ALUMNAE NEWS

Rowena Lacy writes: “I am still teaching in the Portsmouth schools and enjoy my work. Tomorrow night (February 2) the Harrisonburg Alumnae Chapter meets in our apartment. Ruth Rodes, Audrey Cheving, Nettie McNulty, and I all keep house together. Nettie is a Farmville girl, but the others you recognize as former H. T. C. girls.”

The alumnae secretary has completed data data on the counties of Virginia that employ former students of H. T. C. The list below contains the name and address of each alumna teaching in that county. The list will be continued in future numbers of The Virginia Teacher.

PERSONALS

A letter was received recently from Doris Persinger, who is on the faculty of the McGuffey School, Charlottesville. Mrs. Annie B. Adams, Mrs. Madge Bryan Burnett, Helen Browne, Thelma Gochenour, Emma Pettit, Emily Pugh, Helen Sadler, Madge Trevillian, and Janie K. Werner teach in the same school.

Betty Davis, Lena Gochenour, and Loreayne Osborne teach in the Venable School, Charlottesville. Ada L. Berrey is the only H. T. C. alumnae teaching in the High School at Charlottesville.

Suella Reynolds who is teaching in Alexandria visited the College the latter part of January. Suella is planning to organize the H. T. C. Alumnae in Alexandria.

Gertrude Drinker who teaches Home Economics in Atlee, Virginia, called a meeting of the alumnae of Hanover County which met at the John Marshall Hotel, Richmond, at 11 o'clock, Feb. 21.
Helen M. Lee, of Norfolk, collected dues from the following H. T. C. alumnae teaching in her school and sent the money to the alumnae office: Gladys Goodson, Bessie Taylor, Edna Phelps and Mrs. A. T. Warwick.

Alice Denby, Norfolk, sent in her dues to the Alumnae Association.

Rebecca Jennings and Carrie Dickerson, South Boston, plan to organize the H. T. C. Alumnae of Halifax County.

Juanita Beery, now Mrs. E. L. Houck of Blackstone, Virginia recently wrote the alumnae office and sent check for dues.

Margaret Ford, Norfolk, collected dues from the alumnae in her school and sent check to alumnae office. Mabel Rawls and Elizabeth Terrie teach in the same school.

Mary B. Hinton, a four-year graduate, sent dues to the alumnae office Jan. 29. Miss Hinton is teaching in Roanoke.

Doris T. Shotwell of Emporia; Mrs. Virginia Mecartney Barrow of Alberta; Mrs. Margaret Lewis Wise of Harrisonburg and Edith Glick of Mt. Crawford recently sent in their dues to the alumnae office.

Mrs. Harry Garber, alumnae secretary, has planned meetings of the alumnae in the following cities: Richmond, Petersburg, Norfolk, Portsmouth, Hampton and Newport News. President S. P. Duke will be present at these meetings to address the alumnae. The presidents of the above alumnae chapters are: Gladys Lee, Richmond; Helen Bowman, Petersburg; Isabel DuVal, Norfolk; Mattie Worster, Portsmouth; Charlotte Wilson, Hampton; Emily Wiley, Newport News.

Ruby Walton, Burkville, has been appointed to organize the H. T. C. alumnae in Nottoway County.

Most crime would disappear if there were high schools adequate to meet the needs of the United States of today and tomorrow. One good teacher is worth a platoon of policemen.—THOMAS H. BRIGGS.

“We expect an airplane generation to be pushed around in moral oxcarts.”

—GOODWIN WATSON.

Youth, which is forgiven everything, forgives itself nothing; age, which forgives itself everything, is forgiven nothing.

—BERNARD SHAW.

Boy scouting means something very real to a boy. The loyalties of youth are the strongest loyalties that we have, and if we can develop them in this particular way we should do so.—RAY LYMAN WILBUR.

The standards which teachers are required to maintain are continually rising. Their work takes on a new dignity. It is rising above a calling, above a profession, into the realms of an art. . . . It is not too much to say that the need of civilization is the need of teachers. The contribution which they make to human welfare is beyond estimation.—CALVIN COOLIDGE.

NEW SCHOOLS FOR OLD

these a third control—interpretation of truth to the learner—and the last of these is not the least.

Teaching viewed from this angle well may be considered one of the most attractive callings. As Buckingham quite appropriately has pointed out, the educational worker deals with living children, who are constantly changing and always in some interesting stage of development. He does not experiment with sticks, stones, fossils, or bugs as do scientists in certain other fields. If teaching of children is to include study of them, then it well may be thought of as one of life's great adventures.

TWO AMERICAN EDUCATORS HONORED BY LEAGUE OF NATIONS

Two members of the Educational Committee of the League of Nations Association have recently been accorded an international honor. Dr. Stephen P. Duggan, Director of the Institute of International Education, originally Chairman of the Educational Committee of the League of Nations Association and still active in this Committee's work, has been appointed a member of the League of Nations' Sub-Committee of Experts for the Instruction of Youth in the Aims and Organization of the League of Nations.

Miss Helen Clarkson Miller, present Chairman of the Educational Committee of the League of Nations Association and Headmistress of the Spence School in New York, was named as substitute for Dr. Duggan in the event he should be unable to attend some of the Sub-Committee's meetings. The work of this Sub-Committee, authorized by the Sixth Assembly of the League in 1925, is admirably outlined in the Assembly resolution: “to familiarize young people throughout the world with the principles and work of the League of Nations and to train the younger generation to regard international co-operation as the normal method of conducting world affairs.”
