THE MINERS' PROTEGE.

BY ULLIE R. AKERSTROM.

Wall, you see, it's a queer story, Missy, The little gal's none of our kin: But, you bet, when the old men go under She's the one who will handle our 'tin.' My pard an' me's rough minin' fellers: We've got nary children nor wife; But we love little yellow-haired Nellie, And we'll rear her up right-bet your life.

'How old? Wall, she's nigh eight, I reckon Five years since we brought her out here; And she was the cunnin'est baby We'd looked at for many a year.

You see 'twas the time the Apaches Broke out-blast the red imps of sin! The emigrant train crossed their trail, Miss, An' the Injuns they scooped 'em all in.

'Yes, thar lay men, children an' wimmen; The red devils raised all their h'ar. We couldn't do nothin' to help 'em. So my pard an' me buried 'em thar. We found one likely-lookin' young creature. Livin' out from the rest of the heap. She was dead, like the others, and Nellie Lay close by her side-fast asleep.

Wall, twas nigh ninety-nine to the settlement Bill an' me turned the thing in our mind, An' at last we concluded to keep her, An' bring her up lovin' an' kind; We buried her poor dad an' mammy, Likewise all her unlucky mates, An' we named her Nell, arter a sweetheart

My pard had once back in the States. But the trouble we had with the young 'un Was somethin' quite funny to see-Bill give her up for a mystery, Likewise she was too much for me. Her darned duds we couldn't get on right,

An' we cussed every button an' string; But arter a spell we did better, When you once got the hang of the thing. An' she's growed up quite pertlike an' bloomin' We take her to work every day;

While Bill an' me's busy a minin' She'll sit by the rock-pile an' play: An' she's made better men of us both, Miss: We don't cuss now, nor go on a spree Cause we're workin' an' savin' for Nellie. The pride of my old pard an' me.'

Buying a Mirror.

I have had some fun seeing a woman buy mirror. What she professed to want was merely a perfectly true hand glass-one that would reflect without distortion; but after watching her awhile I became convinced that she was looking for one that | fore would not only reproduce her face without deterioration, but actually improve it. She was a medium sort ef woman; that is to say, in age she was just young enough to expect the clerks to address her as "Miss," though she had a husband and four children; she escaped being plain, vet hadn't beauty enough to make people stare at her; in short, she was of a kind to pass unnoticed in a crowd. With a woand for all, and her mind is calm on th subject; but with one who is about middling there is perpetual and harrassing doubt. One day she is raised to heaven by a compliment; the next day she is lowered to hades by something that can be construed as a disparagement. Now she is tolerably well satisfied with herself; again she is disgusted; all the time she is in uncertainty. Such no doubt was the woman whom I saw going through a stock of hand-glasses, trying her face in one after another, and convincing herself that all of them were unreliable. Her nose was a turn-up, and the mirrors made it fairly raise her upper lip in its wild desire to touch her forehead. Her teeth were big and irregular, and when she smiled at the glass they looked like tombstones standing all ways in a neglected graveyard. She covertly tried her sweetest smile on one of the squarest of reflectors, and, partially satisfied, about the article. Well, the best of us are anxious to look well. I laughed in my sleeve when I heard of a woman who was so abnegatory that, coming across her semblance unexpectedly in a big mirror, while wearing a new suit and bonnet, didn't recognize herself, and exclaimed, "Oh, isn't that a pretty lady!" No doubt she was covered with becoming confusion when made aware of her mistake.

Nervousness.

The moment there is danger of impairment of the mind from excessive nervous exhaustion, or where there exists forebodings of evil, a desire for solitude, shunning and avoiding company, vertigo and nervous debility, or when insanity has already taken place, Peruna and Manalin should be implicitly relied on. But it is never well to wait so long before treatment is commenced. The early symptoms are loss of strength, softness of the muscles, dim or weak sight, peculiar expression of the face and eyes, coated tongue, with impaired digestion; or in others, certain powers only are lost, while they are otherwise enjoying comparatively good health. In all these Peruna and Manalin should at once be taken.

How TO HANDLE A GUN .- An old sports man gives the following advice to a new beginner: "When you take a gun in your hand, for any purpose whatever, never take it by the muzzle, never look into its muzzle or allow a gun's muzzle to point towards you. The numerous shot-gun accidents indicate that a gun is certain to go off as a person is to get before its muzzle. Use a breech-loader and keep behind your gun. If the gun must do something rash, hold her tight to your shoulder and let "Oh, this is dreadful!" her kick. You can get more gun sense from being kicked than you can from being shot,"

Eliza Jane," said old Mrs. Snapdragon 'you are trifling with your prospects." "Well, how can I help it, grandma?" said Eliza Jane. "He's been coming here regular as clockwork for two years, and won't propose. I can't propose, can I? I know he's uncommon fond of me-I know that. It's only his way of putting everything off as long as he can; but how can I help it it Mr. Potter won't do different ?" "Don't wait for him," said Mrs. Snapdragon. "You're eight-and-twenty, and I saw a gray hair in your head yesterday. And there's Barnaby Blewberry has made reg'lar offer to your 'pa, and there ain't a man better off in the place. I don't know how much property he owns, and I do know he's got eight thousand pounds in the bank. He told your 'pa so."

"But he's sixty, and a widower, grand ma," said Eliza Jane. "Well, I'm sixty-five and a widow," said the old lady.

"Then why didn't he propose to you! It would have been more suitable," said Eliza Jane pertly.

"Stuff and nonsense," said the old lady. "But I'll tell you just one thing. Eliza Jane-you'll die an old maid if you go on in this way."

"Maybe I shall," said Eliza Jane. "And I shouldn't wonder but you're right: and three, may be caught in his office at Coop-I think I'll change my mind. Pa can tell er Institute at ten o'olock in the morning old Barnaby I'll have him." "That's a sensible girl," said old Mrs.

But Eliza Jane was very An exposion was the consequence of these ugly the question of looks is settled once cheerful and very busy. But he had come to an age when the blood runs cold, and had proposed to Eliza Jane Snapdragon rather because there was no one to look after him since his youngest daughter married, than for any other reason. nesday evening Mr. Potter called. To his inquiry for "Miss Eliza," the servant responded that she'd be down soon: but Mr. Potter waited a long while. He heard movements overhead, hurrying to and fro, shutting of drawers, and finally steps, on the stairs. Then the door opened and there entered a figure in cream-colored silk, trimmed with white lace, a veil upon its head, white gloves upon its hands -a bride in full attire.

It advanced, threw back the veil, and made him a curtsey. "Why, Miss Eliza!" cried Mr. Potter, in surprise; "why, you-you look very much like a bride !" "Don't I?" said Eliza. "Well, Well, Mr. Potter, I thought I would let you have a peep at me in my wedding dress. I am going to be a bride if I'm not one. I've promised to marry Barnaby Blewberry." "What!" cried Mr. Potter turning pale; "this is a joke, Eliza Jane. You want to frighten me !" "Why should it frighten you, Mr. Potter?" asked Eliza Jane, with well feigned surprise. "Eliza," he said, "you know I've been a courting you two years."

