Our Presidents

GEORGE TYLER MILLER

whose friendship is in tune with the spirit of Madison College, and whose leadership potentialities promise our college a successful tomorrow.
Presidential Inauguration

One of the highlights of the year was the inauguration of G. Tyler Miller as the third president of Madison College in the ceremony held December 10, 1949, in Wilson Auditorium.

The many guests who attended included delegates of other colleges and officials of the State.

Dr. M'Ledge Moffett, Dean of Women of Radford College, paid a tribute to the outstanding achievements and selfless service of Dr. Samuel Page Duke, President Emeritus.

William M. Tuck, Governor of Virginia, greeted the guests and extended enthusiastic good wishes to President Miller and to the future of Madison College.

Dr. J. Hillis Miller, President of the University of Florida, delivered an interesting analysis of liberal education, its aims and problems.

Mr. Blake T. Newton, Chairman of the State Board of Education, formally installed the new president of Madison College.
President G. Tyler Miller expressed his gratitude for the opportunity afforded him as leader of Madison College and set forth plans for future advancement of the college.

A reception and a luncheon were held for delegates and official guests following the inaugural ceremony.

In Harrison Hall—a reception and luncheon.
LAYING THE FOUNDATION FOR LOGAN HALL
Foreword

At this mid-century we pause — looking back into the past with heartfelt memories and into the future with youthful dreams for progress and achievement. These years at Madison have been but the foundation stones. College has been a way of life from which we have gained knowledge and inspiration. We have known exuberance and melancholy, contentment and restlessness, achievement and disillusion, but throughout the years there has been the undercurrent of development. May these pages reflect this growth; may they exhibit our readiness to meet the problems of a changing world.

Motto

“That our daughters may be as cornerstones, polished after the similitude of a palace.”
THIS IS DOLLY . . .

It matters not if she is tall or short, thin or stout, brilliant or average. What does matter is that in her heart there lives a genuine feeling of pride and love for Madison College. The traditions, challenging opportunities, incomparable fellowships, and the busy hum of activity have come to be very dear to her. Her years at Madison have enriched her life so much that, in keeping with the prevailing spirit here, she would like to share them with you. Here is a view of her way of life, an adequate background for professional life or homemaking. She hopes you will like it as much as she does. Let her guide you now through the pages of this book which are a brief glimpse into the life of Madison College.

Campus . . . whether sunning on the rock or watching the lights glowing brightly at night, we find our campus is a shining jewel set in a lovely valley.

Classes . . . whether Freshman or Senior, we sit side by side in classes and walk together down Wilson steps on our way back to our dorms, our arms full of books.
Administration... whether giving us individual aid or meeting as a whole to discuss our problems, they are our teachers and friends, without whom our small success could never have been attained.

Organizations... whether members of large groups such as Student Government, or officers and members of smaller clubs, we join together for special interests and social experiences.

Athletics... whether we play on the varsity teams or merely for our own enjoyment, we believe in good sportsmanship of participants and spectators.

School Life... whether we are caught in the teeming post office rush, or are enjoying a leisurely Saturday night date, our daily activities are the real essence of life.

Features... whether she be Madonna of the Christmas pageant or a leader in her class, there are times when we wish to recognize the outstanding members among us.

Advertisements... whether we need clothes, food, gifts, school supplies or what-not, there are friendly merchants ready to serve us.
... whether sunning on the rock or watching the lights glowing brightly at night, we find our campus is a shining jewel set in a lovely valley.

Campus
Through the GATEWAY we pass many times . . . arriving as freshmen, going to town, mailing a letter late at night, or coming back from a week end. It’s our welcome mat, beckoning friends to our campus. As Seniors we pass through it, leaving behind our college days but retaining our wonderful memories.
Who can forget her first meeting in ALUMNAE HALL with Mrs. Garber, Dean of Freshmen, the dates and teas in the reception room, or visits with Miss Vandever as an upperclassman.
MAURY HALL, the oldest classroom building on campus, holds many a lingering memory and squeaking floorboard. What surprising odor will float through its halls today—the smell of baking from the home economics department or the bitter twang of hydrogen sulfide from the chemistry laboratory?
REED HALL offers a motley combination of exercise for the mind and body. It's as much "home" for the physical education major who lives in its gym as for the language and history student who dwells in its classrooms. And on special nights, when the gymnasium becomes a glittering ballroom and couples dance to orchestral strains, it turns into a palace.
HARRISON HALL, with its practice rooms, dining halls, post office, book store, tea room and bulletin boards, is certainly a center of campus activity. Elections, "pay-days", luncheons, and jam sessions are held within its walls. Madison students pass through its doors many times a day.
The LIBRARY is a haven of peace and solitude, where one can seek knowledge. The student's search for truth is conducted here where information awaits him in the latest newspapers and magazines as well as in the oldest, time-worn volumes.
Many times we've walked along the campus PATHWAYS from early dawn until late at night, but we never cease to be fascinated by the mosaic patterns of the shadows on the walks.
HOME MANAGEMENT HOUSE is a dream fulfilled for home economics majors who here have the opportunity to apply all of the things which they have learned. The house is lovely in every way with a stately gray stone exterior and a duplex interior decorated in period furnishings on the North Side and modern furnishings on the South Side.
whether Freshman or Senior, we sit side by side in classes and walk together down Wilson steps on our way back to our dorms, our arms full of books.

Classes
Senior Class

Every graduating class has remembrances of its past four happy years at Madison. The class of 1950, although it has added innovations to Madison tradition, could hardly call itself different in this respect.

So, in looking through the kaleidoscope, we see the freshman year first of all. That was the year that it didn’t rain all fall, that the longest lines in all times were formed—in the post-office, the tea room, the bank, the registrar’s office—and that men were enrolled for the first time in a regular session. The tennis champion of the year was Henrietta Lanier and the runner-up was Dot Lewis, also a freshman.

Officers: L. Foster, sergeant-at-arms; J. Parker, secretary; B. Hurdle, vice-president; M. Bates, treasurer; A. Simpson, reporter; J. Pugh, business manager
The girls didn't stop eating either. James's, Flippo's, Julias's and all the other gathering places were visited constantly. By the next fall the same girls couldn't be recognized except as "bursting-at-the-seam" Sophomores. Nearly all the class were now living at sophomore haven, Johnston Hall.

A busy sophomore year trimmed the girls to neat Juniors, who lived in suites. Everyone now had unlimited week ends, and practically everyone was overwhelmed by assignments of term papers. Could this be the year they had been dreaming of? It was a mad-happy combination of play and work.

In between term papers, there was Junior Class Day with Ellis Arnall as speaker, the first election campaign for major college officers, and, best of all, recreation rooms, a redecorated college camp, and new privileges.

But if the kaleidoscope showed changes from 1946 to 1948, it began to spin madly in 1949, for when the class returned that fall, it welcomed all sorts of new changes. A new family had moved into Hillcrest. Although regretful at the resignation of Dr. Duke, the class added its welcome to Mr. Miller, the new president. There were pastel rooms in the suites, kitchenettes in the sorority houses, unlimited lights, no library fines, Doc's across the street, a new dormitory under construction, a dance-club week end, and the new game canasta! Dr. and Mrs. Chappell, the sponsors, and Jimmie Chappell, the mascot, remained constant factors through all changes.

It isn't that the mid-century class meant to bring changes to Madison; it's just that change has followed upon its heels, even in the new welcoming ceremony of student government for the freshmen.

And so they graduated with a spirit welcoming change whenever it brings good—the class of 1950.
Senior Hall, the home of many "dignified" Seniors and the background for our colorful May Day.

Who can forget the fun of Senior Class Night when we recalled and relived earlier days at Madison?
Graduation Days

An air of excitement settled over the campus the first week in June as Seniors realized that these were their last days at Madison. It seemed as if examinations would never be over . . . and then they were. At last all breathed a sigh of relief and took their places in the line for processional practice on Friday.

Saturday was a busy day, with the Senior breakfast early in the morning; the Class Day program, ending with the Freshmen forming the letter S on the quadrangle; friends and relatives arriving during the day; and the Senior dance climaxing our college years of social activity and fun.

Sunday morning the Baccalaureate sermon yielded inspiration. Our hearts will long reflect the glow of candles on the quadrangle during Sunday night’s Seniority Service following the Vesper program.

Graduation day, June 5, 1950, arrived at last. The processional, led by the Glee Club, including the Seniors, graduating Sophomores, and faculty members, marched down the aisle to the stirring strains of “Pomp and Circumstance” played by the college orchestra. The Seniors listened intently to the challenge given them by the commencement speakers. Then, as their names were called, they went proudly forward to receive their diplomas along with President Miller’s congratulations.

It was all over too soon. With tears in their eyes the Seniors sang their Alma Mater for the last time, and, clutching their diplomas, they bravely marched out to face the world.

We marched together for the last time, with a lump in our throats but gladness in our hearts.

Who’s Who Among Students In American Colleges and Universities

This year Madison was justly proud of having fifteen of her students represented in the annual publication of Who’s Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities. This recognition is one of the most highly coveted awards on campus.

Chosen by a combined student and faculty committee, the group represents those who have shown outstanding abilities as campus leaders. The girls were selected on the merits of high scholarship, leadership, fine character, and their contributions to Madison College.

Recognition of this honor receives respect for these students all through their lives in all walks of life. It is a goal well worth striving for, and these students rightly deserve the honor.

September, 1947, seems so long ago to the Class of '51, and yet the time has gone by so quickly. The years at Madison have been full of rich unforgettable experiences. Throughout Freshman and Sophomore years, we have looked upon the Junior class with great anticipation, never dreaming we would become Juniors so soon.

Whoever it was that said the freshman year is hard should reconsider that statement. We, as Juniors, feel that there is nothing like the junior year. Most of us are beginning to go full swing into our own particular professional fields. This is the year also when we have that ever memorable class of Education, the weekly trips to the schools to observe the classes, and term papers, term papers, and more term papers. We have appreciated the privilege of leaving the lights on, for without late lights what would we have done?

