

the history of the institution we have had students from twenty-four different states, the District of Columbia, the Dominion of Canada, Cuba, and China, and the states represented are spread out from Connecticut to Florida, from North Dakota to Texas, and from Virginia to California.

Column VII shows the total number of different individuals who have been registered at this institution up to the end of each year. Including the registration for the current session the influence of this institution has been directly felt by more than eleven thousand persons.

Column VIII shows the number of students entering during each calendar year who had not formerly been registered at this institution. Columns IX and XI give the number of graduates of the two-year and the four-year courses respectively by years, while columns X and XII give the total number of graduates in these courses at the close of each academic year. Thus this institution has graduated in its twenty-one years of existence 2136 students who have completed the two-year course and received the Normal Professional certificate and 469 students who have received the Bachelor of Science degree and the Collegiate Professional certificate.

Many other interesting conclusions might be drawn from the figures in this tabulation, but space will not permit.

HENRY A. CONVERSE

The strength and security of the nation will always rest in the intelligent body of the people. Our education should implant conceptions of public duty and private obligations broad enough to envisage the problems of a great distraught world. More than anything else, men and women need the capacity to see with clear eye and to contemplate with open, unprejudiced mind the issues of these times.

—WARREN G. HARDING

FACULTY MEMBERS

THE Harrisonburg State Teachers College—at that time the State Normal and Industrial School—opened its first session in September, 1909, with a faculty of fifteen members, two of whom, Miss Cleveland and Dr. Wayland, have been continuously members of the faculty ever since. The faculty has steadily grown from year to year, as indicated by the accompanying Graph I. The most marked increase occurred in the years 1916 and 1919, and again in the years 1924 and 1927. The present faculty, including the School of Music, consists of forty-nine members as compared to fifteen members twenty-one years ago.

FIGURE I. GRAPH SHOWING, BY YEARS, THE NUMERICAL INCREASE IN FACULTY OF THE STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE AT HARRISONBURG (NOT INCLUDING SUMMER SCHOOL AND TRAINING SCHOOL)

The academic qualifications of faculty members, exclusive of the School of Music, are classified to show the percentage of those who hold the Master's degree as a minimum, those who hold the Bachelor's degree, and those who have no academic degree. The changes, by years, is shown by the accompanying Graph II.

The outstanding feature of this analysis is the marked increase in the percentage of those who hold the Master's degree as a minimum academic attainment, indicated by the growth from fourteen per cent in 1909 to eighty-four per cent in 1931—one-fourth of whom hold also the Doctor's degree. Accompanying the above change, there has been a corresponding decrease in those faculty members holding no academic degree since 1909, and a decrease in those holding only the Bachelor's degree since 1922. At the present time all members of the college faculty hold at least the Bachelor's degree, and only sixteen per cent do not have the minimum of the Master's degree.

This study of the growth and development of the faculty of the Harrisonburg State Teachers College does not include the faculties of the Summer School and Training Schools.