"But you've never said a word." said "I was going to speak this very night.

I was, indeed, Eliza," sighed Mr. Potter "Did you really care so much for me?"

asked Eliza Jane. "I love you better than my life ?" said Mr. Potter. "I do! Oh, Eliza, this is horrid! It will be the death of me, I know it will-it's awful! And Blewberry, too. It's a shame, Eliza! He's a great deal too old for you!"

"Yes, he is old," said Eliza; "but'pa and grandma were set on it. And you didn't speak. How was I to know-" "Would you have me if I had?" asked Mr. Potter.

"I'm glad to hear it," said grandma. "To Mr. Potter," added Eliza Jane. Vain was all the scolding and storming, vain Barnaby Blewberry's reproaches. And she laughed herself almost into fits when he told her that she was sly and artful, and ought to be ashamed of herself.

Peter Cooper's Mode of Life

In an article describing the daily life of Thurlow Weed, General James Watson Webb and Peter Cooper, aged respective eighty, eighty-one, and ninty-one years, a New York paper says of the last-named: Mr. Cooper, the only nonagenarian of the almost any day of the year, rain or shine, snow or sleet. His breakfast has been a little oatmeal and milk, with the addition possibly of a little fruit. He attends to business at his office, signing leases, answering letters, personally inspecting the operations of the school for two or three hours, making nothing whatever of dancing up three or four flights of stairs without assisstntce. The deadening of the senses that always comes with extreme age "the happiest man in the world," and that is with him hardly perciptible, and assuredly not noticeable. He hears well, his sight is good, his hand hardly trembles, and he speaks with less hesitancy and tremor at nenty-one than Mr. Weed at eightfour. He will tell you that he lives place, and looked his admiration, as be- almost altogether on milk. His life has a less rigid routine perhaps than that which is deemed prudent by physicians person, and if Barnaby Blewberry did not for most old men, but he retires early, sleeps well and rises at a regular hour. His health is fully as good as it has been at any time during five years; he has no pains, no physical qualms, except those arising from a shock experienced some years ago when he | They are collected and transported in bladundertook to develop the motive energy of old farmer's hair stand on end, as he glance- nitrogen gas, in accordance with a fancy that had taken possession of his brain. re or less ever since from the accident. He has however, gradually recovered and nothing of undertaking an excursion, such as that to test petroleum as a fuel for locomotives the other day, or of taking part in a meeting at Cooper Institute. He returns home from his office before lunch and receives visitors during the afternoon. He lives lightly, eating little meat and de-

to his room early. Two rules of long life are evident from the habits of these men. First their daily routine is rigidly observed, and secondly, the preference for oatmeal ever other cereal product is noticeable. The reason for this has been made clear by very recent experiments. For example, wheaten grits contain no larger proportion of starch then oat. of textile materials, on account of liability meal, and probably more gluten. But the starch of oatmeal is converted into sugar by mastication in from one to five minutes, while the starch of wheaten grits resists the salivary action more than five times as "It's splendid !" said grandma; "but who long. Oatmeal, in other words, is more ever heard of anyone having a wedding- than five times as easy of digestion as

The motion of heavy bodies like railway trains shakes the earth for considerable distances, and observations of such facts is gradually giving rise to a belief that the force necessary to produce earthquake shocks has been over estimated. A delicate apparatus used by Prof. H. M. Paul showed quite strong vibrations on the passing of an express train a third of a mile away, and like effects were observed even at somewhat greater distance. A perceptible vibration was transmitted through the ground wherever a stone was struck by the wheels of a one-horse vehicle passing at a distance of 400 or 500 feet. Helmuth Drucberg, of Berlin, contends that the opposite side of the moon from the earth may have air and water, and be inhabited. The same side of the moon is always turned to the earth, and the centrifugal force araising from the moon's motion around the earth would tend to throw such light and fluid portions of its substance as air and water to the further side, while the earth's attraction would contribute to keep the heavy side toward us. As an illustration, a moistened ball may be swung by a cord. The same side will always be toward the centre of revolution, and the moisture will pass to the outer

The remedy has been in constant use at least since 1640, and probably dates from a much earlier period. Prof. C. V. Riley wishes to learn if these species of ant have

If this theory may be applied to all species, a period of insect scarcity should now follow the remarkable activity of the sun's surface for

The strength of hoisting cables for mines has been investigated by a French commission. Greater care is found to be nec essary with metallic cables than with those to corrosion and preference is given to the latter for most mines.

Croll, in his "Climate and Time." says:

"Here is one way of conveying to the mind some idea of what a million of years is. Take a strip of paper an inch broad or more, and eighty-three feet four inches in length, and stretch it along the walls of an appartment somewhat over twenty feet square. Recall to memory the days of your boyhood, so as to get some adequate conception of what a period of a hundred years is. Then make off from one of the ends of the strip one-tenth of an inch. The one-tenth of an inch will then represent one hundred years, and the entire length of the strip a million, of years. It is well worth making the experiment, just in order to feel the striking impression that it produces on the mind. Could we stand upon the edge of a gorge, a mile and a half in depth, that had been cut out of the solod rock by a tiny stream scarcely visible at the bottom of this fearful abyss, and were we informed that this little streamlet was able to wear off annually only one-tenth of an inch from its rocky bed, what would our conception be of the prodigious length of time that this stream must have taken to excavate the gorge? We should certainly feel startled when, on making the necessary calculations, we found that the stream had performed this enormous amount of work in something less than a million of years."

By an improved method, the quantity of blood in living mammals has been ascertained to be between one-twelfth and one thirteenth of the weight of the body. Under normal conditions this proportion varies but little. A healthy man weighing 150 pounds must therefore carry about twelve pounds of blood.

A Consumptive's Fight for Life.—How a Man Gave Up as Incurable Thirty Years Ago Escaped death.

[From the Reno Journal.]

A. H. Barnes, of Reno, Nevada, fights off consumption by wearing a silver tube, which passes between the ribs into the lungs. In 1849 Mr. Barnes, then living in Sycamore, De Kalb county, Ill., was declared an incurable consumptive. The lung was tapped and he recovered. In 1863 he was again taken down by the disease, when he once more resorted to the tube, and has worn it constantly ever since. There is a daily discharge of matter. Mr. Barnes is a man of very regular and temperate habits, does not use tobacco in any form or stimulants of any kind, hardly ever uses any medicine, except sometimes for the blood; is always feeling well when the hole in his side is open, sometimes feels heaviness there, but has got used to that. This case is certainly worthy of the special attention of medical men. It seems to give a man a new lease of life, even when appearently as good as dead.

