construction. Thus the author lays the foundation for the rest of his book, which is devoted to a criticism of the precision of educational measurement.

The author says, "Educational measurement will move in two directions: first, it will seek for those independent and homogeneous elements with which it can deal most successfully; and, second, it will rest content with the degree of accuracy it has attained and will attempt to adapt its techniques and procedures to the requirements of qualitative evaluation."

This is more than "just another" anthology of literature for children. Designed as a textbook for prospective teachers and as a source book for teachers, the material—both old and recent literature suitable for the first six grades and some even for junior high school—is arranged by types. The poetry is also classified according to theme.

An introductory chapter in each section defines each type and tells something of its historical development, its general characteristics and values. Although these are the features of all anthologies of children's literature, this book seems superior because the selections represent children's choices and because the format of the book is very attractive.

In addition to the well-chosen selections there are abundant bibliographies and reading lists, which include the most recent literature. There are also thought-provoking questions and suggestions for study and discussion and class activities.

NEWS OF THE COLLEGE

Dr. Chen Chang-Lok, counselor of the Chinese Embassy, addressed the student body and faculty on the subject, "The Struggle in China," on January 25. Dr. Chen, who was brought here by the local chapter of Kappa Delta Pi, has been associated with the Embassy in Washington since October, 1938.

"Japan's ruthless warfare in China is a serious blunder," he asserted. "China has too many people of her own to accommodate invading Japanese; furthermore China's development is not military, but cultural and educational. Japan doesn't understand these finer phases of a higher civilization; its plans are only for its own selfish gains."

"Just because countries want the possession of other countries is no reason they have to fight," Dr. Chen said. "They should work out a system of neutral exchange whereby both countries would profit. But Japan wanted to fight, and the only thing China could do was fight back."

Selected by the student body as the outstanding girls on campus, eight seniors, four juniors, two sophomores, and two freshmen will have their pictures in the feature section of the 1939 Schoolma'am, edited by Jane Logan, Harrisonburg.

ALUMNAE NOTES

Indications are that there will be many alumnae back on March 17 and 18 for the 1939 Home-Coming. Registration of alumnae will be in Alumnae Hall. Badge, program, and tickets are given each alumna when she registers.

The main feature on March 17 is the presentation by the Stratford Dramatic Club, under the direction of Dr. Tresidder, of Noel Coward’s play “I’ll Leave It to You.” The college orchestra under the leadership of Mr. Marshall will furnish the music.

The program on March 18 will be similar to that of last year. In the morning, at eleven o’clock, the local chapter will have an “Open House” in Alumnae Hall to which all alumnae and faculty are invited. This is one of the most enjoyable features of the week-end, as it gives opportunity to greet former classmates and faculty members.

Instead of a banquet this year, there will be a luncheon in Bluestone Dining Hall at one o’clock. Mary Brown Allgood, president of the association, will preside, and Dr. Duke will be the main speaker. The business meeting in the auditorium of Wilson Hall will follow the luncheon. The election of officers will constitute one piece of business. Because Mary Brown Allgood has accepted a position in Ohio and will be unable to keep in close contact with the organization, she is asking that another person be elected president to complete the second year of office. The officers whose terms expire this year are the vice-president, Pam Parkins Thomas, of Toledo, Ohio, and the treasurer, Mary McNiel Willis, of Culpeper.

This is the year for the reunion of the classes of ’14, ’19, ’24, ’29 and ’34; members of these classes are planning special meetings in the interval between the business meeting and the dance.

At eight-thirty a movie will be shown in the auditorium of Wilson Hall and the dance in Reed gymnasium will begin. The dance will be restricted to alumnae and members of the senior class. The music for the dance will be provided by the Virginians, who played for the dance last year.
