THE SMILE OF TURQUOISE
By June McGeary

BLUE
Eye of turquoise blue,
Hanging on me.
Flower, sky and sea,
Make me smile.

With hopeful aim
Their smile to claim.

Eyes of turquoise blue
Quickly
Black, blithe—cheer.
Flirt art
Not even a word.

The smile I wake.

Eyes of turquoise blue
Finding you.

Friendship I knew
With love.

AUNT AGGIELT'S HAPPY WISDOM

In this time of great emotional stress by fearful-good-luck Aunt Aggie has written personally to her nieces. First of all she wants you to read a letter-a real letter from someone on campus who has thrown in her lot with Tom, in the Tom vs. Tom controversy. Did she like Italy in the War, wait until you read the one on marriage. Whatever—here's the letter.

Dear Aunt Aggie:

Don't try to trouble you, but it would be great accommodation for me, and I should appreciate it greatly if you would deliver the enclosed letter from Tom, the Captain Cadet, for it is a shame to admit, I do not know his address. Thanking you in advance, I remain,

Yours truly,

An Admirer of Tom.

Dear Tom:

Please, don't worry any more about that dreadful White Dog—for at least, he seems to be gone. Besides I'm sure your worry is without cause. You know that Student Body has always been behind you and with you. They will not get you back on you now for any more while white dog.

I admit we've shown quite an unnecessary interest in the matter, but, you know, Tom, it was a novelty, and its only human nature to be interested in anything containing an element of the new and the unexplored. We have not, however, forgotten you, but we have taken your place.

So, I think I speak for the whole Student Body, when I ask you to forgive and forget our gorging, and, please, don't put any more of these pitiful, little pieces in the "Breeze".

For in your heart, a warm spot, that will always be only for you—and could never be filled by all the white dogs in the world.

The SOUL OF GOOD SPORTSMANSHIP

"Sportsmanship is the badge of a nation's greatness and an emblem of its prosperity. It is not about all endeavors, reaching towards the best, sustained in purpose, every step toward its goal. It is in the generous and courteous opponent to opponents, (you will see yourselves afterwards), —these virtues symbolize the soul of good sportsmanship."

MASON AND DIXON'S LINE

Nearly two centuries after the trouble with Frenchmen, the Mason and Dixon Line is still a topic of interest. Let's not forget that it was Mr. Hart who traveled to the Penna. and New Jersy. border to mark the national boundary that we are now celebrating.

THE RETRO

"The Rotunda" is written for and by the students of Franklin College. It is a place where students can express their thoughts and ideas, and a forum for discussing events happening on campus.

While care must be used in adhering to these tips, there is a need for good editorial columns today. The observable common denominator which distinguishes them is that the paper may well seek to avoid student opinion, if there is no subject for editorial comment.

Unless there be some particular reason for one, our mind will well suit our "Unanimity," and "Good English" tinctures on "Honesty," "Shoddy Spirit," the "people who pay for the paper do not read it; but they read with a well-written editorial upon the new government measures, or a balanced theme on the need for a new auditorium, or "You will be delight in an article on the details of the decision.

Readability? That is a general term which gives us a chance to tease another. Is it interesting? It is interesting? It is interesting? It is interesting?

The销量 of our newspaper is something we strive for. The few points in this article are the suggestions. Once the students are in the habit of reading, the sales increase.

SUSTAINANCE

We are grateful for your support and your encouragement. Thank you for helping us thrive.

We will continue to strive for excellence in our content and services, always striving to provide the best possible experience for our readers.

Thank you for your support and we look forward to serving you for many years to come.
