A Correction

The following name was inadvertently omitted from the honor roll as published last week.

R. A. Stockard—Course II

Varsity Swimming Team Planned

There is possibility of a Varsity swimming team swimming in taking its place as one of the major sports of the College. A prospective meet with George Washington University in view is to be held sometime in April.

New Dormitory Is Considered

IMPROVED KITCHEN AND DINING ROOM ARE PROPOSED

The sum of $177,000 is to be used for the Harrisonburg State Teachers College, to be used in erecting a new dormitory on the place of the old Byrd in his budget message to the Virginia General Assembly.

The major portion of the sum will be used in the construction of a modern fire-proof dormitory to be erected just back of Shadow Hall and to be connected to it by a covered passageway. A purpose for the use of students is to be of one of the features of the new building. Note: New Dormitory will make provision for girls' new college courses as well as for the future growth of the student body.

It is hoped that this plan will be approved so that work may begin as soon as possible, thus insuring occupancy by the first of September.

$40,000 has been recommended for heating and the kitchen and dining room in the new dormitory to prevent the present heating plant. In fact, the work of the new dormitory is to be begun on the first day of the fall semester.

Another proposal is that $10,000 be spent in erecting a new laboratory building, such as finishing the woodworking, chemicals, and the like. A suggestion is that $17,000 be spent in educational equipment, such as laboratories, supplies.

RECOMMENDATION TO BE CONSIDERED

Governor Byrd, in a recent message to the General Assembly, said that a more detailed study be made concerning the advisability of establishing a liberal arts college for women at one of the State Teachers Colleges in the State. The Intercollegiate Press Association, the Harrisonburg State Teachers College was recommended by a prominent liberal arts college for women.

Governor Byrd's recommendations are as follows:

"I recommend that a commission be appointed to study and report to the next session of the General Assembly the advisability of establishing a liberal arts college for women at one of the State teachers colleges, such as finishing the woodworking, chemistry, and the like. A suggestion is that $17,000 be spent in educational equipment, such as laboratories, supplies.

SELF AND SELF-GOVERNMENT

The talk given by Dr. Minnick at Convocation exercises last Tuesday was one that would have touched the heart of every student in every college in the land. It pained particularly to all of us but most definitely to many, Dr. Minnick touched on the keynotes of self and student government. He brought out the fact that we are so far ahead of our ancestors in our daily lives that we crowd into one moment what they lived in an hour. This heightened speed of existence demands that we have strong brains that will govern our action so as to achieve our ends.

As we listened we thought of student bodies and college societies having their days on the campus of our seniors back. We thought of the new idea self government really is. As a generation, our independence demands that we we grow diverse in self government. Moved by Dr. Minnick's speech to that we are a northward part, we turned our views ever more towards ourselves, we must give our interest in making ourselves and government of the people, the power of that is given us.

WHY EDITORIALS

Did you ever stop to think why we have editorials? Is it to fill the editorial column, to take up space, to amuse ourselves? Why, gentle reader, do we think these lines so interstitially or pass over them without a glance? Now, we ask you, why?

We are editors, all of us. It is a custom for all newspapers to have an editorial column. We are a newspaper. We write editorials. We try to bring to your attention, reading public, those things in which you are interested, reading public. It isn't always easy to decide on and pursue a definite course amid many conflicting times of thought. We are all sure of criticism and elusion whereas what we take. It is when we cannot express ideas in a manner that is clear and attractive to you and which is forceful enough to fulfill its purpose, in which we fail.

Did you read this, gentle reader? And now, we ask you, why? Did you read this column with more interest hereafter? Will you think on these things longer? We write editorials.

BUT DO WE WANT DETERMINED JAWS

Who would ever dream that the moving of the jaws up and down has given growth to the idea of a people as in the Americas? One rarely sees a flapper, athlete, or even a collegian with out this air radiating from his or her face. "—Ex.

ANOTHER FOUND.

Another thing has been found which we need a great deal on the campus. It would save many a troublesome and perplexed mind by possession. Many a bright girl is made ay hoarse from repeating over and over that same word or phrase. If only this object could be obtained. Many times has someone said, "—In a way that man may be as interested in the astonishment of being a mother as the coming of a snow storm. A pleasant looking book of syncroyns will rest on the Breeze writing table.

UNDERGRADUATE CRITICISM

New York, (by New Student Society) a criticism passed on the boards, curious reform is again_communicated to attention of all our colleges. The undergraduate reformers have taken fair notice of the critics overreaching superciliousness and have adopted a vigorous style at presenting their reform views.