When Mr. Barnes conceived the idea of tapping his lung all the physicians but one loss than lolling about in the home of idlescouted it as a thing that would prove fatal. However, he persuaded a Dr. Woodman to perform the operation. In 1863 Mr. Barnes was in Honey Lake Valley, and was on the brink of the grave. Now, again, the resident physicians were opposed to the idea of an incision, and after repeated appeals for an operation, which was refused, Mr. Barnes borrowed a lance and deal. Workers are not the ones who, worn cut open his side himself. He then inserted a catheter, and drawing of nearly a quart of matter immediate relief was found. The cough and expectoration stopped almost instantly, and Mr. Barnes was soon upon his feet again. Thus he prolonged his life over thirty years.

Something Useful.

RENOVATING SOAP .- Volatile soap for removing paint, grease spots, etc.: Four tablespoonfuls of spirits of hartshorn, four tablespoonfuls of alcohol and one of salt. Shake the whole together in a bottle, and apply with a sponge or brush.

COLOGNE WATER .- Take a pint of alcohol and put in thirty drops of oil of lemon, thirty of bergamot and half a gill of water. If musk or lavender is desired, add the same quantity of each. The oils should be put in the alcohol and shaken well before the water is added. Bottle it

To KEEP PINEAPPLES .- Pare and cut out the eyes of a ripe pineapple; strip all the pulp from the core with a silver fork; to a pint of this add a pound of granulated sugar; stir occasionally until the sugar is dissolved, put in glass fruit cans quire so much preparation as to details and turn down the covers as closely as as some other, and are consequently open possible. This will keep a long time.

How to SERVE ICED TEA .- Iced tea is now served at supper and at lunch. If you wish to have it perfect and without the least trace of bitter put the tea in cold water hours before it is to be used; the delicate flavor of the tea and abundant strength will be extracted and there will be no trace, if one's taste is the judge, of the tanic acid which renders tea so disagreeable and undrinkable. You need not use more than the usual quantity of tea. If it is to be served at a one o'clock meal, put it in water soon after breakfast, and ice a few minutes before serving. The best way is to have ice broken in a pitcher, Working-Girls.

Their Toils and Pleasures—How they Fare— The Burthen they Assume. The Albany (N. Y.) Sunday Press espouses the claims of the working-girl, and thus speaks out in her behalf:

Who has not heard some person speak disparagingly of the working girl? Little does such a narrow-minded person, not to say ignorant, realize that among this class of workers there is to be found more sterling worth than could be gathered from any other of the walks of life. The girl who will toil, as she is oftentimes compelled to, day and evening, without a murmur, and come home with a smile and glad greeting for each one of the household for whom she toils, (for it must be remembered that in a majority of cases, toil on her part is toil for others, not for herself.) is the light of that household, and a shining light to all around.

Some writers hint darkly that it is specially incumbent upon the workinggirl to be exceedingly jealous as to her virtue, as though employment in store, fact. ory or office made her more liable to its ness and luxury. A young woman who will, when called upon by circumstances over which she has no control, take, as in many cases she does, the burthen of a sick farther, mother or helpless family upon her shoulders, is one who needs no such admonition, and to offer it, shows little knowledge of the nature with which they out and wrecked for life, seek refuge between sheltering walls, longing to bury the story of a sad and wrecked life in the obscurity of the grave. How do "Our Girls" of Albany fare? is a question propounded. A person need but see, in the early morning as they wend their way through the streets to their respective occupations, or at evening after work is done, the bright and cheery countenances of as neat and contented a set of girls as there is in the Union, to know that they fare well. They certainly have the advantage of the working class of many cities, for whatever may be said of the narrow-mindedness of the people of other cities the citizens of Albany are justly celebrated for the liberality and broadness of their views, and the working girl is respected in her position. A stranger is at once struck by the modesty of her demeanor; not by gandy show or affectation, but a general air of independence, born of learning to take care of herself. The advantages possessed by the city of Albany are varied. There are the mills and factories affording employment to thousands, the work in which does not reto many of the younger class of girls. The heavier work in these establishments is done by men, and the work for the girls is, therefore, light, and they are in general well satisfied. The opportunities for advancement offered are good, and the girl who enters as a hand, is gradually advanced to some place of trust. Work commences at seven or seven-thirty A. M., and lasts until six P. M., with interval for lunch, and it is customary in most of the factories to close an hour or two earlier on Saturday. A profitable field is open for those who have the tact and ability necessary to a dress-maker. There are several establishments in Albany that will vie with any in New York; there are also departments in dress and cloak making connected with our large dry goods houses, which afford, because of the varied grades of work done, and the excellent system employed in teaching, many advantages to be envied.

The East New York Company, and other shoe companies give many hundreds employment, and their work compares favorably with that formerly done by boys. The various paper mills give employment to many, the work being light. There are many young ladies holding positions of trust and responsibility in offices, of excellent education. and belonging to some of our most worthy families. Behind our dry goods counters will be found the best of our working class of girls. The position is much sought after and the only drawback is, that on first entering a dry goods house the salery is small, until the girl becomes familiar with

The power of persuasion to be found in these dry goods houses is not to be excelled anywhere. The young lady whose stronghold is builded of fabrics, so as to nave an unlimited stock of it, and when ensconced between rolls of silks, ginghams and piles of hosiery, it shines forth in all powers of persuasion through the medium of a wife's pocketbeok, and some husbands have been known to object, and have even gone so far as to assert that they could bargain with these fair creatures even better than could their wives, and as a proof of their assertion, have offered to accompany them. Unhappy man! he goes. The fair one behind the counter is there. looks demurely at the wife, and takes in the situation at a glance. She realizes that it is "nip and tuck," and prepares for business. It is needless to say that she sustains her reputation as to persuasive power, and it is as needless to state the wise conclusion the husband arrives at when he comes to foot up. It is the first and last visit for many a man, and gently murmuring a tew penitent words to his wife upon retiring at night, he falls off to sleep. There seems to be a fascination about the young lady who handles the confectionery of the town in such a dett manner. The utterly utter is apt to linger just a few moments longer than is his wont, when he drops in to have a package done up on his way to "pay a call."

M. H. Janney, of the firm of Janney & Co., Druggists, of Alexandria, committed suicide on Friday morning last by taking strychnine. Ill health and grief at the loss of his wife unsettled his mind and led to the sad act. He was universally esteemed by all who knew him.

The latest news from Egypt is that the English army is confronting the army of Aribi Pasha. No general engagement has taken place, although a number of unimportant skirmishes have occurred. "No Democrats from Virginia can hold office in Washington," says Mahone. See letter from Washington to Richmond State. This miserable political trafficker would not allow a Democrat to hold office anywhere if he could prevent. The people of Virginia will show Mahone who is Boss in November. This political mountebank will find that the people are greater than he, and that Democrats will hold office in Washington, if they desire, in spite of such a petty tyrant as Mahone. Democrats, see to it that "Bossism" is destroyed in Virginia this fall. Let personal feeling stand aside. Vote against Mahoneism, no matter who represents it.