MILDRED BLUETT, President

Junior Class

Officers; first row: M. S. Murdock, reporter; J. Moyer, sergeant-at-arms; second row: J. Young, secretary; M. Moore, vice-president; M. Bluett, president; P. Simpkins, treasurer
Dates and dorm parties and remodeled kitchenettes were only part of the life in Junior Hall.

This year the Junior class adopted a War Orphan from Greece, Kondilia Bourdou, a little girl ten years old.

In October we ordered our class rings, which we displayed to the folks back home—one sure proof of having attended Madison.

Junior Class Day was February 22, when we had the opportunity to exhibit our various talents. Our speaker was Mr. Alan Lomax, the famous folk song artist, known for his expert presentation of old folk songs that have been known to the world for ages.

Moving-up day placed us in the Senior seats and made us realize that next year's campus duties and responsibilities will be ours.

The winter may have been mild, but what a beautiful sight we beheld the day all the campus lay under a covering of ice.
Sophomore Class

"Ah"—a sigh of relief was heard when the Sophomore Class returned to Madison for their second year. Yes, we were Sophomores and could hardly imagine it. Those first few weeks of autumn found us settling down to books and classes and finding the period of adjustment much simpler than it was the year before.

The class of 1952 pitched right into work and had things under way in a short time. Our first project, that of caring for Ashby Recreation Room, a haven for week-end dates, was inherited from the last year's Sophomore class.

The Sophomores were honored in October by the Seniors, their sister class, when they took part in the capping and gowning services held in Wilson Auditorium. A closer knot was tied by the two classes on this occasion as nearly all the Sophomores had a part in the capping and gowning ceremony.

There was no lagging in preparation for Sophomore Class Day, for plans were taking shape three months prior to the big event. Dr. Rowland Myers, a most inspiring humorist, had been booked as speaker. The Irish theme was carried out during the entire day ending with a most successful Class Night along the same Irish line. There was no doubting the Sophomores theme as green and white decked the campus on this occasion.

June meant graduation for many Sophomores in two-year courses. The class of '52 will certainly miss their presence in class and campus activities in the following years.

Our president, Marilyn Miller, and the other officers, with the co-operation of all the class members, led us successfully through work and play during the year.

We will always have memories of our wonderful sponsors, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Warren. Their capable guidance has helped to make the year a great success.

The last days before leaving home for college were filled with expectation and excitement. Trunks were packed, and friends were bidding farewell. Then the day came to leave for Madison. Fond parents said regretful good-byes and left their daughters in the capable care of Mrs. Garber, the housemothers—Mrs. Hall, Mrs. Hoover, and Mrs. Beasley—and the Y.W.C.A. girls, who were acting as hostesses.

The girls soon learned to adjust themselves to college life. Senior counselors met them upon their arrival and helped them understand Madison's way of living through handbook classes, personal conferences, and just plain "bull-sessions."

While the leaves turned scarlet and dropped from the trees, these new students were busy finding friends and attending weekly orientation classes. The Class of '53 officially became a part of the student body in the installation ceremony in November. Smiles on the faces of the Freshmen showed their pride when the purple and gold ribbons were pinned over their hearts.

No matter where we lived as a Freshman, we'll always remember the stately columns.
Then came winter, and everyone wished for snow. Dreams of a white Christmas, spun during those last exciting days before the holidays, didn't come true for most, but other dreams did, and roommates had many adventures to share with each other after they returned, with their resolutions, to start the new year.

Exams came and went, and with the new semester came plans for class day.

Campus elections aroused the interest of all members of the class, and they showed genuine school spirit by their active participation.

Class day finally arrived and white-clad Freshmen listened to their speaker, Dorothy Sands. Class night, with its “penitentiary” theme, was enjoyed by participants and audience alike.

Then spring invaded campus with its robins, flowering buds, warm breezes, and spring fever. As summer vacation approached, preparations for trips to the beach included weekly sun baths back campus.

The class is justly proud of its accomplishments under the leadership of Betty Jeanne Tyson, president, and the guidance of Dr. and Mrs. Dingedine, sponsors. It was a wonderful year.

Alma Mater

MARY FUNK SLAUGHTER

Oh, Alma Mater, to thy name
We'll ever faithful be,
Lift learning’s torch to brighter flame,
Shed Honor’s light on thee.

Where mountain blue meets sunset glow,
Our college stands serene,
With passing years its friendships grow
In memory ever green.

Oh, Madison, may wisdom clear
Guide us and prosper thee.
We give thee, Alma Mater dear,
Our love and loyalty.
Our love and loyalty.
... whether giving us individual aid or meeting as a whole to discuss our problems, they are our teachers and friends, without whom our small success could never have been attained.

Administration
Our President

A new face greeted us from behind the president’s desk this fall, but it soon became a very familiar one. President Miller was always ready to lend a helping hand or offer a worthwhile suggestion to those who called upon him. Many times his office was filled with those who sought his aid. Familiar to all were Mrs. Miller and little Elise waiting their turn to see Mr. President.

As the year passed, the students depended more and more on President Miller’s guidance. The assurance of his assistance and his co-operation with student undertakings has become a new source of inspiration for the activity at Madison.
Our Deans

... of the College

Whether you wish to discuss a philosophy paper, a program change, or the newest variety of African violet, Dr. Gifford is always willing to give you a few moments of his time. His gracious manner quickly puts his visitors at ease.

... of Freshmen

What would we have done without Mrs. Garber's valuable advice to help us begin our career at Madison? Although she is busy with orientation in the fall and homecoming in the spring, she is always ready to help any Freshman who wishes to consult with her.

... of Women

Our attractive Dean of Women, Miss Vandever, guides our social life and sets an example of graceful dignity. Her office is a mecca for upperclassmen who come there for help in solving their many problems.
Few students ever see our faculty gathered in conference.

... whether members of large groups, such as Student Government, or officers and members of smaller clubs, we join together for special interests and social experience.

Organizations
Student Government Association

The officers of this year's Student Government Association, elected last spring in the first campaign elections held at Madison, were at work long before school started in the fall. Nancy Penn was formulating plans during the summer while Joanne Craig supervised the publication of the Handbook.

After the "Pep Rally" for the new students on the first Monday night, the Council members were swamped with registering freshmen and introducing all students to the new and wonderful rules for which many students as well as faculty members had worked in the Student-Faculty Committee last year. The Council found that the rules were accepted with co-operation and gratitude.

The S. G. A. gave a reception for Mr. and Mrs. Miller and, together with Y.W. and A.A., sponsored the tea for Freshmen.

The assembly program November 15 was presided over by the president, who explained the entire Student Government Association. Following this was the Old Girl—New Girl Ceremony, which not only broke tradition, but also made history. The new ceremony was inspiring to everyone as the Seniors in cap and gown pinned the purple and gold school colors on the white-clad Freshmen.

The first dance of the year was ably managed by the Social Committee under Student Government guidance.

OFFICERS. J. Craig, editor of the Handbook; C. Kennette, secretary-treasurer; N. Penn, president; G. Hoskinson, vice-president; L. Munson, recorder of points
Student Government is known all over campus; in the dormitories by the House Councils and in our Monday assembly programs, carried on by Nancy or, in her absence, by Georgia Hoskinson, vice-president.

Student Government succeeded this year in many new ventures about campus, such as the murals in Spotswood Recreation Room and the changed “atmosphere” in our Tea Room at night.

Many thanks are due the advisors, Miss Seeger, Miss Gladin, Miss Vandever, Mrs. Garber, and Mr. Partlow, who so willingly gave their time and counsel to help make this year the best yet in the history of the Association.

NANCY PENN, President

COUNCIL, First row: A. Stout, E. Thornhill, V. Wells
Honor Council

The words "our Honor System" are full of meaning and produce school pride on the campus. The students of Madison, with the help and advice of the faculty, have instituted an honor system and have watched it grow and improve during the past four years.

The Honor Council, chosen by the students, represents the executive branch of the Honor System. Those who serve on the council are selected because of trust in them and the ideals which they represent. In turn they are expected to take the initiative in developing a feeling in all Madison students for the Honor Code and to uphold the code by their own example.

In Honor Council classes the incoming freshmen and transfer students learned about the constitution and the function of the Honor System. When each new girl felt that she understood and appreciated the ideals and responsibilities of the Honor System, she signed the Honor Pledge.
Early in November the Freshmen contributed their ideas and support to the Honor System by selecting two capable representatives from their class. On November 16, in the annual Student Government assembly these girls, Annette Younger and Sally Cooke, accepted their installation.

Mattie Jett, as chairman, proved herself understanding and capable in all situations. Early after spring elections last year "Jett" attended the Southern Intercollegiate Conference of Student Government Associations, and in the early fall of this year she attended the National Students Association. The capable advisors, Dr. Armentrout, Mr. Eagle, and Mr. Warren, have met with the Council members in informal discussion groups and have rendered essential advice.

By striving to live up to the ideals which the Honor Code states, the students have become proud of their pledge, "I understand the privileges and responsibilities of self-government in group living, and I realize that I am pledging my full co-operation in maintaining our Honor System. I promise that by personal actions and attitudes I will uphold the principles of the Honor Code of Madison College."

The Honor System is still a very young organization at Madison; in the future it will be stronger, as students realize the value of this coveted heritage.

This year the men students joined in supporting the Honor Code. Two representatives, Bill Wohlford and George Turner, were elected and installed.

The Honor System is essential to establish the ideals of good citizenship with which every student of Madison will be equipped as he goes into the world.
“No chewing gum at dances,” “Meet your dates in your dating centers”—these were familiar reminders of Betty Hurdle, chairman of Standards Committee, whose aim it is to promote high standards of conduct and appearance on campus. The twenty students of this committee, representing the four classes, are the mentors of fine courtesy, which is the natural companion of every Madison student. Their efforts have brought gracious living to our campus.

