

by Leslie Purnell, of Salisbury, Md., assisted by Margaret Glover, of Weyers Cave, Senior leader; Letitia Holler, of Camden, N. J., of the Junior Class; Adeline Tucker, of McKenny, Sophomore leader; Dorothea Fleisher, of Gordonsville, of the Freshman Class.

Badminton was recently made a major campus sport by the Athletic Association, and Yvette Kohn, of Brooklyn, N. Y., was elected leader.

Formerly this sport, resembling tennis, has been played only by the different teams in the Sophomore Sports Class. This year each class will select a leader and an intra-class tournament will be conducted after the game has been fully established.

Individual champions will compete against each other for the school championship.

Approximately two hundred books were received at the library the first week of December, bringing the total number of books accessioned during the fall quarter to about 500. The amount expended for books was about $750.

"Historic Homes of Northern Virginia and the Eastern Panhandle of West Virginia" by Dr. John W. Wayland, former professor of History and Social Science at the college, was issued by The McClure Company, of Staunton.

Dr. Wayland had been collecting the pictures and data for this book for over 34 years, and the material has been in the printing process for over a year.

The publication contains valuable information on more than 400 historical homes which are depicted in 540 illustrations. In addition to these photographs and drawings, 56 maps and plans, which give specific locations, are included. The volume covers over 600 pages and is divided into 6 parts corresponding to the geographical divisions.

In keeping with its constitution, one of the clauses of which is to promote learning, Kappa Delta Pi, honorary fraternity in education, will sponsor tutoring classes this quarter. The classes, free of charge, are open to any students, but were designed particularly for Freshmen.

Funeral services were held in Richmond December 6 for Mrs. Cornelius J. Heatwole, friend of many faculty members of the college, who died suddenly at her home in Richmond, December 5.

Mrs. Heatwole, whose husband is secretary of the Virginia Education Association and editor of the Virginia Journal of Education, took an active part in the work of the association.

Mr. Heatwole was a member of the first faculty of this college and served as head of the Education Department for four years.