A dispatch from Danville, Va., dated Saturday evening, says, that Jno. H. Johnston, Mayor of that city, shot J. E. Hatcher, late chief of police, inflicting a mortal wound. Johnston had some time previous charged Hatcher with collecting fines to the amount of $20 which were not accounted for. In a published card, Hatcher denied the statement as a malicious lie. Sat urday evening they met on the street when Hatcher demanded of Johnston an apology. The latter refused, when the former struck him in the face. Johnston drew his pistol and fired, the ball entering Hatcher's left side, just below the ribs and lodging under the vein behind. He died Monday morning.

The canvass begins to assume shape, and we have pretty general and reliable advi ces from both the State and District. The outlook for the Readjuster nominees is excellent. John S. Wise will carry the State very handsomely, and we will elect at least six of the ten members of Congress. There is hope of doing better than this, but a sober and intelligent estimate gives us not less than six .- Bristol News.

Name your six. We do not object to naming the Districts that will be carried against Bossism: 1st, Garrison, dem.; 2nd, Dezendorf, rep.; 3rd, Geo. D. Wise, dem.; 4th, Jorgenson, rep.; 5th, Cabell, dem.; 6th, Tucker, dem.; 7th, O'Ferrall, dem.; 8th, Barbour, dem.; 10th, John E. Massey, dem., State at large. You can have the ative slowness of export markets may posremainder, provided you can elect Bowen, which we do not believe. Put down 44, 562 majority for Massey over Wise. HARD ON SOUTHERN SECURITIES .- The chairman of the finance committee of the common council, of Roanoke, Va., writing to a prominent Philadelphia capitalist seeking to place city bonds, received the following reply: "There is no chance for our being able to do anything with your bonds here at present. Our investors don't seem to be inclined to take hold of Southern securities. They don't like the repudiation principle which is more or less prevalent in your section."

D.D. & BLIND INSTITUTION .- The Board of Visitors of this Institution 'met on the 5th inst, at which the following officers were elected:—Wm. M. Berkley, in place of W. C. Geiger; T. B. Coleman, Drawing of the Republicans and against the Demand Painting; Charles Fulcher, Monitor;

A. A. Long, Engineer.

The question of various improvements was considered, but action thereupon was deferred to the annual meeting of the Board on the 12th of October.-Spectator

A VIRGINIA SCULPTOR .- The life of Wm. Randolph Barbee the Sculptor is one of great interest, and it is fit that a record of it should be made and preserved in permanent form. Watson James, and that the stored to health by using Brown's Iron Bitwork is nearly completed. - The State.

POLITICAL NOTES.

It begins to dawn upon the minds of the United States officials in Virginia what the readjustment principles really mean. According to the recent bulletin from Boss Mahone it means five per cent, of all federal salaries to help the new boss to retain his power. And this is only a first installment, probably. If the boss finds the necessities of readjustment require that another portion of these salaries should be readjusted into the boss treasury in order that the readjustment campaign may have sufficient money in it, he will not hesitate to make another application of the new readjustment doctrine.—Philadelphia Times.

The chief boss weapon, says the Philadelphia Times, "is systematic malignant defamation of very honest man. When assailed by men who honestly oppose wrong doors the bosses have no weapon left but vituperation. They can't appeal to truth, to reason or to their records; and must answer all by false accusation." The Cincinnati Commercial quotes this utterance, and adds: "Precisely. The boss is the biggest of blackguards, and has stock in a few editors, and comes down upon legitimate criticism as assassination of character, and raises a hoodlum howl against all honest men who dare to tell

Hon. George C. Round, of Prince William county, one of the most prominent readjuster republicans in Virginia, has written a letter in which he repudiates "Gen. Mahone's claim to control and enslave Virginia freemen," denounces him as an "audactous political tyrant," and ex-presses the belief that "the principles of liberalism, which have triumphed over pen opposition, will outlive the selfishness of an unscrupulous and tyrannical leader.' The Cincinnati Commercial, republican, says editorially: "Mahone is making his bossism too conspicuous in Virginia. The result will be a kick such as we see in Pennsylvania against Cameron rule. The people of this country, irrespective of party, will not stand much bossing. They understood themselves to be the sovereigns and the final court of appeal. Political leaders should study the art of ruling without making parade of the means."

Mahone's Repudiation Record was a neavy enough load for the party in power; but what party can carry that and such scandalous doctrines as those in Mahone's recent deliverances, which mean that the federal offices in Washington are prizes for party workers, which they are to have and enjoy when they work for one faction of the party, and to be deprived of when they presume to work for any other?-Phila, Ledger ind.

A. H. Flanagan, of Montgomery county has announced himself as a straight-out republican candidates for Congress in the ninth district of Virginia.

T. S. Young, readjuster member of the Legislature from Franklin county, Va., has repudiated Mahone and supports Massey. When the chapter of the little things done by Mahone officials is fully written up, it will show what men will do, after being fully addmitted as servants of the 'boss." Bear in mind that the eyes of the people are upon you and that you are making a record which will follow you hereafter. Some petty officials must surely believe that the people are blind .- Wood-

We had a conversation this week with a gentleman of this county who has been one of the strongest readjusters. He says he is a readjuster yet, but Gen. Mahone can't lead him into the Republican party. He will vote for Massey and named a number of readjusters in the last contest, who will support Massey against Wise. The ball is moving even in Shenandoah, and the tyrannical rule of the "boss" and his understrappers is destined to be short.—

"Death to the Deserters."

Paul Sorely Pressed - Mahone's War Upon Confederate Widows, Mothers and Sisters, [Correspondence of The State.]

Washington, September 5.—It is reported that John Paul, finding things hot for him in the opening of his canvass and being compressed between the enterpris-ing efforts of O'Ferrall and the growing defection in his own party, came to Boss Mahone's headquarter to-day to seek comfort.It is known that in the "Portland Flat" there is a corresponding number sharps constitute the star Chamber Council, and to them Mr. Paul had a tale of woe to relate anent the unexpected enthusiasm for O'Ferrall, and the giowing distrust in the rural districts in the manufactured triumph in the Mahone organs. It is said that desperate efforts with campaign documents will be made to stop the rush of the readjusters to the democrats and the Boss, with the characteristic firmness and despotic temper for which he is noted proclaims "death to deserters," and "if any man hauls down the Mahone flag shoot him on the spot." There was an appeal made by a Readjuster last week to get Mahone to reinstate a lady whom he had caused to be turned out of an office, and though the most pathetic statement of the poverty of her family was given and the fact that her two brothers were killed in the Confederate army the answer was positive that no Democrats could hold office from Virginia.