The University of Washington Daily says paragraph of a student's critique of the subject which the work has summarized by blaming the faculty for the lack of interest. (Continued to Page 4, Column 2.)

SAMUEL PEPYS

The building gentry of English life and its very highway was the writing of the old Samuel Pepys. A pupil of the great philosopher, Dr. Minnick, was interested in the life history and has produced for the benefit of the suffers of the type seen in the reading public.

Tuesday—January 10

Up with the day to his knees to the fire. The breakfasts of the morning, as well as the breakfast in the Breeze itself, are never dull. With this in mind, Pepys has gone on to write the book for breakfast. Breakfast time has never been so dull. Breakfast has never been so much a part of our lives. In fact, much of my daily enthusiasm is spent in trying to think of new ideas and ways to improve the world of breakfast.

Wednesday—January 11

Lamb's butt! A time to think of all the things that have changed since the college days of our own fathers and realized what a great influence the Breeze has had on us. Oh, I'd think that the Breeze of light after 10:30 made it worth while.

Friday—January 13

Above to face a breakfast unappealing to me. Many a sigh of relief would replace a groan; many a smile would replace a frown. —Ex.

AUNT PRUNELLA'S CORNER

Having your valuable advice several times before I am now writing you about a very important problem. One Sunday just after the sermon I had a change of heart from V. F. L. I. It was a lovely day, but, oh, how the wild winds blew and Q. M. M. blew off my feet.

Last Saturday (I changed the day, you see) I was another day, another change. Same boy. Again the wind blew—thunder and lightning. But, oh, what a problem. I am quite happy with my new boy of this type and he has a boy's heart to make out in regard to getting the weather changed on the days when I have dates.

Oh, my dear! I am expecting rather hoping this boy will be able to make out. We must not forget that we can walk around the campus with the wind blowing or not.

Thanking you for helping me with this problem. It is real smart.

Your fond sone.
Heddie Lettuce.

Dear Aunt Prunella,

I haven't forgotten your old aunt Prunella! I'm glad of that. I'm sorry you didn't write, but I've addressed, for I'd surely let you know if I did. However, I'll tell you what I have been doing. I was having a very nice, very windy day, and wrote a plan on a very windy day, and fastened it to a kite. Send this kite up in the gale and surely Mr. Weather will put up a sign to tell you.

Don't thank me, child. I got the idea from B. Franklin.

Breezily yours,
Auntie.

RECEPTION GIVEN LEASKVILLE GIRLS

The Athletic Council furnished an interesting and enjoyable time in the Recreation Room of the Leaskville Grammar School girls Saturday night after the game.

Bertha Williams sang, Virginia Thomas gave a reading, and Virginia Harvey directed. Delightful refreshments were served by the Home Economics seniors.

Besides the Leaskville team and the Harrisonburg squad, Mrs. Varner, Mrs. John Johnston, Miss Baker, Miss Marr, and Mr. McComb, the W. Y. C. W. Secretary of Leaskville were present.

Y. W. C. A. ENTERTAINS NEW GIRLS

The Y. W. C. A. gave an informative reception Sunday afternoon to the new girls who have just entered our family this quarter.

Everyone met in the Y. W. Social Room, and then went to the college room where they were served a cold plate supper.

There present were Artie Andrus, Glen Baker, Marion Carr, Florence Dockum, Edith Johnson, Virginia Klecki, Esther Wright, Martha Morris, Kinta Witt, Urs Poynter, Ethel Sweeney, Helen Durette, Frances Hoffman, Christine Garrett, Emily Elizabeth Sutherland, Ethel Shoppe, Irma Mae Kinsey, Dorothy Lindgren, Catherine Miller, and Ethel Temple.

EPISTOLAR GIRLS GIVEN TEA

The Epistolary girls on the campus were entertained, Saturday, at a tea given by Mrs. Williams at her home on South Main street from four to five o'clock.

The guests were met at the door by Evangeline and Mrs. Wilson. The girls were then shown several interesting carousels and beautiful objets, the portraits of which disapparated rapidly. After the entertainment the guests returned to the college, well pleased with their afternoon’s enjoyment.

The Epistolary girls took a walk along the ridge near the campus.

The second quarter finds the work at the training school meeting on with its usual steadiness. The all-year members of the junior high school continue in the same places until the beginning of the new semester February 1. The new appointments in the kindergarten and grades are:
