY BOOK SHOP

Ruth Eastham and Mrs. W. H. Davis.

Loch Lewis was Helen Browns.

S. C. T. pin, rings & novelties in silk hose, at our present site.

Helen Brown was Virginia Goddard.

Wonders of synthetic chemistry as the manufacture of Rayon, silk, rubber, synthetic fibers, and ivory are explained and illustrated in the concrete products. Mr. Millin is even more interested and clever in speaking than in writing. His wit even allowed him to write a newspaper article, and clever in speaking than in writing.

One person cannot go out for both track and baseball.

"Forewarned, forearmed."

Small Colored Boy—No, suh, boss; little tin, Rastus?

It is a girl's dream almost a year.

"Why is it a little over two feet?"

“Barren Ground” portrays life as it is from romance to realism. Where women once remain, she now quired in reality.

NEXT YEAR’S ROOMS- MATES SIGN UP

One has made truly to realize that the school year is drawing to a more distinctive close than the subjects of the curriculum arranged for next year is to be more evident. Though, for everybody to be signing up for 1927, it is uncertain. And cards have been placed in the lobby of Miss Hensen for this purpose. The cards bear blanks on which are the present room, and three choices, respectively, as to next year’s rooms.

Seniors will have first choice of rooms, junior remaining in the present room will have a greater choice of retaining her room than if she changes, likewise, a girl who wishes to stay in her present dormitory will have a sure choice coming back to her dormitory than one who is not there now.

This choice of rooms and dormitories is allowed in order to make condition, comprised and planning to those returning.

(Signed from Page 1, Column 1.)

The changeable weather has not only the bare necessities of life, the biggest idea of the remaining in Virginia known as poor white.

Dorinda, the heroine, is the daughter of a religious fanatic who endured only the call. She returns home, with new ideas, and a real life of her to exist. She is in love with a boy, and three choices, respectively, as to next year’s rooms.

VALLEY BOOK SHOP

Ruth Eastham and Mrs. W. H. Davis.

Loch Lewis was Helen Browns.

S. C. T. pin, rings & novelties in silk hose, at our present site.

Helen Brown was Virginia Goddard.

Wonders of synthetic chemistry as the manufacture of Rayon, silk, rubber, synthetic fibers, and ivory are explained and illustrated in the concrete products. Mr. Millin is even more interested and clever in speaking than in writing. His wit even allowed him to write a newspaper article, and clever in speaking than in writing.

One person cannot go out for both track and baseball.

"Forewarned, forearmed."

Small Colored Boy—No, suh, boss; little tin, Rastus?

It is a girl's dream almost a year.

"Why is it a little over two feet?"
thought we would. Oh, glad very soon."

"What, you are planning to go to college? There are no colleges that I hope it will become a reality even more different than I thought are in college."

friends and me from the time they were different from what they that. "The acquaintances which I have made..."

"There is quite a difference in the size of the classes at the V. S. B. and I think the classes there are more intimate and better than anything I have heard of."

Buckville, Virginia. Very, very small in our group of students in Staunton seemed when compared with the student body of college that I was attending."

"The road has been, and to certain extent is, for us a most world, where roamed the kittens, the girls all shingled and shorn who swam in the water limpid and warm, that flowed over the tile that stuck in the cement that set in the pool that Duke built."

"This is the cement that lay on the concrete that set in the pool that Duke built. All these are the girls all shingled and shorn who swam in the water limpid and warm, that flowed over the tile that stuck in the cement that set in the pool that Duke built."

"The contemplation of suicide is a fascinating pastime: one grows more interested with enthralls and thrills whosoever they may happen. One considers poison and a form of net, but the method of..."

"This is the cement that lay on the concrete that set in the pool that Duke built."

It is best to keep smiling, for a smile's a kind of net, but catches by its brightness the things it wants to get; to keep your smile a-adiar, it'd catch too gods and troubles..."