Social Committee

Teas, receptions, and formal dances are all matter-of-course duties for the Social Committee, a group composed of twenty girls with Lucy Peterson as chairman. The members of this committee are the ones who greeted us at the Opening Dance, May Day Dance, and Graduation Dance; they are also the ones who were responsible for all the hard work that few of us consider—decorations, arrangements, music.

Social functions to this group mean many conferences with their co-operative advisor, Miss Vandever, graciousness and poise at all times, and ready willingness to help others.

LUCY PETERSON, Chairman
Men's Student Organization

The Men's Student Organization began its activities in the fall of 1948. It was felt that the men students on campus were in need of an organized group by which they might integrate their activities and facilitate means of taking part in campus activities. As a result of this thought, the men now have a basketball team, a men's chorus, and representatives to the Honor Council.

In the fall the men students gave a "Smoker" to welcome Mr. Miller. The affair was held in Senior Reception Hall, with the men of the faculty as guests. Rumor goes that the cider and doughnuts were very tasty.

Another big event of the year was the formal dance in April. The dances which the men have sponsored in previous years have all been a success, but this one was even better than ones before.

OFFICERS. C. Ring, recording secretary; B. Stickley, secretary; R. Horn, vice-president; M. Hoover, treasurer; R. Burton, president
This year the men chose cheerleaders, who added much pep to the basketball games.

Men students at Madison have earned a place in many campus organizations. It is difficult to recall Stratford plays with all-girl casts. They have given a genuine boost to the music department. The “masculine touch” is found on canvas, too, for the “fellows” have excelled in art. Their contributions in these and in other fields have come to be an increasingly large part of the success of many undertakings here.

With Dr. Poindexter’s capable and enthusiastic guidance as Dean of Men, the Men’s Student Organization looks to a bright future of co-operation for achievement.

RONALD BURTON, President

The men held regular Monday meetings to discuss their problems.
"To the right, please!" This is the friendly greeting of Charlotte Boice, head usher and chairman of the Ushers Club, which is composed of about forty girls who, neatly dressed in black, serve as gracious hostesses of the auditorium during all lyceum programs. They have ushered at "Dear Brutus," and Glee Club Christmas program, "You Can't Take It With You," The National Symphony Orchestra, and the Madison College Orchestra programs, and have eliminated much of the confusion generally found with the seating of large audiences. Their vigilance extends even to Saturday night movies.

Although this is an organization just two years old, audiences have come to depend upon them. Mr. Marshall, their advisor, has given them many worthwhile suggestions in the method of ushering and in their standards of grooming and conduct.
This is a committee of sixteen girls, two non-sorority members, two day students, and two representatives from each sorority. They are the keepers of order during the assembly program on Mondays and Wednesdays.

Their chairman, Rita Jarvis, has been overseer of their duties of attendance-checking and ushering at special assemblies. Mr. Shorts, the faculty secretary, is their advisor.

To be a junior marshal is to have attained a position representative of order and government, one to be respected in the world of today.

Plans for processions and recessions at convocations and at commencement are carefully made by these girls, who neatly dressed in white, march at the head of these lines.
Letter from the Editor:

“As long as the editor of The Breeze and her staff uphold the laws of good taste, we feel that a truly free press will continue to reign at Madison... as it does now! We are proud that we have a free student paper, with no administration, student government, or faculty censorship. Long may this situation reign!

Little do you realize, when you pick up your copy of The Breeze on Friday evening, all the labor that goes into its production, the enormous task of fitting a journalistic career into an already-crowded scholastic, club, and social calendar.

Pounding heels on the campus sidewalks, pounding ears at the telephone, pounding fingers upon the typewriters, that is any Tuesday for Madison's ink-bestained newshounds. Thursday brings out the scissors and the pastepots to the desks of the editor and the business manager, the blue pencils to the fingers of the copy editor. Oh, the headaches of make-up that confront the editor some weeks. “What's to be cut? Which story shall we leave out?” There's never room for all the news.

If all of you could visit The Breeze room some Tuesday evening when the jean-clad girls on the staff are “digging in,” you would appreciate your newspaper even more (but we have no time for social callers!).

We are extremely grateful for the friendly air which pervades The Breeze room. It helps ease over those moments when things appear to be going wrong. There’s always someone willing to lend a helping hand, and first thing you know, “baby’s put to bed,” and we’re finished for another week! That is, we are unless the printer phones to say the cuts haven’t arrived yet. Then Editor E. J. must track them down from post office to post office. She’s never figured out yet, she says, why it takes mail forty hours to go twenty-six miles. “Why, the pony express was faster!” she’s exclaimed more than once.

The Breeze means not only hard work, but fun as well! The hearty laughter that peals out in The Breeze room now and then on a Tuesday night, when everyone stops work to learn the cause; the hurried rides to the printer’s in E. J.’s jeep; the crazy-looking things that turn up now and then in print just when you least expect them; the lovely dinners at the apartment of the Glenn Smiths and the home of the Percy Warrens.
Then there was December 7, Breeze Day, when we wore black and white to represent our printed paper, proudly displayed our PRESS badges, and presented an admirable speaker, Neal Stanford, Washington correspondent of The Christian Science Monitor, to our classmates and teachers at assembly.

If The Breeze has meant as much to Madison students as it appears to when they are seen avidly reading it in Harrison Hall after the Friday evening meal, then we are glad for the time and the effort we have spent on it."

The weekly newspaper attempts to give a running commentary on current activities and problems. Under the editorship of E. J. Tubbs, the paper has been a successful means of expression of student opinion and a means of progressive development in form.
Schoolma'am

Ideas for this year's annual began to formulate during the summer. When September came, the staff greeted their mascots, Gladys, Deadline, and Oscar, wiped the dust from the tables, watered the lemon tree, and went to work developing their ideas. Through the fall and winter, everyone's vocabulary contained such words as "photographer," "sittings," "pictures," "proofs." There were whispers about campus concerning the theme, dedication, layout, and cover.

In October the Business Manager and Assistant Editor made a journey to Detroit, Michigan, to attend the Associated Collegiate Press Convention. They came back full of new ideas and suggestions for making this edition of the Schoolma'am outstanding.

Perusal of copies of annuals from past years yielded interesting facts in regard to the growth and development of Madison College. The Schoolma'am of 1910 was the first volume, having been provided with its staff in March of that year. Through the years each volume has aimed at preserving attractively and completely those memories of people and scenes, events and accomplishments which have made the year an outstanding one.
Such tasks as drawing layouts, writing copy, working with photographers, taking pictures, selling ads, checking identifications, and numerous and varied others kept the faithful staff busy. It was only their excellent co-operation and the assistance of their loyal advisers, Miss Hoffman, Miss Walker, Dr. Pittman, and Mr. Gibbons, that ideas and efforts were printed on pages of lustro-gloss paper and bound in a leatherette cover.

Passing quickly through the metamorphic stages of ideas, layout, dummy, finished product, the 1950 SCHOOLMA’AM came to be a reality. The dreams, hopes, and wishes of the editor and staff were poured bountifully into this book and their “sweat and tears” will be fully repaid if but a touch of the true spirit of Madison College has been caught in its pages to be reflected, helping to “—Lift learnings torch to brighter flame.”
The Y.W.C.A. began at Madison when the college was still the Harrisonburg Normal School. Since then it has become a member of the National Intercollegiate Christian Council, the National Student Council, and the World Student Christian Federation.

The Y.W.C.A. girls were the first to welcome the new freshmen with friendliness to relieve that "homesick" feeling. It was an attempt to let the new student know that an older girl had her interests at heart. The Big Sister-Little Sister party was a continuation in that spirit, and everyone found many new friends that evening.

The Candlelight Service around the quadrangle was beautiful and inspiring as Y members walked out singing "Follow the Gleam." After that they heard the solemn strains of taps played from the steps of Wilson Hall.

The lighter side of the activities of Y.W. were represented by the birthday banquets, the Hallowe'en party, and the faculty program, "Anything Goes."
The Kid Party, with the gifts for the little needy children, and the lovely Christmas pageant helped to reveal the nearness and meaning of Christmas.

Sunday vespers and chapel meant a few minutes of thought, prayer, and song each week. At these services the Y.W.C.A. welcomed the assistance of the newly formed Y.M.C.A. on campus.

The World Student Service Fund Drive was well-received and successful. The Religious Emphasis Week gave inspiration and aid and an ample opportunity to question and listen. After the week was over, everyone felt the influence of the speaker.

The Y.W.C.A. means a great deal to the people at Madison, for it takes care of their spiritual life; its members lend a helping hand when it is most needed and a friendly smile that can sometimes mean more than anything else.

Just last year on October 25, 1949, the Y.M.C.A. was organized by the men students. It is their hope that the association will be successful in its attempts to become a permanent and necessary part of college activities.

They assisted the Y.W.C.A. in presenting the annual Christmas pageant, and they hope that this will become traditional as long as the men remain at Madison College. They also presented chapel and vesper services.

The sponsors, Mr. Bocskey, Mr. Waller, and Mr. Shorts, as well as their competent president, Carl Ring, made possible the beginnings of an important contribution to co-operative college activities.

The Freshman Commission is one of the projects of the Y. W. C. A. and is organized for the purpose of providing fellowship and training for future "Y" members. It is a miniature "Y" in itself with the same aims and form of organization as the "Big Y."

During the year 1949-50 the Freshman Commission planned discussions on boy and girl relationships, aided needy families of Harrisonburg during the Thanksgiving holidays, helped with the Friday chapel programs, and had an Easter egg hunt for the children from the orphanage.

Through their work in the Freshman Commission many members became better acquainted with each other and gained experience that will be of help to them in their later "Y" activities.
Baptist Student Union

The Baptist Student Union is the organization here on campus which serves as a link between the Baptist students and the local Baptist Church. This group was not founded as a club, but is rather a movement which started when a group of students on a college campus felt the need for spiritual expression and growth.

