THE READING TABLE

The purpose is to provide an objective measure of a pupil's knowledge in the several fields of home economics. There are three series of tests, one for each of the following phases of home economics: foods and cookery, clothing and textiles, and household management; and each series has two forms with four parts to each form.

The test aims to measure the knowledge necessary for healthful and right living, and knowledge of the principles underlying certain skills in foods, clothing, and household management. These tests should prove very helpful to teachers of junior and senior high school classes in home economics. J. B. R.

A book of delightful songs, beautifully illustrated, suitable for the early primary grades. The author uses such subjects as the various holidays and many of those other things which are of interest to children—for instance, the robin, the Ferris wheel, the seesaw, soldiers, etc. Children should enjoy it all the more because of its attractive make-up and good print. B. J. L.

This is an excellent series. The content is varied—of such nature as biography, adventure, out-of-doors stories, and history. Much of the material belongs to the present day, though there are choice bits of the classics as well—a happy combination. The illustrations are very attractive and some of them colorful. The short introductory paragraphs are motivating; significant questions at the end of most of the selections should help the child to check up on his ability to comprehend as he reads. B. J. L.

Written to be used as a text, this gives excellent outlines on a variety of nature subjects. A teacher in any locality could find material suitable for her use. Its best point is the guidance it offers for observation of and practice in caring for nature. L. C.

BLACKSTONE FAILS
Blackstone (Va.) Military Academy has again run into financial difficulties and was sold under the hammer early in April. Colonel E. S. Ligon, who has worked so long to build up the institution, is withdrawing from the enterprise.

The school was operated as Blackstone Military School until it went through a foreclosure sale in 1927 by which all the creditors were wiped out except the local banks who took over the property and sold it back to “Blackstone, A Military Academy Owned and Operated by E. S. Ligon, Inc.”

Two bad financial years in succession have at last compelled the closing of the school.—Private School News.

Remember what Simonides said—that he never repented that he had held his tongue, but often that he had spoken.—Plutarch.

The finest education is the education that has been acquired by daily labor, by saving, not so much money but what is still more precious—time and opportunity. It is those moments that pass by us, almost unconsidered, that should be used in attaining to that great satisfaction of mind, that peace of conscience, which comes from making the very best of the opportunities that God has implanted in our midst.

—Ramsay MacDonald.

“We must always make sure that our faith in God is not of the timid, calculating sort which flourishes only when we are successful and safe, but vanishes when there is something to endure.”

—Raymond C. Knox.

OUR CONTRIBUTORS

Benjamin F. Wilson has just resigned as minister of the Harrisonburg Presbyterian Church after a pastorate of twenty-six years.

William E. Dodd, who is professor of American History in the University of Chicago, delivered this address at the dedication of Wilson Hall at the State Teachers College in Harrisonburg on May 15 last. Professor Dodd is a leading authority on Woodrow Wilson, and is author of various volumes and studies concerning the great Virginian, among them, Woodrow Wilson and His Work (Doubleday).

Julian A. Burruss, who has been president of the Virginia Polytechnic Institute since 1919, was president of the Harrisonburg State Teachers College during the first ten years of its existence.

Samuel P. Duke has been president of the college at Harrisonburg since 1919, directing and stimulating its continuous growth.

Sidney B. Hall succeeded Harris Hart as Superintendent of Public Instruction at the beginning of the present year, coming back to Virginia from the George Peabody College for Teachers where he was professor of education.

John Garland Pollard, as Governor of the Commonwealth, was an honored guest at the dedication of Wilson Hall at Harrisonburg. His gracious and informal speech is reproduced from the news dispatches.

Harry Flood Byrd, former Governor and “favorite son” of the Shenandoah Valley, honors the Valley’s other son in whose memory the administration building is named.
