FIVE RULES FOR HAPPY PARENTHOOD
Parents as well as children have the right to be happy and enjoy the family relationships, says Dr. Jessie Chase Fenton in The Parents' Magazine. Five rules which, according to this child psychologist, will lead to happy parenthood, are:
1. Recognize the fact that parenthood does not endow one with any exalted characteristics; even parents are human beings.
2. Find your children interesting, in the sense that radio fans find a radio interesting.
3. React to your children objectively, not possessively.
5. Enjoy your children.

NEWS OF THE COLLEGE
Mary Watt, Katherine Bowen, Mary Farinholt, and Frances Ralston brought prestige to H. T. C. when they were chosen on the picked team to play an exhibition game against the Philadelphia "Southeasters" at the recent hockey tournament at William and Mary. The entire team made the trip. Although the tournament was primarily instructive rather than competitive, Harrisonburg tied Sweet Briar in one game with a score of 0-0, and was defeated 2-1 by Farmville.

With Nancy Trott in charge of student participation, the annual Red Cross drive held this year was a real success. Of special interest was the float in the Armistice day parade, which attracted much comment because of its unusual features.

Richard B. Sheridan's comic opera, "The Duenna," was presented here by the Jitney Players, November 12, as the second number of the college entertainment series.

Miss Florence Stratemeyer, first vice-president of Kappa Delta Pi and member of the faculty of Teachers College, Columbia University, visited the campus and training school, November 1 and 2. Alpha Chi Chapter of Kappa Delta Pi entertained in her honor.

Mary Cloe, of Charleston, West Virginia, was elected president of the freshmen class recently. Other officers are: Evelyn Watkins, of Norfolk, vice-president; Dorothy Williams, of Norfolk, treasurer; Mildred Simpson, of Norfolk, secretary; Margaret Eure, of Lynchburg, business manager, and Virginia Carmines, of Hampton, sergeant-at-arms. Miss Lula Coe will be their Big Sister, Dr. H. A. Converse, their honorary member, and Janet Rebecca Hanson, their class mascot.

Approximately six hundred white-clad H. T. C. girls marched, according to class, in the Armistice day parade here. Immediately after the parade, the student body attended a picnic at the school camp, through the courtesy of the Shenandoah Bus Company, which furnished free transportation.

Harrisonburg varsity lost to Westhampton in the first home game of the season, played here, with a score of 2-1. In a fast and exciting game, Harrisonburg successfully downed the William and Mary hockey team with a score of 3-2.

Miss Florence Boehmer, Dean of Women, recently attended the meeting of the Woman’s Intercollegiate Association at New Jersey College for Women in New Brunswick, New Jersey. She also attended a regional meeting of deans at Washington, D. C.

Louise Hobson, of Roanoke, and Rosalie Ott, of Harrisonburg, have been announced as new members of the Aeolian Club.

The Stratfords presented the modern comedy, “Bab,” as their first play of the season on December 5.

Almost four hundred girls spent the Thanksgiving holidays at home—or at other interesting places. There was the usual turkey dinner and Thanksgiving celebration for those who remained on the campus.

Many alumnae visited friends at the college during the holidays, a number of them playing on the alumnae hockey team, which was beaten by the varsity by a score of 3 to 0. The Y. W. C. A. and other organizations entertained in honor of these visitors.