Their publication, The Eyes and Ears of B.S.U., is well known to many of us, and we find great pleasure in the student writings in it.

We, as members, have many activities, such as dormitory circle meetings, community missions, Christmas caroling, and the State conference, which was held in Roanoke this year. In whatever we do we aim for Christian living, honesty, loyalty, and love.
The Canterbury Club

The Canterbury Club, a group which fosters closer fellowship with the church, has been with the college for a long time.

Since the initial meeting at Massanetta to form plans for the year, the members have given several parties and monthly supper meetings. In the fall they visited Roslyn in Richmond, and during the year served in the hospital as library aides.

This group has increased its activity and membership and progressed in strength and leadership.

Mrs. Elliot Reek has been an extremely helpful and able advisor.

Junior Sisterhood

As a small compact group, the members of the Junior Sisterhood support a large and important project, that of the annual cancer drive. The girls work hard on their project, but this hard work is relieved by happy times at the home of the sponsor, Mrs. Mintzer of Harrisonburg, and with other school groups. An effort of theirs also is to help all the Jewish girls on campus to get acquainted, giving special attention to the new freshmen.

This group follows the hope that often help is given by the efforts of sincere people.

Lutheran Students Association

This organization, well-founded on campus for some years, has maintained a very active program. The members have enjoyed a hayride, Sunday evenings in the Recital room for inspiration and worship, suppers at the home of our sponsors, Mr. and Mrs. Fenner, an evening at the home of Mrs. Lee, a Christmas party with guests from the University of Virginia, the State L.S.A. conference at William and Mary,—all these in the spirit of the Lutheran Students Association.

As their goal, they strive in every way to attain "wholesome social life and strong Christian fellowship."

CORA BLACKMORE
President
Neuman Club

The Neuman Club is an organization for Catholic students whose aims are to participate intellectually, socially, and spiritually in campus activities. Since it was Cardinal Newman who first promoted this spirit of solidarity among Catholic students, the group has long been a national organization.

Their social aims are considered only as a means to their ends, spiritual and intellectual. They have kept abreast of current Catholic events and tried always to set a good example by their conduct. The members have received much inspiration from the annual communion breakfast and meetings in combination with other religious groups.

With serious intent another group of girls has contributed a vital part to college life.

Inspiration awaits all Methodist students in the Wesley Foundation. The group, under the guidance of Mrs. Gibbons and Mr. Blackwell, participate in many wholesome and enjoyable activities which bring the students together in a spiritual and social fellowship.

Their varied calendar for the year included going to open house at Mrs. G's, attending conferences, being hostesses for a conference in February, and enjoying ping pong games and Sunday night supper at Church. The members were always happy to serve in any way in promoting the interests of their Church.

Charlotte Boice, president of the group, led the program of play and worship. Experience and training gleaned in this organization will aid its members to serve and give. They have the answer to the question, "Are Ye Able?"
The Westminster Fellowship, the Presbyterian group on campus, spent another college year in furthering a spirit of fellowship and Christian living among its members.

Martha Reddout was their leader in a year of activity which included singing in the Westminster choir, teaching Sunday School classes, publishing their paper, “The Gleam,” and participating in many works of the Harrisonburg church.

In October the girls held a retreat at Massanetta, and in November they sent delegates to a State conference at Roslyn in Richmond.

Through the year their main thought was of “Johnny,” the small underprivileged boy whose daily milk was provided for him by the pennies collected and saved.

The group owes many thanks to the excellent directorship of their leader, Lura Nelle Wirthlin.

Kappa Delta Pi

Alpha Chi chapter of Kappa Delta Pi has had a very successful and happy year under the capable leadership of our president, Barbara Banish, the other officers, and the sponsors, Mr. Eagle and Miss Grove.

This National Honor Society in Education was incorporated June 8, 1911, in Illinois. Our local chapter, Alpha Chi, was founded here at Madison in January, 1928. Kappa Delta Pi seeks to encourage high professional, intellectual, and personal standards and to recognize outstanding contributions to education. It endeavors to maintain a high degree of professional fellowship among its members and to quicken professional growth by honoring achievement in educational development.

This year there was a membership of more than seventy-five students. Prospective members for the organization are nominated from the Junior and Senior classes and voted upon by the active membership. Only truly worthy members are chosen. For those who are “tapped” in assembly in the fall or in the spring, there is a feeling of pride.

This year there have been many inspiring lectures and discussions on educational subjects. Among the speakers have been members of the State Board of Education and the faculty. The group sponsored a European clothing drive, also.

On the lighter side there were socials with entertainments and good food, a camp outing, and a gala Christmas party.

Sigma Phi Lambda

Sigma Phi Lambda is an honorary society for freshmen and sophomores whose membership is based on scholarship standing, with the objective of promoting leadership and fellowship, as well as maintaining high scholarship. It is a local organization, which under Miss Lanier’s guidance, strives to stimulate students in their first years of college to do their utmost.

These girls are responsible for the “welcome” tea given to those freshmen of high standing in their former high schools. Among other enjoyable activities they present an assembly program.

BETTY VIAR, President
Pi Omega Pi

Pi Omega Pi is a national honorary fraternity in Business Education. Its aims are to promote scholarship and high ethical standards, to aid in civic betterment, and to teach the ideal of service as the basis of all worthy enterprise.

This year, Beta Nu chapter helped to plan and conduct a local typewriting contest. Panel discussions and challenging speakers enlivened meetings.

The tea room was the scene of the pledge breakfast, which followed a very impressive initiation service. Pi Omega Pi Day, April 19, highlighted the year’s activities. At that time the club brought a speaker to the campus and held a luncheon and a banquet. The members of Pi Omega Pi will enter their chosen profession grateful for the leadership of Mary Mears, president, and for the fellowship of Dr. Turille and Mrs. Coffman, their advisers.
The Madison College Orchestra, organized in March, 1939, with only four members playing two violins, a string bass, and a piano, has constantly been building up its resources until it now carries almost complete symphonic instrumentation.

The orchestra gave its first performance during an assembly program in 1940, playing in the orchestra pit. Stage settings for orchestra concerts were used for the first time in 1941; since then, they have become very elaborate in color and design. Originality and variety were promoted by the development of new synthetic and plastic materials which the girls themselves fashioned into veritable fairylands.

An all-girl orchestra, with special vocal arrangements by the conductor, it has presented programs throughout the state of Virginia every spring, in addition to... the annual concert given in Wilson Hall. At these programs, audiences are impressed by the grateful bowing of the concertmistress, Fredericka Devier, and by the steady beat of the tympani.

Rehearsals are held three evenings a week from 4:30 p.m. until 5:50 p.m. "Promptness and exactness" seems to be the motto of their conductor, Mr. Marshall, since the first notes of the rehearsal must begin on the dot of 4:30 p.m., and he is never satisfied until the players respond just exactly as he commands—a privilege only a conductor may have.

If anyone is heard coming into the dormitory at 12:00 or 12:30 at night, it is probably the orchestra girls returning from a concert given in a near-by town.

The many hours of hard work are more than rewarded by the happy smiles of small children and the genuine appreciation of grown-up music-lovers.

The Glee Club is one of the oldest organizations on campus and gives credit for its long-standing reputation and growth to Miss Edna Shaeffer, the founder, director, and sponsor, who gives constantly of her time and energy to the building of a bigger and better Glee Club.

Each year the group has participated in college choral auditions and has always maintained a record of high standing. This year the auditions were held at Virginia Polytechnic Institute. The club calendar also included trips to Richmond, Roanoke, and Lynchburg. These expeditions are in co-operation with the exchange programs of other colleges. At Madison the singers presented a Christmas concert and assisted in much Christmas choral work. Perhaps the biggest event of the year was the trip to Washington to sing at the National Art Gallery on Palm Sunday.

Originally the Glee Club served as the college choir, but since its beginning its duties have broadened. Nevertheless, its high standard of singing and the shared joys of working together have always been maintained. This year under the capable leadership of Elizabeth Jamerson the typical Glee Club spirit prevailed.

No Glee Club Girl will ever forget practices, performances, or even the singing as the crowded bus turned homeward—to Madison.
Men's Chorus

Remember those vibrant masculine voices you heard at Y.M.C.A. chapel programs, and during the presentation of the “Messiah,” and “The Mikado?” That was the Men’s Chorus.

It is one of the youngest and most active organizations on campus, having been formed in ’48 by a group of talented, expressive men who enjoy singing.

Mr. Hicks, sponsor and conductor, has directed this choir with skill and enthusiasm through a successful year.

They face future years with “A Song in Their Hearts.”
Concert Band

The concert band is a recent addition to campus organizations. Under the baton of Mr. Marshall, the group gave a concert in assembly. Participating in May Day and aiding the program of the new Recreation council were among the year's activities. George Turner as president led the group.

By playing together, sharing triumphs and disappointments, the members of the band have enjoyed the experience of sacrificing individual recognition for the success of the group.

The budding piano virtuosi of the campus consider it an honor to belong to Aeolian, for applicants are carefully screened during their try-outs.

This year a new constitution was adopted by the members. Many fine musical programs were directed by Liz Woolfolk. Then, too, there were the try-outs, the planning for an assembly program, and the informal record programs held twice a month for all those students who were interested in coming to listen to music.

With its high goal of perfection, Aeolian encourages its talent to constant betterment, not only in performance, but also in appreciation.
Diapason Club

The Diapason Club fosters musical interests in its members, who are young organists. The sponsors, Mr. and Mrs. Hicks, are helpful in every project of the group.

It was not until 1947 that the group gathered under its present name. The members were admitted according to the ability with which they performed in try-outs.

In addition to a full program of social activities, the club has sponsored an assembly program and a trip to Hagerstown, Maryland, to an organ factory.

The members are interested in furthering their musical abilities and appreciation.