THIS GREAT AND GLORIOUS COUNTRY -With a crop of 6,000,000 bales of cotton, toward 600,000,000 bushels of wheat, and over 1,500,000,00 bushels of corn, we may look upon our enormous and astonishing imports as not alarming; the owners of American railway property have a right to expect particularly happy results and those who feel discouraged at the compar sess their souls in peace. As Europe must take our surplus we need not be in a hurry to send our new cotton and our food stuffs abroad, and we need not send anyvor. Our farmers have and will have an abundance of everything; our mechanics and laborers will have cheap food; our factories are busy and will so continue; our transporation companies begin the best season on record; our merchants and tradesmen well have better buyers and more customers than during the last twelve months; our financial institutions will be busy and prosperous; and the whole coun try will celebrate Thanksgiving Day with more than ordinary joy and satisfaction.—

We wonder if Capt. John Paul will tell his hearers now that he is a Democrat. He professed to be a Democrat when he ran for Congress, he was elected by people to whom he proclaimed himself a Democrat,

Capt. John must obey the orders of his boss" and the instructions and interests of his constituents are without weight when opposed by Billy Mahone, the selfconstituted boss of Virginia .- Shen. Her

Mahone's Assessments-Public Prin-

[Special to the Philadelphia Times.]

Printer Rounds has locked horns with

Senator Mahone regarding the assessment of the Virginia employes of the Govern-ment printing office. Several cases were brought to the notice of Mr. Rounds in which employes who had cheerfully handed over to the National Congressional Committee the amount assessed against them, were besieged by collectors representing the Mahone faction. In consequence these employes were informed by the public Printer that any assessment made on them by Senator Mahone's committee should be paid voluntarily and no one should lose a position in the Government printing office for refusing to contribute. This decision has incensed Senator Mahone and his strikers and a vigorous assault will be made to effect a reconsideration, but from the general reputation of Mr. Rounds it is understood that he put his foot down in earnest on this matter and will not be bulldozed by the Virginia Boss. The example set in this Department will, it is said, be followed by the secretaries of other Depart-system of levying assessments not only by

The receipts number about the same as last week, and the quality in some of the pens is better than it was then. The offerings constitute a fair supply for the moderate demand. Chicago cornfed Hogs, with some few from Ohio, sell at 11a12 cents, as to quality, while grassers, mostly from Virginia and Ohio, sell at 10a11cents per lb net, with extra weight off. The weight of the Chicago cornfed Hogs range from 175 to 250 lbs gross, and grassers 100 to 160 gross. Receipts this week 4290 head against 4231 last week, and 9051 head same time last year.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

Bear Chase.

One of our rellow-citizens who was out snuffing the breeze, a short distance from town, on Sunday afternoon last, saw, or thought he saw, two tremendously large bears. He at once came to town, and with all haste proceeded to notify all the hunters of the presence of game worthy the attention of Cummings himself. Sunday as it was, our friends could not resist the temptation to go bear hunting. So they hastily laid down their prayer books and bibles, and hurriedly donning their hunting apparel, called together their dogs, and with gun in hand started for the hunting ground.

In a few minutes the town was astir, gentlemen armed with guns and pistols If not, do so at once. moving rapidly onward to the northern suburbs of the town. "What's the matter?" queried the people. "Bears." "How many?" "Droves." And away they went, faster and faster, the number augmenting at every step, until it looked as though there would not be more than one bear apiece for the hunters. Away they went, footmen and horsemen; (for some thought it best to go mounted,) guns and dogsshot-guns and rifles, pistols and muskets -pointers and setters, shepherds and bulls, hounds and curs-away they went, faster and faster, until at last they reached the place where the bears were last seen by our friend. As the hunters drew near the place, every gun was cocked, and with bated breath and watchful eye the eager hunters looked to see the dogs "jump the game." But alas! for human hopes, the bears were gone. Strange! passing strange! that they could have gotten away so soon. But they were gone. The dogs were hissed on, and on, but they could not be induced to as much as wag their tails. They could not get the scent. The trail was gone too. Evidently the bears had carried the trail with them when they left. Pity there was not even a tree near, up which they might have climbed-"nary tree." And there were no holes into which they might have crept-not a single hole. Gone! and gone so quick and so far that they did not leave even a track behind. And horsemen, and footmen, and dogs and all returned with-

The Masquerade at the Revere House, on Thursday night last, has been reported to us as successful in every particular. There was quite a large number of masquers present, considering the short notice at which the affair was gotten up, and the masques were of all grades, from the serious to the comic, the beautiful and grotesque. We cannot give a list of these. Dancing began at a little before 10 p. m., and was kept up until an early hour. Refreshments were served, and all seemed to enjoy themselves. Letter from Frieden's Church.

FRIEDEN'S CHURCH, Sept. 8, 1882. For fear you might think I had departed this life, or had joined the Mahoneites, (which would be worse,) I will devote a Frieden's Church to a point near Pleasant Valley Depot has been constructed and is about ready for public use. The most of erable length of time he has been in feeble of Robinson Showalter, Esq., who I believe | that he is steadily sinking, there being but to be, (without intending any disparagement to others,) the best Road Master in the county. In his own district he has present. sixteen miles of road, and there is only one cross-drain (or wheel-smasher as he terms them,) in all that distance. It is quite a pleasure to drive over his roads. The new road just completed is not in his district, but he undertook it at the earnest solicitation of Reuben Huffman, Esq., to whose energy in getting the order, &c., its existence is, in a great measure due. But for the niggardness of a portion of the Board of Supervisors in appropriating sufficient funds, it would have been made a great deal better road; this want rather cramping the operations of the contractor.

While on the road question I wish to correct an erroneous impression that has

FRIEDEN'S CHURCH.

Judge O'Ferrall is reported to have said "that nearly all the grants he had made for new roads during his term of office had Frieden's Church for an objective point; be cheaper to move the church to a public | ing Mrs. W. violently from the wagon.

The facts regarding the matter are; that the public road leading from Mt. Crawford to Cross Keys is, I suppose, as old as Rockingham County, and has always been known as the Frieden's Church Road. Several years ago an application was made for a new road from the Port Republic section to Frieden's, and this has been the only application, except for the present one, that has ever been made. The wrong impression arose from the fact that a number of petitions for new roads to intersect the Frieden's Church road instead of leading to the Church itself, had been made to the County Court, and the Courts got names slightly, as the Dutchman would a visit to Miss Ella Rohr, of this place, say, "iverzwarich." Frieden's is one of the

LANDMARKS OF THE COUNTY. the present structure having been erected in the year 1818, and is the third building that has occupied the same site. It was remodeled inside several years ago, by removing the gallery which occupied three sides of it. It is owned jointly by the Reformed and Lutheran congregations, who worship here. The former have been without a regular pastor for more than a year, but have succeeded in securing the services of Rev. B. B. Carnahan, who will enter upon the discharge of the duties of pastor of the charge about the 1st of October next. The latter have had since May last, formerly of Madison county. Mr. C. has created quite a favorable impression among the people generally since his advent here. There are two grave-yards at this place, the "old" one has long since been filled with graves, except a very small portion where the protruding limestone prevented any excavations being made. The name. "old grave-yard" is indeed appropriate and well merited, for here you will find old sandstone monuments with epitaphs in the German language, which tell you the remains beneath were interred over a hundred years ago. An unusual occurrence took place a week or more ago, and one that has not occurred within the memory of your correspondent. There were two interments on the same day; the one an old lady, Mrs. Bear, from near Mt. Crawford Depot, the other a little child of John Steele, and both blind! But for fear of trespassing too much upon your space and good nature, with what may not interest your readers generally, I will close. SLAPJACK.

-Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure. MEDICAL.

Oh, MyBack!

That's a common expression and has a world of meaning. How much suffering is summed up in it,

The singular thing about it is, that pain in the back is occasioned by so many things. May be caused by kidney disease, liver complaint, consumption, cold, rheumatism, dyspepsia, over-work, nervous debility, &c.

Whatever the cause, don't neglect it. Something is wrong and needs prompt attention. No medicine has yet been discovered that will so quickly and surely cure such diseases as Brown's Iron Bitters, and it does this by commencing at the foundation, and making the blood pure and rich.

> Logansport, Ind. Dec. 1, 1880. Logansport, Ind. Dec. x, x880.

> For a long time I have been a sufferer from stomach and kidney disease. My appetite was very poor and the very small amount I did eat disagreed with me. I was annoyed very much from non-retention of urine. I tried many remedies with no success, until I used Brown's Iron Bitters. Since I used that my stomach does not bother me any. My appetite is simply immense. My kidney trouble is no more, and my general health is such, that I feel like a new man. After the use of Brown's Iron Bitters for one month, I have gained twenty pounds in weight.

Leading physicians and clergymen use and recommend Brown's Iron Bit-TERS. It has cured others suffering as you are, and it will cure you.

FERTILIZERS.

TO THE FARMERS OF ROCKINGHAM COUNTY

We Desire to call your Thoughtful Attention to the Superior Merits of

ORCHILLA GUANO

AS A FERTILIZER FOR

AND AND GIRASS.

The advantages festilting from its use are not only an increased yield, but the permanent improvement of the soil from the abundant growth of grass which is sure to follow.

Orchills Gusno has been used extensively in Maryland, Pennsylvania and Virginia for several years, and from its abundant success everywhere, especially among the farmers of your section, we are justified in confidently recommending it to you as being well adapted to your soils. No fertilizer offered for your use has had such unvarying success and continued popularity. Some of the largest and best farmers in these three States use it almost exclusively.

It is since as ful, because it is Nature's own provision for her exhausted fields.

It is Low Priced, because we have none of the expense of manufacturers, and disregarding its high grade of Phosphates, have based our price upon its actual cost to import.

We refer you below to some of your people who have used it, and ask you to enquire of them as to its merits.

Wooldridge, Travers & Co., Importers, Baltimore, Md. READ THE FOLLOWING LETTERS:

C. N. SHEPP, of Inglewood, Rockingham Co., Va., writes July 4, 1882: The Orchilla

A. C. NEFF, Mt. Jackson, Shenandouh Co., Va., July 28, 1882, says: I used Orchilla Gu-no last fall beside a Phosphate costing $15 a ton more, and I could see no difference in the wheat. I will use

JOSEPH MAPHIS. Mt. Jackson. Shenandoh County. Va., July 28, 1882, says: Last fall sed 2,000 pounds of Orchilla Guano on ten acres, and it has proved to be a good article.

WM. N. WILSON, Staunton, Va., writes July 4, 1882: I am pleased to state that the Orchilla hought of you last fall. has given me entire satisfaction, and from the results, I believe it to be equal to any high-priced fertilizer in the market.

CYRUS P. SNAP. Staunton. Va., writes July 4, 1882: It affords me pleasure to bear testimony to the merits of the Orchilla purchased of you last fall, and from a careful observation of results in comparison with other preparatious, (some 5 or 6 different kinds,) I do not hesitate to give it the preference over any I have used.

JOEL GARBER, Fort Definance, Augusta Co., Va., August 4, 1882, says: The Orchilla Guano I used last fall has given me entire satisfaction. I only applied 150 pounds to the acre on very poor land, and the result was, I got a good crop of wheat, and a good stand of grass. It did fully as well as the $40 fertilizer, which I used the year previous. I can recommend Orchilla as a good and cheap fertilizer. G. M. WOOD, Fort Defiance, Augusta Co., Va., August 4, 1882, says: I sowed 2807 lbs. of Occidila Guano on ten acres of the poorest land on my place; on another field of better land containing sieven acres. I sowed 3400 lbs. of high-priced fertilizer. Both were sowed late,—about the 1st of November. I have just threshed, and the result is, I made only 13 bushels more on the 11 acres than on the 10.

JOSEPH M. MADDUX, Charlottesville, Va., July 3d, 1882, says: I used Orchilla Guano last

R. H. RAWLINGS, of Profits, Albemaric Co., Va., 3d July, 1882, says: I used 10 tons of Orchilla Guano last fall, and all my neighbors say I have the best crop of wheat ever raised in my neighbor-hood, judging from the shocks. The wheat seems to be well filled, but can tell better after threshing.

G. W. PURVIS writes from Keswick, Albemarle Co., Va., July 3, 1882, says: I used Orchilla Guano by the side of two other high grade fertilizers that cost more, and the Orchilla has made decidedly the best crop of wheat, I used less of the Orchilla per acre, than I did of either one of the others, and on land equally as thin. JACOB D. GROVE, of Waynesboro', Augusta Co., Va., July 18 1881, says: I used last fall one ton of Orchill- Guano, at the rate of about 200 pounds to the acre alongside of other fertilizers, on very thin land. The result has been most satisfactory. The wheat where I used the Orchilla is much the best, with the most promising prospect for grass, and no grass where the other was used. I consider it as good a fertilizer as I ever used for wheat, and decidedly the best for grass. I will want four tons of it this fall.

D. B. WEAVER, of Waynesboro, Augusta Co., Va., July 18 1881, says: I used a ton of Orchilla Guano last fall, and take pleasure in stating that it gave me entire satisfaction. I used it by the side of other fertilizers costing much more money, and I believe it to be as good as any I ever used.

