

THE TEACHER'S JOE MILLER

Professor: "You missed my class yesterday, didn't you?"

Student: "Not in the least, sir, not in the least."

WHEW!

Business Man: "I suppose you are on the football team?"

Johnnie: "Well, yes, I do the aerial work."

Business Man: "What's that?"

Johnnie: "I blow up the footballs."

STORK AND SINK

Teacher: "Can you tell me the difference between a stoic and a cynic?"

Abie: "A stoic is a boid that brings the babies and a cynic is the place where you wash the dishes."

MURDER

Pupil (bluffing): "You can't see time; no one ever saw it. You can't hear it, you can't touch it—"

Teacher: "You're killing it, though."

QUICK LIKE A RABBIT

Nit: "What happens when the leaves fall?"

Wit: "The fall leaves."

WHEN KNIGHTHOOD WAS . . .

Ben, aged fourteen, was reading "King Arthur" to Bud, aged seven.

"Ben," Bud asked, "what did those knights mean when they said, 'Wit you well'?"

After some thought Ben explained: "It was just an old-fashioned way of saying, 'I'm tellin' you.'"

ANOTHER BIG BAD WOLF

Jane's father and grandfather, both Republicans, had been giving their unbiased opinion of the Democratic party. "Oh, dear," sighed little Jane when bed time came, "I don't dare go upstairs. I am afraid there might be a Democrat under the bed."

KEEPING UP WITH FATHER

It was a Pike County woman who authored a note to the teacher concerning the punishment of her young hopeful. The note ran thus:

"Dear Miss—: You rite me about whippin' Sammy. I hereby give you permission to beat him up any time it is necessary to learn his lesson. He is just like his father—you have to learn him with a club. Pound nolege into him. I want him to get it and don't pay attention to what his father says—I'll handle him."

KNOCK! KNOCK!

A teacher was reading to her class when she came across the word "unaware." She asked if anyone knew the meaning. One tiny girl raised her hand timidly and gave the following definition:

"Unaware is what you put on first and take off last."

TWO HALVES EQUAL NOTHING

"Pa," said Willie; "a man's wife is his better half, isn't she?"

"Well, we are told so, my son," said Father noncommittally.

"Well, then," continued Willie, "if a man marries twice, there isn't anything left of him, is there?"

CORRECT DEFINITION

In the course of a general knowledge test, some small boys were asked: "If your mother is shopping and finds she has left her purse at home, she may ask the shopkeeper to send the parcel C. O. D. What do these initials mean?"

It was a very earnest boy, not yet old enough for frivolity, who answered: "Care of Daddy."