MARThA JANE BRADLEY
President
A strictly unprofessional, extracurricular activity is carried on by members of the Lost Chords, who possess a great amount of virtuosity. They are a group of students who for some time now have spent Tuesday and Thursday evenings in sessions of rehearsal.

During the season they have presented a dance, "Musical Raindrops," and many programs in the vicinity of Harrisonburg. In the past year the musicians have been joined by a saxophonist and a trumpeter, and they will always welcome any other talented interested musicians.

As a dance band they have many more years in which to develop and, under the guidance of Mr. Marshall, it seems that they increase their achievements with each year.
The purpose of the Stratford Dramatic Club is to produce plays that have both an educational and entertainment value for participants and audience. Under the guidance of their director, Dr. Mary Latimer, they work hard but have much fun on-stage and back-stage in all phases of dramatic production—acting, scene-building and painting, lighting, staging, and directing. Two major productions are given each year as well as one-act plays in evening and assembly programs. This year saw DEAR BRUTUS by J. M. Barrie as the fall play—repeated for Homecoming in March—and FASHION by Anna Cora Mowatt as the spring production.

Stratford managed the campus sale of tickets for the Barter Theatre play, YOU CAN'T TAKE IT WITH YOU, and two of its number acted as extras in the Margaret Webster Shakespeare Company’s JULIUS CAESAR. This group of students contribute a vital part to lively and entertaining campus life at Madison.
The Panhellenic Council is an important and active organization whose responsibilities are constant from the first opening day of school to the last finishing days in June. Juanelle Mottern, chairman, and eighteen representatives from the six sororities constitute the members of the council. They have felt especially blessed in having Mrs. Varner as their advisor and her ever encouraging personality behind their efforts.

This year in addition to the usual rushing was the adoption of the local Tau Alpha to Zeta Tau Alpha. This addition gave Madison six sororities over which the council presided.

Working in an administrative and advisory capacity, the Panhellenic Council aimed to promote fraternal co-operation among sororities on campus. During the weekly meetings the representatives discussed the projects which included aid for the unfortunate children in mountain districts of Rockingham County and plans for the annual Christmas dance.

The Panhellenic dance, an event of great importance especially for the new members, was a gracious affair. The figure was composed of the Panhellenic Council members, including B. Batts, N. Butterworth, J. Webber, P. Mann (first row); I. Blair, treasurer; C. Johnson, chairman-elect; J. Mottern, chairman; S. Quinn, recording secretary; N. Bowman, corresponding secretary; L. Seibel, F. Perkinson, B. Bryant, G. Hoskinson, E. Thornhill, O. Walpole, G. Wells, J. Davis (second row).
representatives gowned in white and carrying nosegays of poinsettia and holly. Joe Gleese and his orchestra, the theme of “White Christmas” and the beautifully decorated gymnasium—all these lent themselves to the charm and success of the dance.

But long before this, had come the exciting “rush period” which began with the Panhellenic tea which the prospective rushees attended in Alumnae Hall. At the parties and “dating” periods, which followed, the girls were intensely excited from the day when bids were issued from the council’s room in Wilson until the day when they could really claim a sorority as their own.

In such ways the girls who represent Greek letter organizations on Madison College campus are pursuing their goal of fraternal ties and friendships.

Silver stars overhead and “White Christmas” in the air formed the setting for the figure at Panhellenic Dance.

JUANELLE MOTTERN
Chairman
The fall semester of 1949 opened the door to a new and unforgettable year for Alpha Sigma Alpha. The Alpha Sigs immediately began making plans for the long-anticipated rush week and for their traditional Café Society rush party. This year, the theme, Wizard’s Café, was a big success, with such exciting entertainment and vivid decorations that one could hardly recognize her surroundings as dear old Carter House. Then came the big day! With enthusiasm and anxiety, the Alpha Sigma Alphas awaited the arrival of their new sisters-to-be. That will always be a memorable day for each of those twenty-two girls who turned with eager hearts toward the walk which leads to Carter House. Alpha Sigma Alpha is privileged to have all five of its present to extend A. S. A. friendship and love to the new pledges. With a tie of loyalty and love, the girls began together their journey through the year.

The next big event on the calendar was Founders’ Day, which was celebrated on November fifteenth. Alpha Sigma Alpha is privileged to have all five of its founders living today. It is the aims with which they established Alpha Sigma Alpha in 1901 that keep an A.S.A. ever proud of her sisterhood.

The philanthropic project for the year was donating money for equipment in veterans’ hospitals. Along this same line, the girls sent clothes to the needy Polish and prepared a Christmas box for a near-by mountain family.
Everyone enjoyed gay Christmas festivities at the party given for the old members by the new pledges. During the year the girls also spent a joyful weekend at college camp. These and other times spent together, such as Saturday night get-togethers, always the call for a fourth for bridge, those quick breakfasts in the new kitchenette, and just the joy of being together, have made this a wonderful year for Alpha Sigma Alpha.

Dear to the heart of each member of Alpha Sigma Alpha will always be the memory of the love and loyalty with which Nan eye Butterworth, president, and Miss Boje, advisor, led the group through the year, helping each girl to grow in Alpha Sigma love and friendship.

For those who will not return, this year will fill one of the best chapters in their book of memories; and for those who will return, the heartwarming recollection of this Alpha Sigma year gives them a challenge to begin another year with heads high and hearts aglow.

NANCYE BUTTERWORTH
President
Alpha Sigma Tau

Alpha Sigma Tau Sorority, which claims Lincoln House for home, was founded at Ypsilanti, Michigan, on November 4, 1899. In 1941 Psi chapter was founded, the fifth sorority to be established at Madison. Since that time, Alpha Sigma Tau has given its members social training and lasting friendships.

When school opened in September, 1949, we all rushed to Lincoln House to see the new wallpaper, new couch and victrola, and beautiful kitchen. And we were pleased to find in our midst Miss Miriam Liles, (now Mrs. Robert Stanley Mathis), our house mother.

What about our winning the efficiency award?

The rush party was in “The Gilded Cage,” which was really Lincoln House made over into a “Gay Nineties” tavern. The well-trained chorus line was a sensation, and the program was made perfect with a skit performed by Miss Frank and Dr. Latimer, our advisors.

After the suspense of rush week was over, and a wonderful group of new members was pledged, we had our Founders' Day Banquet held in Julias's Green Room. On December 10 we attended the Panhellenic Dance, where we sang and danced to a special Alpha Sigma Tau song, the "Memory Waltz." As a project at Christime time we sent packages to a needy family in Harrisonburg.

Spring rushing was in February. Many alumnae were present at the annual spring picnic.

Sorority life has been an important part of college for the girls at Lincoln House. Never-to-be-forgotten memories are the Sunday-night suppers, blind dates, telephone calls, bridge games, and late sessions talking over the trials of student teaching. Sharing joys and sorrows has tied bonds of friendship that will last into tomorrow.
Pi Kappa Sigma

This year marks the tenth anniversary for Alpha Omicron chapter of Pi Kappa Sigma on the campus of Madison College.

The Pi Kaps have a name for being a busy family, and the result of everyone's working together has made this a wonderful year. They have adopted an overseas orphan in Belgium and an underprivileged family in the vicinity of Harrisonburg. The Christmas party for children at the City Home has come to be an annual affair, while some other philanthropic activities of this group are the contributions to the Shriners' Hospitals, Georgia Fox Brown Scholarship fund, and the Seeing-Eye-Dog Corporation.
The theme for the rush party was "Arabian Night Club," and at the end of rush week, Pi Kap welcomed to their midst twelve new pledges . . . Will anyone ever forget that feeling of belonging that came on that day? All the active members, pledges, and several alumnae attended the Founders' Day banquet at the Triangle November 17. Sunday nights to the Pi Kaps mean supper at the house, with songs and laughter that continue for hours. The Pi Kaps take their spring outing by visiting the college camp. Such spirit, such fun, and such fellowship that is found in their group can't be duplicated.

The girls are more than proud of their wonderful sponsors, Mrs. Johnston and Miss Patterson, who give inspiration and sound advice at all times.
It's hard to believe that it's time for another group of Sigma Seniors to leave Sprinkel House. We won't leave without memories of a grand year and lots of fun stored in our memory books.

When we came back to school in the fall, we were still humming the Sigma songs that we sang at our Regional Meet, which was held at Barca's camp, Camp Strawderman, in August. We acted as hostesses there and welcomed Sigmas from near and far, national officers, college chapter girls, and many alumnae. Thinking over the wonderful time we had there, we remember all the grand friends we made and the fun we had with Sigmas being together.

Before we really had time to unpack at college, we were thinking about fall rushing and wondering which girls would come our way. "La Fiesta Sigma" was truly a gala affair, both for us and the rushees. Even when the great "Earthquake" came! Rush day we waited excitedly as the rushees took the house of their choice. Twenty new Sigmas were born that day, and we were very proud to welcome into our bonds such a fine group. After their pledge training and initiation, they gave all the old members a super Christmas party with lots of entertainment, and old Santa really had a bag full of gifts for all the Sigmas. Also as part of our merry time, we had a party for the children from the City Home. Ann Powell, Social Service Chairman, and her committee had charge of the party and the children really had fun at the house with refreshments and more gifts from old Saint Nick. Through Panhellenic we adopted a mountain family and helped make their Christmas a merry one, too.

Then, we sent Christmas abroad to our war orphan in T. B. drive on campus.

Sprinkel House welcomed a new housemother, who has really been a mother to us all, Mrs. Raymond Dingledine, whom we proudly call "Momma Ding". "Momma Ding" also brought her daughter Agnes from the Alpha Chapter at Longwood to become a member of Alpha Upsilon.

We cannot thank Barca enough for her guidance and love for all Sigmas. She has truly been a loyal Sigma throughout the years. Miss Hudson has been an advisor both to Senior Hall and to the Sigmas, and we thank her with our love. Elsie Thornhill, our president, has really been a mother to us all, Mrs. Raymond Dingledine, whom we proudly call "Momma Ding".