R. D. HENSLEY, of Bethlehem. Augusta Co.. Va., July 18, 1881, says: I have used the Orchilla Guano purchased last fall on a very thin piece of land that I have repeatedly tried other fertilizers on and could never get a cron. I used the Orchilla at the rate of about 200 lbs. to the acre and the result is all that I could wish. The timothy was of such growth as to interfere to some extent with the wheat, much of it being in head when I cut the wheat. I recommend it as being superior to anything I have ever used for ALEXANDER KERR, of New Hope, Angusta Co., Va., July 5, 1881, Paye: I purchased one ton of your Orchilla Guano last fall, which I used by the side of a high-priced manure, in about equal quantities. I could see no difference in the wheat, the Orchilla costing much less money. I had the same land in wheat last year without any fertilizer, and I did not make more than five bushels per acre. This year I am satisfied I will not make less than fifteen.

DR. W. A. JONES, of Waynesboro', Augusta Co., Va., July 4, 1881, says: I used about 200 lbs. to the acre of Orchilla last fall and find the result satisfactory. Heads of grain are well filled, and there is a good prospect of grass. It compares well with other fertilizers used in the same field, at much greater

TESTIMONIALS-1882. HARRISONBURG, VA., July 13, 1882. HARMISONEURG, VA., July 18, 1886.
DEAR SIR:—The Zell's Economizer purchased of you last fall (5 tons) gave me entire satisfaction. I made a splendid crop of wheat—from 15 to 20 bushels to the acre and have a No. 1 stand of grass, all on very thin land. My advice to farmers desiring the use of a good fertilizer is to use nothing but Zell's Economizer. Very truly,

ALFRED GROVES,

Lacey Spring P. O., Rockingham Co., Va. HARRISONBURG, VA., August 7, 1882. Harrisonbung, V.A., August 7; 1882.

Dear Sir:—Yours to hand and noted, and in reply will say that the Zell's Economizer bought of you lest fall gave entire satisfaction on both wheat and grass; the grass is the finest stand Tever saw. Zell's S. C. Bone done splendid also. I consider the Economizer as good as any I ever used, and very superior to many brands now offered for sale on this market.

DEAR Str:—In reply to yours of the 6th, in reference to Zell's Economizer Fertilizer, will state that we used 2½ tons of the Economizer last year which gave us entire satisfaction. We will make 20 bushels to the acre, and a fine stand of grass. We consider to the acre, and a fine stand of grass. the Economizer a No. 1 article, very superior to many brands offered in this market. We will want more this fall. We used 200 lbs to the acre on medium land, HARRISONBURG, VA., July 2, 1882. DEAR SIR:—In reply to your enquiry about the result of Zell's Economizer Fertilizer on my wheat last fall. I can say with propriety that I used 175 lbs. to the acre, and think it will make 22 bushels of wheat to the acre.

M. M. SIBERT.

HARRISONBURG, VA., July 17, 1882.

DEAR SIR:—I used one ton of Zell's Economizer on nine acres of my thinnest land, and think I will make over 20 bushels of wheat to the acre. It has given more satisfaction than any brand I have used in the last five years. Very respectfully.

W. O. HILL. BBIDGEWATER, VA., July 8, 1882. BRIDGEWATER, Ya., July 8, 1852.

DEAR SIR:—I have just read your application for the results upon my wheat from the use of Zell's Economizer. I have a great attituathy to appearing on paper as the endorser of anybody or anything, yet I suppose I must answer your questions. I used something under 200 lbs. per acre on 50 acres of wheat with very satisfactory results. The field made 1500 dozen good bind. I have not threshed it, No room for further particulars.

J. A. HERRING, JR.

MONTEVIDEO, VA., July 10, 1882. DEAR SIR -I used 3 tons of Zell's Fertilizer at the rate of 200 lbs. per acre, by side of two other standard brands, and am satisfied with the result. My wheat, I think, will average about 20 bushels per acre.

JOHN H. BOWERS. DAYTON, VA., July 29, 1882. DEAR SIR:—I am sorry I've neglected writing you n regard to your Fertilizer. I think it quite as good as any I ever used. On land that I had been raising from ten to twelve bushels, this year I raised from 20 to 24 bushels per acre, so I shall take pleasure in recommending it. Very truly, that the Fertilizer you sold me has fall gave perfect satisfaction, so much so that I expect to use altogeth-er of it the ensuing season. I think it equally as good, if not better, than Ober. I sowed about 200 lbs. to the acre; the result a fine wheat crop. J. B. KENNEDY. KEEZELTOWN, VA., July 10, 1882.

Deals Strit—Yours of the 7th to hand, making enquiry as to the result of the use of Zell's Economizer, bought of you, upon the wheat crop just harvested. I used a little less than 200 lbs. to the acreana am highly pleased with the result. I used upon my crop only two brands of phosphate, the experience of the year before having shown their superiority. I tested as thoroughly and fairly as possible these two brands, and your phosphate has the advantage of being about 10 per cent: cheaper, though under similar circumstances can detect no difference in results. I have already threshed a portion of my crop and can find no difference in the yield or quality of the wheat.

GEO. B. KEEZEL. KEEZELTOWN, VA., July 10, 1882.

THE FARM AND HOME.

A REAL LUXURY .- Take a little more than half a package of gelatine and dissolve it in a cup of water, letting it stand for an hour, Then add the juice of four lemons, a pound of white sugar and a wineglass of sherry. After mixing these together, pour on the whole a half pint of boiling water. Place a mould upon ice, put into it a one-inch layer of jelly and let it set; then arrange upon it fruit of different kinds (peeled, cored, stoned and quartered;) put spoonfuls of jelly between the fruit and at the sides to keep the piece in position. It must be done slowly, allowing the jelly to set before adding more fruit. At the last add another layer of jelly, and leave it to get firm on the ice. Very ripe peaches are delicious in this jelley, peeled and quartered and soaked for a few minutes in sherry and sugar. Large ripe plums should be peeled neatly, a cut made down one side and stone taken out. Fill its place with a spoonful plum jelly; press the sides of the cut together so that the fruit will look whole, and arrange as above. Nearly all fruits can be used-but few that are can-

STUFFED MUTTEN,-Get the butcher to remove the bone from either shoulder or leg, and roll it into a fillet. Have the bone cracked and put into the soup pot. Make stuffing for your mutton in this wise: Boil two large onions until tender; then chop fine, add bread crumbs and sage to taste, a little salt and pepper. Put the stuffing in where the bone was removed. If you do not like the onion, squeeze a lemon over the bread crumbs and use sweet basil or thyme for the herbs. Baste the roast well and often in the oven. Baked meats, done in the oven, are never quite as good as the open-air roast of the old-fashioned tinkitchen or spit before the fire. But baked meats, that are frequently basted with hot water, stock or their own dippings, are quite another dish from the meat that is allowed to brown until it is quite dry. Leg of mutton is 12 cents a pound, shoulder of mutton 8 cents.