Though there may be years before many of us are together again, we'll always share in memories the Sunday night suppers at the house; sitting on the porch at sunset, singing; the nervous excitement and thrill of pledging and the rush party; Barca's cozy apartment and those talks with her, along with Miss Hudson's love and advice; Parker's being chosen Miss Madison; Joanne Craig as the Madonna, Cotillion and German Dances, when Sigmas 'led' the way; the genuine happiness of Homecoming and May Day; and all the other 'little things' which have made this year one we will always remember.

Everyone was busy at Messick house in preparation for rushing, which included a “Surprise Package” party full of thrills and real surprises for the rushers. When the rushers became pledges, the house was always full of happy, chatting girls, knitting and card playing in the living room. And everyone equally enjoyed the new kitchen and all the lovely things it contained after the members had given a kitchen shower.

The group learned that it owed its presence to the efforts of the first girls who had dreamed of Theta Sigma Upsilon as a true sorority. The story of its founding is one of determination, courage, and hard fighting, for it began as a literary society at Kansas State Teachers College, Emporia, and was known as the Sigma Literary Society. In the summer of 1919 they leased a house, became a local sorority, and finally established themselves as a new national educational sorority, Theta Sigma Upsilon. As their aim they proposed a sisterhood that would have for its fivefold object the physical, intellectual, social, ethical, and spiritual development of its members.

Not only in social meetings when they attended movies or sang songs—they have written words to several songs of their own—but also in charity projects the group has been active. At Christmas time they sent a box with food and clothing to an unfortunate family in the mountains. At the Panhellenic dance in December they celebrated with many others the advent of Christmas.

Audrey Hawkins, vice-president, and "Doc" Woelfel, an advisor, journeyed to French Lick, Indiana, the setting for the Theta Sig convention last summer. They returned with a gold cup for the best exhibition there. In the spring of this year they celebrated Founders' Day and gave the final farewell picnic.

It is "Doc" and "Doc., Jr.," to whom the Theta Sig girls wish to give their thanks for their willing helpfulness at every turn.
It was the Panhellenic Council that recognized a definite need for another Greek women's organization on campus. As a result, a small group met with the Council chairman and planned the formation of a local fraternity, Tau Alpha, pending petition with a national fraternity.

The Tau Alphas worked for unity and very soon petitioned Zeta Tau Alpha for affiliation as a chapter. Prior to this the local fraternity gave a tea for some of the national officers of Zeta Tau Alpha.

The National Council accepted the petition for affiliation, and on April 30, 1949, the Council "ribboned" local members as charter members of Zeta Tau Alpha. In the fall this year the pledges were very busy preparing their rush party, the theme of which was a radio skit featuring Miss Walker as Baby Snooks. Miss Grace Herr and Miss Glada Walker have given invaluable aid to a group which appreciated and remembered their advice.

Twenty-three girls were pledged and a banquet was held at the Kavanaugh Hotel. Joan Sawyer and Francine Draper arrived as chapter counselors to take charge of the pledge training and to initiate the pledges. On November 18 a tea was given, where Zetas met Zetas, for some of the national officers, including Helen M. Harrison, Helen W. Jenkins, and Mary Stacy Jackson, were there. The installation service was held November 19 with the banquet following. As a project the group adopted a needy family in Harrisonburg.

The ambitious girls who were not daunted by the task of bringing a new sorority to Madison show spirit and purpose. Their efforts have been extensive, their labors demanding, but their accomplishment successful enough to repay them in every way. Their efforts leave a permanent memoriam of their contribution to the development of Madison's Greek associations.
Sigma Delta Rho

Founded in 1947 with 13 members, Sigma Delta Rho, as the first social fraternity on campus, has grown to an organization of 40 members. Under the direction of its president, Sheffey Devier, and the sponsor, Dr. Curtis, it has accomplished its purpose of promoting fellowship among the men students. The meetings have been spiced by movies, informative talks, and significant plans. Remember the picnic at Massanutten Caverns in May and the dance this... year? They were tangible results of work, initiative, and enthusiasm.

Twenty-eight new members came into the fraternity this year amidst a royal initiation party, complete with a barrel—cider barrel, that is.

The accomplishments of the boys made this a red-letter year for the fraternity. Much of the credit goes to the officers who have helped in giving the club its present standing.

SHEFFEY DEVIER, President

The boys gather around the rock to talk informally about whatever boys talk about.
Bluestone Cotillion Club

Ever since 1929, the members of Cotillion have been dancing, working, and dreaming old dreams which really reached a climax this year when German and Cotillion sponsored the big dance weekend.

That is what it was—"A Dreamer's Holiday." Cotillion started the festivities that Friday night in March with the president, Jean Parker, leading the figure. She looked just like the "Miss Madison" she is. The other dance club members followed her in the figure which Skitch Henderson accompanied with lovely strains.

They had forgotten the backaches of goating and merely remembered the purpose and results of such an episode. Then too, they remembered other projects—sponsoring Saturday night dances, contributing to student drives, Christmas giving and helping other organizations with their dances.

Throughout the year they have joined in socials and in the spring picnic which brought together their members and their sponsors, Miss Hope Vandever, Dr. and Mrs. Glenn C. Smith, and Dr. Henry Converse.

German Club

“A Dreamer’s Holiday” was the theme, Saturday, March 4, of the dance crowning a year of pleasure, fellowship, and effort for the German Dance Club.

For weeks through the fall there had been whispers, “confabs”, and secret meetings in which the members had discussed their plans excitedly and in secret that there was going to be a “name” band for the annual dance. Those days, when they were planning what was to be the first real dance week end in Madison history, a week end co-sponsored by the German Club and the Cotillion Club, were really busy ones.

Skitch Henderson, master of the “smooth and solid,” created the mood, and the dancers completed the “holiday” in a truly memorable week end.

During the year German Club helped encourage dancing on the campus through sponsoring the traditional Saturday night informal dances. They were responsible, too, for the operation of the coke machine in Reed, which provided refreshment for the dancers. When springtime came, there was the usual pleasant club picnic.

The year was really an eventful one, one in which every member had occasion to participate actively, guided by the capable leadership of their president, Carter Harrison, and their sponsors, Dr. and Mrs. Raymond Dingledine, Dr. and Mrs. Leland Schubert, and Miss Vandever.

The Art Club

The Art Club was begun by Katherine Roller, a student art major, in 1928. From the beginning, the group has worked to establish closer co-operation between the students and faculty and to promote things of beauty in the campus surroundings.

Membership is limited to only those who pass strict drawing try-outs. The activities of the members include sketching, painting, decorating, and sponsoring an assembly program. The Art Club is responsible for the Miss Madison contest and has spent many hours on the mural in Spotswood Recreation Room.

With the years the Art Club has become a very useful group.
The Association for Childhood Education, an organization of long standing at Madison, is exclusively for those students who are preparing to teach in the elementary grades. The girls in this group, because of their great desire to learn more about children, help each other by relating personal experiences and then carrying on informal discussions. At one meeting Mr. Davis, the principal of the Main Street School, shared many interesting educational ideas with the girls and presented his personal views concerning the ideal situations to be aimed for in the elementary grades.

Certainly to be mentioned and not easily to be forgotten is the week end of the camp outing with Dr. and Mrs. Poindexter as chaperones and the eerie ghost stories spun in the flickering light of the fire place.

Under the sponsorship of Miss Anthony and Miss Seeger, these girls are laying plans and beginning to construct a valuable project for the future.
In the fall of 1939 the daughters of former Madison students organized a group and called themselves "granddaughters", since their mothers were as "daughters" of Madison.

Since then the Granddaughters’ Club, sponsored by Mrs. Garber and Mrs. Johnston, has promoted friendship, fellowship, and closer ties between former students and their Alma Mater. The members promise to cherish the traditions and memories of the college and to create a fraternal spirit among the daughters of previous students.

They have had their parties, programs, camp week end, and most important, Home-coming week end, when they welcomed home the Alumnae. In this way they maintain the traditions of the college.
Sesame Club

Sesame Club members have as their den several rooms on the ground floor of Harrison Hall. Here they hold their meetings and sponsor parties.

This organization of day students plays an important part in providing a link between the on-and off-campus groups. Their den is so attractive that many girls bring their cokes and coffee from the tea room to chat and visit the girls who are there.

Sesame Club, open to all day students, has been a friendly link among the groups.

President
The Madison Business Club

The Madison Business Club was founded in the fall of 1945 by Miss Mary Margaret Brady and Dr. Stephen J. Turille. This club strives to give an opportunity to every student to participate in club activities and to promote general business knowledge and serves as a means of making contact between the students and business leaders.

The club had regular monthly meetings for lectures, discussions, movies, and any business subject of timely interest. The members gave a tea for faculty and students of the business department. In the spring, the club had its annual banquet at which officers for the coming year were tapped. Also among the activities was a tour of business offices in Richmond, where a guide in each office explained its organization and its business machines.

The Madison Business Club presents an opportunity for members to broaden their interests and assists in development of future business leaders.
International Relations Club

Membership in International Relations Club is open to all students who are interested in national and international affairs.

The members enjoy the co-operation of all the social science faculty, particularly that of their advisor, Dr. Dingledine.

As well as presenting a speaker for the assembly program, they have attended many regional conferences. One of their projects is the maintenance of the bulletin board in Harrison Hall.

It has been a good year, for the members have gained in numerous ways, and by joining forces with the Y.W.C.A. they have striven to influence the student body to more international awareness.
The Curie Science Club fosters an interest in science on the campus. Composed of science majors and minors the group presented a varied schedule of activities for its members this year.

Under the direction of Mr. Cool and Mr. Bocskey, Jo Almarode, leading the club, saw to it that there were trips and interesting scientific program affiliations with other science clubs in the area. A representative was sent to the Virginia Academy of Science meeting.