BREAKFAST OMELET .- Here is an explicit recipe for a breakfast omelet: Allow one egg for each person at the table; beat the eggs as light as for the nicest cake, add a little lump of salt and tablespoonful of milk for each egg; beat it at least one minute, then put in a hot frying pan in which you have melted enough butter to cover the bottom well. Cover the pan let the omelet cook undisturbed and slowly until it is stiff enough so that you can saise the edges easily, then put under a little more butter, and double the omelet together and slip it off on a hot plate. This should be made after everything else is about ready for the table, so that it may be eaten at

TOMATO Soup .- Tomato soup without stock can be made at a moment's notice, and it is a great convenience sometimes to make soup in this way. This is very appetizing: Cook in one quart of water, till very tender, one quart can of tomotoes (or eight largesize ones); ten minutes will probably be long enough to let them boil; add one teaspoonful of soda. When the foaming stops, and not before add one quart of milk. Season with pepper and salt and butter, and let it come to a boil. Roll a few crackers very fine, and add just before taking the soup from the fire. Put a layer of whole crackers, buttered on the bottom of the dish in which the soup is to be turn-

TIPSY PUDDING .- Soak a sponge cake baked in a form (or in fact dry pieces of cake of any kind can be used) in sherry wine. When saturated enough, so that it will not fall to pieces pour over it boiled custard, flavored with any thing preferred. If placed in a glass dish, decorate with the beaten whites of eggs poached and with dots-of jelly. If served in a common platter' squeeze the beated whites (sweetened and flavored) through a funnel in any fancy shapes over the pudding, and put it into the oven a moment to receive a delicate

IN THE LAUNDRY .- Boiled starch is much improved by the addition of a little spermaceti or a little salt, or both, or a little gum arabic dissolved. Beeswax and salt will make flat-irons asclean and smooth as glass; tie a lump of wax in a rag, and keep it for that purpose; when irons are hot, rub them with the wax rag, then scour with a paper or rag sprinkled with salt. Kerosene will make tin kettles as bright as new; saturate a woolen rag and rub with it; it will also remove stains from cleaned varnished furniture.

Mr. L. H. Ott, Harrisonburg, Va.:

DEAR SIR:—We have not as yet found it necessary to issue a printed guarantee for our Liquid Paints, regarding our position and reputation with the trade as a sufficient assurance that we would not place on the market an inferior stricte, particularly under our brand. We however will cheerfully follow the expedient which has been resorted to by some manufacturers to introduce their goods by stating that we will refune the money on repaint any work (with English Lead and Boiled Oil, we believe is orthodox) on which our Paints have been used that you feel well satisfied has proved itself inferior. If nurther guarantees are required, you may give them on our authority, but we do not think you will ever hear of one authentic case of trouble arising through the use of our paints. Yours truly,

John Lucas & Co.

In addition to the above mentioned Paint, I have a large stock of assorted shages of the well known Railroad Paint. manufactured by Masury & Son, the oldest Paint House in New York. It is not necessary for me to say much of this Paint, as I have been selling it for the past four years, and in not a single instance has it proved inferior. It has been used by the most experienced persons in this vicinity, and they all say it is the BEST. I also have a well selected stock of Puro Linesed Clis, Varnishes. Brandons, Colors in Cil, and Japan. Brusbes, and every hing to complete a Painter's ontift. I shall be pleased to make estimates for any person or persons who may wish to have their house or any other building painted.

MEDICINES, &C.

The leading Scientists of to-day agree that most diseases are caused by disordered Kidneys or Liver. If, therefore, the Kidneys and Liver are kept in perfect order, perfect health will be the result. The truth has only been known a short time and for years people suffered great agony without being able to find relief. The discovery of Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure marks a new era in the treatment of these troubles. Made from a simple tropical leaf of rare value, it contains just the elements necessary to nourish and invigorate both of these great organs and safely restore and keep them in order. It is a POSI-VIVE Reimedy for all the diseases that cause pains in the lower lart of the body—for Torbid Liver—Headaches—Jaundice—Dizziness—Gravel—Fever Ague—Malarial Fever, and all difficulties of the Kidneys, Liver and Urinary Organs.

It is an excellent and safe remedy for females during prepancy. It will control Menstruation and is invaluable for Lettcorrhosa or Falling of the Womb.

As a Blood Putifier it is unequaled, for it cures the organs that make the blood.

This Remedy, which has done such wonders, is put uip in the LARGEST SIZED BOTTLE of any medicine upon the market, and is sold by Draggists and all dealers at $1.25 per bottle. For Diabetes, enquire for WARNER'S SAFE DIABETES CURE. It is a POSITIVE Remedy.

OLD COMMONWEALTH.

The Snow of Age. "No snow falls lighter than the snow of age; but none is heavier, for it hever melts." The figure is by no means novel, but the closing part of the sentence is new as well as emphatic. The scriptures represent age by the almond tree, which bears blossoms of the purest white. "The almond tree shall flourish"—the head shall be hoary. Dickens says of one of his characters snows upon its passage." "It never melts"—no never! Age is inexorable. Its wheels must move onwardthey know no retrogade movement. The old man may set and sing, "I would I were a boy again"-but he grows older as he sings. He may read of the elixir of youth, but he cannot find it; he may sigh for the secrets of that alchemy which is able to make him young, but singing brings it not. He may gaze backward with an eye of longing upon the rosy scenes of early years, as one who gazes on his home from the deck of a departing ship, which every moment carries him farther away. Poor old man! He has little more to do than

The nows of winter comes and sheds its white blessings upon the valley and the mountains, but soon the sweet spring comes and smiles it all away. Not so with that upon the brow of the tottering veteran. There is no spring whose warmth can pen- Having purchased the etrate its eternal frost. It came to stay. Its single flakes fell unnoticed-and now it is drilled there. He shall see it increase until we lay the old man in his grave. There it shall be absorbed by the eternal darkness-for there is no age in heaven.

Yet who speak of age in mornful strain? It is beautiful, honorable, eloquent. Should we sigh at the proximity of death, when life and the world are so full of emptiness? Let the old exult because they are old. If any must weep let it be the young, at the long succession of cares that it is an emblem of peace and of rest. It is but a temporal crown which shall fall at the gates of Paradise to be replaced by a brighter and better one.

In inviting attention to the Celebrated Springdale Pure Rye Whiskey, patented and manufactured by Mr. H. Rosenheim, it is but doing justice to him individually, and conferring a favor upon those who desire or have need for an article of undoubted purity and unsurpassed in quality.

This fine Whiskey is specially manufactured by Mr. Rosenheim, under letters-patent, and is for sale by him exclusively. There is no similar article offered in the Baltimore market and, from its purity and excellence, should be in the cabinet of every one who values a fine and pure article. So free from every adulteration in this Whiskey, and so carefully has it been manufactured, that it is largely proscribed by the medical profession in cases requiring a stimulant. As before stated, this fine Whiskey can be obtained only at the Wholesale Warerooms of Mr. Rosenheim, No. 375 West Baltimore Street. This Whiskey is five and eight years old.

The purity and careful manufacture of this fine whiskey is attested by the Editor,