"Curie" this year celebrated its 16th birthday on campus.

One of the high points of the club year was its assembly program.
Frances Sale Club

This club, which was named after the first home economics teacher at Madison, is sponsored by Miss Robertson.

The group's activities began with the Big Sister-Little Sister home economics picnic. Then, Margaret Elliott went to the Home Economics Workshop in New York City, and Irene Blair, president of the Home Economics Clubs of Virginia, presided at the State Convention. The members enjoyed the program when foreign students at Madison and Bridgewater told of their home customs.

Between business and pleasure the members have never lost sight of their objective, the furthering of home economic interests.

Ex Libris

Ex Libris is a new club, organized in 1948 when the Library Science Department moved from William and Mary to Madison.

The purpose of this club is keeping abreast of library development, providing an opportunity for students to meet outstanding library persons in the State, developing a unity among prospective librarians of the State, and interesting others in library work.

Among its activities the Christmas party and informal teas at Miss Cundiff’s apartment have become anticipated social events.

After having accomplished so much in less than two years, Ex Libris shows a new and progressive spirit for future development.
The Mathematics Club

The very recent Mathematics Club was founded in the fall of 1948. Membership is by invitation only to those who are considered qualified. As its aim the members wish to maintain and foster an interest in mathematics.

They have met once a month, having business and social meetings at which they discussed the background and history of the science of mathematics. This is given emphasis since it is believed that the mathematics student should know more than the mere mechanics of his science.

The organization is much in keeping with trends in present thought.
Mercury Club

Whether it was hot dogs at our autumn picnic or telling stories around the fireplace at the college camp in the spring, the Mercury Club, under Jo Bowman's capable leadership, had an active year of work and play.

Madison's club for physical education majors and minors started off the year by hearing an inspiring talk by Dr. Rodgers, head of the physical education department. Throughout the year they were fortunate in having many speakers for the club, including some from the college faculty.

The club's traditional Purple and Gold teams had the hockey, basketball, volleyball, and softball games. Each team played hard and earnestly so that they would not have to be the ones to treat the winners.

Other activities that the club sponsored were the fall picnic to welcome the new members; the publishing of a newsletter, which included a greeting from the members of the physical education staff and our president, Mr. Miller; reports from the athletic organizations concerning their year's work; and messages from the physical education major alumnae of Madison. The group also participated in a panel discussion given by the Junior majors in Dr. Rodgers's class in History and Principles of Physical Education. The hobo hike to Ashby's Monument and the weekend spent at the college camp remain memorable occasions. Then, there was the formation of the Service Council and the assembly program. All of these events made this year an interesting and worthwhile session of activity.

The Mercury Club is proud to boast of their seventy-one members today, because when the club was first formed in 1940, there were only twelve members.

It was in 1931 that a group of Latin majors recognized the need for a classical organization on campus and founded Alpha Rho Delta. We the twenty active members now are enjoying their efforts.

You’d never guess the places we’ve been or the things we’ve learned this year! We’ve traveled to Italy via slides. We’ve heard the wondrous music of the metropolitan via the phonograph. We’ve acquired a better background for our study of Latin through Dr. Sawhill’s lectures. We’ve also enjoyed a Christmas party, a spring picnic, and other social gatherings.

Realizing that this year could not have been so successful without the aid of Patricia Griffith, our president, and Dr. and Mrs. Sawhill, our sponsors, we now say “thank you” to them.
The Spanish Club of Madison was reactivated under the leadership of its sponsor, Dr. Martinez, and Pat Newton, its 1949 president. In a brief period of time it has acquired an impressive membership and launched an active program.

The aim of intensifying interest in the Spanish language and customs and providing additional opportunity for leadership for those especially proficient if effected through the calendar activities: singing in Spanish, discussing Spanish history and culture, and presenting a chapel program and, most entertaining of all, hearing Dr. Martinez’s stories of his childhood in Spain. Then came the final party, a real “tertulia.”

The group plays and learns at the same time and grows in membership, strength and organization.
Le Cercle Francais

Twice a month girls who "parlent francais" attend the meeting of the French club, which was begun in 1918.

It has been very active, having presented an annual chapel program, an assembly program, as well as published a French journal and maintained social activities for the members.

The aims of this group are to instill the love of well spoken French and to increase interest on campus in French customs and literature. Dr. Woelfel is the sponsor of this group, which works and plays, still maintaining "joie de vivre."

SHIRLEY SHORTER
President
For some years now the Dolly Madison Garden Club has flourished under the green thumbs of its sponsors, Dr. and Mrs. Showalter. The duties of the club have been to beautify the buildings by placing flowers there and to further its own horticultural prowess.

Among the activities this year the members visited Blakemore's to see the demonstration of flower cutting, arranging, and corsage-making.

The girls are a group of interested gardeners, who in their meetings in Alumnae Hall always conclude with the question, "What would life be without flowers?"
The purposes of the Alumnae Association are the promotion of the welfare of Madison College; the establishment of a mutually beneficial relationship between Madison College and its alumnae, including over 6000 graduates; and the stimulation of the individual Alumnae Chapters. It is a member of the American Alumnae Council.

An Alumnae Secretary is maintained at the College whose duties are keeping lists of names and addresses of the graduates, organizing local chapters, speaking at Alumnae meetings, and planning and organizing the annual Homecoming weekend. Faculty, personnel officers, and students combine efforts to make Homecoming memorable for all alumnae who return for their annual visit to Alma Mater.

The real function of the Alumnae Chapter, in a nutshell, is to make personal contacts and to keep alive the sentimental interest of the College. Many of the clubs sponsor scholarships for their local high school graduates, and these clubs are very active also in civic affairs.

... whether we play on the varsity teams or merely for our own enjoyment, we believe in good sportsmanship of participants and spectators.

Athletics
Athletic Association

Everyone upon registration at Madison College is a member of the Athletic Association. Founded in March, 1910, the Association has always tried to carry out its purpose of encouraging the stimulating sports, promoting good sportsmanship, and cultivating a spirit of co-operation and fellowship.

The Athletic Association, under the leadership of Kittie Blakemore, has sponsored a number of activities, leading off with a Hi-Yah Party for the Freshmen in September and ending with the traditional May Day celebration and the crowning of the Queen. Between these two events came such things as the Major Student Organization’s tea for the Freshmen, entertainment for the visiting hockey and basketball teams, extramural trips, and the hockey tournament at Westhampton.

First row: J. A. Bowman, S. Pickrel, S. Kaylor, Dr. Rodgers, L. Early, K. Blakemore, H. Lamer, B. Spaulding, D. Updike, N. O’Brien

Also under the sponsorship of the Athletic Association were all intramural sports, including hockey, basketball, volleyball, archery, badminton, tennis, swimming, softball, table tennis, horse shoes, golf, stunts, and tumbling.

We were very happy to welcome Miss Betty Hartman to the Physical Education Staff of Madison College. We are glad to have her in the family. Dr. Elizabeth Rodgers, adviser for the Athletic Association, was ready to help us at all times.

The Council, which is the governing body of the Athletic Association, is composed of the officers of the Association; presidents of Mercury, Modern Dance, Porpoise, Tennis, and Archery Clubs; the sports leaders of hockey, basketball, swimming, volleyball, badminton, and softball; and one representative from each class.

The Physical Education staff, the members of the Athletic Association Council, faculty members, and members of the student body have worked hard for the Athletic Association, and their co-operation contributed to a very successful year.
The Archery Club is a sport club of active archers, who can be seen in good weather in fall and spring with bow in hand, trying to hit the coveted center of the target, the bull’s eye.

Fall and spring try-outs for final membership in the club were held and several girls were invited to become members of the group.

The big event of the year was the spring tournament, held near the time of the May Day festivities on campus.

Besides the fun it provides for its members, the Archery Club exists to further interest in archery and to teach any willing student how to shoot.
This club is one quite in keeping with modern times, for it reflects progress in art, which is the modern trend. The girls practice intensely and earnestly for expression in their creative work and for experience in performance, very often at the expense of sore, stiff muscles and liniment.

Their objectives have been well attained so that every year the students look forward to their inspiring performances. They have an integral part in the May Day Exercise.

This group is also very active in attending programs and in bringing artists in their field to the college.

Undoubtedly, whenever there is an announcement made of a program to be presented by the Modern Dance Group in leotards, we can be sure of excellence of grace and form and beauty in creative movement.
Porpoise Club

The Esther Williamses of Madison College! That's what we call our Porpoise Club members. These girls who perform gracefully and with ease and poise combine their aquatic skills with music accompaniment to produce beautiful water ballets.

The original Porpoise Club was founded in November, 1939, when twenty-five enthusiastic girls got together to better their swimming abilities. Since then, each year there have been try-outs, followed by a few hectic days of "goating."

During the year these girls practice faithfully each Wednesday night under the sponsorship of Miss Savage in preparation for their annual pool demonstration, which is presented for the enjoyment of all those who are interested in aquacades.

First row: R. Atwood, B. Anderson

Racquet Club

The Racquet Club is new only in name, for it was formerly the Tennis Club. Since it has changed its name and since it has been encouraged by the able guidance of Mrs. Hewett, the tennis players have been very active.

Besides furthering good form of all its members in the tennis game, the club manages tennis tournaments to provide practice and interest for everyone on the campus. Although the rains were too heavy this fall to have a tournament, the club, undaunted, had one in the spring.

The Racquet-ers uphold the standards of fair play and sportsmanlike consideration!
Hockey

Hockey had a “field” day at Madison in the fall with the girls from every dormitory participating in the annual round-robin tournament. Following the tournament, intramural games were the highlight of the season.

From the ranks of the intramural players thirty girls were selected to participate in extramural games with Sweetbriar, Westhampton, and the Alumnae. The squad later traveled to Richmond to play in the annual State Hockey Tournament.

Catherine Cockrill and Henrietta Lanier were chosen for the Virginia Reserve team, which played in the Eastern tournament in Plainfield, New Jersey.

The fall season ended with a banquet to honor the hockey coach, Miss Betty Hartman.
Basketball is a favorite sport for Madison girls. This year during the annual season they organized thirty teams, which were coached by groups of physical education majors and other interested students. These teams provided much fun and furore for the dormitories as they participated in an exciting winter schedule.

Lorraine Woodyard, Betty Ramsey, and Miss Ulrich arranged the schedule, an extramural team of twenty-six girls was chosen from the ranks of the intramural players, and practice was started. Games were played with Roanoke College, Sweetbriar, Westhampton, Longwood, and our Alumnae.

The season was one of many enjoyable memories, under the fine coaching of Miss Celeste Ulrich.
In 1947 something new was added to Madison—men students—seventeen of them in fact, and with them came the “Dukes,” Madison’s first men’s athletic team, composed of sixteen men.

Four years old now, and for the first time under the direction of Coach Grabner, who comes from within Madison’s faculty, the “Dukes” have taken an even bigger “bite” than in the past. This year’s schedule included Bridgewater, Shenandoah, Mary Washington Vets, Wilson Teachers, Montgomery, KPI, Washington and Lee Freshmen, and Longwood.

The “Dukes” have had a very successful year, spurred on to more goals by a pretty and talented cheerleading section.

Other Sports

“Set it up” was the familiar cry.

Will Fern make a hole-in-one?

Hit the birdie!
... whether we are caught in the teeming post office rush, or enjoying a leisurely Saturday night date, our daily activities are the real essence of life.

School Life
You'd think it couldn't happen twice, but it happens every year. Wait and see!

What lines we've stood in and how long we've waited to cash a tiny check!

Many a new student has found an interest test and Mr. Eagle's guidance helpful.
It was the first formal affair this year, and we welcomed the Millers—right into our hearts.

It wasn't long before special talents found a means of expression.

Early in the year Massanutten Peak found us happily weary after a long hike.
Have a problem? Curriculum advisors like Mr. Warren proved to be the best friends we ever had.

History can be fun. Must be quite a quiz, Dr. Dinkledine.

Stimulating Studies . . .

How many future executives typed their way through first period every morning this year?
Those cats were really the most interesting things . . . or so the anatomy students thought!

Like dramatics? You should never have missed "Doc's" play production class.

Fashioning beautiful suits from bolts of cloth was only one of the many things taught in textiles class.
What would we do without our tea room for a quick cup of coffee and a brief chat before the next class?

Some go to the library for study, some for research, and others find inspiration in the stacks.

How would you like to get up at five-thirty every morning?
A letter from home was well worth all the bumps and bruises.

For anything from club meetings to—"Wanted: a ride to U. Va."—check the bulletin board.

Now that we all know how to use a fire extinguisher, here's hoping we never have to!
A cup of tea made a warmer welcome for the new students.

“Mom” Fleishman was caught by the camera at her birthday celebration with her new “daughters”.

How many milk shakes and hamburgers have you bought at Doc’s this year?
How many times have we signed in and out for one undeserving male after another?

It wasn't Broadway, but for Madison Thespians "Dear Brutus" was a major production.

So well remembered—the Christmas formal was just one of many through the year.
The girls would have liked a glimpse into that "Smoker" for Pres. Miller. 'Twas quite a party we hear!

Are they playing football or looking for four-leaf clovers?

We watched the Dukes reach for victory.
Well, look at the card sharks! Oh, for a place to shed those exam jitters.

It was fun exchanging friendly greetings before meals.

Something new has been added, thanks to the men. Let’s hope this burst of Madison spirit continues.
Freshmen Commission welcomed their Monday night "sing" as a time for relaxation and spiritual guidance.

A truly inspiring candlelight service, it will long be remembered.

A new tradition was originated when the Freshmen were officially made a part of the student body.
The "Y" Hallowe'en party brought forth a host of celebrities, including Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs.

A Christmas tree, carols, and presents for the needy made our Kid Party a big success.

Madison and V. M. I. blend their voices for the annual Christmas vespers.
... whether she be Madonna of the Christmas pageant or a leader in her class, there are times when we wish to recognize the outstanding members among us.

Features
Fern Waters

You see here the reflection of the Seniors' able and attractive Madame President. Fern is not only efficient in her job as president but in any job she undertakes. Always ready with a smile, she has led the Seniors through a most successful year.

Seniors

Martha Thomas

Who else could that contagious grin and giggle belong to but Marty Thomas? Being president of the Y. W. C. A. was certainly no easy job, but Marty's enthusiastic spiritual leadership has proved that she was very capable of handling it.
Carrol Kennette

If you see a head full of shining copper curls bobbing up and down and a talkative girl that it belongs to, you'll know it's Carrol. Though she's only been with us two years, we've come to recognize her many abilities and wonderful sense of humor.

Seniors

Nancy Penn

With such a glowing smile and friendliness, our efficient president of S. G. A. doesn't need a book on How to Win Friends and Influence People. She has it “down pat!”
Jean Parker

This lovable girl, better known as "Parker," has received many honors at Madison. To top it off, she was chosen this year as Miss Madison, a tribute she richly deserves.

Retha Shirkey

Behind those twinkling dark brown eyes there's a wealth of charm and intelligence. We'll never forget Retha and those Monday announcements about "one more SCHOOLMA'AM payday." She really has done a grand job with our yearbook and deserves hearty applause!

Seniors

Jean Parker
Mattie Jett

"Jett's" poise and ability have made her an outstanding leader on campus, and her captivating personality has found a place in everyone's heart—all this and beauty, too.

Seniors

Evelyn Tubbs

Calm, quiet, and efficient are three words which describe "Tubbs." Here is a very likable girl with brains, originality, and the ability to do a job well. What would we have done without her on campus as the editor of the Breeze and as in all-round good pal?
Dot Wainwright

Whenever you hear heavenly music floating from Wilson or Harrison, it will probably be Dottie rippling off some new tune. Her musical ability is only one of the many talents which she has graciously contributed to campus activities.

Ollie Vee Walpole

Vivacious and versatile — that's Ollie Vee. Whether writing for the Breeze, working for Honor Council, or singing in Glee Club, she has a smile and a helping hand for everyone.

Juniors
Jeanette Cocke

Here's the living refutation that beauty and brains don't go together. Jeanette has both, as well as one of the loveliest personalities we've ever known.

Juniors

Mildred Bluett

For friendliness combined with earnestness, Mildred, the efficient leader of the Juniors, is truly outstanding.
Nannie Rennie

Efficiency, hard work, and charm have characterized Nannie in her work on the Honor Council, Y. W. C. A. Cabinet, and the Schoolma'am. But when work is over for the day, Nannie is full of wit and fun. As the affected "Lady Caroline" in the Stratford play, "Dear Brutus," she was a "weal" comedy hit.

Connie Roach

Bubbling personality, sparkling smile, and words tumbling one another are characteristic of personable Connie. But when there's work to be done, it's "Connie on the spot," whether in S. G. A. Council, the Schoolma'am staff, or "treading the boards" in a Stratford play.

Marilyn Miller

Marilyn has faithfully led the Class of '52 through a successful year. Her bright smile may be recognized anywhere on campus. Not only her class but also many other organizations have profited from her membership.
Betty Jeanne Tyson

One can't miss "Tyson" on campus because she's bubbling over with personality and friendliness. This outstanding freshman has a combination of all the traits that make a wonderful girl and a grand leader.

Molly Kennette

Little sister Molly's bright red head has bobbed its friendly way into Madison life with winning ways and an eagerness to help and learn. We know she will continue to be a leader in her class.

Frances Riley

With a big Hello and a smile for everyone, "Zookie" has won many friends and has been an efficient leader in the Freshman class this year. She's sure to go a long way here at Madison.
Miss Madison

Lovely Jean Parker was chosen as our Miss Madison, a symbol of the typical Madison girl. Each year the Art Club nominates candidates for this honor, who are then presented to the student body for selection by popular ballot. Miss Madison represents the true Madison spirit of friendliness and wholesome personality.
Madonna and First Angel

The Y.W.C.A. Christmas Pageant, a cherished Madison tradition, is presented each year. It is not until the curtains are raised to the accompaniment of rapturous Christmas music that we know who will portray the Madonna and First Angel. This year Joanne Craig was the lovely Madonna, watched over by Mattie Jett, who as First Angel, led the Celestial Host.
Apple Blossom Princess

When apple blossoms painted the Shenandoah Valley in shades of spring, Jane Moore became a princess in the court of Queen Shenandoah XXIII. Elected to represent Madison, she enjoyed all the luxuries becoming a princess during the two days of the annual Apple Blossom Festival at Winchester, Virginia.
May Queen and Maid of Honor

Madison's own Morris Dancers capered on the green for the entertainment of her Highness, Queen Elise Bellenot, in the traditional May Day celebration. One of our very special memories is the colorful pageantry and the loveliness of the Queen and her Maid of Honor, Joanne Craig.

Sometimes it is the nature of a craft to create an unbreakable tie between itself and the worker in that field, a heart attachment equal to lifetime devotion. One familiar example is PRINTING. Once editor, once compositor, or pressman catches the spirit of the shop, the spell is seldom broken. Like the odor of a camp fire, or a whiff of salt air, the beloved tang of printer's ink, symbolic of a great profession, gets into your heart and soul. School Annuals, Magazines, Newspapers and Special Printing, all smack of it. It is an invisible link that binds all intelligence together. It is the stimulus for creation in business or romance. This craftsmanship, this devotion to service and alertness to business needs, has nourished and developed enormous industrial vitality and whichever way the course of the future runs, the printer will always find himself able to adapt his helpfulness to new opportunity.

YEARS OF EXPERIENCE HAVE TAUGHT US! PRINTING PAYS US ONLY WHEN IT PAYS YOU!
